Take B.B.B. This Spring.

"Will purify the system—Give you strength and energy."

Very few people escape the enervating influence of spring weather.

There is a dullness, drowsiness and inaptitude for work on account of the whole system being clogged up with impurities accumulated during the winter months.

The liver is sluggish, the bowels inclined to be constipated, the blood impure, and the entire organism is in need of a thorough cleansing.

Of all "Spring Medicines," Burdock Blood Bitters is the best.

It stimulates the sluggish liver to activity, improves the appetite, acts on the bowels and kidneys, purifies and enriches the blood, removes all poisonous products, and imparts new life and vigor to those who are weak and debilitated.

7 Big Boils. Mr. Wm. I. Hepburn writes from Centuria, Ont.: "I can sincerely say that Burdock Blood Bitters is the best spring medicine on the market. Last spring my blood got out of order, and I had seven or eight good sized boils come out on my body, and the one on my leg was much larger than an egg. I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and inside of six days, when only half the bottle was taken, there wasn't a boil to be seen. I have recommended B.B.B. to different people in our village, and all derived benefit from it. I wish B.B.B. every success, as it is indeed a great medicine for the blood."

B.B.B. is a highly concentrated vegetable compound—teaspoonful doses—add water yourself.

THE NEW CATECHISM.

I have some very revolutionary ideas on the elementary teaching of children," said the Bishop of London (who is not a teetotaler) at a gathering of teachers at Zion College. "I should like to see the child given a vital explanation of such things as he is in the habit of seeing. For example, I would ask him what would happen if his father got drunk, and on this basis explain the origin and development of law and order."

London Fun, with the above as a text, publishes the following "New Catechism":

Q.—What is your name?

A.—M. or N.

Q.—Does your father ever get drunk?

A.—You can bet your bottom dollar on that.

Q.—What happens when he is intoxicated?

A.—He chucks things at murther.

Q.—Is that wise of him?

A.—No, it ain't.

Q.—Why not?

A.—'Cos murther soon lets him know wot for.

Q.—How?

A.—She bashes the teapot on 'is 'ed.

Q.—Is that legal?

A.—No, it ain't; it's tin.

Q.—You misunderstand me. Suppose the teapot fractured his skull—

A.—It couldn't. Faver's 'ed's too bloomin' thick.

Q.—Never mind. Suppose she injured him severely in some way, would that be an indictable offence?

A.—It'd be a jolly good job.

Q.—But, my good child, if your father were injured, your mother would be liable to be arrested. Now, why do I pay taxes to support the police force?

A.—'Cos you can't 'elp it.

Q.—Very true; but we support the force in order to maintain law and order. What are the duties of a policeman?

A.—To run people in.

Q.—Yes. Why does he run them in?

A.—To git made a sarjint.

Q.—You are very thickheaded—like your father. Why do magistrates punish drunkards?

A.—'Cos if they didn't they'd git the sack.

Q.—You perverse little toad! Do you know that more than half the crime and the cruelty and the bad temper in this country is caused by drink?

A.—No.

Q.—Well, I assure you it is. What have you got to say to that?

A.—I wonder you don't turn teetotal! (Catechism adjourned sine die.)

MAN OR BEAST.

"I have found Hagyard's Yellow Oil to be the best thing for calloused lumps and cuts on man or beast. It is a splendid all-round remedy." Daniel Brown, Banks P. Q., Ont.

The Superintendent of the Meteorological Service has forwarded to the Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries at Ottawa a seismogram prints from the Toronto and Victoria instruments showing the records of two earthquakes that originated in Mexico or Central America and which were followed by these sensitive instruments, although they were not strong enough to be generally noticed as earthquake shocks in Canada.

PAIN IN THE BACK

Being troubled off and on with pains in my back, caused by constipation, I tried several kinds of pills I had seen advertised, and to put the truth in a nut shell, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the only pills that have proved effective in my case. I can heartily recommend them. JNO. DEVLIN, Unionville, Ont.

Posing as a Hercules.

"I could tell you a story about 'strong men' photography. Some of the minor limbs of the fraternity depend on the cunning of the camera for advertisement."

"One fellow, who visits country fairs and casual shows, goes through tricks of a kind wonderful to the unsentimental mind. They are merely tricks after all, and his strength is a catch. He depends on his photos for advertisement. In posing he folds his arms tightly, dilates the muscles of his neck and lines his veins with prussian blue. His picture gives you Hercules in his power of majesty. In private he is a well developed man, without any swagger of sinew or strength."

"Professional strong men are as clever at make up as a society actress. The latter lavishes attention on face and neck, while breast and ribs, muscles and throat occupy the former for hours ere the camera confronts them. A few lines about the body add pounds to the weight of a strong man (in the picture); a studied pose imparts additional formidability."

"The veins of a certain professional Hercules protrude like whiplard in the photographic cabinet. He dusts them with powdered ultramarine and treats the high parts of the muscles with indian red. Otherwise his picture would appear quite ordinary."—Cincinnati Enquirer

A Nice Little Hint For George.

A business man has a daughter and also a confidential clerk, and the confidential clerk has for some time been attentive to the daughter, but he has not—or had not a month ago—sufficient courage to come to the point, though the young woman, goodness knows, has never done anything to scare him off. for he is a first class fellow in every respect. The other evening he was making a call and about 9 o'clock her father came in.

"Ah, George," he said, "how about that deal we were talking about this afternoon? Did you see the party?"

"Yes, sir," replied George, "and I expected to see you this evening and tell you about it."

"My dear," said the father, turning to his daughter, "will you retire for a few minutes? George wants to speak business for awhile."

The daughter rose up, but hesitated. "Why do I have to go?" she asked doubtfully.

"Because, dear," smiled the father, "you are not interested. Why do you want to stay?"

She blushed and started out.

"Because, papa," she twittered, "I'd rather like to hear George talk business just once."

Then George got red and the father looked at them both significantly, and the girl fled.—London Answers.

Praise For the Bishop.

The bishop of—never mind where—being a newcomer and somewhat troubled with a neglected diocese, thought to inspire his clergy to take occasional services during the week by periodically visiting out of the way parishes and taking one himself.

On one of these occasions, having formed quite a good congregation and having been moved to much eloquence in his sermon, he felt a little not unnatural desire to know if he had made any impression on the usually unimpressible yokels, and put some leading questions to the old clerk, who was helping him to unrobe in the vestry. "Well, I hope they've been pleased with yer," said the old man patronizingly, "and I'm sure we tuk it worry kind o' yer worship to come down and preach to us, but yer know, a worsser one would ha' done for the likes o' we, if so be," he added with becoming humility, "one could ha' bin found"—Living Church.

Martello Towers In England.

Whatever may have been the defensive value of martello towers a century ago it has entirely evaporated now. There are a good many of them on the coasts of Essex, Suffolk, Kent and Sussex. These massive round towers, some 40 feet high, were regarded as and very likely were splendid defenses at the time they were erected, but they have long been used only for coastguard purposes. Their name is derived from the Italian coast towers which were erected as a protection against pirates. Warning that a suspicious craft was in sight was given by striking a bell with a martello or hammer. It was the powerful defense made in 1794 by Le Tellier at the tower of Mortella with only 38 men against a simultaneous sea and land attack, led by Lord Hood and Major General Dundas, which brought them into favor in this country. It was thought that they would be a splendid defense against "Boney"—London Chronicle.

Ancient Glassmaking.

When the council of ten ruled Venice, they issued a decree regarding the art of glassmaking. It runs "If a workman carry his art beyond the limits of his country to the detriment of the republic, he shall be desired to return. If he disobey, his nearest relatives shall be imprisoned. If, in spite of their imprisonment, he remain obstinate in his wish to live abroad, an emissary shall be told off to kill him."

French Humor.

Madame (to her chambermaid)—Justine, the doorknob rang.
"Is madame sure it wasn't the clock?"
"Couldn't be—it is only quarter of 10."
"Yes, but madame knows the clock is fast!"—Echo de Paris.

The little Japs are about as free from the vice of drunkenness as any people in the world. In fact, it is the rarest thing in the world to see an inebriated subject of the mikado. The native drink, "saki," is used about as tea in this country, and it is but little more intoxicating.

The March Number of The Delineator is called the early Spring Number, and commends itself to subscribers as a wonderfully complete epitome of what is to be the vogue in every department of Dress for the coming season. The Literary features are of exceptional merit and the Household and Social discussions marked by a singular quality of originality and utility. O'Kikusan, the Chrysanthemum Maiden, by Frances Stevenson, a romance of New Japan, with an American as suitor, reveals much of the Japanese woman's home life. Consumption, the first of four papers on The Great Scourges of Humanity, by Dr. Grace Peckham Murray, is a conclusive treatment of the disease and conditions that repel or invite it. Some Women's Occupations, by Elizabeth Robinson Scovil, suggests remunerative applications of talents possessed by many women who wish to increase the family income. Going to School, in the series The Boy and His Development, by Mrs. Alice Meynell, is a delightful reminder of the rigors of former school days and a sympathetic plea for little fellows of tender age. Eleanor Georgen's article in The Cultivation of the Voice—a splendid analysis of Emphasis—will be of great value to the student in voice culture. New England Women especially will be interested in Club Women and Club Life, by Helen M. Winslow. The Spring awakening of Nature is the basis of the lessons for March in the New Kindergarten Papers, by Sara Miller Kirby. College News, by Carolyn Halsted, and Girls' Interests and Occupations, by Lafayette McLaws, are full of bright, chatty good things. An enjoyable house party is outlined in A Culinary Entertainment, by Grace Atwood. Of particular household interest, is the group of Domestic Subjects. Another chapter on Soups, some Creole Recipes, Cream Desserts and Menus for the Week. The regular departments as usual are replete with entertaining matter. Social Observances, Fancy Stitches and Embroideries, The Dressmaker, Millinery, Knitting, Crocheting, Tatting, the Newest Books, etc.

MUTILATED BY A TRAIN.

WOODSTOCK, Feb. 17.—When the early train passed out this morning about three miles below town the hands discovered the mutilated remains of a man. The train turned back and left again with Coroner Hay and a jury and Undertaker Henderson. The remains, which were found to be terribly cut up, were brought into town and are now at Mr. Henderson's establishment. An inquest will be held this evening.

It has been learned that the deceased was Geo. Hillman, of Debec, a married man leaving a wife and one child. He had started to walk to his home after the political meeting.
