CHEAP READING.

THE REVIEW has arranged with the St. John Telegraph a combination offer to cover the subscription to this paper and the Semi-Weekly Telegraph.

The St. John Semi-Weekly Telegraph

—AND—

The Richibucto Review

will be sent to subscribers for one year for $1.00

The Semi-Weekly Telegraph is a 16-page paper published twice a week, containing all the news of this Province as well as the latest and most reliable news from the Transvaal war. To families in districts not supplied with a daily mail service the Semi-Weekly Telegraph is preferable to either a St. John or Montreal Daily.

No family on the North Shore need be without good, up-to-date reading matter at the price quoted.

$1.00 A YEAR FOR THE TWO PAPERS.

A LITTLE CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM.

We are aware that the little child is king or queen of the home. The smaller the child, the more true this statement. All bow down to the little child. His wants are the first to be looked after. When he smiles the whole family smiles. When he is sick, the whole family is eager to watch and help. When he died, it seems like the light has gone out of the home. How true it is that "a little child shall lead them." How important it is that this little child shall be well trained in the principles of morality. There is no question but what the greatest agency for good to-day in the training of these children is the Sunday-school; and the great agency that keep the Sunday-school ever to the front and trains it, is the State and International Sunday School Convention system, of which our State is a part. No agency has done so much for our Sunday-schools as this. It is continent wide, and includes every State, Territory and Province. Mr. B. F. Jacobs, Atwood Building, Chicago, is the Chairman of the International Executive Committee.

A NEGLECTED COLD is very dangerous, and the farther it goes the faster it goes. A very small quantity of Adamson's Botanic Balsam will cure a "young" cough. An older one requires more Balsam to stop it—but no cough is too old for it to cure. 25c. at all Druggists.

Chas. Phillimore of Medford, Ont., returned to his old home at Port Dalhousie and committed suicide Thursday by taking carbolic acid.

Two severe cases that were completely cured by the Great Blood Purifier and Healer,

Suffered For over eleven years I 11 Years. suffered with Dyspepsia and tried everything I could think of, but was unable to get relief until I took Burdock Blood Bitters. I had only taken one bottle when I commenced to feel better, and after taking five or six bottles was entirely well, and have remained so ever since, and feel as though B.B.B. had saved my life.—Mrs. T. G. Joyce, Stanhope, P.Q.

Covered My little boy, aged 10 With Sores. years, was a complete mass of sores, caused, the doctor said, by bad blood. His head and body were entirely covered with sores, and we could find no cure. Finally I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and before one-half the bottle was gone he began to improve and by the time it was finished there was not a sore on him.

I used the B.B.B. as a wash as well as internally, and it seemed to give great relief as soon as it was put on.—Mrs. Philip Mitchell, St. Mary's, Ont.

KILLED ON THE RAIL.

After saving the life of his wife, Henry Sannet, of Jersey City, was killed by a train the other day on the Rockaway Beach Branch of the Long Island Railroad.

Mr. Sannet was 94 years old and his wife a few years younger, they had visited friends on Long Island and were returning over the Hawthree Creek railroad bridge. The couple were about half way across the structure when they were startled by a train approaching. Sannet assisted his wife to the other track when the smoke of another train approaching at a great speed warned them that they were in a trap. Mr. Sannet grasped his wife and hurried her to the outer rail of the track. Then taking hold of her by the waist he lifted her and threw her into the creek about twenty feet below. Before Mr. Sannet had time to follow his wife he was struck and killed. Mrs. Sannet was rescued unhurt, aside from the shock.

IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

Great Work on the Island Inaugurated by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Kidney Disease being Driven from Newfoundland—A mar. Wonderful Medicine never known here—John Brooks, of Lushes Bight, Cured.

St. John's, N.S.L.D., May 14.—From all parts of the island comes word of the work being done by the great remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills. Kidney diseases have always been considered the most dangerous ailments to which the people of Newfoundland were subject. No satisfactory or certain treatment had ever been known here, and Dodd's Kidney Pills have proved a blessing of which the whole country is fast availing itself.

The large number of diseases which Dodd's Kidney Pills are known to cure is to be explained only in one way. Bright's Disease and Diabetes are local maladies of the kidneys themselves. Rheumatism, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Sciatica, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Bladder and Urinary Troubles, Women's Weakness and Blood Diseases are all caused by the bad action of the kidneys—a fault Dodd's Kidney Pills promptly correct.

John Brooks, of Lushes Bight, Little Bay Island, writes as follows:—

"I have been a sufferer this ten or twelve years. I have used lots of different medicines such as used for pain in the stomach, pain in the back, pain in the side, but all to no effect. I do not know what was the matter. There was no doctor here to tell any one. I got an account of Dodd's Kidney Pills from a lady friend of mine and a sample of them and they did me so much good that as soon as I could I bought a box, and before I used one box I was cured, and I can say it was Dodd's Kidney Pills I owe my health to."

LOOK NOT UPON THE WINE.

BY N. P. WILLIS.

Look not upon the wine when it is red within the cup; Stay not for pleasure when she fills Her tempting beaker up. Though clear its depths, and rich its glow, A spell of madness lurks below.

They say it's pleasant on the lip, And cherry on the brain; They say it stirs the sluggish blood, And dulls the tooth of pain; Aye, but within its gloomy deeps A stinging serpent unseen sleeps.

Its rosy light will turn to fire, Its coolness change to thirst; And by its mirth within the breast A sleepless worm is nursed— There's not a bubble at the brim That does not carry food to him.

Then dash the burning cup aside And spill its purple wine; Take not its madness to thy lips, Nor let its curse be thine; 'Tis red and rich—but grief and woe Are hid those rosy depths below.

DRINK HAS CAUSED ALL THIS.

"Drink has caused all this." These were the dying words of the wife of a New York policeman, who in a drunken rage shot and killed his wife, his two children, his mother and himself. A whole family was exterminated by the murderous hand of the father who should have protected it, and "drink caused all this." Just such terrible things are being caused by drink every day. Every year a thousand millions of dollars are consumed, thousands of homes are blighted, multitudes of children go ragged and hungry, numberless accidents, fires, drownings, brawls, riots, suicides, and murders occur, and thousands have their rotten bodies buried in drunkards' graves, and "drink has caused all this." Imagination cannot pile up all the horrors of this curse. In the day of judgment there will be an awful record of sin and crime, against which may be written the verdict, "Drink has caused all this."

HER PINT OF ALE.

Sobriety means saving. A Manchester (England) calico-printer was, on his wedding day, asked by his wife to allow her two half-pints of ale a day as her share of extra comfort. He made the bargain, but not cheerfully; for though a drinker himself (fancying, no doubt, that he could not well do without), he would have preferred a perfectly sober wife. But he could not break away from his old associations at the alchouse; and, when not in the factory or at his meals, he was with his boon companions. His wife made the small allowance meet her household expenses, keeping her cottage neat and tidy; and he could not complain that she insisted upon her daily pint of ale, while he, very likely, drank two or three quarts.

They had been married a year, and on the morning of their wedding anniversary, John looked with real pride upon the neat and comely person of his wife, and with a touch of remorse in his look and tone, he said:

"Mary, we have had no holiday since we were wed, and only that I haven't a penny in the world, we'd take a jaunt to the village and see the mother."

"Would thee like to go, John?" she asked.

There was a tear with her smile, for it touched her heart to hear him speak tenderly, as in old times.

"Go?" asked her husband. "O' course I would, lass. But a poor man like me can't save a penny from his wages. It takes rich folks to go on holiday jaunts, wife. Yet, I'd like fine to see mother again."

Mary smiled afresh; and this time there was an air of mystery and of pride in her smile, as well as affection. Then she said slowly:

"If thee'd like to go, John, I'll stand treat."

"Thou stand treat, Mary? Hast got a fortin left thee?"

"Nay, but I've got a pint of ale," she said.

"Got what, wife?"

"The pint of ale," she repeated.

John looked at her in amazement.

"Whatever d'ye mean, lass?" he said.

"I mean this," said his wife.

She went to the hearth, and from beneath one of the stone flags drew forth a stocking, from which she poured upon the table the sum of three hundred and sixty-five threepences ($22.81), exclaiming:

"See, John, thee can have a holiday?"

"What is this?" he asked in amazement.

"It is my daily pint of ale, John."

He was conscience-stricken as well as amazed and charmed.

"Mary, hasn't thee had thy share? Then I'll have no more from this day."

And he was as good as his word. They had their holiday with the old mother, and Mary's little capital, saved from the "pint of ale," was the seed from which, as the years rolled on, grew shop, factory, warehouse, country seat, and carriage, with health, happiness, peace, and honour.—The Morning Star.

PLANTING AND CULTIVATING STRAWBERRIES.

Do not plant in a small garden if you can help it, but choose some place where you can use a plow and team. A few long rows are better than many short ones. Never plant in the fall unless you have time and money to throw away. Plant on ground free of weed seed or you will rue it. Plant as soon as the ground is in good working condition, but not before. Have the clods well pulverized, then mark the ground off with furrows 3 or 4 in. deep and 40 in. apart. Have your plants ready before the furrow is opened. Take up a small bunch of plants dip the roots in water, then sprinkle fresh dirt on them till it adheres to every rootlet, then get them set quickly before the dirt dries on them, and you will not lose a plant. Plant them 18 in. apart, spreading the roots out well and pressing the dirt down firmly on the roots. Plant them on the level. If they are above it they will dry out and die. If below, in cultivation the clods will roll down on them and cause much unnecessary labor.

The same day you plant them, cultivate them. Keep the surface loose at all times until frost in the fall. Never plow with big shovels. Never throw the dirt up to them so as to make a ridge. At all times, plow as close to the plants as you can, dragging the runners with the plow or cultivator into a close row. If weeds appear in the rows, pull them out. Do not cut off the runners. If you will let no fruit grow on them the first year you will have a bigger crop the next. It pays to pinch off the fruit stems. Do not neglect this crop and you will have a thing of beauty and pleasure in the end.

TREATMENT OF MANURE.

All manure should be kept under cover. When exposed to the weather the loss to the farmer cannot be realized. It should be turned over and well mixed two or three times through the winter in order to rot it before applying to the different crops, and all remaining over should be composted. A few barrels of lime to mix with muck and manure will add greatly to the value of the compost. Some good soil free from small stone is also beneficial. When obtainable, sea and rock weed well chopped up by the action of the sea can be added, which is a great help to lighten up any heavy, stiff clay land; in fact, it is a benefit to any land. Too many farmers depend mostly on the manure saved from the stock to keep up the farm. In many cases the roots and other crops use all manure obtainable, and when no attention is paid to the compost heap the meadows are neglected and in due time become exhausted. You must feed the farm if you expect it to feed you.

HOUSE CLEANING TIME is a good time also to cleanse the system. Use Wheeler's Botanic Bitters. They prevent and cure all Headache's, Dizziness, Boils, Pimples, &c., and purify the blood.
