

Sudden disease, like a thief in the night, is apt to strike confusion into a household. Croup chooses the hours of darkness for its deadly visitations. Cholera morbus, cholera infantum, cramps and colic come frequently in the night. Are you prepared for midnight emergencies? A bottle of JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT gives security, eases pain and saves life. The real danger from a large number of ailments is inflammation. JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT is the remedy for inflammation and, whether used internally or externally, it subdues it, gives relief from pain and cures the disease.

Johnson's ANODYNE LINIMENT A FOE TO INFLAMMATION

Is just the same as it was ninety years ago. At all seasons of the year it is in daily demand for curing colic, cramps, diarrhoea, cholera morbus, bites, bruises, burns, stings, chafings, in fall and winter it cures colds, coughs, croup, catarrh, bronchitis, la grippe, jaundice, muscle soreness and pain and inflammation in any part of the body. Get it from your dealer. Two size bottles, 25 cents and 50 cents. The larger size is more economical. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House Street, BOSTON, MASS.

"And let us not be weary in well-doing for in due season we shall reap if we faint not."—Galatians 6: 9.

SAVE THE BOY.

Once he sat upon my knee,
Looked from sweet eyes into mine;
Questioned me so wondrously
Of the mysteries divine;
Once he fondly clasped my neck
Pressed my cheek with kisses sweet;
O my heart! we little reck
Where may rove the precious feet.

Save the boy! Oh, save the boy!
To the rescue swiftly come;
Save the boy! Oh, save the boy!
Save him from the curse of rum!

Once his laugh, with merry ring,
Filled our house with music rare,
And his loving hands would bring
Wreaths of blossoms for my hair.
Oh, the merry, happy sprite!
Constant, ceaseless source of joy,
But to-night! O God, to-night,
Where, oh! where's my wand'ring boy?

Midst the glitter, and the glare
Of the room where death is dealt,
Scarcely you'd know him, but he's there,
He who once so reverent knelt
At my knees and softly spoke
Words into the ear of God;
Oh, my heart is smitten—broke!
Crushed, I bend beneath the rod.

Oh, this curse that spoiled my boy!
Led him down and down to death;
Robbed me of my rarest joy,
Made a pang of every breath.
Mothers, fathers, hear my plea!
Let your pleadings pierce the sky,
Pray and work most earnestly—
Let us save our boys or die!

"DRINK IT! NEVER!"

It was a gay, convivial marriage entertainment. Mabel Howard had just been united to the man of her choice. Many young people were assembled, and all were enjoying themselves greatly. The ruby contents of the wine cup flashed ruddily in the bright light, and lent a glow to many a manly cheek, and made many a maiden's eye sparkle with brilliancy. Few there were who hesitated to sip the sparkling fluid.

Perhaps the most beautiful being in the entire assembly was Mabel Howard, who had just become the wife of Hugh Harrison. She was a lady of most attractive form and features, admired by all, and respected for her strength of character and nobility of nature. A friend led her to the table, and pouring out a glass of wine from the decanter, offered it to her, inviting her to drink with him. Mabel took the glass, and holding it at arm's length, and pointing at the sparkling wine, she exclaimed:

"Drink it! Drink that which has been the cause of so much misery to me! Once I had a noble and generous father. No nobler man existed than he. Admired, respected, and honored by all for his talents and manly beauty, he was nevertheless ruined by the demon—Drink. Lower and lower he fell, until he became a miserable sot—a disgrace to humanity. And now he fills a drunkard's grave. One day, frenzied by this, this which you ask me to drink, he struck my darling mother—his own wife—a fierce blow, and felled her to the ground. She never rose again—for he killed her! And yet you ask me to drink this! This, which has brought so much woe to me! This, which has destroyed the happiness of so many wives and daughters and mothers! This, which has ruined so many noble men! This, which is a curse and nothing but a curse to society! Drink it! Never!" And she dashed the goblet to the ground, breaking it into a thousand pieces.

A solemn silence rested on the assembly. Surprise and astonishment were visible on every countenance. The wine was removed, and never again was seen on the table of that mansion. From that evening, many a man, accustomed to imbibe sparkling wine, refused ever afterwards to touch the ruinous wine-cup.

WHERE TWO YOUNG MEN PART-ED.

A clergyman once told this story:

"Thirty years ago two young men started out to attend the Park Theatre, New York, to see a play which made religion ridiculous and hypocritical.

"They had been brought up in Christian families. They started for the theatre to see that vile play, and their early convictions came back upon them. They felt it was not right to go, but still they went. They came to the door of the theatre.

"One of the young men stopped and started for home, but returned and came up to the door, but had not the courage to go in. He again started for home, and went home. The other young man went in. He went from one degree of temptation to another. Caught in the whirl of frivolity and sin, he sank lower and lower. He lost his business position. He lost his morals. He lost his soul. He died a dreadful death—not one star of mercy shining on it.

"I stand before you to-day," said the minister, "to thank God that for twenty years I have been permitted to preach the gospel. I am the other young man."—Presbyterian Record.

CHILBLAINS.

Mrs. J. B. Rusk, Ruskview, Ont., says:—"I have used Hagyard's Yellow Oil for chilblains, and found it most effectual. It relieved irritation almost immediately and a few applications made a complete cure."

OF THE SAME OPINION.

"We must at least treat the Indian as a rational being," said the man of philanthropic instincts.

"That's what we must," answered Broncho Bob. "Rations is about all them fellers seem to think about."—Washington Star.

IF TAKEN IN TIME The D. & L. Emulsion will surely cure the most serious affections of the lungs. The "run down" condition, the after effects of a heavy cold is quickly counteracted. Manufactured by the Davis & Lawrence Co., Ltd.

"What is your favorite flower?" asked the young woman.
"I can't tell you," answered the ready-witted young man.
"Why not?"
"Because I don't know the name of the one you are wearing at this moment."
And they lived happy ever after.

MARITIME PROVINCE NOTES.

Moncton Times: Mr. David McCleave received word on Saturday that his brother, John H. McCleave, of Sydney, was very ill, with little hopes of recovery.

Truro News: Mr. W. A. Davis, of Moncton, has been in town for the past few days, superintending workmen who are engaged digging a large well near the Lepper Brook, from which the I. C. R. engines will be provided with water, until better arrangements for a supply can be secured.

The Fredericton Gleaner says: Mr. W. T. Chestnut has just returned from a successful moose hunt at Taxis river, where he had the good fortune to shoot one of the largest moose ever captured in this province—and that means in the world. Mr. Chestnut had rare good fortune, being away from home only eleven days. He saw six moose and a large number of caribou before he fired a shot, as he wanted a good head and a pair of antlers. When he did draw a bead on a moose which suited him he brought down a monster, which stood 6 feet 10 inches high and is considerably larger than the big fellow in the collection at the Crown Land Office, and which was exhibited at the Sportsmen's Show at Boston as a wonder.

Sixteen officers and about thirty non-commissioned officers and men of the active militia will join the military school at Fredericton on January 1st for a short course of instruction.

The Woodstock correspondent of the St. John Sun says: The Drysdale factory has been bought by J. W. N. Winslow, and it is expected that it will soon be started running, turning out certain wood manufactures which can be cheaply made here, and sold to advantage. Already at the Henderson factory small sleds and rocking horses are made and sold cheaper than they can be imported. There is evidently a great opportunity in this town for the manufacture of wood into various implements. The raw material is at our doors in unlimited quantities.

The death occurred at St. John Sunday of Edward Morton Lloyd, eldest son of John W. Jamieson. The deceased was nineteen years of age, was very highly esteemed by his many friends. The funeral took place Tuesday at 2.30 o'clock from his father's residence, 57 Celebration St.

Elizabeth A. Neal, aged 79 years, widow of Anderson Neal, died at 234 Douglas avenue, St. John, Friday evening, after five weeks illness. Deceased lady was born in Queens county, and was a Free Baptist in religion.

A few days ago attention was called to the destitute condition of the family of Leonard George, who lived at 8 Ontario street, Halifax. The father and mother and three children were all sick and had nothing to support them. One child died and another was saved after great effort. Since then charitable organizations have stepped in and saved the family from starvation. It now transpires that Mrs. George is heiress to a rich estate at Hubbard's Cove, which on the death of the present occupant passes down to her and a cousin. Under the terms of the will Mrs. George is unable to get her portion until an uncle, David Dauphinee, dies.

The St. John Globe says: The lumber firm of Pierce, Watts & Co., Liverpool, has failed. Some St. John shippers are losers, but to what extent is not known until the mail reaches St. John. It is also rumored that another English lumber firm is in difficulties. The cause of the trouble is said to be that a number of

A Sluggish, Torpid Liver

When the liver gets slow and sluggish in action bile is left in the blood to poison the whole system and give rise to serious bodily derangements. When there are biliousness, headache, constipation and indigestion Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills make you well in a surprisingly short time.

Mrs. H. A. Smith, 132 Manning avenue, Toronto, states:—"My daughter has had a wretched time of it for quite a while with liver complaint, causing, among other troubles, weakness of the stomach, very sorrowful complexion, and a most miserable state of feeling generally. My husband had occasion to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and spoke so highly of their merit that I concluded to have her try them, and since beginning their use she has markedly improved in every way. I can with confidence therefore recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."

small firms who took contracts ahead were unable, owing to the advance in steel and other building materials, to carry out their obligations.

Mrs. James Lounsbury, of Lewis Mount, Westmorland Co., died on Saturday with cancer. Mrs. Lounsbury was a Geldart from Elgin, and was about 66 years old. She was a woman who was universally respected and leaves an invalid husband and three sons and five daughters to mourn the loss of one of the kindest of mothers.

The Tenders Committee of the City Council of Halifax, met on Friday and opened tenders for a loan for $90,000. The Central Canada Loan & Savings Co., of Toronto, tendered in bulk $84,727 and secured interest for $90,000 bonds of city of Halifax, bearing interest at the rate of 3½ per cent., payable semi-annually and due at the end of twenty-five years, July 1st, 1925. J. C. Mackintosh offered $94,124.5 (or $94,12½ and 1-5th of a cent) per $100 for the $90,000, 3½ per cent. debentures, dated July 1st, 1900. The committee thought this too little and decided not to accept the offer.

Mr. John M. Murphy, of Carleton, St. John, died Sunday after some months' illness. Mr. Murphy was one of the most respected residents of the West side. He was a very well known ship carpenter, and in politics was a staunch upholder of the Liberal party. He was about 55 years of age and is survived by his wife, two sons and two daughters. Three sisters and one brother also reside in Carleton. Mr. Murphy's death will be regretted by a large circle of friends.
