ONE SOLDIER DEAD.

A fair young mother calmly read
While one hand rocked the cradle bed
Wherein her first born slept away
The twilight of a summer day.
She carelessly the paper turned Till "Latest War News" she discerned.
"Our loss was small," the despatches said—
"A skirmish, and one soldier dead."

They troubled not to give his name
Of even the troops from which he came;
Or who, rejoicing in success,
Cares if there be one private less?
Only a soldier lying there,
With blood upon his sunny hair,
With no kind friend to raise his head,
Or treasure the last words he said.

Oh, happy mother, do you know
That not so many years ago
That soldier was a baby, too,
With face as sweet and eyes as blue
As those within you cradle there,
And knew a mother's tender care,
Who now must sit alone and weep
Because he wakes not from his sleep.

And other thousands also said—
"Only a private soldier dead."
Without a passing thought that he Might one of nature's nobles be.
Or that the words that line contained
Would wreck a life that yet remained.
His mother waits for him in vain,
For he, her only child is slain.

of Prohibitionists all the time with their flow sham, and hypocritical cries and pretensions? A weak, flabby, nerveless, headless, soulless party, indifferent to, or unconcerned with care for public interests, in pestilential curse, a perpetual menace to the country, and as a useless alloy should be melted in the crucible of public with, as a deadly viper's shield instantly abolished. The danger is intensified in proportion to the influence and ability of its leaders, the thickness of the whitewash and the number of the real or fancied respectability of those who apply it. It is a danger that calls for heroic treatment, that is sapping the very foundations of our most sacred institutions. No lover of God and country can hesitate to strike quick, strike hard, strike often and never cease striking until the righteousness that enriches a nation is the keynote of Canadian politics. It is a critical moment.
Salute rule China for the coming century, or Church and School and Home die! It is either revolution and liberty or chaos and death.

The issue is clear. Both parties have been betrayed us, have for the sake of power bartered the public interest, have been an ignominious retreat before the Goliath of Rum. No honest, sane man can deny it. Hell has a mortgage on repeat the excuses, evasions, subterfuges that have done duty in the past in some new form. The duty of patriotic citizenship is clear. Now is the time or the choice goes by forever. The political parties must be compelled to obey or they must be destroyed. United for God and Country we are truly omnipotent. We are fighting for life and liberty, the priceless heritage purchased by the blood of our forefathers. If we acquiesce in the alliance existing between the parties and the rum power we are doomed to destruction, a yawning chasm is before us, the lurid fires of the hell of anarchy will wrap our institutions in oblivion. John Bright truly said: "Of all the evil institutions that threaten the integrity and safety of a state the liquor traffic stands pre-eminent."

"Are these thy great men, these that cringe and creep And writhe through slimy ways to place and power?"
How long, O Lord, before thy wrath shall reap
Our frail stemmed summer prospering in their flower?
O for one hour of that undaunted stock
That went with Vane and Sydney to the block!"

WASTED NERVES.

BY REV. LOUIS ALBERT BANKS, D. D.

"I take a drink when I feel like it," said a New Orleans business man the other day, "and can't see that it has ever done me any harm; but I witnessed a little episode this morning, that has haunted me ever since, and has forced me to do a good deal of thinking. I had stepped into a bar very early to get a cocktail, and while it was being compounded, a middle-aged gentleman came in and asked one of the attendants to pour him out a little plain whiskey. He was carefully dressed, and had all the marks of refinement and good breeding. The barman placed half a small glassful of whiskey at his elbow, but the instant he stretched out his hand I saw that the man was on the verge of nervous collapse. He shook like an aspen, and when he finally managed to seize the tumbler its contents flew in every direction. "Let me assist you, colonel," said the barman quietly, and pouring out another drink he leaned over and held it to his lips. The man said nothing, but gave him a haggard look that went to my heart like a knife. My God! what a look! Shame, humiliation, and abject animal terror. It started the sweat on me like water. Well, he drank his whiskey, stood still for a minute as if gathering himself together, and sauntered out as cool as ever. I asked the barman if he had many such customers and he laughed.

"Lots of them," he said, "there isn't a first-class bar in town," he went on, "that don't patch up a few old boys like that almost every morning. They are not drunkards but they have been at it so many years that their nerves are gone; and although they don't know it they are working on absolutely nothing but whiskey. As soon as they get a little fresh fuel in the morning they are all right; but they come in scared and out of their wits, and think they are going to drop dead every minute. I walked out with this thought—if young men would only reflect, who are just beginning to play with the adder, they would die before they would go on until they are in its deadly power to such an extent as that."

"Delays Are Dangerous."

A small pimple on your face may seem of little consequence, but it shows your blood is impure, and impure blood is what causes most of the diseases from which people suffer. Better heed the warning given by the pimple and purify your blood at once by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine cures all diseases due to bad blood, including scrofula and salt rheum.

MILL BRANCH.

SEPT. 1st.—Our school has again opened, with the same teacher as last term.

Mr. Crawford Spencer, of Ipswick, Mass., is visiting friends and relatives here. He was accompanied by his niece, Miss Jennie Robinson, who had been attending school at that place.

Master George Graves is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Maggie Robinson.

Some of the Mill Branch girls are wondering what attraction E. and C. can have in Emmetton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Reid spent Sunday in Coal Branch.

Mr. John Little spent Sunday in Mill Branch.

Mr. Aben Robinson intends leaving for Boston soon. We hope he will leave no broken heart behind him.

Mrs. W. Hudson and son have returned home after a very pleasant visit to her mother in Ipswick, Mass.

Mrs. Sanders, of Somerville, Mass., who is visiting friends and relatives here, intends returning home soon.

Mrs. Baldwin is visiting Mrs. John Beers.

Messrs. A. Robinson and Andrew Little spent Sunday in Big Brook.

Miss West, teacher at Coal Branch, spent Saturday the guest of Mrs. John Beers.

Mr. C. Spencer and J. W. Lyons drove to Coal Branch last Sunday morning and returned in the evening.

Mrs. James Stevens who had been seriously ill has fully recovered.

Miss Hattie Miller and her brother spent Sunday here the guest of Miss Marilla Beers.

Miss Maggie Amos spent a few days with her cousin, Miss Annabelle Dunn.

Mr. Adam Robinson went to Moncton on a business trip.

As I have no more news I will bring these to a close, wishing to hear from some other correspondent.

PANSY BLOSSOM.

Cheap, Efficient, Prompt.

A marvel of cheapness, of efficacy, and of promptitude is contained in a bottle of that famous remedy, Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. It goes right to the root of the trouble, there acts quickly but so painlessly that nothing is known of its operation until the corn is shelled. Beware of substitutes offered for Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor—safe, sure and painless. Sold at druggists.

HALIFAX MANSLAUGHTER CASE.

HALIFAX, Aug. 30.—The trial of William Cox, charged with manslaughter, was concluded yesterday afternoon before Judge Johnstone in the County Court, and the prisoner was acquitted. The Judge, in summing up the case, commented on the serious character of any act whereby human life is endangered. It was unfortunate, he said, that an altercation between the deceased, his son John and the prisoner should have occurred at an earlier hour in the night that Mr. Curran met his death, but in this instance it was shown that the prisoner was not the aggressor. He thought the prisoner acted most properly in not meeting young Curran to carry out their proposed fight. The evidence did not disclose any intent on the part of Cox to injure the deceased. There was no intent on the part of Cox to cause Curran's death, as death was caused by a fall, and he therefore discharged the prisoner.

A BATTLE IN CHINA.

IN WHICH PRINCE TUAN AND 1500 BOXERS WERE KILLED.

LONDON, Aug. 30, 3.15 a. m.—Amid the growing difficulties of the Chinese embroglio Mr. Broderick's emphatic declaration at Therncombe last evening proves that the British Government does not yet see any cause to depart from the line of policy originally decided upon, namely to take no responsibility for the administration of China. Mr. Broderick said he hoped it would not be supposed that the government was pusillanimous in this respect. Its object was to maintain British interests and it was quite ready to take its share of the white man's burden but could not admit that the nature of this burden should be dictated to it by the yellow man. "Here," this morning's Post observes, "is where the difficulty of selecting a policy comes in. We cannot decamp and leave the powers to settle the matter between them."

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Sir Chip Chen Lorganelut, Chinese Minister in London, asserts that he is in constant communication with Li Hung Chang, who is still in Shanghai. Despatches received this morning bring no later news. A Shanghai telegram says Li Hung Chang has sent a memorial begging the dowager to appoint Prince Ching, Gen. Yung Lu and the Yang Tee Viceroy as joint peacemakers with himself. There are conflicting rumors of a great battle in which 1500 Boxers and Prince Tuan were killed. The reform party under Kang Yu Wei is said to be actively preparing for a rebellion. It is reported from Hankow that 25 reformers have been executed, their heads being exposed.

A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

Mr. S. Mann, Stittsville, Carleton Co., Ont., writes: "I was afflicted with rheumatism, had severe pains in the knees, hip joints and across the back. Rheumatism remedies did not help me and I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which have since completely cured me. There is not the least trace of rheumatism left and I am no longer subject to biliousness, headache and stomach sickness which formerly attacked me frequently." One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

A NOVA SCOTIAN ARRESTED ON A SERIOUS CHARGE.

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—James W. Gilmore, 47, of Parrsboro, N. S., and Mrs. G. Raycroft, 35, of Bath, Me., were arrested Tuesday by inspectors Murray and Jones of Cambridge, on a serious charge.

Gilmore has a wife and three children. Mrs. Raycroft's husband, Sanford, and her three children, live on the outskirts of Bath.

The couple were apprehended at 2610 Massachusetts avenue, where they have been boarding. The arrest was the result of a request received yesterday morning by the police from the woman's husband.

The couple met some months ago in Bath. Gilmore was at work in that city and boarded with the Raycrofts. He had been in the habit of working at home during the winter months and in and about Boston during the summer. Two weeks ago on getting a position in Somerville he engaged board at the Massachusetts avenue house. About a week ago Mrs. Raycroft put in an appearance and was introduced to Gilmore's wife.

When arrested Tuesday night Mrs. Raycroft acknowledged that she had been here three weeks ago and then returned home. A letter written by Gilmore induced her to return to live with him.

A telegram has been sent to Mr. Raycroft and he is expected in Cambridge today.

AS PROLIFIC AS FLIES.

A HUMAN FAMILY THAT NUMBERS SOME TWELVE THOUSAND SOULS.

There has just died in Cumberland Co., Ky., the oldest son of a family that, so far as any known records are concerned, bears the palm for fecundity. He was Jason Webb, third child of Miles Webb, the first settler in the Cumberland district which is now almost entirely populated by his offspring.

Old Miles Webb did not do so much toward increasing the population, having added but six to its number—three boys and three girls.

Jason, who was 81 years old when he died, saw no fewer than 444 direct descendants. He began with 19 children. From these sprang 175 grandchildren, 150 great-grandchildren, and an even 100 great-great-grandchildren all living.

Next in order of number of descendants comes John's younger brother, Miles, who is still living at the age of 78. Miles is still as full of vitality, apparently, as any of his descendants, who number more than 400. He was father to 20 children, two of whom died in early life. There are 165 grandchildren, 150 great-grandchildren, and 90 of the fourth generation—total of 423 descendants.

"Aunt Polly," the second child of the original patriarch, ranks third in this remarkable family. From her ten children, sprang 110 grand children, who made Aunt Polly great-grandmother to 70 and great-great-grandmother to 40—a total of 230 descendants.

These three alone are, therefore, responsible for more than a thousand inhabitants of Cumberland county.

Another daughter of old Miles, Aunt Sally, has 208 descendants. There are 13 of the first generation, 80 of the second, 65 of the third and 50 of the fourth. Aunt Sally is an active old lady of 75 years.

Aunt Letty, the oldest of the children, who is now hale and hearty at the ripe age of 90 years, scores the modest total of only 201 descendants. She began with eleven children, and there are 90, 60 and 40 of the succeeding generations respectively.

The least prolific of all is the youngest child, William, but even at that he can boast of 166 Kentuckians who owe their existence to him. He has 11 children, 75 grandchildren, 50 great-grandchildren and 30 great-great-grandchildren.
By blood and affinity there are in the county of Cumberland and the country adjacent no fewer than 12,000 persons included in this family fold. If this is not a record there is some other remarkable family to be heard from.

SORE THROAT.

Mr. Chas. Johnston, Bear River, N. S., says: "I was troubled with hoarseness and sore throat and after taking three bottles of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup I was entirely cured."

ALMOST A VICTIM.

FREDRICKTON, Aug. 30.—Provincial Secretary Tweedie had a very narrow escape from asphyxiation at the Queen Hotel Tuesday night. As is his custom he left the gas burning in his room when he retired. Gas is supplied to the hotel by means of slot meter, which is fed with 25 cent pieces in order to get gas. During the night the supply of gas was exhausted and the lights went out. The night porter dropped a quarter in the meter and soon had another supply of gas. Shortly after the strong smell of gas was detected upstairs and traced to Mr. Tweedie's room. Upon entering the room Mr. Tweedie was found almost unconscious, but after considerable difficulty was aroused and Dr. McLearn called. Hon. Mr. Tweedie is around to-day but does not feel very well.
