CARD OF THANKS.—Mr. and Mrs. Thurbur of Montmorency, desire through your valued paper, to express their sincere and heartfelt thanks to the kind people of Harcourt and Montmorency, for their sympathy and kindness during the season of deep sorrow through which they and their family have just passed. This was especially shown by the quiet which prevailed and the suspension of all business during the passing of the funeral procession through the village.

OBITUARY.—Mrs. Peck, widow of the late Joseph B. Peck, Barrister, of Dorchester, died at her residence last Thursday morning after a very short illness. The deceased was 53 years of age, the only child of the late John Hickman, sr., and left two daughter to survive her. The funeral took place on Friday afternoon. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. R. Campbell. Mr. and Mrs. Buck of Truro, and Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson of Richibucto were among the mourners.—Spectator.

MUSICAL.—The musical entertainment given in the Temperance Hall, Saturday evening, under the auspices of St. Mary's Church, was of an entirely new and novel nature and despite the heavy rain storm proved a decided success in every way. The "Concertino" under the management of Mr. B. E. Johnson, rendered some very fine music, by the best composers in a splendid manner, and was much enjoyed. That little wonder the "Graphophone" was a great acquisition and gave much pleasure, so much so that at the close of the entertainment, quite a number remained and requested a few more selections, which request Mr. Murray whose it was, very kindly and graciously complied with. The vocal music was especially good. "My own sweet heart" by Miss Sylvia Black, was rendered in her usual good style. The "quartette" and "trio" were well done and much appreciated. "Coming thro the Rye," by Mrs. McKinley was splendid and literally took the house by storm evidenced by the hearty echoes so lustily given and which was pleasantly responded to by the singing of "Annie Laurie." This was Mrs. McKinley's first appearance before a Richibucto audience, but we trust it will not be her last. A Tableau in which a quake scene was represented was nicely arranged and well shown, thus bringing to a close a very pleasant evening's amusement.

BUCTOUCHE RACES.—The new Buctouche trotting park had an auspicious opening last Thursday. The M. & B. railway ran an excursion train from Moncton and some 50 Monctonians went to Buctouche and enjoyed a good day's racing. About 600 people were in attendance and the new track which is half a mile was in excellent shape. The course is surrounded by a substantial board fence has first class stables, a grand stand and judges' stand. The events of the day were as follows:

The bicycle race and three minute class did not fill. The Judges were W. Wilson, Moncton, J. C. Mahon, Petitcodiac, Dr. Ferguson, Kingston. Times, Walter Tenant, Amherst, Dr. Bourque, Richibucto.

LOST IN THE WOODS.—On Thursday last, Mr. W. C. Anslow, editor of the Newcastle Advocate, went out shooting on the Little South West Miramichi, intending to return the same night. He did not do so however, and no trace of him has since been seen. Mr. Anslow was well acquainted with the woods and little was thought of his absence the first night, but his failure to return next day gave rise to the gravest fears and parties have ever since been scouring the woods in all directions without success. Another large party started out last night but up to the present there is no trace whatever of the missing man. It is possible that he may have taken sick in the woods and strayed to some lumber camp but this is rather improbable and the worst is feared. Mr. Anslow is a middle-aged man. His brother editor of the Hants Journal, lost everything in the Windsor fire on Sunday.

A joint proposition has been made by the Dominion and Allan lines to give a fortnightly direct service between St. John and Liverpool on the understanding that they be allowed to go to Portland on the alternate trips, calling at Halifax both going and coming. This, they point out, is the best possible arrangement they can make in view of their already arranged contracts. Nothing will be done until the cabinet takes the matter up.

The Return of the Pendulum.

In 1892 the prosperity of the commercial schools was at its flood. Desiring to find some expedient that would render them still more prosperous, the proprietors of many of these schools abandoned methods that had produced excellent results and adopted others which were wholly experimental. It may safely be said that in most cases the change was not made with the expectation that the schools would be strengthened educationally, but that the new ideas would have greater advertising value. But a reaction has set in. The conclusion has been forced upon thoughtful teachers that the school that educates its pupils best advertises itself best; that a device which may attract inexperienced boys and unthinking parents, may not commend itself to the class of people whose friendship and patronage must be secured and retained as a basis of permanent prosperity. Those schools which adhered to the tried and approved methods, which gave their pupils solid and symmetrical knowledge, which steadily refused to be carried off their feet by patented systems of education, are now reaping the benefit of their wise conservatism. Such schools have not the task before them now of repairing the damage done by experimenting with one or another of the new schemes as realizing that their reputation for real efficiency has been injured, and are seeing their more conservative co-workers forging ahead. Only a small proportion of the larger schools swung off in '92, and some of them retreated as soon as the character of the road they were travelling was discovered. When pretence will pass for performance, and when clap-trap will be accepted in lieu of genuine educational advantages, then, perhaps, the public will take kindly to patented systems of education.—Progress, Rochester, N. Y.

Just so! Ours was one of the colleges preferring unimpaired reputation and a clear conscience to temporary gain. Result: Our fall opening is the best we ever had. It is most gratifying to find ourselves classed in the right list and our position vindicated from so important an educational centre.
