I was so bad that I could scarcely walk. I have taken many kinds of medicines, but got nothing to help me. Being recommended to try Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box. After taking three doses I noticed a great change for the better, and I can now get around as smart as a ericket. I can split my own wood and am, in fact, just like a new man."

AGRICULTURAL BREVITIES.

The results from the continued experiments of the Rhode Island station appear to indicate that many farmers might find the use of lime on their land a paying finaucial operation even though the first cost of the inv stment seems to them forbiddingly great.

THE WHEAT CROP OF 1899.

The total wheat crow of 1899 is estimated at 565,350,000 bushels grown on 45,221,-000 acres as compared with a production last year which, in the light of the season's movement, cannot have been less than 715,000,000 bushels. As compared, then, with last year there is a shortage this season of at least 150,000,000 bushels. Last Year, with the largest wheat crop the world ever raised, we were called upon to export 225,000,000 bushels. This year, with a world's crop smaller by several hundred millions, we may reasonably expect to be called upon for as much and to meet such a requisition it will be necessary to reduce our old reserves to a point at least 60,000,000 bushels below what they were when new wheat became available this year.

"SUFEERED UNTOLD MISERY." South American Rhenmatic Cure Thwarted Disease and Cured Him Outright

Robert E. Gibson, merchant, Pembroke says that ten years ago he contracted rheumatism in a very severe type, suffered untold misery-resorted to fly-blisters and other severe treatments with no lasting good or relief. When hope of recovery was well nigh gone he was induced to try South American Rheumatic Cure. The first dose gave him instant relief, half a bottle cured him outright. His own words were: "It is the best rheumatic remedy on earth." Sold at Est. W. W.

Those who suffer from stomach troubles are truly to be pitied. Life seems a burden to them; food is distasteful, and even that of the plainest kind is frequently followed by nasuea, distressing pains, and sometimes vomiting. Soch a sufferer was Mr. Harvey Price, a well known farmer and stock-grower, living at Bismarck, Ont. To a reporter who recently interviewed him, Mr. Price said: "-I have found Dr. Williams' Pink Pills of such inclaculable value in relieving me of a long seige of suffering that I am not only willing but anxious to say a good word in behalf of this medicine, and thus point the road to health to some other sufferer. Eor five years I had been affleted with stomach trouble and a torpid liver. I doctored and also denied myself of many kinds of food pleasant to the taste, but neither the medical treatment nor the diet seemed to help me to any degree. In January, 1899, the climax of my trouble seemed to be reached. At that time I was taken down with la grippe, and that ad ded to my other troubles, placed me in such a precarious position that none of my neighbors looked for my recovery. My appetite was almost completely gone, and I experienced great weakness, dizziness, vomiting spells and violent headaches. I was also troubled with a cough which seemed to rack my whole system. I shall never forget the agony experienced during that long and tedious sickness. Medical treatment and medicines of various kinds had no apparent effect in relieving me. After existing in this state for some months, my mother induced me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In May last I purchased three boxes, and before these were gone undoubted relief was experienced. Thus encouraged I continued the use of the pills, and with the use of less than a dozen boxes, I was again enjoying the best of health. I can now attend to my farm work with the greatest ease. My appetite is better than it has been for years, and the stomach trouble that has so long made my life miserable has vanished I have gained in weight, and can safely say that I am enjoying better health than I have done for years before. I feel quite sure that those who may be sick or ailing, will find a cure in a fair trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make pure, rich blood, thus reaching the root of disease and driving it out of the system, curing when other medicines fail. Most of the ills officting mankind are due to an impoverished condition of the blood, or weak or shattered nerves, and for all these Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a specific which speedily restore the sufferer to health. These pills are never sold in any form except in the company's boxes, the wrapper round which bears the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." All others are counterfeits and should always be refused. Get the genuine, and be made well.

A young man asks if we would advise him to buy a farm and settle down to farming as a business, 'We would not advise anyone to buy a farm unless he wants to live on a farm and center all his powers of mind and muscle on the effort of mak. ing it a success. Any bright young man who will concentrate his mind on the business of the farm can make it profitable. There is even more of certainty about it, and no more of effort required, than in most other kinds of business. The greatest obstacle in the way of success with the farm, is the half-hearted, doubting way so many at the present time take hold of it. There is such a lack of faith in the business here in New England, so many holding and occupying farms onl, for the reason that circumstances have shown them no inviting opportunity in other directions, that they are beaten before they begin to put forth an effort. No one makes a success of any business in that way or under such conditions "I'll try it awhile" is simply an experiment that usually fails. "I'll do it" is the etfort that wins in whatever line of business undertaken.

MR. LEEPER'S WILD RIDE.

TWO HOURS ALOFT ON THE PAN OF A BUZ-ZING WINDMILL.

After a few more misadventures in his own inimitable style, as the programmes say, the people of Fruitvale may ask Alsinus Gustavue Leeper to give regular performances. He is so original in his method of mixing up with trouble.

Not long ago Mr. Leeper, alias "Boots" built himself a tall barn that was the pride of Fruitvale. The builder also shingled the structure at odd times, climbing to work by means of a ladder inside the walls. On the day he completed the job Mr. Leeper thoughtlessly nailed shingles over the opening above the ladder thus shutting off sll means of escape. Mr. Leeper yelled for help, but his folks were away from home and the neighbors thought he was celebrating the completion of the barn. The Fruitvale Har and Ladder Company finally turned out and rescued Mr. Leeper.

While this incident boomed the industeious citizen as a public encertainter. it was but a feeble show compared with his windmill adventure yesterday afternoon. The mill buzzes above the tank at the top of a forty foot skeleton tower in the back yard, pumping water for Mr. Leeper's pigeons and other live stock.

"I think the bearings need only said Boots. "With the wind in this di ection the fan is right over the tank where i can climb up and oil the places."

Crawling up the tower frame with his oil can, Mr. Leeper got astride of the fan or tail of the windmill. He was busy oiling when the breeze snifted six points and swung him clear of the tank roof. The wind also freshened and the lubricant in the journals induced the mill to brace up and spin at the rate of thirty knots an

"Help!" shrieked Mr. Leeper, but the ratiling machinery drowned his voice.

The wind shifted again until the direction of the fan from the time the oiler mounted it was entirely reversed. Instead of riding the tank, Mr. Leeper bucked and wriggled and swayed in midair on the razor backed fan. forty feet from the ground. This was a condition of deadly peril, even for a man who had marooned himself on a barn. Mr. Leeper's hair and whiskers curled with the terror. There was nothing to do bat cling to the upper end of the fan, and this he did so fondly that his finger nails made scars in the paint. The mill grew fractious ond bucked like a Wild West broncho. If I only had my spurs on," wailed the dizzy man, "or even a gunny sack for a saddle, I might hold out till the breeze shifts again."

Meanwhile his cries had attracted the family and a crowd of neighbors, some of whom wanted to bet on his finish.

"Throw her out gear and stop the mill," the daring rider bellowed from his bound-

They tried it, but his weight on the fan prevented the gear from working. "Get a ladder, then," bowled Mr. Leep-

The ladder was useless, for the fan swaved too much to offer a resting place for the upper end. Two hours or more did Mr. Leeper ride his wild race against time, waiting for the breeze to subside or haul to another quarter. He made a verbal will, dropping the words down between jolts, praying alternately and say-

"This was a worse job than riding the barn," said Boots. You see, I had a better seat there and the wind didn't bother me. Two or three times I came near being blown off the fan, and the way it bucked loosened some of my teeth. Talk about riding a man on a rail! I'll bet the she'pest rail ever split feels like upholstered plush compared to the edge of windmill
