B.B.B. Makes Rich Red Blood.

The Blood is the very essence of life. As it courses through the system it carries with it, if pure and rich, nutrition to every cell in the body. If impure, it spreads disease. If thin and watery, it fails to nourish, hence we have weakness, debility and decay.

It is the wonderful power B.B.B. has in purifying impure blood, making thin, watery blood rich and red, that is at the bottom of its marvellous success in curing disease.

Those who are pale, thin, weak, troubled with blotches, pimples or eruptions of any kind should take B.B.B.

It makes the pale cheek rosy, the skin clear and smooth, and infuses new energy into weak, worn, run down, shattered constitutions.

Skin "I beg to state I have used Clear. Burdock Blood Bitters for impure blood, pimples on the face, &c., and derived great benefit from it. My skin is now very clear and free from all eruptions. I only used four bottles of the B.B.B. and can strongly recommend it to any person suffering from impurities in the blood or eruptions of the skin."

MRS. G. B. HELMORE, Spence's Bridge, B.C.

Every Spring "I have taken B.B.B. every spring now for some years, to purify my blood and keep my system in good order, and can honestly say that I do not know of its equal anywhere."

VERDICT FOR $8,000

LOWELL, May 9.—Miss Rose Crane, the plaintiff in the breach of promise suit against Patrick J. Riley, of this city, was awarded a verdict of $8,000 in the superior court this afternoon.

The case has been on trial for nearly a week. Judge Bond dismissed the jury with the thanks of the court for the attention its members had given to the case.

The plaintiff was a New Brunswick girl. Coming here about six years ago, she worked in the cloth room at the Lawrence mills, and at the time she became acquainted with the defendant she lived with her married sister. The defendant is a junk dealer, and has had the general reputation of being well-to-do.

WHAT IS WHISKEY BRINGING?

Asked a portly liquor dealer: "What is whiskey bringing now?" Well I know he meant the dollars That 'twould sell for; but somehow Differently the meaning struck me As upon his words I thought; These, methinks, the things that whiskey Now is bringing, and has brought: Bringing men to crimes unholy. And to dismal prisoned lives; Bringing poverty and sorrow To their children and their wives; Bringing pain and shame and cursing Where sweet love and peace should dwell; Bringing souls that might win heaven To the lowest depths of hell; Bringing tears where smiles should hover; Bringing groans where should be singing; Bringing endless stores of anguish— These the things that whiskey's bringing!

ONE CITY'S RECORD.

As further illustrations of thousands of testimonies that might be quoted, a few are submitted, confined to only one Canadian city.

The Select Committee appointed by the House of Commons in 1874 reported the following statement made by police officials in Montreal:

The Recorder of Montreal—The Clerk of the Court and two assistants, all barristers, gentlemen of mature age, perfectly competent to offer opinions on the subject of this question, are of opinion with myself that apart from the violations of statutory law and the by-laws of the city, every case tried before the court, with but very few, if indeed any exceptions, arises out of intemperance. The Clerk of the Court is of opinion that the proportion of the cases, which directly and manifestly owe their origin to intemperance, is at least three-fourths; his first assistant sets the same proportion down at seven-eighths, and the second assistant at nine-tenths. My own opinion corresponds with the last estimate.

Chief of Montreal City Police.—Mostly all offences are due either directly or indirectly to intemperance. What is the cause of almost all larcenies? Drink! Assaults! Drink! Disorderly conduct! Drink! Fights, furious driving, interference with the police, foul language, blasphemies? Drink, drink, drink! Of cowardly wife-beating? Drink! In short, intemperance is to be found as the universal direct or indirect cause of all evils.

The following extracts are from the evidence taken in 1892 by the Royal Commission on the Liquor Traffic:

Hon. Calixte A. Dugas, Police Magistrate of Montreal.—To intemperance, leaving aside the provincial criminals, I attribute eighty or ninety per cent. of police court cases. Generally the people here are good, but when they are drunk they are apt to commit many offences more or less serious which they would not do if they were not drunk.

Hon. Benjamin A. D. de Montigny, Recorder of Montreal.—If I am to judge from the daily list, more than three-fourths of those cases are on account of drunkenness. As I told you, the number set down as drunkenness does not represent it all, because assaults, disorders and furious driving and such are indirectly due to liquor. The cases of keeping disorderly houses and being inmates and frequenters of disorderly houses are mostly due to abuse of liquor.

Samuel Carsley, Chairman Association for Protection of Women and Children.—Our report says that considerably over ninety per cent. of the cases (dealt with by our society) were caused by intemperance. We put that as the maximum, you may say nearly all the cases.

AN AWFUL RECORD.

Hon. Sir Oliver Mowat, now Lieutenant-Governor of Canada, stated that in his opinion "an enormous proportion, probably three-fourths of the vice that prevails at the present day, of the crime with which we have to contend . . . is owing to the foul evil of intemperance."

Applying this statement to the convictions recorded by Canadian courts, averaging 34,846 per year, we reach the saddening result that fully 25,000 of these convictions are the actual result of the liquor system.

These figures are startling enough in themselves, but they only give a faint idea of the terrible evil which they represent. Behind every single conviction lies a sad tale of degradation and shame, in many cases a pitiful record of sorrow and suffering for others besides the offender. Far beyond all reach of imagination is the fearful extent of heart-break and home-wreck, and all the physical and mental woe, involved in the tragic history of so many ruined lives. Surely the law of a Christian community should prohibit, not sanction, such a terrible evil.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Allow me space in People's Forum to present some stinging rebukes to our Christian Church, its pastor and members' inconsistencies on the liquor question, by President John Koerber, of the Akron, O., Liquor Dealers' Association, in a public statement to the press of this city in reply to the anti-saloon agitation which at present is at its height. The Evangelical Alliance of this city, composed of the various Protestant pastors of the city, have waged war against the violation of the Sunday laws in reference to the sale of liquor and also violation of the Sunday closing ordinance. I only regret that the facts he uttered were not addressed to the laymen as well as to the pastors, for as far as I know the members of the Evangelical Alliance vote the Prohibition ticket. The following is what he puts forth: "If the members of the Evangelical Alliance were sincere in their agitation against the saloon, they would practice what they preach. They continually preach 'down with the saloon and yet,' on election day, fail to vote the ticket of a party which is pledged to do away with saloons. That is hypocrisy. To the Evangelical Alliance minister I would say: 'Vote the prohibition ticket, practice what you preach, and be a man.'"

Now, my Christian brothers, what do you think of these words. If the way to get rid of the saloon is clear to a saloon-keeper, is it not high time that the Christians awaken to that realization. Does not this saloon keeper when he says, 'Vote the ticket of a party pledged to do away with the saloon,' virtually say all other political parties are his allies? Then why support a party which upholds the saloon keeper? Why say "Down with the liquor traffic," and then on election day vote a ticket which favors the liquor traffic by granting it a license to kill, debauch and demoralize our country. Does it not seem that we have a very different sort of Christianity from that which Christ taught, when we are willing to sit dozing away while the saloon keeper goes on killing men six days in the week, then if he should dare to kill a few on Sunday we raise a terrible howl in the camp of "Saints." Here is the commandment we give the saloonkeeper: "Six days shalt thou kill, debauch and demoralize our brethren, but the Sabbath thou shalt rest." Let our commandment be: "Thou shalt not kill," and back it up by voting to annihilate the business, and let our war cry be: "In the name of Jesus Christ the liquor traffic must go."

HOW GIRLS SHOULD CONSIDER PROPOSALS.

"My dear girl, when a man asks you to become his wife, you ought to put some questions to yourselves," writes Ruth Ashmore to girls on "The profession of Marriage," in the April Ladies' Home Journal. "Satisfy yourself that you love this man well enough, not only to be happy with him, but, if need be, to suffer with him. Decide for yourself if this be the man of all others in whom you will find your ideal companion, for companionship means as much in marriage as in friendship. Then, you must think of the future. Ask yourself, too, whether this man brings out in you all that is best, whether he provokes that which is little and mean in you, or whether he piques you into making light of that which is good. Decide whether this man is the one with whom you would be willing to grow old; whether this man is the one to whom you would, without hesitancy, submit questions that trouble your conscience. Then, too, you must ask yourself what seems, perhaps, like a trivial question, whether this man is one whose name you will feel honored in bearing, not because of any material wealth he may possess, but because of his being an honest gentleman. Think out all these things, ask yourself question upon question, not only as to his fitness, but as to yours, and then if you give him the loving answer that he wishes, try to become thoroughly acquainted with him."

Pleasure's Penalty.

When the doctor gives one up, most people lose heart, but it was not this way with the young society woman in a western Ontario city who had contracted kidney trouble through lack of care in "wrapping up" after an evening's round of pleasure. She heard of South American Kidney Cure and pinned her faith to it to cure her and in an incredibly short time felt her health returning. Her suffering abated, and three months from the day her physician hinted her case was hopeless she presented herself to him a cured woman. Sold at Shert's Drug store.
