DYSPEPSIA CURE

ANOTHER TUPPER WOE.

A MEMBER COMPARES HIM TO A SINGED CAT.

OTTAWA, Ont. June 3.—In the commons yesterday on a motion for the receiving of the report of the public accounts committee in the house, Lieut. Col. Domville called attention to certain charges of misappropriation of military funds made against him last session by the opposition, and scored them for not having the courage to proceed with an investigation this session.

Sir Louis Davies introduced a bill to amend the act respecting the protection of navigable waters. The law as it stands prevents the dumping of ship refuse into navigable waters of a less depth than 10 fathoms. Harbor commissioners, however, allow ships to dump ballast into certain parts of harbors and Sir Louis's bill is to make such legal.

THE MONTREAL EXTENSION.

The bill providing for the purchase of the Drummond County Railway came up for its second reading.

Mr. Kaulbach, of Lunenburg, attacked the scheme.

Mr. Rufus Pope, Compton, did as he did last year in this connection—took a position in favor of the bill and against that of his party. He claimed that the feeling was almost unanimously in favor of the extension of the intercolonial to Montreal and this being the case, he did not think there should be so much haggling about the price. He said that the Intercolonial had cost $6,500,000. With the Montreal extension he thought the Intercolonial should prove a paying institution, and to prove his confidence he was prepared to leave the road for thirty years, pay maintenance expenses, including $140,000 rental for using the G. T. & R. tracks and terminals, and besides give the government $200,000 for the first ten years, $300,000 for the next ten years and $400,000 for the third ten years.

The bill was then given its second reading and put through committee.

The vote will take place on the third reading, for which it now stands ready, having been put through the committee stage.

THE QUEBEC CONFERENCE.

While the house was in committee on the bill Sir Charles Tupper read a newspaper cable from London regarding the Anglo-American negotiations. It said American cables continued to assail Canada's position in connection with the negotiations and that the people of Great Britain would like to know whether the foreign office had kept Canada informed of the progress of negotiations between Lord Salisbury and Mr. Choate because there was a strong feeling that Canada had a right to be consulted. The despatch also said it was very desirable that an official statement of Canada's position should be made.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the government had been kept informed of the progress of negotiations with Mr. Choate and that he wished he was in a position to make a full statement. Such a statement would relieve considerable anxiety and remove clouds hanging about the negotiations. As the Alaskan boundary question had been removed from the joint high commission, he thought that a statement of its position when commission adjourned might be given and he therefore hoped he would be able to do so during the present session.

ANOTHER TUPPER GRIEVANCE.

On motion to go into supply Sir Herbert Tupper brought up the question of the issuance of a commission for an enquiry into the complaints against Judge Spinks from Yale district, B. C. Sir Herbert claimed the charges were flimsy and that a commission should not have been issued unless the charges were such that their proof would remove the judge from the bench.

The solicitor general, Fitzpatrick, said there were rumors in circulation which would impair his usefulness as a judge if not investigated. He thought the government was justified in issuing a commission to put an end to this condition.

Mr. Morrison referring to Sir Herbert Tupper's criticism of Sir Oliver Mowat as minister of justice said that if there were to be comparisons in regard to past ministers of justice there was about as much between Sir Herbert Tupper and Sir Oliver Mowat as between a singed cat and a bengal tiger. (Laughter.)

The motion was declared lost on division, and the house went into supply.

Very little progress was made in apply on the last item in the fisheries. It was allowed to go through on the understanding that the whole department could be discussed on the marine report when taken up.

The house adjourned at 1.05.

KOUCHIBOUQUAC NOTES.

JUNE 6.—Having anxiously scanned the columns of THE REVIEW for an account of the on-goings in this section, and having concluded that our correspondent has left for parts unknown, I thought that a few items would be of interest to the many readers of THE REVIEW.

The weather for the past few weeks has been unfavorable for farming, the occasional showers having retarded the progress of the farmers.

Owing to the recent rains, Jardine's Mills has again resumed operations, having been suspended for a few days on account of low water. A large amount of lumber has been cut during the past winter, and rafting operations are in progress; Mr. Kingston, the contractor for Jardine's lumber, having nearly completed the contract. Mr. Daniel Sullivan, who has charge of O'Leary's lumber, has a number of men employed and is doing good work. Mr. Roach has completed his contract here, and has removed to Black River.

Sickness has been prevalent of late, but we are glad to hear that all are convalescent.

Among the recent visitors, we notice Messrs. Jondry and Morton of Moncton, and Messrs. Girvan, Boone and Mitchell of Kingston.

Misses Georgie and Carrie Jardine spent Sunday with their parents.

Mr. Glover held prayer meeting at Kouchibouguac on Thursday.

Miss Flanagan spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in St. Margarets.

Mr. John Callendar spent Sunday at Island Creek.

Mr. C. Atkinson paid a flying visit to Moncton last week.

Mr. Geo. McEachern of Greenville Me., is visiting friends here.

Mr. Hugh McDonald left for the United States Monday, and it is rumoured that Mr. B. Harding intends to follow in a short time.

The Poor and the Poor.

A very little familiarity with the poor districts of any city is sufficient to show how primitive and frontierlike are the neighborly relations, says Jane Addams in The Atlantic. The fact that the economic condition of all alike is on a most precarious level makes the ready outflow of sympathy and material assistance the most natural thing in the world. There are numberless instances of heroic self sacrifice quite unknown in the circles where greater economic advantages make that kind of intimate knowledge of one's neighbors impossible.

An Irish family, in which the man has lost his place and the woman is struggling to eke out the scanty savings by day work, will take in a widow and her five children who have been turned into the street without a moment's reflection upon the physical discomforts involved. The most maligned landlady is usually ready to lend a scuttful of coal to a suffering tenant or to share her supper.

A woman for whom the writer had long tried in vain to find work failed to appear at the appointed time when a job turned up at last. Upon investigation it transpired that a neighbor further down the street was taken ill; that the children ran for the family friend, who went, of course, saying simply, when reasons for her nonappearance were demanded, "It broke my heart to leave the place, but what could I do?"

A View of Edmunds.

George F. Edmunds had a high reputation in the country as an able lawyer and a faithful and independent senator. He had unquestionably rendered great public service in the senate. If elected, I believe he would have administered the presidency on the principles which a large majority of the people of Massachusetts held. He was an excellent debater. He was very fond of criticizing and objecting to what was proposed by other men. He seemed never so happy as when in opposition to the majority of his associates. But he possessed what persons of that temper commonly lack—great capacity for constructive statesmanship. Any measure of which he was the author would be likely to accomplish its purpose and to stand firm.

David Davis, who was president pro tempore of the senate, used to say he could always compel Edmunds to vote in the negative on a question by putting the question in the old New England fashion, "Contrary minded will say no." For Edmunds was always contrary minded. I once told him, borrowing a saying of an Englishman, that if George Edmunds were the only man in the world George would quarrel with Edmunds.—Senator George F. Hoar, in Scribner's.

A Painter of Children.

A writer in The Century tells how the noted French artist, M. Bontet de Monvel, became a painter of children's portraits.

De Monvel's illustrations are full of atmosphere and an exquisite feeling for the light and shade, the tone and composition of these pictures place them far beyond any others of their class, and proclaim them the work of a consummate artist. Bontet de Monvel spoke to the children of France as they had never been spoken to before. Bending over the bewitching pictures they exclaimed, "Ah, he understands!" And the fathers and mothers, looking from the little ones who read and enjoyed to the pages over which they bent, saw at once that here was a painter with a new and rare faculty for comprehending childhood. They sought Bontet de Monvel to paint their sons and daughters, till he became, one might say, "painter in ordinary" to the children.

State Officials Paid in Pelts.

Probably few people today know that the original name of the state of Tennessee was Franklin, or that in 1788 the salaries of the officers of this commonwealth were paid in pelts, but the following is a correct copy of the law.

Be it enacted by the general assembly of the state of Franklin, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, that from and after the first day of January, 1788, the salaries of this commonwealth be as follows to wit:

His excellency the governor, per annum 10 deerskins.
His honor, the chief justice, 500 deerskins.
The secretary to his excellency the governor, 500 racoon skins.
County clerk, 300 beaver skins.
Clerk of the house of commons, 200 racoon skins.

Members of the assembly, per diem, 3 racoon skins.

Justice's fee for serving a warrant, 1 mink skin.

Difference Between Them.

"After all," said the bachelor, "the difference between love and dyspepsia is purely relative. It is a matter of time only. One is future and the other past."

"How do you mean?" asked the bewildered maid.

"The lover doesn't want to eat, and the dyspeptic wishes he hadn't," answered the bachelor, thereby thinking he had scored one on the sex that was continually disturbing his peace of mind.

Depends.

"Thomas, how would you correct the sentence," "He laid down on the lounge?"

"I wouldn't correct it at all, ma'am. It's all right."

"How do you make that out, Thomas?"

"He was carryin' an armful of down, ma'am, and he laid it on the lounge."

Too Clever to Keep.

First Shipping Clerk—Have you heard that Robson has got sacked?

Second Shipping Clerk—No. Is that a fact? I thought he was such a clever sort of chap.

First S. C.—Too clever by half. He introduced a consignment of cradles as maternal fruit baskets!—Vanity Fair.

A HOME MADE HAPPY

MRS. TUCKER, OF NIAGARA FALLS TELLS WHAT DID IT.

Her Daughter Was Afflicted With St. Vitus' Dance and Helpless as an Infant—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured Her After Specialists Had Failed.

From the Review, Niagara Falls.

It is a horrible feeling to know that you have lost all command or control of your limbs, and must depend upon your friends to wait upon and serve you the same as an infant. This was the condition of Miss Myrtle Tucker for nearly a year, and the Review learning that she had been wonderfully benefited by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People sent a reporter to hear her story. We called at the residence of Mr. Edwin Tucker, of the village of Niagara Falls. Mrs. Tucker received us very cordially on ascertaining the object of our visit. As nearly as possible these are her exact words in speaking of her daughter's case:—"My daughter Myrtle is in her fifteenth year. About a year ago alarming symptoms of St. Vitus' dance made their appearance, but for some time we did not know what was really the matter. She lost the use of her arms, her right arm was completely paralyzed. She had to be dressed and undressed, being totally unable to help herself. The best local physicians were called in and perscribed for her, but they appeared to be unable to afford relief. We made a trip to Buffalo last January and a specialist was consulted, who recommended that Myrtle be shut up in a dark room for three months, allowing no one to see her or speak to her but the nurse. In fact the doctor insisted upon her being sent to one of the city hospitals. Arsenic was one of the specifics used; it helped to quiet for a time, but no permanent relief was obtained. After our return from Buffalo, my son urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Myrtle. He said he was sure it would do her good as it had cured his boy of a similar complaint. I then determined to try them as I was conscious the treatment she was getting was doing her no good. I purchased a box and the effect of the pills was almost marvellous from the very beginning; before the first box was used an improvement was plainly discernable. Five boxes in all have been used and Myrtle is now able to run and enjoy herself in a manner she could not do for months and months back. Two weeks ago she commenced to attend school after an absence of nine months. "I want it distinctly understood," said Mrs. Tucker, that the physicians all agreed that my daughter was afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance; that the treatment of the medical attendants did not benefit her and that no other medicine was taken after commencing Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so that there is no doubt her recovery must be attributed to the use of these pills. Her state of health is now most excellent, her appetite is good and I am only too pleased to be able to certify to the above facts in order that others similarly afflicted may be encouraged to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

An impoverished condition of the blood or a disordered state of the nerves is the fruitful source of most ills that affect mankind, and so any thus affected Dr. Williams' Pink Pills offer a speedy and certain cure. No other remedy has ever met with such great and continued success, which is one of the strongest proofs that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills accomplish all that is claimed for them. They cure locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, palpitation of the heart, nervous prostration, diseases depending upon vitiated blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, curing all forms of weakness. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of any nature. Sold by all dealers or sent post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
