RHEUMATISM

IN ASHES.

THE BUSINESS PORTION OF DAWSON CITY WIPED OUT.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 21.—An extra of the Skagway Alaskan received at midnight contains a report of a big fire at Dawson City, which broke out on April 21st and wiped out the business portion of the place, entailing a loss of a million dollars. The fire was the most disastrous that ever visited Dawson. The principle places burned out were the Royal Cafe, Donahue and Smith, McLellan and Feeney, Parsons Produce Co., Aurora and Bodega saloons, Madden house, Hotel Victoria, McDonald block, Bank of British North America and scores of smaller places. The result of the fire is a famine in building material.

MONTREAL, May 21.—The manager of the Bank of British North America have received a message sent from Dawson saying the bank's vaults and safes were opened after the fire and the contents were found intact.

(By the Associated Press.)

VICTORIA, B. C., May 21.—An extra edition of the Skagway Alaskan received by the steamer Tees at midnight contains the following report wired from Bennett to Skagway just previous to the sailing of the steamer:

"Another disastrous fire has visited Dawson City, this time fairly wiping out the entire business centre of the town, creating losses that will aggregate one million dollars with not a dollar's worth of insurance. The news was telegraphed from Bennett this afternoon by the special correspondent of the Daily Alaskan, who received it from a man named Tokales, who had just reached Bennett from a long and perilous trip out from Dawson over broken trails, open rivers and dangerous lakes."

Mr. Tokales reports that the fire occurred on April 21st in the very heart of the business centre of the city, commencing near the Opera house on the water front and spreading with unusual rapidity, driven by a strong wind, destroying everything in its way on that street down to and including Donahue & Smith's establishment and taking in all of the water front buildings abreast of the same blocks. The fire crossed the street, burned through this, spread over to second street, covering the principal business portion of Dawson, leaving it all in ashes, with the firemen helpless and powerless to do anything. The fire consumed everything from the Simmons Royal Cafe down to and opposite the Fairview hotel. All the buildings burned like tinder, due to the fact that they had been standing for nearly two years, and the logs are as dry as powder. The fire spread with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything in the way of furniture, goods and clothing, so that the losses when footed up promise to be even greater than at first estimated.

Among the most prominent firms burned out were: The Royal Cafe, Donahue & Smith, McLellan & Feeney, Parsons Produce Co., Aurora saloon, Bodega saloon, Madden house, Hotel Victoria, McDonald block, Bank of British North America and scores of smaller firms and business houses.

The fire came at a time when the mills and dealers in building materials had exhausted their winter supply and were awaiting the opening of navigation to replenish their stocks. The results were that there is a famine in all kinds of building material and furniture, such as sashes, doors, locks, hinges, etc.

The few articles still remaining outside of the burned district have quadrupled in price. Doors are selling for $35 each, door locks for $8, and everything else in proportion. The town is paralyzed because nothing can be done until the opening of navigation, which will not be for several weeks.

AN APPROPRIATE TEXT.

A little girl who lives up town went to church last Sunday. She is a bright little maiden, and considering her tender age, only 6, she is decidedly intelligent. Her mother has been suffering from the grip and it didn't accompany her, and as her father was away from home she went alone.

Whether it was the loneliness of the big pew, or whether the church was poorly heated, mamma wasn't quite sure, but anyway, the little maid came home and declared she was very chilly.

"Toes got so cold while I was sitting there, mamma," she declared. "And so did my fingers and my nose. I don't believe there was hardly a speck of fire in the furnace."

"That was too bad," said mamma, "Did the other people seem to suffer, too?"

"Oh, yes, they did," cried the little maid. "They just shivered!"

Then mamma thought she would divert the little maid's attention.

"What was the text, dear?" she asked. "Can you remember it?"

"I should think I could," was the quick answer. "I can remember every word of it."

"Well, what was it?"

The little maid put her head on one side, and screwing up her face, shrilly intoned:—

"Many are cold, but few are frozen!"

And mamma had to admit that it seemed remarkably appropriate.—Cleveland Plain-Dealer.

WHEN HOPE'S GONE

Life's Not Worth the Living, South American Nerve Restores Hope and Perfect Health.

Four years ago Annie Patterson, of Sackville, N. B., had a very severe attack of La Grippe, which left her with a very acute form of stomach trouble. She had about given up hope of a permanent cure when South American Nerve was recommended to her. She procured it and in a very short time experienced wonderful relief. After taking six bottles she was absolutely cured. She says: "I believe it to be the most effective remedy for stomach trouble in the market." Sold at Short's Drug Store.

A NEGRO MURDERER.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Humphrey Taylor, a negro, has been wanted at Shiden, Md., for killing a man and badly injuring his wife, the keepers of a small store near Slidell. While endeavoring to arrest the negro to-day he shot and killed police sergeant Fritz Passau, wounded policeman Gow and kept a half dozen police officers at bay from the loft of a house for nearly two hours and only surrendered when preparations were made to burn the house. Seeing his game hopeless, Taylor surrendered and, surrounded by officers with revolvers, was hurried to the patrol wagon. The crowd wanted to lynch him, a rope was secured and the mob made a desperate effort to get it around the wretch's neck but the coolness of the officers saved Taylor though he was badly disfigured by blows from the nearest in the crowd. Questioned by the police in regard to the murder he became confused and told half a dozen stories. The police found $112, a gold watch and chain, a diamond ring upon searching the premises. It is probable he will be detained by district authorities and tried for the murder of Passau.

TAKE UP THE PEINTER'S BURDEN.

Rudyard Kipling made himself famous by writing "The White Man's Burden," and now J. M. Cayeness, in the Chetopa Advance comes forward with his little say, which runs thusly:

Take up the printer's burden— It is an awful load, And gathers weight the farther He travels down the road; Bills payable in arrears, The trouble that beset him Would drive a bum to tears.

Take up the printer's burden— A form knocked into pi, The editor arrested For publishing a lie; A type full of joint juice, The foreman far away, Upon some big excursion— The devil is to pay.

Take up the printer's burden— At last the paper's out— John Smith's wife had a baby, Two rowdies had a bout; Brown's children had the measles, Miss Flippy's dog is dead, Miss Tattle had a quilting— And not a word was said.

Take up the printer's burden— He puffs the old dead town; He calls the women beauties, And lies like a clown, He lauds the city rathers, And prints the pedigrees, They pay him back by cutting His publication fees.

Take up the printer's burden— Give him a little rest; With all his imperfections He doubtless does his best; About his knavish neighbors, He tells not half that's true, Believing that the devil Will sometime get his due.

A TOUCHING INCIDENT.

An incident of a peculiarly touching character occurred yesterday in one of the elevated railroad trains, that brought tears to the eyes of the passengers. The train had just left One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street when the passengers saw entering the car a little boy about six years old, half carried by an older boy, evidently his brother. Both were well dressed, but at first glance it was seen that the little fellow was blind. He had a pale, wan face, but was smiling. A quick look of sympathy passed over the face of the passengers, and an old gray-headed gentleman got up and gave his seat to the two. The "big brother," who was about eleven years old, tenderly lifted up the little blind boy and placed him on his knee.

"How's that?" he asked.

"Nice," said the little chap. "Where's my mamma?"

This puzzled some of the passengers, and several turned to see what the child meant. But the "big brother" knew, and immediately drew out a small mouth harmonica and placed it in the little fellow's hands. The little fellow took the instrument into his thin hands, ran it across his lips, and began to play softly, "Nearer my God, to Thee." Tears came into the eyes of the eyes of the old gentleman who had given up his seat, and as the little fellow played on, running into the "Rock of Ages" and "Abide with Me," there were many moist eyes in the car.

The train rushed along, the passengers listened, and the little fellow played on tirelessly, never missing a note of "Annie Laurie" or "Home, sweet Home." Finally the "big brother" leaned down, and told the little one to get ready to leave, as the train was nearing their station. Then, as if he knew he had won a whole carload of friends, the blind boy quickly changed "The Swanee River" into "Auld Lang Syne," and with one accord the passengers burst into a round of applause, while the "big brother" carried the little one out of the car.

The Pangs of Sciatica.

MRS. PALMER, OF FENLON FALLS, TELLS HOW SHE SUFFERED.

Confined to Her Bed for Weeks—Her Limb Became so Numb That a Red Hot Iron Could be Placed Upon it Without Her Knowledge.

Only those who have felt the agonizing pains of sciatica can form any conception of the torture which the victim undergoes. The case of Mrs. Job Palmer, of Fenlon Falls, was one of unusual obstinacy and severity, and she makes the following affidavit in reference to her cure, for the good of humanity. "I am 29 years of age and have lived in this vicinity all my life. I had always enjoyed the best of health until November, 1897, when I took a stinging pain in my right hip which seemed to be in my very marrow and it effected every muscle and joint.

I kept up for several weeks although suffering the most intense pain, freely using liniments and many other internal and external preparations that sympathizing friends would suggest. I was then compelled to stay in bed as I got so weak and run down that I could sit up no longer. I received several courses of medical treatment such as electric batteries, poulticing, etc., but got no ease from the excruciating pains which would shoot down through my leg into my very heel where it caused a bursting feeling. Often I prayed that my heel would burst thinking this might give relief. The limb at last became so numb that a hot iron could be placed upon it without my having any knowledge of it. The closing or opening of a door or anyone entering or moving about in my room, seemed to increase the pain. For weeks I could not move any part of my body and had to lie in one position all the time. My brother was cured of rheumatism after every other remedy had failed, by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so I thought as a last resort I would try them. As the directions said that in severe cases three pills could be safely taken at a dose, I took this number three times a day for about a week although I got the relief I so long had prayed for in three days after taking the first dose. Then I kept on taking the pills two at a dose. In a week after commencing the pills I was able to get out of bed and dress myself and a few weeks later when I had gained strength enough, I was able to attend to all my household duties and I have ever since enjoyed the best of health. Friends and neighbors who were conversant with my case can also tell you of my terrible suffering and the remarkable cure effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

MRS. SUSIE PALMER. Taken and declared before me, at Fenlon Falls, in the County of Victoria, this 11th day of May, A. D., 1898.

NEW IDEAS.

A plant support for flowers, especially potted plants, was patented January 25 by Peter Dolph, of Marquette, Mich. Perforated spring ears are attachable to the sides of the pot, and into the perforations are inserted the stems of the wire or slate supports.

A machine that weaves a continuous wire fence as it moves along side is the invention of John W. Allen, of Sipe Springs Tex. The value of this invention will be appreciated in sections of the country where the fencing of large tracts of land is an important element. Patented January 25.

A grain-shocking machine in which the sheaves are received, as cut, into a tilting through or frame which is semi-circular in shape so that the bundles are held compactly in the form of a shock. When a sufficient number of sheaves have accumulated the frame is tilted outward depositing the entire shock erect and in regular rows. Patented January 25, by George S. Bingham, Hamilton, Canada.

(Communication from Messrs. Marion & Marion, Solicitors of patents and experts, New York Life Building, Montreal.)

On the first indication of Diarrhoea or Dysentery a few doses of Dr. Fowler's Ext. of Wild Strawberry will promptly check the advance of these dangerous diseases.

It has been over 40 years in use and has no equal for the cure of bowel complaints of young or old. There are many dangerous imitations on the market, so it would be wise to see that the full name, Dr. Fowler's Ext. of Wild Strawberry, is on every bottle you buy.
