

THE TELLER.—A charming story by the author of "DAVID HARUM" has reached us this week. An unusual subject for romance, the hero, a Bank Teller, falls in love with the daughter of one of the directors, and the plot deals with the difficulties and complications which ensue in an interesting and admirable manner. The story is published by The Poole Printing Company, Limited, Toronto, and is for sale by all newsdealers, at the low price of 15 cents, or will be sent postpaid by the publishers on receipt of price.

VERDICT "ACCIDENTALLY KILLED."

The coroner's inquest at Lawlor's Lake, St. John, into the death of Thomas Hourihan, by the accident to an I. C. R. ballast train on Thursday, returned a verdict of "accidentally killed" and exonerated the I. C. R. management from all blame. It appears the Hourihan was sitting on the side of the flat car when it left the track and toppled over. Section Foreman Alex. Duncan testified, "There are two curves between Riverside and Torryburn and one at Lawlor's Lake. At Lawlor's Lake a flat car left rails. The men were all seated on the cars with legs dangling. There would only be about six or seven inches elevation when the cars left the track." Dr. Emery stated that he viewed remains Thursday. Found fracture of skull, part of bone indented and driven in. Right arm cut off at elbow. Both legs cut off and the body badly crushed. The evidence assigned no cause for the accident and showed that the cars were in good condition.

MASONIC ENTERTAINMENT.—The entertainment last Thursday evening, given under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity of Kent County, was very largely attended. The bicycle and other races in the afternoon excited much interest. Hiram Legoff the winner of the bicycle race was presented with a bicycle lamp. In the evening the Masonic hall was filled to overflowing to hear one of the best entertainments ever put upon the boards in Richibucto. Dr. Doherty acted as Chairman and the program was as follows:—

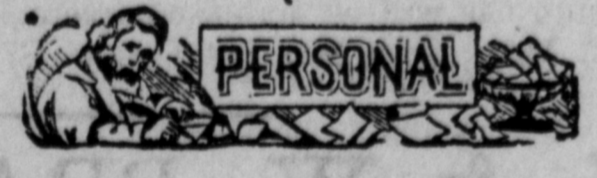

1.—Violin Trio, Messrs. Hannay and Girvan, and Miss Girvan; 2.—Recitation, Miss Blackwood; 3.—Vocal Solo, "Venus," Miss Black; 4.—Piano Solo, Firelight, Miss Clark; 5.—Vocal Duet, "Hope Beyond," Misses Black and Hudson; 6.—Vocal Solo, "Looks and Eyes," Miss Gosline; 7.—Violin Duet, Mr. Hannah and Miss Girvan; 8.—Vocal Solo, "The Swallows, Miss Davidson; 9.—Recitation, Miss Blackwood; 10.—Vocal Duet, "When Life is Brightest," Misses Davidson and Black; 11.—Recitation, Dr. Doherty; 12.—Vocal Solo, "Who'll Buy my Flowers, Miss Girvan; God Save the Queen. The accompaniments were played by Miss Alice Vautour. The performance was a success from beginning to end, but Miss Davidson, of Moncton, and Miss Blackwood, of Halifax, deserve especial mention. Miss Davidson has been for some time attending a vocal institution in Boston and she certainly does credit to the institution. As an oratorianist it is hard to find Miss Blackwood's equal. The refreshment booth outside the hall was liberally patronized.

AN INTERESTING EVENT.—An interesting event in the annals of Freemasonry throughout the world has just been celebrated in Edinburgh with the customary banquet. The Edinburgh lodge, Mary's Chapel, No. 1, has continuous minutes, dating back three hundred years, and it was the occurrence of the tercentenary of these minutes which gave Masons from all parts of Scotland an opportunity of dining together the other night. No other Scottish lodge can come near Mary's Chapel in this respect for forty-three years, while the oldest minutes in England are twenty-six years later in point of time. The first minutes extant of Mary's Chapel is dated 1599. In these days Masonry was entirely associated with operative masonry. Members of the lodges were working members of the masonic craft, and the first minute refers to an act of discipline exercised on one George Patoun for an offence against the "dekin" (deacon) for having placed a man who was not a member of the craft to work for two and a half days on a chimney head. Patoun made free confession of his misdeeds, and was let off with a warning that he must not commit the "lyke offense hereafter." There is a minute dated 1600 telling of a meeting held in Holyrood also to deal with an offender against law. It was not until the latter half of the seventeenth century that non-operative masons began to be admitted to Masonic lodges, and among the first was "Ye Laird of Auchinleck," a progenitor of Boswell, the biographer of Johnson. Early in the eighteenth century "gentleman masons" became very frequent, and "speculative" Masonry gradually superseded "operative masonry, both in Scotland and elsewhere. Mary's Chapel is the premier lodge of Scotland. It has embraced within its membership many of the leading men of Edinburgh, and it was to it that the Prince of Wales was affiliated when he came to Edinburgh in 1870 to lay the foundation stone of the Edinburgh Royal Infirmary.
