GRAND ANSE.

Nov. 6, 1899.—The election of representatives for the parish of New Bandon at the council board for the ensuing two years caused considerable excitement and resulted in favor of Thomas R. Reardon of Pokeshaw and F. J. Comou of New Bandon.

The annual fair of the Grand Anse Agricultural Society took place Tuesday, and was in every respect an excellent show. The weather was fine for the season of the year, and there was a large attendance. The display of horses of all kinds was exceptionally good especially the carriage horses. The display of grain roots, vegetables were also good though hardly up to former years. The judges reporting for duty were on stock grain etc., Francis Maroney, Waterloo, A. Sheriault, Grand Anse, R. Hixon, Clifton, Fancy work, Miss Janie O'Neill, Waterloo, Mrs. J. W. Dumas, Grand Anse, Mrs. Robert Cushing, Pokeshaw. The list of prize winners would be too numerous to publish.

Bishop Rodgers of Chatham, N. B., confirmed one hundred and eighty children in the Grand Anse R. C. Church on Sunday. He was assisted by Fathers Mardock and Doucet, who earnestly and eloquently addressed the children in English and French at the close of the service.

R. A. Chapman fishery inspector will be in Grand Anse this week to take the claims for fishing bounty.

Miss Maggie Salter one of our popular young ladies left for Portland, Maine, recently for the winter. She is very much missed here by her very many relatives and friends. All wish her a pleasant winter among her new friends.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sullivan are receiving the congratulations of their friends on the arrival of a boy. E. J. Sullivan is the popular telegraph agent here.

George L. Theriault book keeper for Adams, Burns Co., Burnsville, was here recently hiring men for the woods.

A good number of the men of this place are employed by John O'Neill in the lumber woods of Tracada this winter.

Ministers and members of various Christian churches assembled at Toronto last week, at the second annual meeting of the Canadian Society for Christian Unity and frankly discussed the best means of drawing all the denominations together for the common cause of Christianity, irrespective of doctrinal differences. The spirit manifested by the speakers was such as to augur well for the success of the organization. The aim of the society is to promote the reunion of Christendom, to which end it is proposed to form a federation of the various churches.

Children Cry for CASTORIA.

The baggage of the passengers on the ill-fated steamer Scotsman has reached Newfoundland and will be at once forwarded to the owners. The long delay in arrival there is due to the alleged exorbitant claim made by the owner of the rescuing schooner for salvage.

We Could Possibly Have

Is the confidence established with people living at a distance who send to us for their wants in Dry Goods.

It has taken years to build up this mail-order business, and this has only been accomplished by the greatest care and most diligent attention to the minutest details of letter orders.

Very large stocks and assortments, especially in dress materials, cloths, &c., are carried with special view to mail-order business. Larger varieties of samples are sent on request.

There is no more trouble for customers to see our goods than to write us a post card asking that samples be sent.

Try this mail-order buying—you'll find it profitable and satisfactory.

WE PAY EXPRESS CHARGES ON ALL PARCELS OF FIVE DOLLARS OR OVER.

—We are pleased to note that Mr. John Graham, Sr., who has been confined to his bed for some time by illness, is able to be about again.

—James Jeffries defeated Thomas Sharkey in a 25-round bout at New York Friday night. They fought the full limit of 25 rounds. There was no knock-out.

—Union Blend Tea reaches the masses in all parts of the Maritime Provinces. The keys have made it a great hit, and steady hitting has proved a great winner in the sales of Union Blend Tea.

—Miss Kate Callendar, of Kouchibouguac, went to the St. John Hospital last week where she will be attended for a complaint similar to lock-jaw. She was accompanied by her brother Robert.

—There is no more trouble for people to see our goods than to write a post card asking that samples be sent. Fine dress goods and cloths in large assortments. See Daniel & Robertson's advertisement on page 3.

—The weather for the past few days has been very disagreeable owing to the quantity of rain which has fallen. The roads through the country are in a fearful condition. A slight flurry of snow fell on Monday afternoon.

—Don't forget the Harvest Supper and Musical Entertainment to be held by the ladies of the Presbyterian churches of Kingston and Richibucto in the Public Hall, Kingston, on the 15th inst. A good time is guaranteed those who attend.

—Commercial travellers appear to be the only visitors to Richibucto now. A hotel man in conversation with a representative of THE REVIEW the other day said that he did not think he had ever seen as many travellers here in one week as were here last week.

—Mr. Robert Murphy, of Bass River, received a communication from Mayor Sears, of St. John, last week, asking the people of Kent County for their support and contribution to the New Brunswick African contingent fund. The letter will be found in another column.

—Mr. G. Schwartz had a narrow escape from being drowned last Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Schwartz with several other men and a number of children were fishing smelts on O'Leary's wharf. While walking along the edge of the wharf his foot slipped and he fell over the wharf into the channel. Had not assistance been rendered at once Mr. Schwartz may have met a watery grave.

—The drawing at the lottery of the horse and watch owned by Mr. A. C. Graham, Molus River took place last Thursday, 2nd inst., at the Royal Hotel, Kingston, the drawing being done by Mr. Mark Conway. Mr. T. F. Flynn, Bangor, Me., took the watch, the lucky ticket being No. 11 and Mr. C. A. Patterson, 45 Bowden St., Boston, Mass., taking the horse, the ticket being No. 45.

—An incident worthy of note occurred in one of our Churches last Sunday evening. During the sermon one of the good members of the church while listening with great interest to the words of the preacher shouted "Amen." On being asked by another member of the church to be silent, he became enraged and said he would not, and standing up in the pew shouted "Amen! Amen!" It was with fury sparkling in his eyes that he sat down in another pew, having been silenced by the clergyman.

—Chatham World: The boom in Sydney is shared in by Chatham men. Mr. Z. Tingley is doing well there, and Mr. C. Ernest Murray has evidently struck it rich, judging from his letter head. This reads as follows: Charles E. Murray, Banker and Broker, P. O. Box 140, Stocks, Bonds, Grain, Cotton, Provisions and Investment Securities bought and sold on commission on the New York, Chicago, Toronto, Montreal or London exchanges Bills of Exchange sold on the principal cities of Europe. A General Banking Business Transacted. Deposits received subject to check at sight. Money to loan, English, American and Foreign money exchanged. South Charlotte street, Sydney, C. B. Cable Address: 'Murray.'

—In the November Magazine Number The Outlook prints a portrait and brief sketch of Mr. James Barnes, now on his way to the Transvaal as special correspondent for The Outlook. The articles from Mr. Barnes on the Transvaal War and on the problems of South Africa will undoubtedly prove as attractive a feature in this journal as have the two series of articles on Cuba by Mr. George Kennan. Another series of equal importance will be that on the Philippines by Mr. Phelps Whitmarsh, author of "The World's Rough Hand." Mr. Whitmarsh is now in the islands as a special commissioner for The Outlook. An article on Hawaii in its present relations to the United States, including an interview with ex-President Dole, appears in The Outlook for October 28th, and forms the first of Mr. Whitmarsh's series under the general title "Colonial America." —Schooner Minnie E. Moody, Capt. Geo. Long arrived in port Tuesday afternoon from Chatham with a cargo of shoeks for Mr. R. O'Leary.

—Dr. Langstroth wishes to inform the people of Richibucto that he will make periodical visits about every 6 or 8 weeks, and will remain two weeks on each trip.

—Telephonic communication is now open from Moncton to Buctouche and offices have been established at the following intermediate points: McDougall's, Notre Dame and St. Anthony. Mr. Peters, local manager, has been instructing those in charge and the line is now ready for business.

—The general opinion from officials circles is that the second contingent for the Transvaal will not be accepted by the War office for the present, but should the war be of long duration it may. The Militia department, however, will be ready, so as to be able to duplicate what is on the way in the shortest possible notice.

—The Dorchester correspondent of Tuesday's Times says: Guard C. S. Eeldon, of the Dorchester penitentiary left for Kingston penitentiary by the I. C. R. train this evening in charge of an insane convict named David Campbell. He formerly belonged to St. John, N. B., and was convicted in Cumberland Co., N. S., for burglary and sentenced to five years. He has two years of the term yet to serve which he probably will complete in the asylum at the Kingston prison. The unfortunate man has a wife and one child now living in St. John, and it is supposed that grieving about them has affected his mind.

To the Editor of the Review:

I am in receipt of a communication from the Mayor of St. John city asking the people of Kent County for their loyal support and contribution to the New Brunswick African Contingent Fund.

I do not feel it incumbent on me, in my capacity as "Warden" of the county to make a move in the matter as there has been a new council elected this year.

If there is a move made in the matter I will be happy to contribute, and will hand the communication to the council when it convenes in January next.
