Canada's Greatest Industry.

BY THE PEOPLE, FOR THE PEOPLE.

People's Knitting Syndicate, Limited.

Incorporated by Ontario Provincial Charter under the Ontario Companies Act.

Head Office and Mill, TORONTO, ONT.

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL STOCK, $180,000.00.

Divided into shares of $1.00 each, of which 100,000 shares are offered for public subscription. (Each subscriber of twenty shares to be furnished a twenty dollar knitting machine free to work for the Syndicate and to share in the net profits of all goods made.)

PRESIDENT: A. W. HAYBURY, Esq., M.D., Toronto. DIRECTORS: P. J. H. HORROCKS, Esq., Consumers' Gas Company, Toronto; H. P. HARDY, Esq., Toronto; J. H. HUNTER, Esq., Gas Company, Toronto. BANKERS: THE IMPERIAL BANK OF CANADA, Toronto, Ont. SOLICITORS: GIBSON ARNOLD & CO., Toronto, Ont. TRUSTEE AND TRANSFER AGENT: STUART S. ARNOLD, Esq., North British and Mercantile Co., Toronto.

WORK FOR YOU WINTER AND SUMMER.

Read Carefully and Become a Shareholder.

This Syndicate has been formed for the purpose of manufacturing knitted goods cheaper than any existing company, to keep down prices, and to oppose the large knitting combines and companies which have joined hands to raise prices. To do this successfully it will be necessary to get yarn at the first cost and to manufacture the goods with the least possible expense. Therefore—

1. The Syndicate will manufacture its own yarn and machines for which it has a mill and every facility.

2. The Syndicate will have all goods made by shareholders knitting at their own homes.

3. The Syndicate will pay for all properly made goods at once upon receipt of same, and besides paying for the work when sent in will semi-annually divide with its working shareholders the net profits from the sale of all goods made by its shareholders.

4. The Syndicate will sell all goods made by its working shareholders at the lowest possible price.

5. To each subscriber of twenty $1.00 shares the Syndicate gives free a twenty dollar knitting machine, free of charge, full directions, samples and yarn to make the goods.

6. To become a shareholder, the owner of one of the machines, to be paid for the work you do, and also to participate in the equal division of the net profits, you have only to become a member of the Syndicate and take twenty $1.00 shares which will cost you twenty dollars.

7. To manufacture its own yarn and knitting machines and supply these machines and yarns to its shareholders FREE. By this plan it can readily be seen that the Syndicate will not only benefit its shareholders by way of dividends, but it will be the source of a regular employment and income at their homes. The Syndicate is fully prepared to keep its shareholders supplied with yarn for doing the various kinds of work required, and it is also in a position to dispose of all goods knitted from these yarns through large jobbers and to the general trade as fast as it is sent in by its shareholders.

8. All knitted goods being made by our shareholders at their own homes, no knitting being done on the premises, it will be seen that to manufacture goods on so large a scale it would be necessary to have a number of knitting factories, which would mean the investment of thousands of dollars, besides taxes, insurance and interest on same. We can, therefore, not only manufacture goods cheaper and in larger quantities, but down the combines and pay our shareholders a handsome dividend semi-annually.

9. The Syndicate furnishes a high speed family seamless knitting machine, and will last a lifetime with ordinary yarn, in fact the Syndicate will guarantee the machine for twenty years. It will knit from the finest imported yarn to the coarsest of Canadian wool yarn the same as hand work, but eighty times faster. With each machine a full outfit is sent, together with a supply of yarn to commence at once. The guide accompanying machine is so plain and the operation so simple that any one of ordinary intelligence can make any of the knitted goods required by the Syndicate such as: Ladies' Socks, $10.00 per 100 pairs; Gents' Golf and Bicycle Hose complete, $10.00 per 100 pairs; Leggings and Footless Bicycle Hose, $5.00 per 100 pairs; Fine Toques, $5.00 per 100. All these goods are quickly made on the machine and as these prices are given for work made good yarn, much more than clerking in store, working in shop or laboring on farm. Shareholders can devote all or part of their time knitting, but at all times they are expected to work for the interests of the Syndicate and to return made goods promptly to the Syndicate.

10. Each person desiring to become a shareholder of stock, participating in the semi-annual dividends, and to do knitting for the Syndicate, receiving pay as fast as work is sent in, must out on the following APPLICATION FORM, sign their name to it, fill in address and reference, and enclose it with $2.00 in cash or by Post Office Money Order for $2.00 to the Syndicate's Secretary, Stuart S. Arnold, 26 Wellington Street, Toronto, Ontario, to whom all money orders are to be made payable.

APPLICATION FORM FOR STOCK AND MACHINE.

STUART S. ARNOLD, Trustee and Transfer Agent, 26 Wellington Street, TORONTO, ONT.

DEAR SIR—I enclose you herewith $2.00 in FULL PAYMENT for twenty shares of stock (subject to no other calls), in The People's Knitting Syndicate, Limited, which I wish sent me as soon as possible to enable me to begin work for the Syndicate at once upon receipt of same. The said stock to entitle me to participate in the semi-annual dividends of the Syndicate in addition to being paid cash on delivery for all the Knitting I do for the Syndicate on my machine.

THE TWIN BALLOTS.

Along in November, when chill was the weather,
Two ballots were cast in a box together—
They nestled up close, like brother to brother;
You couldn't tell one of the votes from the other—
You couldn't tell one from the other.

They were both of them rum voters;
They sanctified the license plan.
But one it was cast by a jolly old brewer,
And one by a Sunday-school man.

The Sunday-school man—no man could be truer—
Kept busy all summer denouncing the brewer.
But his fervour cooled off with the change in the weather,
And late in the fall they voted together—
In autumn they voted together.

The Sunday-school man has always been noted
For fighting saloons—except when he voted—
For temperance except when he voted.
He piled up his prayers with holy perfection,
But knocked them all down on the day of election—
But knocked them all down on election.

The foxy old brewer was cheerful and merry,
Said he: "I admire that Sunday school fellow—
I admire that Sunday-school fellow.
He's true to his church; to his party he's truest.
He talks to the Lord, but he votes for the brewer."

He faithfully votes for the brewer."

He faithfully votes for the brewer."

He faithfully votes for the brewer."

He faithfully votes for the brewer."

He faithfully votes for the brewer."

He faithfully votes for the brewer."

He faithfully votes for the brewer."

He faithfully votes for the brewer."

He faithfully votes for the brewer."

He faithfully votes for the brewer."

He faithfully votes for the brewer."

THE CHURCH AND IMTEMPERANCE.

BY MRS. M. A. HOLT.

It is painfully evident that the Church of God is not doing enough temperance work. It is as yet only partially awake upon this great question that means so much for the advancement of God's kingdom upon the earth. Temperance is so closely connected with the religion of Christ that the weal of the Church is in danger when this great principle of right suffers. Knowing this, as all Christians ought to know it, it is strange that the Church is not more thoroughly awake to its own interests, and more in earnest in fighting the encroaching foe—the saloon. The Church will have to take up new methods of warfare and enter into a closer fight with its strong enemy if it even maintains its present position; and if it is indeed an aggressive and progressive power, it will have to throw aside many of its scruples and go out to war with the common foe of humanity in a manner that means liberty or death.

Praying alone will never do the work. Indeed, it would be just as consistent to pray for deliverance from the coiled reptile at our feet, as to pray and not seek to place the heel upon the serpent's head.

The men who are engaged in the liquor traffic are supremely happy when the Church does nothing but pray. They would never cease in their work of death for a single moment if all the world was upon its knees in prayer, but when the Christian goes from his closet to fight in every legitimate manner the dark curse, then the liquor seller grows pale with fear.

It is an insult to God to ask Him to stay the power of this awful stream of death, when we have the power in our own hands to do it. It is a mockery to him to sit down with folded hands amidst the scene of death and make no effort to stop it. There is power enough in God's Church to shake the foundations of every saloon in America to the ground if put in active force. If "one can chase a thousand," why does not God's Church go out in its insulted power and scatter the hosts of sin? Why does it not use the strength of its mighty arm against this hateful sin that not only undermines the Church itself, but crush everything that wears the garb of morality, unless destroyed and robbed of its unholy power?

I wonder how much, longer the church spire will point its white finger to the sky while its shadow falls upon the saloon across the way. I wonder how much longer men and women will meet to sing and pray while their own or their neighbours' boys are being ruined in the saloon not a block away. I have sometimes thought it seemed like a farce, and yet perhaps this is too strong a word, for I love the sanctuary and hour of prayer. Yet, I am sure there will come a day when the Church of God will be made aware of the fact that it did not begin soon enough the bitter, earnest battle with strong drink.

The matter of time in beginning this important work might not make so much difference if so many were not daily being dragged to ruin. Every year of delay means a hundred thousand more ruined souls for the realms of darkness, and the same number less to shine as angels of light in the city of God.

It is the duty of the Church to take up this work and lead in it, because it is God's work and stands as an impassable barrier in the way of the coming of his own kingdom. It is the arch enemy of all good, and fosters under its black wings all other sins. It screens everything that is vile and unholy, and openly defies every principle of purity and truth. In short, there are no words to describe the vile sin known as the liquor traffic.—Michigan Christian Advocate.

Leg A Solid Sore.

When it comes to healing up old running sores of long standing there is no remedy equal to Burdock Blood Bitters.

Bathe the sore with the B.B.B.—that relieves the local irritation. Take the B.B.B. internally—that clears the blood of all impurities on which sores thrive.

Miss D. Melissa Burke, Grindstone, Magdalen Islands, P.Q., says: "It is with pleasure I speak in favor of B.B.B. which cured me of a running sore on my leg. I consulted three doctors and they gave me salve to put on, but it did no good. Finally my leg became a solid running sore. In fact for nearly a month I could not put my foot to the floor."

"I was advised to use B.B.B. and did so. Three bottles healed up my leg entirely so that I have never been troubled with it since."

A Bill Poster's Trick.

"Of course we used to put up small bills wherever they'd catch the eye," said a bill poster who traveled with a circus making one day stands, "and one thing we used to do that always pleased folks was to hang a bill from a ceiling. You had to have a wooden ceiling, to start with, and then all you wanted, besides the bills, was a tack and a silver dollar. It took practice to do it, but when you'd got the knack it was very simple and easy."

"You attached two bills together, one at the foot of the other so that it would hang down when the first one was attached to the ceiling. Then you folded the bills up, with a tack, thrust point upward through the top fold of the upper bill, with a silver dollar under it, and the other folds of paper under it."

"Then, some time when the room was full of people—this might be a hotel office or perhaps a barroom—you tossed the bills up, and there was weight enough in the dollar to drive the tack into the ceiling far enough to hold. Then the weight of the paper itself and of the dollar would open the bills out, and the coin would drop and you'd catch it as it fell, and the chances are that not one man in five would see it fall. The bills would be seen, fastened up there somehow, most of the people wouldn't know how, and opening out with the lower bill, hanging so you could read it."

"This was not the greatest thing in bill posting ever was, but, as I said before, always pleased folks."—New York Sun.

Very Curious Weather. At Alto Cruero water freezes every night of the year and the thermometer frequently falls to 6, 8 and 10 degrees below zero. There are no facilities for artificial heat—not even a fireplace—and people keep themselves warm by putting on ponchos and other extra wraps.

At noonday the sun is intensely hot, because of the elevation and the rarity of the atmosphere, and blisters the flesh of those who are not accustomed to it. There is a difference of 20 and sometimes 30 degrees in the temperature of the shade and the sunshine. Water will freeze in the shade while 20 feet away men may be working in their shirt sleeves.

The natives seem to be entirely insured to cold and go about barefooted and barelegged over the ice and the stones indifferently without regard to the temperature; but they have a way of heaping the blankets on their heads and wrapping up their faces to keep the pure air out of their throats and nostrils. The women who herd the flock for any strip of which stim-

"Indeed I do," answered the poet. "I once got six months' board for some poems."

"Who did you sell them to?"

"My landlady."

"What on earth did she want with a lot of poems?"

"I don't know that she wanted them particularly, but I left them in my box when I went away, and there was nothing else in sight. They were good poems, too, but I couldn't sell them."

The Stumbling Block. A member of the Mug House club who had failed to win a fortune on the turf decided to go into Wall street to tackle easier game. "On the turf," he explained, "a man has exactly 27 chances against him in a field of ten horses. In other words, he has one chance in 28 to hit a winner. Now, in Wall street stocks go one of two ways—either up or down—giving a man one chance in two. If looks like a dead open and shut. I'm going to make it pay. There's nothing against you except bad judgment."

"Oh, yes, there is," said a New street operator, nodding his head sagely.

"And that is"—we all asked.

NERVOUSNESS

The Disease of this Fast Age which Destroys Beauty, Health and Happiness.

Nothing so hastens old age as nervousness. Beauty fades, wrinkles and care lines disfigure the once beautiful face, the sunny temper becomes soured and irritable; nights of sleeplessness are followed by days of worry and fatigue. The feminine organs become weak and irregular. Everything goes wrong to the victim of nervousness, for the whole system is under the control of the nerves.

The usual result of nervousness is paralysis or nervous prostration, while others it brings insanity or epilepsy. The waste of nerve force increases at a terrible rate, until life is clouded by gloom and despondency.

As a restorative for nervous men, women and children, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is unrivalled and unapproached. It is a new wonder of medical science which builds up and revitalizes the nerves and puts new life and energy into every movement of the body. It positively cures nervousness in all its forms in the course of a few months' treatment.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great restorative, in pill form, 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Book free.

THE NEW TRANSPORT.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—The department has secured the Elder-Dempster liner Milwaukee for the purpose of transporting the first battalion of mounted rifles and C battery of field artillery. The Milwaukee is somewhat larger than the Montezuma but is built almost exactly on the same lines. The new transport is enroute for New Orleans with sugar and is expected to arrive not later than Wednesday. Orders have been sent to the captain to proceed to Halifax immediately after discharging. What with the journey from New Orleans to Halifax and the time necessary to make change in the vessel it will be practically a month before she can leave Halifax. Mr. Sinclair of the Elder Dempsters, who was here to-day, sets Feb. 15th, as the outside limit.

A Peanut Party.

A progressive peanut party is conducted after the manner of jack straws. This purpose small tables are arranged in different points of the room, according to number of guests invited, allowing table to four players. In the center each there is piled up a pint of peanuts, and by its side a pair of bonbons, which can be purchased for a few cents each. At a given signal or by the ding of a gong the game is begun. The players on the same principle proceed, the old fashioned jack straws, the nuts taking the place of the straws. The tongs that of the hook. The is called and the scores kept similar to progressive game, when the winner each table moves up on the next, and the game is begun. At the conclusion of the allotted time scores are compared and prizes awarded to the lucky same regularity being preserved cards. After the game is finished peanuts become a part of the feast that is and are devoured by the guests. In this home amusement one rule should be strictly kept, that small prizes are made or trifles purchased not exceeding 25 cents each.

Queen Victoria's Protégés.

Queen Victoria looks after the children of her servants by educating and partially boarding and clothing them out of her private purse. There are about 120 boys and girls at the queen's schools at Windsor. The boys wear Scotch caps and suits of Scotch plaid, and learn farming and gardening in addition to ordinary school lessons, while the girls, who are dressed in plaid frocks, red cloaks and straw hats trimmed with blue ribbon, are taught sewing and various other domestic duties.

A Literary Note.
