20 YEARS TORTURE.

A Belleville Lady, Whom Doctors Failed to Help, Cured at Last by Doan's Kidney Pills.

No one who has not suffered from kidney disease can imagine the terrible torture those endure who are the victims of some disorder of these delicate filters of the body. Mrs. Richard Rees, a well-known and highly respected lady of Belleville, Ont., had to bear the burden of kidney complaint for over 20 years and now Doan's Kidney Pills have cured her when all else failed.

Her husband made the following statement of her case: "For 20 years my wife has been a sufferer from pain in the back, sleeplessness and nervousness and general prostration. Nothing seemed to help her. Doctors and medicines all failed, until we got a ray of hope when we saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised as a positive cure. "She began to take them and they helped her right away, and she is now better in every respect. We can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers, for they seem to strike the right spot quickly, and their action is not only quick but it is permanent.

"I cannot say more in favor of these wonderful pills than that they saved my wife from lingering torture, which she had endured for 20 years past, and I sincerely trust that all sufferers will give Doan's Kidney Pills a fair trial."

LAXA-LIVER PILLS

MEN AS "HIRED GIRLS."

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO HAVE A MAN TO MIND THE BABY AND DO THE WASHING?

(Chicago Times-Herald.)

Crowded out of stores, factories and offices by women's willingness to work for lower wages, idle men are going into domestic service, and are raising the wage scale there, too. Moreover, so far as the employment agencies have had reports from their clients who employed men for housework, the latter are giving excellent service, and seem to be in most instances satisfied to remain in their new positions. Many of the men so employed are old fellows unable any longer to do hard outdoor labor, and are gratified to be able to fall into indoor places of comparative ease, with a guarantee of plenty of wholesome food, comfortable quarters; and fair wages in addition. But young men are not lacking in the list. These men, be it understood, are not employed for the offices of butler, coachman, and the like, but are asked to perform the functions of housemaid and cook, to care for the babies, sweep and wash, scrub and polish, and so forth.

The want-ad columns of the daily papers contain many calls for men, the last resort of housekeepers who have failed to get women. The labor agencies have many such applications, and not infrequently a help-seeker who comes for a woman engages a man instead, the woman refusing to do general work, or making other conditions with which the housewife is unwilling or unable to comply.

The superintendent of one of the state's free employment agencies was asked to give his observations on the newest departure.

"We are placing men for housework right along," he said. "People come in for girls, cannot get them, and find that they can get men—therefore accept them. Others come right forward and plainly say that they would rather have a man than a girl, and ask for men outright without bothering for women. It is not a question of cheapness, either. The man who does housework, as a rule, gets about 20 per cent. more than a woman. The reason? Scarcity of good girls, perhaps. Another thing: Too many women are trained to specialties nowadays. One woman will announce herself as a skilled meat cook or pastry cook or something of the kind, and sit here day after day, hoping that somebody will come along with just the job she wants. Men don't act that way and are willing to take a chance on any good place when they are out of work. Many girls who formerly did housework are seeking a chance to work in stores or restaurants, any place, they say, where there is a definite limit to their labor and where they can rest when their allotted hours are over. I should say that the demand for good girls was 40 per cent. in excess of the supply, and the families that cannot get girls must find men or eat outside their homes."

"I'm sure I do not know," responded the sagacious husband, too discreet to hazard a rash opinion. "I'm sure I don't know. What? Nothing serious, I hope?" "They say they can tell when she's going to have company by her washing the children's faces! Now, you're a pretty sanguine man, John, but what on earth can you hope for of a woman like that?" "Well," he answered, with something like a sigh, to hide the humor which his wise husband cares to show in considering the difficulties of his wife, "I suppose all we can hope for is that she entertains a good deal."

ALL THEY COULD HOPE FOR.

Dean Redding was a man of remarkably cheerful and hopeful turn of mind. His wife, on the other hand, took things very seriously, and had no small difficulty in accommodating herself to the peculiarities of her neighbors when, as not infrequently happened, they differed from her own. Life cites an anecdote illustrating these opposite traits of character in the husband and wife.

Shortly after the dean had moved to a new parish in the Woking district, the worthy woman had been calling among the poor parishioners.

"John," she cried, returning home in a state of mental agitation, "what do you think they say of Mrs. Reilly, the butcher's wife?"

"I'm sure I do not know," responded the sagacious husband, too discreet to hazard a rash opinion. "I'm sure I don't know. What? Nothing serious, I hope?"

SCOTSMAN ASHORE.

BIG DOMINION LINER ON THE ROCKS. HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 28.—Another wreck is reported in the dangerous straits of Belle Isle.

The fine 6000 ton steamer Scotsman of the Dominion line, is ashore there. The passengers have been taken off by another steamer.

The stranded vessel is in a very perilous position and in all probability be a total wreck.

Owing to the isolated position of the steamer and lack of telegraphic communication, details of the wreck are difficult to obtain. News of the wreck of the big steamer was received this morning. The Scotsman sailed from Liverpool September 14, and was due at Quebec last Friday or Saturday. Considerable anxiety was felt in Montreal about the vessel, but she was not reported until morning, when D. Torrance & Son received the news of the wreck.

It is not yet known just where the Scotsman ran ashore, but it is possible that she may have been in the Rocks for several days. Owing to the strike in Liverpool, she was compelled to sail with a crew of green fireman and that circumstance may have contributed to the disaster.

The first news of the stranding of the big liner, was communicated at eight o'clock this morning, when the Elder Dempster liner Montfort passed Heath Point, Anticosti and signalled that she had on board passengers which have been taken from the steamer Scotsman ashore off the straits of Belle Isle.

Further particulars will hardly be available until the Montfort reaches Rimouski some time tomorrow morning. The passengers number about 250 persons and it is believed all are safe. They will be landed at Rimouski whence they will be taken to Montreal on a special L. C. R. train.

The Scotsman is the big Dominion liner which ran to St. John last winter on the mail service to Great Britain. She is a twin screw vessel and has four masts. She was built at Belfast in 1896. Her principal dimensions are: gross tonnage 6040 tons, length 471 feet, breadth 49 feet.

The Scotsman's passenger list consisted of 81 first class, 91 second cabin and 150 steerage. Among them were the members of the "Sign of the Cross" theatrical company. Captain Skrimshire is in command of the Dominion liner.

By The St. Lawrence.

Mr. W. H. Odell, of Brockville, a strong believer in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Brockville, Oct. 2—Nowhere in Ontario are Dodd's Kidney Pills more appreciated than along the St. Lawrence River, and the Great Lakes. Where there is water there is damp and danger from Rheumatism and colds. The kidneys are the organs most susceptible to colds and their getting out of order therefrom causes rheumatism, backache, etc. Mr. W. H. Odell, of Brockville, writes to an enquirer as follows:

Brockville, Aug. 28th

Dear Sir,—I received your letter and intended to answer it before, but I am ashamed to say neglected to do so. Dodd's Kidney Pills have done me the world of good. They are a splendid cure for the kidneys and I am always ready to say so. I remain,

Yours truly,
W. H. ODELL.

SHE ALSO CHANGED HER MIND.

(London Tit-Bits.)

A young couple in a Lancaster village had been courting for several years. The young man one day said to the woman:

"Sally, I cana marry thee."

"How's that?" asked she.

"I've changed my mind," said he.

"Well, I'll tell you what we'll do," said she. "If folks know that it's thee as has given me up, I shanna be able to get another chap; but if they think that I've given you up, then I can get another chap. So we'll have banns published, and when the wedding day comes the parson will say to thee, 'Wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife?' and the must say 'I will,' and when he says to me, 'Wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?' I shall say 'I winna.'"

The day came, and when the minister said, "Wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife?" the man answered:

"I will."

Then the parson said to the woman:

"Wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?" and she said:

"I will."

"Why," said the young man, furiously, you said you would say 'I winna.'"

"I know that," said the young woman, "but I've changed my mind since."

KILLED FLEEING FROM A DOG.

TWO BROTHERS TERRIFIED BY PURSUING ANIMAL, DASH BLINDLY TO PRECIPICE —ONE WENT TO DEATH.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Sept. 27 —Frightened by a dog, set on him by a man who objected to his gathering juniper berries, Matthew Edwards, eight years old, sprang off a 70-foot cliff at Ponckhocke Tuesday afternoon and was instantly killed. Michael Edwards, 12 years old, was seriously injured attempting to reach his brother's side. He may die.

The little brothers had been picking berries, unconscious of any trespassing, when the owner of the property suddenly set a large dog after the two boys. Instantly dropping their fruit, the brothers took flight, the younger boy somewhat in the lead. Heading straight for the precipice, Matthew leaped over. His skull was fractured and he died a few moments later.

Michael, who had come to a stop when he saw the abyss before him, was so overcome with grief and terror that he attempted to spring from the cliff also and hasten to his brother's assistance. As he was about to take the leap he was caught by the arm by Oren Feeney, who had that moment appeared on the spot.

The terror-stricken lad was not, however, to be kept from his purpose, and, wrenching himself loose from Feeney, he clambered down the hill some distance and jumped to the ground, still many feet below him. Although seriously injured, and with a long gash in his head, Michael made his way to the side of his dying brother, only to see him breathe his last.

IN HUMANITY'S CAUSE.

Heart full of Song Because South American Rheumatic Cure has healed Her.

"For the benefit of suffering humanity I consider it my duty to inform you of the great and lasting benefit I have received from the use of South American Rheumatic Cure. I was a great sufferer from rheumatism for a number of years—all remedies I tried failed to cure until I commenced to use this wonderful preparation. It worked a great cure. I trust other sufferers may follow my example with as satisfactory results." Mrs. Bates, 71 Gloucester Street, Toronto. Sold at Est. W. W. Short.

SHE KNEW A THING OR TWO.

"I thought for awhile," said Mrs. Rockingham, "that Lulu and Mr. Spinnikins had an understanding—that they were in love with each other and were keeping the truth from us."

"Yes," her husband replied, "I've had a kind of a sneaking notion of that kind myself."

"But there's nothing in it," the sweet old lady assured him. "They're as innocent as young lambs."

"How do you know?" Mr. Rockingham demanded. "I hope you're not foolish enough to take her word for it."

"No," she said, "I have better proof than that. While we were sitting here in the library last night, and she was showing him those new snapshots she has just had mounted, the electric lights suddenly went out, leaving us in total darkness. I suppose something was the matter with the wire. It was as black as ink for nearly a minute."

"Oh, and simply because you didn't hear any smacking you have jumped to this conclusion, eh?"

"Henry," she answered, "why will you keep on refusing to give me credit for knowing things! The second the wire failed Mr. Spinnikins stumbled out to the hall, saying he had some matches in his overcoat and would light the gas as soon as he could get one of them."

"A word to the wise is sufficient." Wise people keep their blood pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla and make sure of health.
