Cramps and Colic

Always relieved promptly by Dr. Fowler's Ext. of Wild Strawberry.

When you are seized with an attack of Cramps or doubled up with Colic, you want a remedy you are sure will give you relief and give it quickly, too.

You don't want an untried something that may help you. You want Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which every one knows will positively cure Cramps and Colic quickly. Just a dose or two and you have ease.

But now a word of proof to back up these assertions, and we have it from Mr. John Hawke, Coldwater, Ont., who writes: "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a wonderful cure for Diarrhoea, Cramps and pains in the stomach. I was a great sufferer until I gave it a trial, but now I have perfect comfort."

and pains in the stomach. I was a great sufferer until I gave it a trial, but now I have perfect comfort."

THE DOCTOR'S WATCH.

I hate the sound of the doctor's watch
As it ticks so solemn and slow;
In every beat you hear the feet
Of the hopes that come and go.
Ah! come and go, and go and come,
Till the heart and the ticks are one;
And they strike together till life-links sever,
And the watch ticks on alone.

Ah! I had a wife—a beautiful wife,
In heart and body and soul;
But the watch came there in the doctor's care,
And the tick was changed to a toll;
For I saw him gaze on its whitened face
Till his, too, whitened with sorrow,
And he placed it back in its darksome nook
And I was alone on the morrow.

Oh, I hate the sound of the doctor's watch
As it ticks so solemn and slow;
In every beat you hear the feet
Of the hopes that come and go.
Of the hopes that downward go.

THE PHILIPPINE CAMPAIGN.

AGUINALDO OBTAINED HIS CANNONS FROM AMERICANS—GEN. LAWTON'S SUCCESS.

CHICAGO, June 15.—According to Gen. Anderson, commanding the department of the lakes, the heavy losses of the American troops in the recent engagements with the Filipinos in Las, Pinas, and Bako, south of Manila, were caused by the artillery which Admiral Dewey captured at Cavite and presented to Aguinaldo last winter. The batteries in question General Anderson says, are being operated by Spanish prisoners who have been released by Aguinaldo with the understanding that they enlist in the insurgent army. General Anderson took the first detachment of troops to the Philippines last fall and was a prominent figure in the first negotiations with the Filipino government. "After the first skirmish we had with the insurgents last fall," said Gen. Anderson, "I strongly advised that Aguinaldo and his men be driven from the province south of Manila, as they might cause trouble later if permitted to retain their position. Gen. Otis did not see fit to follow my advice, however, and the insurgents have been there ever since, building entrenchments and preparing for attack. Gen. Otis entertained the opinion that the enemy could be dislodged at any time without trouble. In this he was mistaken, as the stubborn engagements of the past few days show."

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Gen. Otis cabled the following to-day.

MANILA, June 15.—Success of Lawton's troops in Cavite province was greater than reported yesterday. The enemy numbered over 4,000; loss in killed wounded and captured, more than one-third; the remainder, much scattered, have retreated south to Iloilo. Of their five pieces of artillery, three captured. The navy aided greatly on the shore bay, landing forces occasionally. The inhabitants in that country rejoice at the deliverance and welcome with enthusiastic demonstrations the arrival of our troops.

The war department bulletins the following:

MANILA June 15.—A prominent Filipino friendly to Americans was assassinated at Cebu. The inhabitants of that locality urgently requested American protection in stronger force. Have sent battalion and two guns from Iloilo, which ensures peace. Hughes now in charge of affairs in that section.

A FATHER'S FLIGHT.

ALLIGATORS ATE UP HIS BABIES BEFORE HIS EYES.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 15.—The two children of Paul R. Naegele, were devoured by alligators under the eyes of their helpless parents on Saturday night.

Naegele and his family encamped on the bank of the bayou or lagoon running out from the shore of Espantos Lake, in Dimitt County.

This lake, though far inland, is alive with alligators. At certain times of the day they cover the banks so thickly that one can hardly see the mud. Their horrible hissing fill the air, while an odor of musk which arises from them is so strong that you can smell it three miles.

Naegele had been warned not to camp too near the lake, but he did not understand the danger and ignored the warning.

During the night he was aroused by the restlessness of his horses, who were straining at the ropes in such a way that they threatened at any moment to break loose. He went out to see what was the matter and, thinking that some wild animal might be worrying them, he took an axe. As he came near the horses he stepped on what seemed to be a long log of wood. It squirmed beneath him and in another minute the jaws of a gigantic alligator snapped at him. He struck at it with all his might with his axe and hit it between the eyes, stunning it for a time.

At this moment he heard a shriek from his wife. Leaving the alligator he had encountered he ran to her assistance. When he reached her he found that another enormous alligator had seized their eldest child, a girl of four years and was moving away with its victim in its jaws.

The woman, who was unarmed, was tearing at the eyes of the alligator with her bare fingers, showing the frantic courage of a mother threatened with the loss of her child. The reptile moved away without paying any attention to her struggles. Naegele attacked this alligator with his axe as he had done the other, but this time he did not have the same success. His first blow fell on the enormously thick scales on the back of the animal which remained absolutely uninjured. Naegele redoubled his blows and the alligator knocked him down with a swish of its tail and momentarily stunned him.

At the same time another horror was taking place. When the alligator seized the four year old girl the mother dropped the baby she had in her arms in order to secure the child who was being taken away. No sooner had she done this than another alligator seized the baby that she had left on the ground.

While her husband was struggling with his alligator she attacked the one which had seized the baby. The reptile bit at the mother. It had not succeeded in getting a good hold of her, but made a terrible wound in her left leg as she sprang back to avoid being devoured.

By 12 o'clock Naegele was left stunned upon the ground, while his wife was lying helpless and bleeding profusely. The reptiles moved quickly away with their child victims and disappeared in the foul waters of the lake.

Old inhabitants of the valley say that the alligators had just awakened from their winter torpor and found a great lack of their customary food, including fish, water birds and other small animals. They were ravenously hungry, and any living thing was sure to attract a horde of them. Alligators are very much afraid of noise and as long as a man or an animal makes a great deal of noise there is no danger.

The alligator likes to crawl down on a silent and helpless victim and devour it without a struggle. They are the greatest cowards in the world.

While Naegele was arranging his camp with his prattling children and tramping horses the alligators were kept away by the noise and lurked calmly beneath the water, but as soon as the camp was plunged in darkness and slumber the ravenous reptiles, attracted by the scent of warm-blooded creatures, moved down upon the little camp and eagerly snatched the first victims they could find. The noise made after their presence was discovered soon drove them away, but the horrible tragedy was completed.

HARRY COSTIGAN'S CASE.

OTTAWA, June 15.—Sir Henri Joly appeared before the public accounts committee to-day and gave a statement in regard to the Harry Costigan matter. Very little of what was new was added to the history of the case. Sir Henri said that Costigan was not the only case of the kind they had to deal with. There were ten others and he gave all of them a chance, instead of dismissing them, and in that way might have procured a number of offices for Liberals. Costigan lost $600 per year of his salary and also was three months without any salary at all. Since his removal to Ottawa Costigan was faithful and active in his position.

The anti-saloons movement is taking hold in North Carolina and Pennsylvania.

Ireland spends $27,500 per day in suppressing crime. Irish papers estimate that nine-tenths of this is caused by the liquor business.

In England a new inebriates' act went into effect January 1. The law provides for the commitment of habitual drunkards for any period up to three years.

At the Parliament of Religions a Buddhist monk of India said that his people had never tried to convert the world by going out with a Bible in one hand and a bottle of rum in the other.

Within six years recently, there have been upward of 32,000 whiskey homicides in the United States; within the ten years between 1886 and 1896, upward of 53,000. A Christian civilization ought to stop this slaughter soon.

There are 400,000 teachers employed in the public schools of the United States, and they are paid about $165,000,000 yearly. There are 1,200,000 barkeepers and saloon-keepers, and the people pay to them over 1,000,000,000 a year. Think on these things, and then act, and vote.

SUPERSTITION AND SELF-INTEREST VS. SCIENCE.

George Gooderham, the distiller of Toronto, in giving evidence before the Royal Commission, said, in answer to the question: "What makes the difference between the illicit trade and the legalized trade in the effect on the community?" John Brown, on that corner, has a license to sell liquor, and William Smith, on this corner, has no license, but sells; what makes the difference between the two? In the first place, the illicitly manufactured liquor is bad liquor, which does fifty per cent. of the harm that is done to people who use it.

Alcohol is the one evil genius, whether in wine, or ale, or whiskey, and is killing the race of men.—Willard Parker, M. D.

Alcoholic drinks are poisons in the same sense as are opium, arsenic, chloroform, etc.—N. S. Davis, M. D.

All intoxicating drinks are poisonous. The lighter beers and the finest fermented wines are as truly, though not as strongly, intoxicating as are the coarsest and cheapest spirituous drinks. * * * * Seeing that it has been as clearly proved as three and two are five that the steady use of alcohol is to antedate the day of our death, I wonder why people take it into their system.—Norman Kerr, M. D.

Alcohol is a poison. So is strychnine; so is arsenic; so is opium. It ranks with these agents. Health is always in some way or other injured by it; benefited by it never.—Sir Andrew Clarke.

Alcoholic liquors are poisonous because they contain alcohol.—Frank Woodbury, M. D.

Strong drink—by whatever name the demon is styled, in whatever way it presents itself—this prevents our success.—John Bright.

O thou invisible spirit of wine, if thou hast no name to be known by, let us call thee devil.—Shakespeare.

The wine shops breed, in a physical atmosphere of malaria and a moral pestilence of envy and vengeance, the men of crime and revolution. * * * * The wine shops are the chapels and colleges of the poor in France. It is in wine shops the cabman is taught to think it heroic to shoot the middle class man who disputes his fare.—Charles Dickens.

A very large number of people in society are dying day by day, poisoned by alcoholic drinks without knowing it. * * * * I know alcohol to be a most destructive poison. I say, from my experience, that it is the most destructive agent that we are aware of in this country.—Sir Wm. Gull, M. D.

Sir Andrew Clarke, M. D., F. R. C. P., London, Physician in Ordinary to the Queen, Physician, etc., at the London Hospital, said: "As I looked at the hospital wards to-day and saw that seven of ten owed their diseases to alcohol, I could but lament that the teaching about this question was not more direct, more decisive, more home-thrusting than even it had been. * * * * Can I say to you any words stronger than these, of the terrible effects of the abuse of alcohol? Is it when I myself think of all this, that I am disposed, as I have said elsewhere, to rush to the opposite extreme, to give up my profession, to give up everything and to go forth upon a holy crusade, preaching to all men—Beware of this enemy of the race?"

I do not believe there is a greater superstition than to suppose that these liquors can give men a greater capacity for bodily or mental exertion, and in this I am supported by the highest medical testimony.—Wm. E. Gladstone.

O that men should put an enemy in their mouths to steal away their brains; that we should with joy, revel, pleasure and applause transform ourselves into beasts.—Shakespeare.

PROVINCIAL GIRLS.

A bachelor named Dimock edits the Truro News and has perpetrated the doggerel reproduced below. It is manifest that, like all other bucolics, he has incorrect ideas respecting such large centres as Halifax, St. John, Charlottetown and Chatham. His line respecting Westville girls indicates what he is accustomed to.

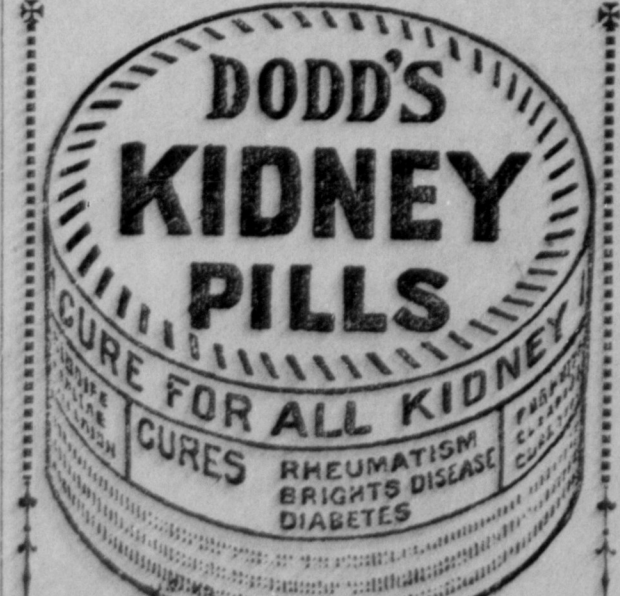

New Glasgow girls are rather pretty, Windsor girls are bright and witty, Stellarton girls are cycle crazy, Dartmouth girls are said to be lazy, Amherst girls are always willing, Oxford girls to kiss are killing, Halifax girls paint and powder, Pugwash girls feed on clam chowder, Springhill girls kick up their heels, Westville girls faint if a pig squeals, Advocate girls are desperate flirts, West Brook girls know how to make skirts, Sydney girls are all fine looking, Bridgewater girls can do good cooking, Pictou girls all want to marry, St. John girls much sail carry, Yarmouth girls are proud and haughty, Annapolis girls are sometimes naughty, Mulgrave girls are great gate swingers, Wolfville girls are real hand-wringers, Shubenacadie girls in style are first in the race.

Bass River girls have wit, beauty and grace, Port Grenville girls enjoy the lancers, Five Islands girls are charming dancers, Tatmagouche girls are angels with wings, Charlottetown girls are stuck up things, Georgetown girls wear hats with roses, Sackville girls have turned up noses, Wallace girls are specimen bricks, Canaan girls are old fashioned sticks, Antigonish girls eat cloves and coffee, Diligent River girls like to eat taffy, Guysboro girls are champion rowers, Par-boro girls are the newest sewers, Mapleton girls are given to gum, Spencer's Island girls are sometimes glum, Southampton girls are great ice-cream eaters, Dorchester girls are good carpet beaters, Moncton girls always wear a smile, Stewiacke girls are quite free from guile, Economy girls are neat and sweet, Chatham girls have good sized feet, Wood-tuck girls are modest and mild, Shediac girls are inclined to be wild, Louisbourg girls waddle while walking, North Sydney girls lip while talking, Hantsport girls are the right kind of stuff, St. Andrews girls are a little rough, St. Stephens girls are saucy and simple, Sherbrook girls can use the thimble, Maccan girls are tiresome talkers, Nappan girls are fastest of walkers, Kentville girls marry late but are nice, Liverpool girls have to keep on ice, Lakeshore girls are the highest kickers, Middleton girls are the closest stickers, Athol girls are a little loony, Berwick girls are soft and spoony, Shullee girls have corns and bunions, Apple River girls laugh rather loud, Joggins Mines girls make a whole crowd, Truro girls just—well—well, Just what they are like we dare not tell.

HOW OLD PEOPLE MAY BE HEALTHY AND HAPPY.

Paine's Celery Compound Will Surely Banish Their Ailments and Troubles.

It Preserves Health and Prolongs Life.

The most successful and popular physicians of our times are those who can banish the ailments and distresses of men and women in old age.

Three-fourths of all the aches and pains that make old age miserable arise from retarded circulation. The slow blood is choked with accumulations of waste matters that produce rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica and lumbago. Sluggish circulation speedily produces digestive disturbances, and unlooked for complications arise that in the majority of cases prove fatal to old people.

Paine's Celery Compound is a precious boon to those advanced in years. Soon after its use is commenced there is noticed an increase in the blood supply, which is pure, ruddy and active in its coursing through the body. The brain becomes clear, digestion is easy and natural, the heart does its work with regularity, nerve force is acquired and flesh is built up.

If old people desire health and strength to meet the enervating and trying weather of midsummer, they should build up at once by the use of Paine's Celery Compound. Mr. John Haldsworth, Claremont Street, Toronto, says: "I was taken sick last summer, and was in bed for five weeks or more, and my physician was attending me all the time. My case was pronounced to be weakness of the heart and old age, for I am now seventy-eight years old."

"I kept getting worse until my recovery was considered hopeless. One of my relatives recommended me to use Paine's Celery Compound, which I did with good results. After the first dose I felt relieved and after a few days I was able to leave my bed and walk around. I used four bottles, and found your medicine to be a most excellent remedy, as I am now quite well. I hope other sufferers will receive as much benefit as I received."

AN OTTAWA BUDGET.

THE CRIMINAL CODE AMENDMENT FOR THE PROTECTION OF GIRLS.

OTTAWA, June 15.—A deputation from Montreal representing the Society for the Protection of Girls waited upon the minister of justice last night in connection with his bill in amendment of the criminal act. They proposed the measure be extended so as to make more effectual provision against seduction and improper relations between the sexes.

In the former case they would have the minister go as far as the legislation proposed by Mr. Charlton. They also asked that a clause be inserted to the better guard against wife beating so that a magistrate may authorize temporary separations in certain cases, due provision being made for the support of the wife. Also that the magistrate be given power to authorize flogging in extreme cases. In connection with the clause against lotteries, they asked that it be so framed to wipe these out of existence altogether. The minister promised due consideration to their views.

The senate committee of banking and commerce had the bill to authorize the registry of union labels under consideration this morning. The measure was thrown out in the upper house last year and from the tone of the discussion this morning it would seem very doubtful if the senate is any more favorable to the measure this year. The discussion was adjourned.

Hon. Mr. Fielding's bill to amend the insurance act was again considered by the banking and commerce committee this morning but the discussion was again adjourned till to-morrow.

Messrs. Sanderson actuary of the Canada Life, Bradshaw for the Imperial Life and McDonald for the Confederation Life all took the position that a necessary result of the changes would be to decrease the profits of participating policy holders. The last named gentlemen suggested an amendment to exclude from the operation of the legislation policies of a certain age. They supported the measure on the ground that money could not earn 4 1/2 per cent when invested in such high class securities as Insurance companies have to obtain.
