A Dressmaker's Duties

Are Such as to Cause Backache

A Toronto Dressmaker has Found a Positive Cure and Gladly Tells About it.

Those who follow the arduous occupation of dressmaking or sewing have troubles of their own. Running sewing machines all day long, bending over work that requires the greatest of care, these are the things that have made many a woman exclaim, "every time I take a stitch with my needle it seems as though I am piercing my own back."

But those who suffer from backache, headache, pain in the side or any derangement of the kidneys will be glad to know that there is a remedy that never fails even in the worst cases.

It is Doan's Kidney Pills. Mrs. P. Coyle, the well-known dressmaker, 224 Bathurst St., Toronto, Ont., gave the following statement of her experience with it: "For some time I suffered a good deal from weak back, a tired feeling, and pains and aches in various parts of my body. Since I have used Doan's Kidney Pills the pains have left me, my back has got stronger and the kidney troubles have been corrected. That tired, dull, drowsy feeling that used to come on me has now gone, and I am happy to say I have not felt so well in years as at present."

Doan's Kidney Pills cure backache, lame or weak back, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, mist before the eyes, loss of memory, rheumatism, gravel and urinary troubles of young or old. The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

WHEN CHERRIES ARE RIPE.

A delicious cherry cake is made by putting stale bread into a pint and a half of boiling milk; cover and let stand half an hour. Beat into the bread and milk, one by one, the yolks of six eggs; a scant teaspoonful of sugar. To this add the frothed whites of the eggs and three pounds of stoned cherries. Put the mixture into a shallow, well-buttered baking tin, bake an hour and a half, turn out while hot and sprinkle plentifully with powdered sugar and a little cinnamon powder.

Pudding.—Sift two teaspoonfuls of baking powder with two teaspoonfuls of flour; rub through the flour a tablespoonful of butter, and with milk, about a teaspoonful, make a batter. Drop a tablespoonful of the batter into buttered teacups; then a tablespoonful of cherries, and cover with batter. Steam or bake, and serve with sweetened cream.

Five Minute Pudding.—Heat to boiling a quart of stoned cherries and a teaspoonful of sugar. Wet four tablespoonfuls of cornstarch with cold water, add to the cherries, stir evenly through the cook five minutes. Serve in saucers with a tablespoonful of sweet jelly on the top.

Pie.—Fill a fairly rich crust not quite full with pitted cherries, sprinkle evenly over them a heaping teaspoonful of cornstarch, a tablespoonful, if they are very juicy, a teaspoonful of sugar, and dot with bits of butter. Cover, wet the edges of upper and under crust, press well together, and gash the top. To prevent the juice escaping, place around the edge a narrow band of cloth, one side of which has been smeared with flour wet to a paste with water.

Cherry Tapioca.—Wash quickly a teaspoonful of tapioca, cover with cold water and let stand over night. Add a pint of boiling water and simmer until the tapioca looks clear. Sweeten to taste, add a pint of stoned cherries, and when cold serve with a spoonful of whipped cream in each dish.

THE QUEEN TO LORD ROBERTS.

What honours shall I to thee give, Lord Roberts, An earldom and coronet bright? I have no son, gracious Lady, He sleeps in the Transvaal to-night!

What honours shall I to thee give, Lord Roberts, A castle and fair broad lands? I have no need for such Queenly deed, I have only obeyed thy commands!

What honours shall I to thee give, Lord Roberts, A sword set with jewels bright? I have no more need of a warrior's blade For shadows lengthen in evening shade!

What honours shall I to thee give, Lord Roberts? My court you may grace to-night. My gracious Queen, I prefer to remain, in my island home in your vast domain!

What honours wilt thou accept, Lord Roberts? It's the due of a warrior knight. My reward is to know that thy sceptre bright illumines the dark plains of the Transvaal to-night.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our regular correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 3, 1900.—President McKinley has made up his mind that the Chinese situation is not as serious as some people think and has left this city for a month's vacation at his home in Ohio. He will, of course, be within call if anything requiring his attention should develop. But it is altogether improbable that any radical step will be taken by this country in China for some time to come. At present it is positively declared at the State Department that there is no intention to further strengthen our forces in China or to use them for any purpose other than the resource of our ministers and citizens. The influence of the United States will certainly be on the British side in any future division of Chinese territory, but if possible, it will be confined to a moral influence and not a forcible one. What it may be six months from now, no one can say, but to-day, with the election looming in the near future, it behooves the President to show as little sympathy with England as possible. Even from a British point of view, it would probably be considered the very worst possible policy to aid Great Britain for six months and by so doing cause the Republican party to lose the election and turn the country over to the anti English Bryanites. The necessity for taking sides amongst the powers has not yet arisen and may never arise. At present, there is nothing to do but to follow out the course the State Department already has adopted, namely, to have the United States consult put themselves in communication with the viceroys of the provinces, treating the central government at Peking as incapacitated for administrative work, and inducing these viceroys to do all in their power to protect the foreigners in their respective districts. The sign of an amicable disposition on the part of these viceroys is probably the basis for the hope that they can be induced to stand neutral and keep their provinces in order even during direct hostilities against the Peking government.

The United States Government has not yet regarded and probably will not regard the developments as demanding the assembling of Congress in extraordinary session to declare war, and it is possible that the dispatch of more reinforcements to China from Manila and the United States may not require Congressional action, as long as the object is strictly to succor American citizens in distress and danger.

It is too much to say that Americans do not regret the African war hospital scandal. But at least they do contemplate it with more equanimity than they otherwise would in view of the way in which they were lectured by the British press for somewhat similar occurrences during the Spanish war. The description of the sufferings of the sick and wounded read much like those of the transport horrors returning from Cuba. Fever patients it is said wander about the African camps in delirium, unable to get a drink of water, and the flies swarm on others who are prostrate and helpless, there being no one to brush them away, while men die by inches for lack of food and medicines. In this way the army has been almost decimated and the ravages continue, there being at the present moment thousands of fever patients. As a matter of fact, in Cuba as in Africa these horrors are the consequences of war and "war is hell." We repeat the phrase glibly but none of us realize it who have not seen it. In olden times, such occurrences would have been taken as a matter of course. Today the world has grown thin-skinned. It is willing to fight and be killed in battle but it cannot bear dying by inches. But this is what war means.

The State Department has published for American information a report of the British consul at Manila on conditions there. He says: "Improvements are visible in every direction, and already the town has quite a different appearance from last year. The work of draining the filthy town ditches and stagnant pools, which is in contemplation, may possibly entail an epidemic, but the advantage to posterity is inestimable. The recovered land of the city walls and moat will provide building sites which American enterprise will know how to utilize; and although Manila will never become a fashionable watering place, it may become a great commercial power in these waters before the first quarter of the century is passed.

"The two well known leading industries of Manila, hemp and tobacco, will, I fear, suffer severely for some time from the late insurrection, but there are, no doubt, at present golden opportunities for the employment of capital and talent in many local trades. Ice manufactories, livery stables, hotels and general enterprise are much wanted, but I most strongly deprecate young men without capital coming here in search of employment. The departments of the post office and telegraph, being now under American and British control, are admirably conducted. The telephone, water supply, and the electric lighting are Spanish, and also deserve great praise. The electric lighting plant is being enlarged, and Manila will soon be one of the best lighted towns in the East."

Freezing Weather in July

Would cause great discomfort and loss, but fortunately it is seldom known. A vast amount of misery is caused at this season, however, by impoverished blood, poor appetite and general debility. These conditions may be remedied by enriching the blood and toning the stomach with Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine seems to put new life into the whole physical system, simply because of its wonderful power to purify, enrich and vitalize the blood, create an appetite and invigorate the digestive functions. We advise you to get a bottle and try it if you are not feeling just right. It will do you more good than a six weeks' vacation. It is the best medicine money can buy.

ANOTHER BIG STEEL WORKS.

MONTREAL, July 5.—News has reached here that John F. Stairs, of Halifax, and Graham Fraser, of New Glasgow, have succeeded in raising in London a round million dollars for the purpose of the general Mining Association's coal properties. Their success means the establishment of another large steel plant at North Sydney on the same scale as the works at South Sydney. The steel company's works at New Glasgow, the big Newfoundland iron ore deposits of the latter and the General Mining Association's property are all in the new deal.

THE NEW DEFINITION OF TRUSTS.

Frank King, of Toledo, Ohio, has made a hit by twisting old axioms and proverbs into trade ophorisms. This definition of a trust is his latest. "A trust is a small body of men surrounded by water."
