HOME!

By MAGGIE E. FRASER.

'Twas outside the city's bustle, On a pleasant summer day, That a woman wandered idly To the almshouse by the way. She was tall, and dark and handsome, With a baby by the hand, Who cried out with childish prattle To the paupers in the sand.

She rebuked her baby gently, As she passed along with scorn; In her worldly heart no pity For the little waifs forlorn. She had been the only daughter Of a man of wealth and pride, And in youth's bright glowing morning Had become a viscount's bride.

They had viewed the rough surroundings, And were passing through the door, When, "Come Home," the baby murmured, In soft accents o'er and o'er. "Home!" the paupers quickly whispered, Where can that great mansion be? Neither lady, or the paupers Rightly know where home can be.

Home! it is the brightest mansion, Glittering as with gems or gold— Whether built of costly marble, Or admitting wind and cold; For our gentle words and mercies, Make it as the Heaven above; And the walls and great foundation Are—a mother's fostering love.

THE LARGEST ARMY.

It is not generally known, perhaps, that the largest army in the world, that marshals under one banner, is that of the Sunday-school. In round numbers it exceeds the enormous enrollment of twenty-five millions, and more than half of them are on American soil. Between thirteen and fourteen millions are in the United States and Canada, which is about one-sixth of the entire population. This has been appropriately styled "Our Standing Army." Over twenty millions of them are studying the uniform system of International Lessons. Surely the inspiration of numbers is not lacking here. This great system of Bible study is but one of the beneficent features of work of the International Sunday School Convention, which covers the United States and Canada. Mr. Marion Lawrence, of Toledo, Ohio, is the General Secretary, and may be addressed for any information desired.

PARLIAMENT OPENS.

THE USUAL CEREMONIES OBSERVED—GOVERNOR GENERAL'S SPEECH.

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—The greatest interest was manifested on all sides in the opening of Canada's Parliament here to-day. The usual ceremonies that attend the opening was observed. The guard of honor saluted as His Excellency alighted and proceeded to the council chamber where he read the following speech to the assembled members of the House. The press and visitors gallery were filled to their capacity and even more than ordinary interest was manifested.

Honorable gentlemen of the senate:— Gentlemen of the house of commons:—

It is again my pleasing duty to congratulate you on the continued prosperity of the dominion and on the remarkable increase in the general volume of the revenue and of the exports and imports of the country.

Hostilities having unfortunately broken out during the recess, between Great Britain and the South African republic, it appeared to my ministers expedient to anticipate the action of parliament by equipping and forwarding two contingents of volunteers to the seat of war as a practical evidence of the profound devotion and loyalty of the entire people of Canada to the sovereign and the institutions of the British Empire.

In this connection it is a matter of pride and gratification to the people of this Dominion that, in addition to the contingents sent by the government, another Canadian force is being organized and despatched at the personal expense of the high commissioner of Canada. This generous and patriotic action upon the part of Lord Strathcona reflects high honor on him and on the Dominion he represents. I have been instructed to convey to you Her Majesty's high appreciation of the loyalty and patriotism thus displayed which has, following the precedence granted under the present tariff, two articles of British manufacture, had the happiest effect in cementing and intensifying the cordial relations subsisting between Canada and the Mother country.

A bill will be submitted for your approval making provision for the cost of equipping and paying the Canadian contingents.

The measures which have been taken from time to time to facilitate the safe transportation of foodstuffs to European markets have resulted in a large increase in the exportation of several important articles of produce and it may become necessary in the interest of this very important branch of industry to acquire a more careful inspection than has been customary for the purpose of maintaining that high standing of excellence heretofore secured and which is absolutely indispensable, if the people of Canada are to increase their large and profitable trade with other countries in these commodities.

I am glad to observe that the returns from the postoffice department afford good ground for believing that the temporary loss of revenue, caused by the great reduction recently made in letter postage, will speedily be made good by the increased correspondence consequent thereon.

Negotiations are now in progress with several of our sister colonies in the West Indies, which is hoped may result in increasing and developing our trade with those islands, and possibly with certain portions of the adjacent continent of South America. It gives me great pleasure to observe that in pursuance of the policy which was defined at the last session of parliament, a carefully devised body of regulations has been made applicable to all railways and public works within the federal jurisdiction making adequate provision for the sanitary protection and medical care of workmen.

The attention of the government has been called to the conflicts which occasionally rise between workmen and their employers. While it may not be possibly to wholly prevent such difficulties by legislation, my government thinks that many of the disputes might be averted if better provision could be made for the friendly intervention of boards of conciliation, the conclusions of which while not legally binding, would have much weight with both sides and be useful in bringing an intelligent public opinion to bear on these complicated subjects. You will be invited to consider whether the provincial legislation in this matter may not be usefully supplemented by an enactment providing for the establishment of a Dominion tribunal for assisting in the settlement of such questions.

I am happy to observe that the number of settlers who have taken up lands in Manitoba and in the North West Territories is larger than in any previous year and affords conclusive evidence of the success which has attended the efforts of my government to promote immigration, and I have no doubt that the greatly increased production of the West will henceforth add materially to the growth of the trade of the whole Dominion. While the efforts made to secure increased population for the west have thus been successful much attention has also been devoted to the repatriation of Canadians who in less prosperous times have left Canada. You will be pleased to learn that this work has been attended with satisfactory results.

My government during the recess has been giving its attention to the subject of a railway commission. Valuable information has been and is still being collected, which when completed, will be submitted to you and will, no doubt, receive at your hands the earnest consideration which the subject requires.

I am pleased to say that our canal system, connecting the Great Lakes with the Atlantic seaboard, has been completed so as to allow vessels having a draught of fourteen feet to pass from the head of Lake Superior to the sea. The vigorous and successful prosecution of these works by my government has already attracted the attention of those interested in western transportation and there are good grounds for the hope that when the necessary facilities for the quick and inexpensive handling of ocean traffic are profited and which are now in progress, Canadian ports will control a much larger share of the traffic of the west.

Measures will be introduced to renew and amend the existing banking laws to regulate the rate of interest payable upon judgements recovered in courts of law, to provide for the taking of the next decennial census for the better arrangement of the electoral district, to amend the criminal code and the laws relating to other important subjects.

Gentlemen of the house of commons:

The public accounts will be laid before you and also the estimates for the coming year, which have been prepared with due regard to economy and the rapid growth of the demand.

Hon. Gentlemen of the senate:

Gentlemen of the house of commons:

I commend to your consideration the subjects I have mentioned, confiding in your patriotism and judgment.

PITH AND POINT.

How angry it makes a man to see any one he hates feel good natured!

Make a fool of yourself, and you will vindicate the opinions of those who hate you.

It is a swift age. Children think their parents are crazy, and parents think their children are crazy.

After the first baby arrives a man finds it most difficult to get sympathy from his wife when business is dull.

One of the funniest things in the world is to hear a quiet, timid little woman trying to entertain a man who is very deaf.

The first day after a fire you can't coax a fireman away from the engine house, but the third day he goes a block away and within a week has forgotten all about his caution.

"Deeds Are Fruits."

Wards are but leaves." It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does that tells the story. The many wonderful cures effected by this medicine are the fruits by which it should be judged. These prove it to be the great, unequalled remedy for dyspepsia, rheumatism, scrofula, salt rheum, catarrh and all other ailments due to impure or impoverished blood.

Hood's Pills are non-irritating, mild, effective.
