

A CHRISTMAS CAROL.

There's a song in the air!
There's a star in the sky!
There's a mother's deep prayer,
And a baby's low cry!
And the star rains its fire while the beautiful singing,
For the manger of Bethlehem cradles a King.

There's a tumult of joy, O'er the wonderful birth,
For the Virgin's sweet Boy Is the Lord of the earth.
Aye! the star rains its fire and the beautiful singing,
For the manger of Bethlehem cradles a
King.

In the light of that star Lie the ages unpeeled;
And that song from afar Has swept o'er the world.
Every hearth is aflame, and the beautiful singing,
In the homes of the nations that Jesus is King.

We rejoice in the light,
And we echo the song
That comes down through the night From the heavenly throng.
Aye! we shout to the lovely evangel they bring,
And we greet in his cradle our Saviour and King.

It is an understood thing in the trade that the proprietary articles known as Hall's Hair Renewer, ostensibly put up at Nashua, N. H., and Ayer's Hair Vigor, actually put up at Lowell, Mass., are identically the same thing. It is a further interesting fact that both trademarks belong to the J. C. Ayer Co. of Lowell, and both are advertised by that company, the amount of money devoted to one being just about the same as that devoted to exploiting the other. This suggests a curious problem for advertisers: How is it that a man may make a profit in running an opposition to himself? When the above story was related to a canvassing man for the Geo. P. Rowell Advertising Co., he said he once visited an advertiser in Central New York who had a hair re-newer and a cure for the whooping-cough for each of which he had some sale, and all the bottles, whether for hair renewer or cough cure, were filled from the same tank. It was something not unlike crude petroleum, and really was rather good for either complaint.—Press and Printer.

DEATH OF GRANDMA FARRISH.

We clip the following from the Wood County (Wisconsin) reporter of 9th inst.:

"What art thou, O thou mystery of life?
A word, a look, suffices for thy birth; Yet thou endurest all the storms of earth,
And bright thy flame burns through the darkest strife.

From Eden borne in sad Eve's aching heart,
Sole relic of her glad and happy hours,
With light divine thou fill'st this earth of ours,
And they who love, e'en death can never part."

A life rich in Christian grace and love has gone to its final reward and rest. Not only mother, but honored Grandmother, with all the womanly graces which age bestows is no more in life to those who loved her. Her precepts and teachings will live long after her in the hearts of those who knew her best. Grandma has gone. Her vacant chair is a constant reminder of the many womanly traits of Christian character she possessed. She passed away very suddenly Friday morning at the home of her son John Farrish after a short illness.

Mrs. Farrish was born in Branton Parish, England, in the year 1804. Her maiden name was Catharine Smith. She was married to William Farrish at Richibucto, New Brunswick, on July 10, 1835.
She was the mother of eight children, six of whom still survive, one having died in New Brunswick, prior to the removal of the family to the west, and Mrs. Elizabeth Richards passing away in Grand Rapids many years ago. The names and places of residence of those living, given in order of their birth, are as follows: Robert Far-rish, of Grand Rapids; William Farrish, of Asotin, Washington; Jane McKee, of Seattle, Washington; Mary Swisher, of Wausau; Cassie Canning and John Far-rish, of Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Farrish accompanied by her husband, came to Wisconsin in 1856 and settled at Port Edwards. Here they resided together until Mr. Farrish died on June 16, 1868. At that time, Mrs. Farrish made her home with her son William Farrish, until the year 1878, when she removed to the then Territory of Washington, since which time she has continuously resided with her youngest son, John Farrish.

The funeral service took place at the Congregational church Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. F. S. Wheeler officiating. A large number of her friends were present to pay their respects to a woman who they had loved in life.

of Eczema.

About ten years ago I felt the beginnings of what is commonly known as Eczema. The disease commenced in my ears and spread entirely over both sides of my head and also developed on my hands.
During those ten years I was a great sufferer. Specialists on skin diseases treated me. As I write this I am just commencing on the fifth box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and, judging from the rapid improvement effected, I am certain that before the box is used I shall be completely cured.

THE OCEAN RACE.

THE PARISIAN BEATS THE GALLIA BY TWO HOURS.

The great ocean race from Halifax to Liverpool between the steamers Parisian and the Gallia, the crack greyhounds of the Allan and Beaver Lines respectively has ended in a victory for the Parisian.

The Allan liner arrived at Liverpool last night at 11 o'clock while the Gallia arrived exactly two hours and 30 minutes later. The Parisian sailed from Halifax 22 minutes before the Gallia, so by corrected time the Allan liner won by 2 hours and 8 minutes.

The Gallia is supposed to stop at Moville to land the mails, but there is a clause in the mail contract which permits the steamers to proceed direct to Liverpool in the case of rough weather. The Gallia proceeded direct this trip so it is presumed rough weather was experienced off Merville.

The greatest interest has been manifested in the race by shipping men as well as the general public and a great deal of money was wagered on the result.

PNY-PECTORAL

The Quick Cure for COUGHS, COLDS, CROUP, BRON-CHITIS, HOARSENESS, etc.

Mrs. JOSEPH NORDWICK, of 63 Soran Ave., Toronto, writes:

"Pny-Pectoral has never failed to cure my children of cough after a few doses. It cured myself of a long-standing cough after several other remedies had failed. It has also proved an excellent cough cure for my family. I prefer it to any other medicine for coughs, croup or hoarseness."

H. O. BARBOUR,
of Little Rock, N.B., writes:

"As a cure for coughs Pny-Pectoral is the best selling medicine I have; my customers will have no other."

A PRACTICAL VIEW OF IT.

The folks that write of fields of green where birds and daisies rule, I'll bet you, never struck them fields and plowed a Georgy mule, And them that write of tinkling bells in dells where cattle roam, I'll bet you, never had to drive the scampering cattle home!

And them that sing of woodlands sweet and softly sighing pines, I'll bet you, never had to tramp through prickly briars and vines And cut a cord of wood or two! No matter what they say,
The country ain't as pretty as it looks from far away!

Just let 'em come and try it—where people have to rise Before the sun has blazed a way along the chilly skies
And work from then until the stars look from the darkening dome—I'll bet you, 'fore the day was done they'd all make tracks for home!

And yet they keep on singing of country life "so sweet!"
And leave out all the mortgages and notes we have to meet!
We thank 'em for their compliments, for all the words they say, But still we ain't as pretty as we look from far away!

DAREDEVIL HEROISM.

Brave Rescue of General Payne by Some Negro Volunteers.

"The most daredevil piece of heroism I ever saw was by some negroes before Fort Pillow, when I was a prisoner inside the fort and General Payne was lying in front of it with his leg shot off," was the way Charles Cotton of Company C of the One Hundred and Sixty-first New York Infantry began a story of valiant rescue that he told to some negro veterans.

"General Payne's leg had been shot off in the first charge," he continued, "and he was lying hidden behind some rocks in front of the fort, when his troops were forming plans to rescue him.
The scattering fire from the fort swept that spot, and no officer dared to command any of his men to go to certain death in what looked like a vain attempt to rescue their chief."

"While the men were deliberating a negro stepped up and said, 'We might as well run our chances now as any other time, and I for one will make the attempt.' He was a handsome fellow, and the spirit he displayed was at once equaled by that of 11 other negroes, who stepped out and volunteered their services. A stretcher was brought, and four of them started, but had gone only a few yards when every one was shot dead. A moment after four others of the volunteers rushed out, and, picking up the stretcher, carried it a few yards farther, when they, too, were killed.

The four who were left went ahead as if nothing had happened, and two of them came back alive with the general, while the other two were left dead at the pile of rocks where General Payne had been lying. General Payne is still living, and, I am told, the two noble fellows who rescued him have wanted for nothing ever since."—Buffalo Express.

America's Literary Necessity.

America needs to start a new intellectual cycle, and it is superfluous to say that the way to start is not to rest in the boasted excellence of some light form of literature, for example, the American short story. It will take large effort than this, and effort along lines ill beset, to bring out the American rival of Homer and Dante and Virgil and Goethe and Shakespeare. There is a deal of meaning in the remark attributed to Horace Greeley that what the United States needed was a sound thrashing, but that unfortunately no other nation on earth was big enough to give it to them. The old world is well worn. It is gradually approaching, from sheer weariness, a social if not a political federalism, in which America must be teacher, not pupil.

But the only lesson which America is now teaching the world in the ideal realm is precisely the lesson which Von Hartmann has already put in words—namely, that the literature of the future is to be as the force which the Berlin business man goes to see of an evening by way of recreation. It is doing its best to prove that after Goethe the role of transcendent genius is no longer to be played. By way of bringing about a new movement in letters it would be an excellent thing if some profoundly one-sided thinker should arise to shake to pieces the eminently respectable but fat-tally monotonous philosophy of the American schools.—J. S. Tunison in Atlantic.

A Definition.

A woman was being examined at the Old Bailey as a witness, when, to a question put by the barrister, Mr.
C—, she replied, "Don't think to humbug me."

"Answer the question directly, woman, or I'll commit you," interrupted the recorder.

"Aye," said Mr. C—, "and tell us what you mean by humbug."

"Why," replied the woman, "if I was to tell you, Mr. C—, that the recorder was a gentleman that would be humbugging you and the court too."— English Exchange.

Force of Habit.

A woman will always ask the price of everything before she pays for it. Yes terday afternoon a woman stepped into a confectioner's shop and said:

"I want sixpennyworth of chocolates."

They were handed to her, and she took out her purse and remarked:

"How much is it, please?"—London

Some idea of the terrific force with which a bird passes through the air may be gained through the fact that a common curlew flew right through a piece of plate glass a quarter of an inch thick at Turnberry lighthouse, Ayrshire.

The original of the phrase "on tick," meaning credit, was "on ticket," the idea being that articles bought and not paid for at the time had to be noted on a ticket.

PROF. DUGAY, THE CELEBRATED WIRE ROPE WALKER, IN MONCTON.

(Saturday's Transcript.)

Prof. A. J. Dugay, a native of St. Anthony, Kent Co., and who has made his name celebrated all over America by his daring feats of wire-rope walking was in town yesterday having some business in the city. Mr. Dugay returned six weeks ago to see his parents after an unbroken absence of ten years in the neighboring republic. This morning in conversation with the Transcript reporter he said he was born in St. Anthony and at the age of 14 years went to the United States and learned the bicycle machinist business.

During his leisure moments he practiced tight rope walking and soon became quite an adept at it, and to-day according to the notices from papers in different parts of America, which he has preserved, his peer as a wire rope walker is not to be found in existence. Prof. Dugay is now only 34 years old, of a tall, erect stature which never fails to attract attention.

D-O-D-D-S

THE PECULIARITIES
OF THIS WORLD.

No Name on Earth so Famous—No Name More Widely Imitated.

No name on earth, perhaps, is so well known, more peculiarly constructed or more widely imitated than the word DODD. It possesses a peculiarity that makes it stand out prominently and fastens it in the memory. It contains four letters, but only two letters of the alphabet. Everyone knows that the first kidney remedy ever patented or sold in pill form was named DODD'S. Their discovery startled the medical profession the world over, and revolutionized the treatment of kidney diseases.

No imitator has ever succeeded in constructing a name possessing the peculiarity of DODD, though they nearly all adopt names as similar as possible in sound and construction to this. Their foolishness prevents them realizing that attempts to imitate increase the fame of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Why is the name "Dodd's Kidney Pills" imitated? As well ask why are diamonds and gold imitated. Because diamonds are the most precious gems, gold the most precious metal. Dodd's Kidney Pills are imitated because they are the most valuable medicine the world has ever known.

No medicine was ever named kidney pills till years of medical research gave Dodd's Kidney Pills to the world. No medicine ever cured Bright's disease except Dodd's Kidney Pills. No other medicine has cured as many cases of Rheumatism, Diabetes, Heart Disease, Lumbago, Dropsy, Female Weakness, and other kidney diseases as Dodd's Kidney Pills have.
It is universally known that they have never failed to cure these diseases, hence they are so widely and shamelessly imitated.
