TARRED AND FEATHERED.

BELLOV'S FALLS, Vt., May 3.—A bath of very warm coal tar, a liberal sprinkling of feathers, a ride on a rail through the village, this was the fate that overtook Thomas Penniman at Grafton, Vt., last night.

Albert Fish lives with his wife and family on a little hill farm just beyond Grafton. A few months ago Penniman went there to board. He became enamored to Mrs. Fish and soon the husband was virtually driven from his home.

The conduct of the couple was town talk and at last the feeling became so strong that the people took the law into their own hands and administered a dose of wild Western justice such as is seldom witnessed in conservative Vermont. An impromptu committee was formed, which comprised some of the leading citizens of the village. Without any attempt at disguising themselves they proceeded last night to the Fish home. Here they found Penniman, whom they dragged from his bed, and the kettle of tar being quickly heated, he was stripped and treated to a liberal coating, after which he was rolled in the contents of a feather bed mounted upon a convenient fence rail and carried through the streets to the outskirts of the village where after being given some plain talk he was released and warned to leave the town.

TEACHERS' TROUBLES.

How Teachers May Prevent the Breakdown of the Nervous System which often Threatens.

The worry and work, the strain and anxiety of a teacher's life are such as to tell severely on the nervous system. Time and again teachers have had to give up good positions on account of run down health and shattered nerves. To such we confidently recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and in doing so we are supported by the testimony of Mrs. Reilly, Colborne Street, Chatham, Ont., who made the following statement:—"Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are, beyond question, the best remedy for nervousness and all exhausted conditions of the system I know of. My daughter, as a result of over study and close application to her duties as school teacher, became much run down and debilitated and was very nervous. Two months ago she began taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. They acted quickly and effectively in her case, making her strong and building up her entire system." Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure Palpitation, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Anemia, Female Troubles, After Effects of Grippe, Debility, or any condition arising from Disordered Nerves. Weak Heart or Watery Blood. Price 50c. a box.

CHOICE RECIPES.

Chickens and Celery.—Chop cooked chicken or turkey, and mix with an equal proportion of celery; a little salt and vinegar only, although some like a dressing as for slaw, but this takes away too much of celery taste. It may be prepared with lettuce instead of celery.

Pickled Mushrooms.—Clean and wash young, white mushrooms, drop them into salted boiling water and allow them to boil up two or three times. Throw them on a sieve, and when cool and dry place them in jars and cover with vinegar in which salt, pepper and laurel leaves have been boiled.

Marlborough Pie.—Six tart apples, six ounces of sugar, six ounces of butter or thick cream, six eggs, the grated peel of one lemon and one half the juice. Grate the apples, after paring and coring them; stir together the butter and sugar, as for cake; then add the other ingredients, and bake in a rich under paste only.

French Eggs and Spinach.—Poach as many eggs as you may require, and let them get cold. Then flour each egg, dip into a rich batter and fry a golden brown. Cook some spinach, press it through a sieve, return it to the saucepan, add to it butter, pepper, salt and a squeeze of lemon juice, and make very hot. Place the spinach on a long dish in a mound, place the eggs in a row on this and pour round a good brown gravy.

Creamed Eggs.—Boil six eggs for a quarter of an hour, plunge into cold water, remove the shells and cut into thick slices. Put layers of the egg into a greased pie dish, strew it with bread crumbs, add small bits of butter, pepper, salt and chopped parsley. Continue these layers till all the egg is used up, then pour over a cupful of cream and brown in the oven.

Tapioca Jelly.—Take four tablespoonfuls of tapioca, rinse it thoroughly, then soak it five hours in cold water enough to cover it. Set a pint of cold water on the fire; when it boils mash and stir up the tapioca that is in the water and mix it with the boiling water. Let the whole simmer gently, with a stick of cinnamon or mace. When thick and clear mix two tablespoonfuls of white sugar with half a tablespoonful of lemon juice and a glass of white wine; stir it into the jelly; if not sweet enough add more sugar, and turn the jelly into cups.

VISIT TO BRITISH OFFICERS AT PRETORIA.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Richard Harding Davis sends the following to the Herald from Pretoria on Tuesday: To-day I was permitted to visit the British officers who are prisoners here. I found them all in good health. They were playing cricket and rejoicing over the new rule allowing them Beer. Their chief complaint was delayed letters. All spoke highly of the services of American Consul Hay. They are very angry with Winston Churchill for giving away his means of escape. Lord Rosslyn, it is claimed, was not an officer, but a correspondent. His diary has disproved this. He is starting a type written paper in prison. The Irish American ambulance corps before leaving for the front was received by Kruger. Von-Lossberg, of New Orleans, who served a dynamite gun in Cuba, was commanding the artillery at Sanna Post. He was wounded in four places, but is returning to the front again. He was formerly an officer in the Emperor's Guards in Germany.

(Associated Press.)

LONDON, May 3.—Lord Robert's latest despatch throws no light on the object and possibilities of the extensive operations in the neighborhood of Thaba N'Chu. One military critic believes he is justified in inferring that Lord Robert's successful attack at Houtenek threatens the Boer centre and puts the British in a favorable position to crush the Boer left, which is still facing General Rundle at Thaba N'Chu, or their right, which is somewhere between Brandfort and Winburg. General Ian Hamilton's success at Houtnek elicits little enthusiasm, as the critics un-animously pointed out some time ago that the policy of the Boers would be one of slow retirement.

Colonel Baden-Powell reports officially from Mafeking, under date of April 20, that all was well there. He adds:

"Thirteen native women tried to get away during the night of April 15. The enemy opened fire on them and killed nine and wounded two. I wrote to Snyman, pointing out that he shells the native stadt, which is full of women and children and that when they are trying to escape by day the Boers have captured and flogged them and sent them back, and by night they shoot them down, pretending to mistake them for night attacks. Snyman has not replied. The proportion of killed and wounded above speaks for itself."

PRETORIA, Wednesday, May 2.—An official war bulletin issued here reports that on April 28 the Federals captured nine prisoners and ten horses eastward of Thaba N'Chu, and that on April 30th a British mounted corps appeared near Brandfort. The Federals attacked them on two sides and the British retired. Two Federals were wounded and eleven prisoners were taken. Another account, semi-official of this affair, says that the Waakerstroem and other commands had a skirmish with the British near Brandfort. After a sharp fight eleven prisoners were taken and nineteen British were left dead on the field, including Captain Liddy.

The heavy bombardment by the British has been resumed at Fourteen Streams. The correspondent of Reuter's Telegram agency in the Boer camp at Brandfort wires that when the British appeared ten miles east of Brandfort, General Eel crey ordered a charge, and five hundred Boers drove them back to their entrenchments. The Federals found four dead on the field, and took seventeen prisoners, mostly wounded, including Lieut Coran: Later General Delarey learned that the British had forced their way twenty miles east of Brandfort and seven miles north of the Modder river.

An American has been arrested in connection with the Begbie explosion.

IMPORTANCE ATTACHED TO VICTORY.

LONDON, May 4.—News of the occupation of Brandfort was issued by the War office at 10 o'clock this morning, confirming a despatch previously received by the Associated Press. It is generally considered the most important communication received from the front since the capture of General Cronje and the relief of Ladysmith.

The fact that the position gives the key to one of the main roads leading to the Drakensberg passes, which possibly may be the means of co-operation with General Buller later on, provides an advance base of supplies, and at the same time menaces the Boers now southeast of Bloemfontein, is obviously the reason for the importance attached by all hands to the intelligence.

The Boer army at Brandfort was commanded by General Delarey. It is presumably retiring on Winburg. Brandfort, thirty-five miles nearer the Transvaal capital, is now Lord Roberts' headquarters. What particularly gratifies the British public is the evidence that the Army of Lord Roberts in the Orange Free State has recovered its mobility and is again capable of undertaking the general advance, so long retarded. It is hardly expected the Boers will make much of a stand south of Kroonstadt, and possibly not there, if Lord Roberts succeeds in capturing Winburg, thus interposing between the main Federal army and the Boer forces in the neighborhood of Thaba N'Chu and Hutnek, in which case the latter would be forced to move far to the eastward and their mobility would probably enable them to reach the Bethlehem and Harrismith line of safety.

The only opposition which the British encountered at Brandfort seems to have come from the Irish-American commando. The central British army is now in line with the extreme left at Boshof under Lord Methuen, and the extreme right at Elandslaagte under Gen. Buller, so that movements of these wings in co-operation with the main army may shortly be expected.
