SMOTHERING SENSATION.

A Kingston Lady's Experience with Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in Relieving this Distressing Condition.

"I have suffered for some years with a smothering sensation caused by heart disease. The severity of the pains in my heart caused me much suffering. I was also very nervous and my whole system was run down and debilitated.

"Hearing that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills were a specific for these troubles, I thought I would try them, and got a box at McLeod's Drug Store. They afforded me great relief, having toned up my system and removed the distressing symptoms from which I suffered. I can heartily recommend these wonderful pills to all sufferers from heart trouble.

DEATH OF ARCHIBALD ROWAN.

(St. John Gazette)

Archibald Rowan, government inspector for weights and measures and gas meters, died suddenly Wednesday evening at his home Mount Pleasant. Mr. Rowan was on duty as usual Wednesday forenoon though suffering somewhat from bronchitis. When he went home to dinner he felt a choking sensation and was unable to eat. His condition grew worse and at 5.30 p. m. he died of heart failure.

The deceased was a native of Scotland. He was for many years a member of the city council, and was once an unsuccessful candidate for mayor. He at one time conducted a large plumbing and gas fitting establishment on Water street. He was appointed by the Mackenzie government a representative to the Vienna exhibition in the seventies, to look into the subject of gas lighting. Mr. Rowan was an excellent speaker when a young man, and was at one time talked of as a possible candidate for parliamentary honors. In 1875 he was appointed inspector of gas, and in 1895 was also inspector of electric lighting. His son, Walter, was appointed to the postal service in 1874, or one year before the father's appointment to office, and was made a first class clerk in 1897.

In his younger days Mr. Rowan took an active interest in the volunteer movement and organized a Scotch Company which made a fine appearance and were well drilled. Mr. Rowan was captain and the late James McFarlane was also an officer in the company.

"He Mistakes the Effect for the Cause."

That is what the person does who tries to cure rheumatism or any other disease by relieving the symptoms. Hood's Sarsaparilla attacks the cause of these diseases. It neutralizes the acid in the blood and thus permanently cures rheumatism. It tones and strengthens the stomach, restores its natural digesting fluids and permanently cures dyspepsia.

Hood's Pills cure constipation. Price 25 cents.

Vera Douglas, the beautiful Canadian woman who has had lords, dukes and princes in her train, and whose escapades had been the theme of the gossip of two continents, has been buried at Saint Germain, a suburb of Paris. The lot in which the coffin was deposited was bought for $300 by R. H. Henning, an Australian millionaire. There was a short service at the American church of the Holy Trinity. No more than fifteen persons were there, and when the hearse drove away, the only friend to follow the body of the unfortunate woman to the grave was the maid whom she had employed.

Rheumatism..

is Uric Acid in the blood. Unhealthy kidneys are the cause of the acid being there. If the kidneys acted as they should they would strain the Uric Acid out of the system and rheumatism wouldn't occur. Rheumatism is a Kidney Disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills have made a great part of their reputation curing Rheumatism. So get at the cause of those fearful shooting pains and stiff, aching joints. There is but one sure way—

Doing Penance.

A member of the mining exchange tells this story of a man doing penance: "I had a wagon and was driving out of Denver, on my way to the mines. The roads were fetlock deep in dust, and the weather was hotter than hades. A young fellow halted me a few miles out and asked if he might walk behind my wagon. It was the strangest request I had ever heard, and I said:

"Walk behind? No! Get up here on the seat and ride." He wore a sort of sad look and replied:

"I don't want to ride, pardner. I ain't fitten to ride and I ain't fitten to get fitten. Just let me walk behind your wagon."

"I thought then he must be crazy and concluded to let him have his way. The dust rolled up in dense, suffocating clouds. I glanced frequently over my shoulder, but couldn't get a glimpse of him. As the team rattled on, however, I heard his voice repeating over and over again:

"Serve you right, confound you! Sell your claim for $10,000, win $1,500 at poker, go down to Denver, blow off the town and go dead broke! You blank blank blank! Ought to suffocate! Got to go back and start all over again! Dust too good for you! Ain't half punishment enough!"

"At the end of the journey he was nearly dead, but still bravely anxious to do penance. I hired him, and he's here in New York now, doing well."—New York Press.

Admitted It Himself.

A story is told of two prominent Chicago lawyers who several years ago were regarded as being among the brightest lawyers the state had produced for a long time. There was great rivalry between these men, and one day they were having a heated argument on the steps of the state-house at Springfield.

"I'll agree to leave it to the first man we meet," said one of the wrangling lawyers fiercely.

"All right, and that will settle it once for all. Ah! Here is Charlie. We'll leave it to him."

"Charlie," as the man spoken of approached within hearing distance. "We want you to decide who is the best lawyer in Illinois. We agree to abide by your decision."

"Well," replied Charlie, himself an old practitioner and well known in the capital city. "I plead guilty to being the best lawyer in the state myself."

"Why, Charlie, how can it be proved?" inquired the first of the two Chicagoans.

"You don't have to prove it," replied the Springfield man, "I admit it, don't I?"

The floors above are rented for sweatshops. One man hires a floor and sublets each window to a man to work by. If at any time he shows signs of running behind with his rent a dozen window tenants are eager to take the contract in his place.

The windows rent for $5 each. This gives the man who hires the whole floor his window free, or sometimes a little more than that. The windows in this particular building are especially sought after, because there is a freight elevator, by which the heavy cloth garments can be hoisted and let down from the various stories. It runs by hand power, but even then it is far better than carrying the heavy burdens on the back.—New York Press.

Cause For Care.

"No," said the confident youth, "I shall not trudge along in the beaten track. I shall not devote my mind to humdrum duty."

"What are you going to do?" asked the schoolmaster.

"I am going to strike away from the beaten path. I'm going to leave footprints on the sands of time."

"Well, you want to be careful."

"I have energy and ability."

"Yes, but you want to be careful too. Trying to leave footprints on the sands of time has been the cause of a lot of people getting stuck in the mud."

On the Road to Bankruptcy.

Griggs—Your friend appears to be prospering finely. His new residence is simply palatial, and the horse-drawn ride behind must have cost him a mint of money.

Briggs—Yes, Stentor is doing splendidly. But I'm sorry to say he has just taken out a patent for a very ingenious invention.

Griggs—Is that so? By George, when the bankruptcy sale comes off I'm going to be on hand to make a bid on one of them horses.—Boston Transcript.

Very Sharp.

Teacher—Now, Johnny, if the earth were empty on the inside, what could we compare it to?

Johnny—A razor, ma'am.

Teacher—A razor?

Johnny—Yes, ma'am; because it would be hollow ground.—Brooklyn Life.

An Ohio man who admits he is superstitious attributes it to the fact that he was once caught in a rainstorm while arayed in a $13 suit of clothes.—Chicago News.

AGRICULTURE

POULTRY NOTES.

Killing vermin is better than buying extra food, and then getting no results from the fowls.

Don't crowd the pens. Better too few than too many. Hens must have plenty of working room to thrive well.

People are learning that "keeping" hens is one thing, and tending them is another, and the profit comes from the latter.

Especially when the fowls are confined it is better to keep the appetite sharpened. Compel the fowls to be active, and make them scratch well for their grain.

Keep the hens busy, as the busy hens are the laying hens, and produce the healthy, hardy chicks, full of life and energy, and they are the kind that pay the profits.

Bees, small fruits and poultry keeping make a good combination, and with good management will make a nice living. One advantage is that only a small acreage will be necessary.

Don't neglect to supply the hens with plenty of fresh, clean water. Remember the eggs contain a large percentage of water. A hen cannot do her best without plenty of water, no more than a cow can keep up a good flow of milk without abundance of water.

After the days of roaming the fields for insects are over, and the fowls are confined within the four walls of the house, meat in some form is needed. For a very small flock table scraps will do, but for a good sized flock, there is no meat food so good convenient and cheap, as animal meal. It puts color in the combs and faces of the hens, and a good red comb denotes health, and eggs in abundance.—Co-operative Farmer.

KINDNESS.

Kindness is an efficient aid in increasing milk yields and costs nothing. The more a milker can make the cow love him as she loves her calf, the more milk she will yield to him. Investigations show that it is probable that a considerable portion of the milk is secreted during the operation of milking, especially the rich milk which comes last. Abuse and excitement reduce the secretion and not only lower the quantity of milk given, but often lower the percentage of butter fat. Kindness and petting make the cow contented and put her nervous system in such a condition that the fullest yield is given. This is not the only cause, but it is probably a chief cause, of the wide variation in butter fat sometimes shown in creamery tests. Hurrying cows, running them with dogs, beating them, or speaking roughly to them will reduce the yield of milk and percent of butter fat. A change of milkers will often lower the percent of butter fat, until the cow becomes fond of the new milker.

THE MODERN FARMER.

The popular idea that a farmer works harder than men in other industrial callings is not true as applied to the work of the year, writes Waldo F. Brown. To be sure, he has some days of hard work, but not one in this day of improved machinery to where there were ten in the old days of hand labor, and the winter is a season of rest to him, and the great variety in his work relieves it of that wearisomeness which accompanies so many kinds of manual labor. Then the healthful conditions under which his work is done out of doors in the pure air are largely in his favor. The farmer is never haunted with the fear of losing his place, and when hard times come he is not found walking the streets day after day, looking for work, while the provisions in the harder run low and actual want stares his family in the face. But the farm not only always furnishes work, but also an abundance of supplies of the very best kind, so that in the hardest time he lives on fresh eggs, yellow legged chickens, milk, butter and cream and choice meats and vegetables of his own production, and if out of debt he hardly knows the meaning of the term "hard times."

HEALTHY, HAPPY GIRLS.

Healthy, happy girls often become languid and despondent, from no apparent cause, in the early days of their womanhood. They drag along, always tired, never hungry, breathless and with palpitating hearts after slight exercise, so that to merely walk up stairs is exhausting. Sometimes a short, dry cough leads to the fear that they are going into consumption. Doctors tell them are anaemic—which means they have too little blood. Are you like that?

More pale and anaemic people have been made bright, active and strong by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills than any other medicine.

Mrs. M. N. Jocas, Berthier, Que., writes:—"My daughter, aged fifteen has been restored to good health through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She was very feeble, her blood was poor and watery, and she was troubled with headaches, poor appetite, dizziness, and always felt tired. After using four boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills she is enjoying as good health as any girl of her age, and we are glad to give the credit to your grand medicine. Mothers will make no mistake if they insist upon their young daughters taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Do not take anything that does not bear the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." It is an experiment and a hazardous one to use a substitute. Sold by all dealers or post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville.

APPLIED MATHEMATICS.

"My daughter," and his voice was stern, "You must set this matter right: What time did Sophomore leave? Who sent up his card last night?"

"His work was pressing, father dear, and his love for her was great; He took his leave and went away Before a quarter of eight."

Then a twinkle came to her bright blue eyes And her dimples deeper grew; 'Tis surely no sin to tell him that, "For a quarter of eight is two."

SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY.

(Moncton Times.)

John and Stephen Tobin, who were arrested here last Sunday on the charge of procuring money under false pretences through a fraudulent solicitation of alms were tried before Judge Wedderburn at Hillsboro Thursday under the speedy trials' act and convicted of the charge. John was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary and Stephen, his brother, who passed himself off as a blind man seeking to raise money to enter the Halifax school for the blind, was given three years. The latter is unmarried but John Tobin has a wife and three children living in Moncton. Sheriff Lynds arrived here Friday evening with the prisoners and they were taken to Dorchester Saturday morning.

STRATHCONA'S OFFER

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—The organization of the Canadian patriotic association was completed at a meeting in the Governor General's office at which Lord Minto, Hons. Mulock, Borden, Foster, Costigan, Fleming and others were present. Lord Minto is president and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Charles Tupper and Lord Strathcona and all the lieutenant governors vice presidents. Hon. Mr. Foster is convener of the finance committee and Hon. Mr. Borden of the relief committee. His Excellency received a cable from the Queen's private secretary informing him that Her Majesty was gracefully pleased to become a patron of the Association.

The Government has accepted the generous offer of the High Commissioner to defray the cost of equipping and maintaining 400 mounted soldiers. As, unfortunately, Lord Strathcona is indisposed and is now forbidden to transact any business, the details of the organization have not been decided, but the military authorities are going to work to prepare the equipment. As British Columbia has offered a hundred mounted men this offer was also accepted and the men will go in the same vessel as Strathcona's horse. The entire force will be raised in the Northwest and British Columbia. The cost to Lord Strathcona will not be less than half a million dollars.

Had Catarrh since Childhood but Catarrhozone Cured Him.

Ulric Braunt, of Sweetburg, Que., says: "Since childhood I have been afflicted with Catarrh of the throat and nose and never knew what relief meant till I tried Catarrhozone. Two bottles completely cured me, and I have not one single symptom of Catarrh now. I can heartily recommend Catarrhozone for Catarrh, and would advise all sufferers to get an outfit at once and be cured as I was." Catarrh-o-zone is sold by all druggists. Trial outfit sent for 10c in stamps by N. C. POLSON & CO., Kingston, Ont., Proprietors.

WEDDING SUPERSTITIONS.

Here is what happens to brides when they marry in any color they may select:

Married in white, you have chosen all right;
Married in gray, you will go far away;
Married in black, you will wish yourself back;

Married in red, you will wish yourself dead;
Married in green, ashamed to be seen,
Married in blue, he will always be true;
Married in pearl, you will live in a whirl;
Married in yellow, ashamed of your fellow;

Married in brown, you will live out of town;
Married in pink, your spirits will sink.

The days of the week are also carefully designated.

Marry Monday for health,
Tuesday for wealth,
Wednesday the best day of all;
Thursday for crosses,
Friday for losses,
Saturday, no luck at all.

There are many sayings that have been handed down for years and years. They mostly treat of the unlucky things which might happen.

A man may marry once without a crime, But curst is he who weds a second time.

'Tis ill-luck to a bride to see her face in a glass by candlelight.

Change the name and not the letter, Change for worse and not for better,

Great joy in the bride's face presages misfortune.

Married in haste, one may repent at leisure.

Blessed is the bride that the sun shines on,
Woe comes to the bride that the rain falls on.

Thrice a bridesmaid, never a bride.

WHEN HEART FAILS

Life's Charm Vanishes. No Case of Heart Disease Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart Will not Relieve in 30 Minutes and Permanently Cures.

Thos. Petry, of Almyer, Que., says that for about five years he was a constant sufferer from acute heart degeneration—endured untold pain, was unable to attend to his daily work, and excretion caused great fatigue. He was recommended to try Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. One bottle did him great benefit; four bottles drove every symptom of the trouble away from him. Sold at Est. W. W. Short.

Handicap your Cough!

Don't wait a few days to see if it will "wear off"; it is much more likely to become dangerous and it will undoubtedly be much more difficult to cure. The longer you permit it to prey upon the delicate membranes of your throat, bronchial tubes and chest, the more you render yourself susceptible to other attacks and to chronic pneumonia or consumption.

Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam

is an infallible remedy: for more than 30 years it has been curing the worst cases and it will surely cure you. 25 CENTS AT ALL DRUGGISTS.
