KEEP YOUR MOUTH SHUT.

Don't be offended. The admonition is not meant as a reflection on your talkativeness. Talk but keep your mouth shut when you are not talking.

People who keep their mouths closed except when they are talking, eating or drinking rarely contract coughs or colds. Savages, even those living in northern latitudes, seldom take cold. Scientists say it is because they are close-mouthed.

Disease germs floating in the air find a direct route into the lungs of a person who breathes through his mouth. They are arrested by the fine sieve-like network of hair in the nostrils of person who breathes through the nose. Keep your mouth shut, and you may defy pestilence.

The teeth suffer from too much and too frequent exposure to the atmosphere. Sudden changes of temperature, whether liquid or atmospheric are hurtful to them. The best teeth in the world are those of savage tribes who always keep their mouths shut except when talking or eating. Throat and lung diseases are often contracted by persons who go out open-mouthed. The frosty air of winter, inhaled directly into the lungs through the mouth, is a frequent cause of bronchial disorders. Taken through the nose, it is modified and sifted of many of its dangers. Keep your mouth shut.—Healy Home.

HE USES A GRAPHOPHONE.

MIDDLETON, N. Y., Dec. 28.—The Rev. W. H. Van Hosen, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Kenosa Lake, Sullivan county, has adopted a new method of instructing the young couples who come to him to be married. He has obtained a graphophone with a good list of popular and standard songs, as well as good advice relating to the matrimonial state.

Immediately after the marriage is performed the bride and bridegroom are treated to productions from the talking machine calculated to impress upon them the importance of the step they have taken, and at the same time given a pleasant entertainment. Mr. Van Hosen intends to use the graphophone in other departments of his church work.

LEAPED TO HIS DEATH.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Tearing himself away from the grasp of his father, who was trying to restrain the boy, Henry Oppenheimer, Jr., aged 19, frantic with fright caused by a fire in their apartment on Franklin Ave., Brooklyn, leaped from the fourth story window yesterday and was killed. The other members of the family had been rescued by the firemen. The father and son were making their way down the stair way which was filled with smoke and darting flames, when the son suddenly shouted: "Father we can't get out. I'm going to jump." With that he jumped into a room on the fourth floor and turned the key in the lock. He refused to let in his father, who had followed to save the boy, and man smashed the panel and seized the boy by the shoulder. The boy struggled wildly, tore himself away and sprang upon the window sill. The crowd in the street below saw the figure swaying on the sill and begged him not to jump. The Oppenheimers recognized the figure and added their cries to the noise. Oppenheimer ran down stairs and reached the street just in time to see his son's body strike the pavement. The boy was dead when picked up.

CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER.

TORONTO, Dec. 28.—The County Crown attorney has sworn out informations calling for the arrest of Charles Rust, city engineer, E. H. Keating, manager of the Toronto Street Railway Co., James Gun, superintendent of the Toronto Street Railway Co., Robert Fewster, motorman, of the Toronto Street Railway Co., and Arthur Kinsella, a driver for John Mitchell, livery man on a charge of manslaughter. This action is the outcome of the electric car fatality which took place on Church street on the night of Dec. 16th, the victim of which Mrs. James E. Rogers was run down by a car while out driving. It is held that the car was going at too high a rate of speed and also that it was not equipped with a proper fender.

The informations have been forwarded to the chief of police but the warrants have not been executed yet.

TOBACCO HEART.

Have you been smoking a good deal lately and feel occasional twinges of pain round your heart. Are you short of breath, nerves unninged, sensation of pins and needles going through your arms and fingers? Better take a box or two of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and get cured before things become too serious. Here's what Mr. John James, of Caledonia, Ont., has to say about them: "I have had serious heart trouble for four years, caused by excessive use of tobacco. At times my heart would beat very rapidly and then seemed to stop beating only to commence again with unnatural rapidity. This unhealthy action of my heart caused shortness of breath, weakness and debility. I tried many medicines and spent a great deal of money but could not get any help. Last November, however, I read of a man, afflicted like myself, being cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I went to Roper's drug store and bought a box. When I had finished taking it I was so much better I bought another box and this completed me since, and I strongly recommend all sufferers from heart and nerve trouble, caused by excessive use of tobacco, to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a fair and faithful trial." Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto.

He receives a pension of $72 a month for the loss of his eyes, which happened at the battle of Fair Oaks, in 1862, during the civil war, when a shell exploded, wounding him in the head and foot. He served in Company A, 66th New York Regiment.

A reconciliation has been effected between Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Marris, whose dramatic separation, coupled with the shooting by Harris of his partner, Gouin, was a sensation in Calgary, N. W. T. Although separated for a time after the unpleasant affair Mr. and Mrs. Harris are now living happily together. It is doubtful if there will be anything more heard of the charge against Harris for shooting.

A despatch from Rome says the Vatican has received information that newspapers in many parts of South America have published what purported to be a papal encyclical granting permission to priests to marry. Many priests, it is said have taken advantage of the permission extended by the "encyclical." His Holiness has authorized the promulgation of a statement pronouncing the encyclical to be a forgery.

HEART STARTS.

Supposing the Ax Had Fallen!

Some years ago an inquisitive medical student, while examining the gullotine in a big waxworks exhibition in London, took it into his head that the sort of yoke which fits down on the shoulders of the criminal to hold him in his place would not be sufficient to confine a person who struggled.

His curiosity on that point led him to watch till the place was empty, when he actually put himself in, letting down the yoke. He soon found, however, that he was quite unable to lift it, and it at once flashed into his mind that the sharp ax suspended over his neck might not be firmly fixed, or it would fall, as it should, with a touch.

He was afraid to struggle lest the shaking should bring it down and at once deposit his head in the basket of sawdust below him, into which his eyes were of necessity steadily looking.

Having staid some time in this plight, he was overjoyed to hear the approach of a visitor, whom he implored to release him. It was in vain.

"I'm thinking," said the gentleman, a Scottish visitor to the metropolis, to his wife, "that he must be hired to show how the thing acts, and I think we'd better not interfere."

So the luckless student was left till one of the attendants came in and made fast the ax before releasing him from his predicament. The ax was afterward removed and laid by the side of the structure to prevent future accidents.

A Convincing Answer.

There are many people who do not care for libraries who pride themselves on having "only the books they read" about them, but the answer made by a distinguished scholar to one of those persons very well illustrates how valuable is this idea as to what a library should be. The scholar was connected with an institution of learning which had been greatly helped by a liberal man of the neighborhood, but the liberal man was not much of a sympathizer with the idea of increasing the library. When appealed to in the matter, he replied:

"More books? Dear me, it seems to me you've got more than you can read now. Have you read all you have available?"

"No," returned the scholar, "and I never expect to read them all."

"Then why do you want more?"

"Let me ask you," said the scholar, "did you ever read the dictionary through?"

"Certainly not," was the reply.

"Well, sir," said the scholar, "a library is my dictionary."

The answer was convincing, and the merchant provided the professor with the funds he wished for.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

It Can't Be Done Now.

"An increase of salary," exclaimed the pompous manager of a small omnibus company to a clerk who had just made that request. "I am afraid, sir, that you are too extravagant!"

He toyed with his heavy watch chain and looked severely at the young man, who returned his stare boldly. It was the set phrase on such occasions, and the applicant had heard it all before. He meant to have that rise or go somewhere else.

"Excuse me, sir," he replied respectfully. "I haven't any chance to be extravagant on what I earn."

"Young man," continued the pompous gentleman, "I have risen from the monkey board. How? By being careful. When I was young I made money by saving 'bus fares."

"Ah, that was in the old days," said the young man, with a knowing wink. "But with the bell punches and the present system of inspection, you would find you couldn't save sixpence without being collared, however careful you were."

The manager nearly fainted, and the young man had to seek other employment.—London Standard.

Getting Rope Sense.

A peculiarity about roping horses or steers with a lasso is that after getting a hard fall a few times they quickly get "rope sense." I have often seen them, in a corral, stand stock still when the rope falls across their backs—even when, as a matter of fact, they are not caught. If any reader has ever encountered a clothesline while running at full speed in the dark, the line stretched at about the level of the throat, he will notice that he doesn't run across that lawn any more after nightfall. He's got "rope sense," in fact.—Wide World Magazine.

Why She Enjoyed It.

On Sunday, as a certain Scottish minister was returning homewards, he was accosted by an old woman, who said:

"Oh, sir, well do I like the day when you preach."

The minister was aware that he was not very popular and answered:

"My good woman, I am glad to hear it. There are too few like you. And why do you like it when I preach?"

"Oh, sir," she replied, "when you preach I always get a good seat!"—Scottish Nights.

Queer Lot.

Stranger—I have heard that you have a good many queer people in this town.

Submarine volcanoes are constantly being discovered, and are at times, owing to their sudden appearance, a great danger to navigation.

RECIPES.

Cream Cake—one half cup of sweet cream, one cup of sugar, three eggs, one cup of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder. Put the ingredients together in the order named, beat thoroughly, and bake in jelly tins. Spread between the cakes after baking a filling made of one half cup of very thick sweet cream into which has been stirred one cup of powdered sugar. Flavor cake and filling with a little vanilla.

Soft Molasses Gingerbread—One cup of Molasses, one teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of ginger, one tablespoonful of butter, stir this together, and then pour on one half cup of boiling water, one pint of flour, bake about one inch deep in a sheet. This is very nice, if pains are taken to have the water boiling, and to beat it well when the flour is added.

Baked Cornmeal Pudding—Scald one quart of milk, stir into it seven tablespoonfuls of meal, one cup of molasses, one teaspoonful of salt, one half a teaspoonful of ginger, one half a teaspoonful of cinnamon, pour in a little cold milk after it is all mixed, and bake two hours and a half. With sweet cream it is excellent.

White Mountain Cake—Four eggs, two cups of sugar, one cup of butter, three cups of flour, one cup of sweet milk, one teaspoonful of cream of tartar, one half teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of lemon or vanilla.

Wedding Cake—One and a half pounds of butter, one and a half pounds of dark brown sugar, one and a half pounds of flour, one and a half dozen eggs, leaving one half of the whites for frosting, one cup of molasses, one dessert spoonful soda, dry, two dessert spoonfuls cassia, two dessert spoonfuls mace, two dessert spoonfuls allspice, two dessert spoonfuls nutmeg, two dessert spoonfuls clove, three pounds raisins, three pound currants, one and a half pounds citron, juice and rind of four lemons.

Cream Doughnuts—Beat together one cup of sugar, one small cup of sour cream, one level teaspoonful of soda, two eggs, a little salt and cinnamon. Mix with flour enough to roll.

Ginger Bread—one cup of butter, one cup of sweet milk, two eggs, one large cup of molasses, two teaspoonfuls of soda, one tablespoonful of ginger. Add flour to mix like cake batter.

Virtue Cake—Three whole eggs and the yolks of two more, two cups of sugar, one cup of butter, one cup of milk, three cups of flour one teaspoonful cream tartar half a teaspoonful of soda. Use the two whites for frosting.

Cookies—One half cup of butter, one cup of sugar, two and a half cups of flour, two eggs, one teaspoonful of cream tartar, half teaspoonful of soda. Roll very thin.

Loaf Cake—Three cups of milk (warm) two cups of sugar, one cup of yeast, flour till the spoon will stand in the mixture. Let it rise light, then add two cups of sugar, two of butter, two eggs, and spice to taste. Beat thoroughly, put in tins and let it rise again.

Patty-pan Cake—One cup of sugar, one cup of flour, two tablespoonfuls melted butter, four tablespoonfuls sweet milk one teaspoonful cream tartar, one half teaspoonful of soda and two eggs.

LANGUID WOMEN.

Take the Help that South American Nerve Offers and be Well, Strong and Happy.

Miss Lucinda Butcher, of Teeswater, Ont., had a very severe attack of malarial fever. It left her very weak, languid, and threatened with nervous prostration. South American Nerve was recommended to her and she tried it. After taking a few doses she felt great benefit. She continued taking it until six bottles were used, when, to use her own words: "I was completely restored to health, I can recommend it as a great remedy." Sold at Est. W. W. Short.
