BRITISH TROOPS WITHDRAWN TO SOUTHWARD.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The War office has issued the following announcement: "The Colonial office has received information to the effect that the British troops have withdrawn from Colenso and have concentrated further south. But we have no news of any engagement in that neighborhood."

Later.—It has been officially announced that the British have evacuated Colenso, south of Ladysmith.

The Outlook announces that Lady Randolph Churchill is going to the Cape to attend the wounded.

BURGHESDORF, Cape Colony, Nov. 2 (delayed in transmission).—The Boers crossed B-thulie bridge this morning; about 300 more of them are expected to cross this afternoon.

LADYSMITH, Nov. 1, afternoon, via Cape Town)—Four naval long range guns have been mounted here.

PARIS, Nov. 3.—The London correspondent of the Liberte says that the Boers in strong force, under General Lucas Meyer, are occupying the town of Colenso, thirty-five miles south of Ladysmith, thus completely investing the latter place. The correspondent adds that General Meyer took part in Monday's battle, but continued his flanking movement until he reached Colenso, with the result that there was renewed fighting south of Ladysmith, in which the British lost another 1,000 in killed, wounded and prisoners.

PORT TULL, Rhodesia, Nov. 1 (delayed in transmission).—There have been a few skirmishes with the Boers, whose main body has retired southward.

COLESBURG, Cape Colony, Nov. 2 (delayed in transmission).—The bridge is intact. The explosions heard yesterday were signals.

NO NEWS FROM LADYSMITH.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The War office at noon to day announced that nothing had been received there in any way modifying or altering the statement issued yesterday afternoon saying that belated despatches from Ladysmith were coming through. Nothing has been received to corroborate the reiterated reports from Berlin of the capitulation of General White.

A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Pietermaritzburg, dated yesterday, said Ladysmith was perfectly quiet that morning and another despatch from the same place to the Exchange Telegraph Company says a number of women and children left Ladysmith yesterday on a passenger train escorted by the armored train.

A third despatch to the exchange Telegraph Company, dated Cape Town, November 1, announces that the Boers have entered Cape Colony at Norvalspuit, destroying several bridges.

The Exchange Telegraph Company later corrected its Pietermaritzburg dates to Wednesday, November 1, so they lose significance.

The British troopship Papidan, which sailed for South Africa, November 1 from Liverpool, is returning in a damaged condition, having encountered yesterday's storm. She signalled that her fittings were out of order, that several horses had been drowned and that three of her boats were stove in. She is going to Liverpool to be refitted.

KIMBERLEY IS SAFE.

KIMBERLEY, Oct. 31.—A strong reconnaissance made by Colonel Scott Turner discovered the enemy posted on a Kopje. The Boers fired thirteen shells none of which took effect and the reconnoitering party returned to Kimberley.

NOTES OF THE JEFFRIES-SHARKEY FIGHT.

After the decision was announced Sharkey cried like a child. He thought he should have received the verdict.

Jeffries said: "Sharkey is the hardest and best man I ever met, and I hardly expect to meet a better in the future. Within six months I have met and defeated the best two men in the world, and will now take a long rest, probably nine months or a year. Never again will I fight under the same conditions. The heat from the light overhead tended to take away a great deal of my steam and the glare from the floor weakened my eyes. My left arm, the one that was injured while training, gave out in the fourth round and I could not use it properly for the rest of the battle or the result would have been different for I think that I could have knocked him out.

George Siler, who has been referee in the Corbett-Fitzsimmons, McCoy Sharky, and Fitzsimmons-Jeffries contests officiated in that capacity, again, Friday night.

Sharkey was inconsolable and cried like a child when he went to his quarters and refused to talk, but Tom O'Rourke, his manager, expressed the opinion that the sailor should have received the decision. He said that two of Sharkey's ribs were broken and that during the last four rounds Tom's left hand was useless, having been broken on Jeffries' head.
