"BOBS" AGAIN.

(With acknowledgments to Mr. Rudyard Kipling.)

(Outlook, Cape Town.)

There's a little man we know
Name o' Bobs,
Comin' out to work the show—
Our Bobs;
Sixty odd, if 'e's a day,
Trifle baldish, trifle grey—
Which don't matter, anyway,
Do it, Bobs!

When the prospect don't entice,
Ring up Bobs;
You'll get the best advice
Off'n Bobs;
If yer Awmy's put to rout,
An' the people's on the shout,
And the 'Orse Guards feels in doubt,
Send for Bobs.

'E don't gas about the game,
Our pal, Bobs;
But 'e plays it all the same,
F. M. Bobs;
Walkin' ears an' sense an' eyes,
Nuffen takes 'im by surprise—
Try an' get a bloomin' rise
Outer Bobs!

'E's the sort to bring you luck,
General Bobs;
An' 'e'll wire you when 'e's stuck,
Little Bobs;
When they say 'e can't fight Boers,
It just sorter makes 'im roar
Till his little chest is sore—
Don't it, Bobs!

Uncle Kroojer sits at home—
See 'im, Bobs!
Thinkin' 'e's the Pope o' Rome—
I say, Bobs!
Kroojer's 'andy with the krocks,
An' 'e's artful as a fox;
Who's a goin to give 'im socks?
Well—it's Bobs!

We are fit for anyfink
Under Bobs,
Fightin' simply meat and drink
When we've Bobs;
All our generals means biz,
All has blood in 'em like fizz,
But for general purposes,
Gimme Bobs!

So 'ere's to Bobs Bahadur—
Good old Bobs, Bobs, Bobs!
'E's our comin' Transvaalader,
Little Bobs, Bobs, Bobs!
Mr. Kipling, I am sure,
Won't be angry if once more
We chalk plainly on the floor,
'Bless yer, Bobs!"

OUR QUERY ANSWERED.

Does anyone know what the Conservative policy is in 1900—we pause for a review.

DEAR SIR:—
The following policy of the Conservative party in Canada as outlined in the speeches of Sir Charles Tupper, Bart, and other leaders and by the Montreal Star and other party papers, during the past four years in and out of parliament, will meet with the hearty approval and warm support of their followers:

THE TORY PLATFORM.

We the Conservative party, standing for that is best (!) most patriotic (!) and most progressive (!) in Canada; pledged to make votes at the sacrifice of national good will and brotherly love between our Catholic and Protestant brethren, and between our English and French speaking citizens; bound by the traditions of our party and the inclinations of our nature, to oppose and denounce every act of the present Liberal government, hereby adopt and endorse the principles outlined as follows:

- 1st.—To abolish preferential tariff and allow the entry into Canada of British made goods on the same basis only as those made in the United States and other foreign countries.
- 2nd.—To abolish penny postage and sever an unnecessary link in the chain binding the Empire together.
- 3rd.—To make it contrary to the con-

GREAT CUT IN PRICES!

A complete clearing out of the balance of our winter goods.

As we do not believe in carrying over goods from one year to another we have decided to clear out what winter goods we have left at prices that have never been equalled and cannot be beaten. We will endeavor to give you some idea of the immense bargains we are offering by quoting a few prices.

stitution for a French Canadian to hold the positions of Premier and Ministers of Public Works.

4th.—To readjust the tariff so that the volume of trade will be brought back to the normal conditions existing between 1878 and 1896, or a substantial decrease of more than $100,000,000.

5th.—To make grants of millions in lands and money for railway subsidies placing no restrictions whatever on corporations receiving same whereby they will be bound at any time to transport or convey free of charge any thing or any person belonging to or employed by the government of the country.

6th.—To discontinue the expenditure of so much public money in establishing national Canadian waterways from the great lakes to Montreal, preferring that such trade now diverted to Canadian ports be shipped through United States ports its natural outlets.

7th.—To resurrect the Manitoba school question.

8th.—To follow the example of our late illustrious leader Sir John A. Macdonald and never while in power offer a man, a gun or a dollar in defence of Imperial interests in other parts of the world.

9th.—To re establish the three cent rate for letter postage.

10th.—To further readjust the electoral divisions on the lines of the act of 1882.

11th.—To withdraw the subsidies now given to steamships making their terminus at St. John or Halifax and grant them only to vessels loading at Portland, Maine.

12th.—To make it contrary to constitution for anyone but a Tupper to have the right to claim the birth mark of "loyalty," or for any but a Conservative Ministry to hold power.

Yours truly,

COOK'S NEW BLOOD PILLS.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA, Feb. 20.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, replying to Mr. McNeil, said that the War office had not replied as yet to the offer made by the Canadian government to garrison Halifax.

Mr. Mulock stated that hereafter letters from Canadian soldiers in Africa which had been mailed without stamps would not be charged double postage.

Col. Prior, of British Columbia, resumed the debate on the South African appropriation. He thought it unfortunate that the government should have been so slow in offering help to the empire.

Solicitor General Fitzpatrick followed, charging that Mr. McInerney had accused a part of the people of Quebec, those of the Liberal party, of disloyalty.

Mr. McInerney contradicted the statement.

Mr. Fitzpatrick read Mr. McInerney's advice to the premier and his friends to go among the people and tell them that it was their duty to come to the help of the empire in this emergency. He declared that this amounted to a charge of disloyalty. The Solicitor General reaffirmed the patriotism of all the French Canadians and vigorously denounced those who made a charge of disloyalty.

Mr. Casgrain, of Montmorency, said that Laurier's party was responsible for whatever anti-British feeling existed in Quebec.

Mr. Tarte said he had been accused of inconsistencies, and as he had been in the habit of signing articles he had contributed to the press, that accusation might be brought home to him more easily than to those who had not signed their contributions. He was willing to stand by what he had written and signed, but he was not going to be responsible for those articles that he had never written or had never seen. One of these latter articles was the one in which it was said that "not a man, not a dollar," would be given to England. He never saw the article; never had written it, and had not yet read it. He admitted writing an occasional article, so as to keep his hand in at a profession which had been the joy of his youth and which he hoped would be the consolation of his old days. He went on to refer to Sir Charles Tupper and said that while the leader of the opposition did not know a word of French, he was quoting extracts from French papers translated by Conservative newspapermen, and which was given to Tupper in a distorted form. Mr. Tarte then read an extract from a speech made by Rev. Mr.

Gormon, of Ottawa, who was described as being devoted to Conservative principles, from an article in the Toronto News, and some statements attributed to Mr. Hetherington, the paid organizer of the party in New Brunswick, all against French Canadians.

Mr. Foster, in reply, said that he had affidavits which enabled him to deny the last report.

Mr. Tarte—And I have affidavits in my desk which will go to prove what I say, and when I have time I will compare notes with the honorable gentleman.

LOCAL LEGISLATURE.

FREDERICTON, Feb 23.—In the Local Legislature on Thursday.

In the absence of Mr. Humphrey Mr. Hazen made the former's inquiry with respect to the superstructure of the Kingston bridge.

Hon. Mr. White said he was unable to state for what reason the superstructure of the Kingston bridge had not been completed, further than that he understood the shop of the contractor had been destroyed by fire, and he presumed it was largely owing to this that the delay had occurred. No modification had been made in the contract. The time had not arrived when it was in the public interest that the weight of the metal in the three spans of the bridge should be made public. (Laughter) The bridge had not been completed and as it had to be paid for according to the actual weight, he did not think it in the public interest that the public works department should put an estimate upon it until it was completed. He had not been informed of any breach of duty on the part of the contractor in the maintaining of a ferry service, and he had every reason to believe that the contract had been complied with in this respect.

The temporary bridge now existing was erected at the expense of the contractor. The contractor is liable for damages for a breach of the contract as in the ordinary case of any breach of contract. The performance of the contract is secured by a bond in the penal sum of $58,980, the securities being Josiah Peters and John C. Paterson.

Mr. Porter gave notice of motion, seconded by Mr. Barnes: Resolved that in the opinion of this House it is necessary and opportune that the government should take control of the telephone service of this province with a view to extending the benefit of such service more widely throughout the province and to decrease the expense to those availing themselves of such service, upon terms which will do justice to those financially interested in the telephone service.

PEABODY ITEMS.

FEB. 22.—Not having seen any items from this vicinity for some time, I thought I would break the spell, hoping others would in the future follow my example.

We have had a very mild winter with no snow until Saturday last, when we had quite a severe storm, and it seems quite natural to hear the jingle of the sleigh bells.

Quite a number of Miss Laurinda Spencer's friends gathered at her home, 164 Boston St., Salem, last Monday evening. The occasion being her birthday. A very pleasant evening was spent with games and music, ice cream and cake being served. She was afterwards presented with a handsome silk umbrella and a bouquet of pinks. Mr. Bert Rafus made the presentation speech. Guests were present from Ipswich, Boston, Lynn and Peabody.

Mr. Ed. Baldwin has been spending the last two weeks in Maine.

We are pleased to learn that Miss Hattie Thompson is recovering after her serious illness.

The Provential Lodge of Salem, held an entertainment and pie social last Wednesday evening, it was a great success.

Mr. Robert Baldwin has been confined to the house with the measles for the last few days.

Mrs. Fred Hutchinson spent Thursday in Boston visiting her sister Mrs. William Atkinson.

There is talk of many of our young ladies going east in the near future. A number of them are not to return again. They seem to prefer country air to city life.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 20, 1900.—The most brilliant social season in the recent history of Washington will close with the advent of Lent on February 28. Before the end of the present week, what will probably be the most interesting event of the season will take place when Robert Bromley, honorary attache of the British embassy will marry Miss Lillian Pauncefote, third daughter of Lord and Lady Pauncefote.

The ceremony takes place at St. John's Episcopal church at noon on Saturday, Bishop Satterlee of the diocese of Washington and Dr. Mackay Smith, rector of St. John's officiating. President and Mrs. McKinley, the members of the cabinet, the Supreme court, the diplomatic corps and other distinguished people have already accepted invitations. Miss Audrey Pauncefote, sister of the bride; Miss Esther Bromley, sister of the groom, and Miss Hetty Sargeant, of Boston, will be the bridesmaids, while the groom will be attended by his brother, Bromley-Wilson. The ushers will be the four unmarried secretaries and attaches of the British embassy.

The bride will wear ivory satin trimmed with old point lace, with a court train borne by Master Sidney Kent Legere, who will be dressed in the costume of a cavalier of the time of Charles I.—white satin slashed with blue velvet and a hat with ostrich plumes. The bridesmaids will be attired in blue silk trimmed with white lace and chiffon and will carry bunches of Parma violets. A breakfast and reception will follow the ceremony at the British Embassy. The table is to be typically English.

The Hon. Lillian Pauncefote is exceedingly attractive. She is slight in figure, with soft golden-brown hair, blue eyes and a winsome and engaging manner. She has a charming voice, and, like her sisters, is possessed of more than ordinary talent both in music and as a linguist. Mr. Bromley, is tall and good-looking and an immense favorite in Washington.

The bridal gifts which have been arriving at the Embassy for the last fortnight have come from England, India, Africa and all parts of the world. They make a display that would do credit to an empress. Mr. Bromley's gifts to his bride include a diamond necklace and a tiara, which are heirlooms in his family, and to each of the bridesmaids he will present a representation of a pheasant, his family crest, set in diamonds, with a gold bar bearing the motto of "Pensez Forte," which happens to appear on the escutcheon of both the Bromley and Pauncefote families. Two policemen have been detailed to watch the embassy building until after the wedding, on account of the immense value of the presents.

The British Ambassador and Lady Pauncefote gave two dinner parties last week. The first was in honor of Secretary of State and Mrs. Hay. Among the other guests were: The Italian Ambassador and the Baroness de Fava the Russian Ambassador, the Mexican Ambassador and Senora Aspiroz, the Belgian Minister and the Countess de Lichterweide, the Spanish Minister and the Duches d'Arcos, Senator and Mrs. Lodge, Senator and Mrs. Wetmore, General and Mrs. Miles, Lady Bromley, Senator and Mrs. McMillan, Senator Wolcott, Hon. John A. Kasson, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Hitt. At the second there were present, among others: Chief Justice and Mrs. Fuller, Justice and Mrs. White, Lady Bromley, Secretary and Mrs. Gage, Postmaster General and Mrs. Smith.

An ambitious inventor has offered the British government, through Col. Lee, the military attache here, an apparatus by which the army of the Boers may be entirely destroyed without endangering the lives and the limbs of the British soldiers. His plan is to introduce electricity into warfare, and arrange wires so that when the enemy attack the mysterious current will be turned on and they all receive a shock that will paralyze them and enable them to be made prisoners without spilling blood. Both the process and the apparatus are kept secret, for fear the Boers will discover and counteract them, but the general principle is to give the entire Boer army an electric shock and then run in and capture them before they recover from it. Another suggestion offered to the British embassy consists of a contrivance similar to the little casks of brandy which are strapped upon the backs of the dogs that are sent out by the monks of St. Bernard for the rescue of travellers in the passes of the Alps. This inventor proposes that the British commander secure several thousand dogs, saddle them with these little contrivances, filled with dynamite instead of wine, and send them across into the trenches of the Boers. Attached to each keg of dynamite will be a time fuse, long enough to enable the dog to become fairly domesticated before it explodes. There is also an arrangement by which the charge will be exploded if any attempt is made to remove it from the dog's back. The inventor thinks that by the sacrifice of a few thousand dogs and few hundred pounds of dynamite the Boers may be overcome.

The United States Commissioner of Navigation has been officially advised that the Canadian government has authorized a refund to the owners of American steam vessels of tonnage dues levied since January 1, 1898, on American steamboats arriving in Ontario from United States ports. The dues in question were collected by the Canadian authorities under the steamboat inspection act of Canada.

The Secretary of the Treasury has formally announced that bills of health are no longer required for vessels proceeding from places in British Columbia or the Northwest Territory. Canada, directly to places in Alaska unless quarantinable diseases prevail at the port of departure.
