TROOPS IN WINTER QUARTERS.

SIR WILLIAM LOCHART'S MEN LEAVE THE HILLS.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—All the forces of General Sir William Lochart, the British commander on the Indian frontier, have been withdrawn to the Bars valley for the winter.

Military circles are praising Sir William Lochart's conduct in the campaign in India. The exciting events that have happened in other quarters of the world during the last 30 days have diverted attention from the attempt to punish the Afridis. But the undertaking, in its way, is the most remarkable in which England has ever been engaged. Gen. Lochart has under his personal command a larger body of troops than was ever before commanded by a British general. He has 70,000 men in the field, more than Wellington had at Waterloo, where only 25,000 were actually British. In the exceptionally difficult conditions, and mountainous and unknown country, the cold season, the labor of maintaining communication along a very extended line, and the fierce fanaticism of tribes that believe they are fighting in a righteous cause, and for very existence, Sir William Lochart has displayed remarkable ingenuity and resources.

The campaign has been suspended for the severe weather, but Parliament will meet before it is resumed, and the demands of India, Central Africa, and the Niger region may help the Salisbury Government to push through the bill for an increase of military strength which Lord Lansdown has outlined.

The proportion of officers killed in Gen. Lochart's campaign is 42 as against 74 men. This is the state of things unheard of, even in the English frontier and desert war.

The Railway News' correspondent at the front says that the native losses throughout have been far less than the British and Indian losses, and that the villages destroyed were merely the summer huts of nomadic tribes, who live elsewhere most of the year, and which it will be no trouble whatever to rebuild.

Their Fame World Wide.

Health, Strength Happiness mark
Where Dodd's Kidney Pills have been used

GLENCOE, Dec. 20.—From city to city, town to town, village to village and over the broad fields of the Dominion, the fame of Dodd's Kidney Pills, the medical marvel of the century, the only infallible cure on earth for Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Lame Back, and all other kidney diseases, is spreading.

London reported two wonderful cures by means of Dodd's Kidney Pills, within two weeks. Glencoe has a case quite as startling.

W. J. Nugent suffered for years with Kidney Disease and piles. Doctors couldn't help him. Every remedy he tried failed till he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. A few boxes cured him.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are an unfailing cure for all diseases caused by impaired kidneys and impure blood.

SHOCKED AND FRIGHTENED

Weak, nervous people having heart troubles are easily shocked and frightened. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills fortify the nerves, restore regular action to the heart, and cure every form of heart or nerve trouble. Miss Gladys McMillan, Toronto, says: "Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured me of nervousness and palpitation. I was so nervous that the least noise would startle me; but am now perfectly well."

A MIGHTY CHANGE.

Made Well and Active after Years of Suffering.PAINE'S CERYLY COMPOUND WAS THE GREAT LIFE-GIVER.

New life, health, vim, energy and activity are some of the blessings Paine's Ceryly Compound bestows on those who are now helpless, weary and half dead.

If you are a martyr to rheumatism, tortured with neuralgia, distressed with dyspepsia, or laid low with kidney trouble, that infallible life giver, Paine's Ceryly Compound, will restore you to perfect health and give you a long lease of life. Mrs. Page, of Arnprior, Ont., after years of suffering, experienced the happy and mighty change that Paine's Ceryly Compound alone can give to the afflicted. She says:

"I have been for many years a great sufferer from rheumatism and a complication of other troubles. About a year ago I was prevailed upon to try a course of Paine's Ceryly Compound, with a result so marvellous that my most intimate friends and neighbors could scarcely believe me to be the same woman. Formerly I could only move about with the greatest caution; now I am well and active and my general health is good. I believe Paine's Ceryly Compound will do all that is claimed for it."

PROHIBITION.

PRESBYTERY OF PARIS REPUDIATES PRINCIPAL GRANT'S VIEWS.

PARIS, Ont., Dec. 15.—The views against prohibition of the Rev. Dr. Grant of Kingston, lately published, were repudiated by the Paris Presbytery yesterday, in a resolution moved by Rev. W. A. Mackay, D. D. of Woodstock, and seconded by Rev. E. B. Hutt, of Ingersoll. Strong speeches were made both for and against the resolution. An amendment condemning the views of Principal Grant, without mentioning his name, was moved and received five votes, whilst the main motion was carried by seven votes. A number of the members had to leave before the vote was taken in order to reach home last night. The resolution as passed, reads:

"Whereas, the Presbyterian Church has repeatedly in her courts taken strong ground against the licensed liquor traffic of this land, declaring it to be contrary to the word of God and to the spirit of the Christian religion; and calling upon people by voice, vote and example to do all in their power to seek its removal; and whereas, the prohibition of that traffic has been lately assailed in one of the most largely circulated papers in the Dominion, by one whose position and influence identify him very closely with the Presbyterian Church;

"Therefore, the Presbytery of Paris deems it an imperative duty to give at this time on this matter no uncertain sound in relation to its entire adherence to the position taken by our General Assembly and our opposition to and repudiation of the ground taken by the principal of Queen's College."

AN EPIDEMIC OF CRIME.

TORONTO, Dec. 17.—The attorney-general's department is in the midst of the most phenomenal period in the criminal history of Ontario. At no previous time have there been so many cases of alleged murder, arson and burglary for investigation, and it would puzzle the most astute theorizer to define the causes of this epidemic of crime.

Some people suggest—and with a show of reason—that the leniency with which certain convicted criminals have been treated has had the effect of encouraging breaches of the law. Be this as it may the provincial detective once have enough work of the more serious type to keep them busy for the next two or three months.

Had Many Ailments

"For years I have been taking medicines for liver complaint, rheumatism, heart trouble and nervous prostration, but three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla have done me more good than any other medicine I have ever taken. I heartily recommend it to others." Mrs. S. A. Judd, Vernon, Michigan.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Easy, yet efficient.

HORSE MEAT FOR EUROPE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The Kearney, N. S. township committee has granted to Ferdinand Sushenhop permission to operate an extensive plant for the grinding of horse meat into sausages. The township officers recently closed the factory, alleging that the product was for use in this country. But Sushenhop has convinced the authorities that he has an ample market in Europe and the mill will resume operations. He has arranged for a large supply of horses.

HE NEVER LOVED A LORD.

But His Five Girls Married Titles, All the Same.

It was evident that he was not only pretty well satisfied with himself, but that he didn't care who knew it.

"Five daughters," he said, "and every one of them married to a title. That's a pretty good record for a man who wouldn't be considered rich enough to buy more than one high grade title."

"I don't see how you did it," suggested the man who knew nothing except that the husband with a title was ordinarily quoted at a pretty stiff figure.

"Oh, it's easy when you know how," replied the self-satisfied man. "So far as I am concerned I would have preferred to marry the girls to enterprising young Americans with no titles, but their mother insisted upon getting them something more fashionable, and when their mother insists I have to hump myself and see that things come the way she wants them. I confess it was something of a problem at first, but when I got it figured out in my mind and began playing the cards it was so easy that I was inclined to be ashamed of myself for not trying something harder."

The self-satisfied man stopped long enough for the listener to suggest that he would be glad to hear the story, and then, in view of the fact that they were all married and publicity could do no harm, he told it.

"I took all my available assets," he explained, "and made them a dowry for my eldest daughter. Naturally there was a rush for her, and she was able to take her pick of five. I rushed matters as much as possible, got her married, gave up the dowry I had promised, and then steered her titled husband against the Stock Exchange, where I gave him some bad tips, took his trades myself through a broker and won back all the dowry and part of his ancestral estates. Then I gave the dowry to my second daughter, got her married and played the same game with her husband. I worked the scheme right through the family, until I finally married my youngest to a baronet yesterday. I got them to postpone their wedding trip for a few days, so as to give me a chance to win back the dowry before they had spent any of it, and by day after tomorrow I expect to be on Easy street again, without a care in the world. If girls must have titles, why, I am in favor of giving them to them, but I don't believe in contributing large fortunes to the support of the tottering monarchies of the old world, and, what's more, I don't intend to do it."—Chicago Post.

ARMORED PLANTS.

Thorns and Spines That Protect Plants From Their Enemies.

"Plants and Their Enemies" is the title of an article by Thomas H. Kearney, Jr., in St. Nicholas. Mr. Kearney says:

There are a thousand things that threaten the well being and even the life of every tree and shrub and lowly herb. Too much heat or too little works great harm to plants. Then there are all manner of wasting diseases caused by other tiny plants called fungi and bacteria. Many large animals, as horses and cows and sheep, live by grazing the herbage and grass or browsing the foliage of trees and shrubs. Of course they greatly injure the plants they feed upon and therefore many plants are in one way or another protected against such attacks.

Did you ever stop to think why thistles are so well armed with sharp prickles or why the ugly roadside nettles are furnished with stinging hairs? Notice cattle grazing in a field where thistles or nettles grow. See how careful they are to let those disagreeable plants alone. That is the reason for the stings and the spines. See this honey locust tree bristling with its horrid array of three pointed thorns. What animal is brave enough to try to rob it of its leaves or great pods? Hawthorns, too, and rosebushes and blackberry briars all have their sharp little swords and daggers to defend themselves against browsing animals.

Out on the wide, hot deserts of Arizona and New Mexico those odd plants, the cactuses, grow in great numbers. Some of them take strange shapes—tall, fluted columns, branching candelabra or mere round balls, like the melon cactus. They are almost the only plants that grow in some parts of that country, and there is always plenty of sap inside their tough skins. To the hungry and thirsty creatures that roam those dreary wastes in search of food and water they are very tempting. Were they not in some way protected these cactuses would soon be entirely destroyed, but nature has made them to be like strong forts or great armored battleships among plants. They are guarded by all sorts of sharp spines and prickles and fine hairs that burn when they get into the flesh.

Negation.

This was overheard on the Bangor boat:

First Woman—If I married a man what drunk and I knowed he drunk when I married him I wouldn't never say nothing about it.

Second Woman—I wouldn't neither. He's got so bad now that she don't never expect nothing different.—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

There are more ants to the square mile in Florida than in any other country in the world. There are ants that measure more than half an inch in length, and then there are ants so small that they can scarcely be seen to move with the unaided eye.

Raw eggs, milk and plenty of fruit are recommended for brain workers. The fruit corrects the bilious tendency of the milk and eggs.

In some portions of Abyssinia the men mark the ears of their women as if they were so many hogs.
