

Hope Had Departed.

THE STORY OF A WOMAN'S RESCUE FROM GREAT SUFFERING.

For Years Her Life Was One of Misery—Her Feet and Limbs Would Swell Frightfully and She Became Unable to Do Her Household Work.

From the Enterprise, Bridgewater, N. S.

It is appalling to think of the number of women throughout the country who day after day live a life almost of martyrdom; suffering but too frequently in silent, almost hopeless despair. To such sufferers the story of Mrs. Joshua Wile, will come as a beacon of hope. Mrs. Wile lives about two miles from the town of Bridgewater, N. S., and is respected and esteemed by all who know her. While in one of the local drug stores not long ago, Mrs. Wile noticed a number of boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the show case, and remarked to the proprietor "If ever there was a friend to woman, it is these pills." She was asked why she spoke so strongly about the pills, and in reply told of the misery from which they had rescued her. The proprietor suggested that she should make known her cure for the benefit of the thousands of similar sufferers. Mrs. Wile replied that while aware to publicity, yet she would gladly tell of her cure if it would benefit anyone else, and she gave the following statement with permission for its publication:—

"My life for some years was one of weakness, pain and misery, until I obtained relief through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. From some cause, I know not what exactly, I became so afflicted with uterine trouble that I was obliged to undergo two operations. A part only of the trouble was removed, and a terrible weakness and miserable, nervous condition ensued, which the physician told me I would never get clear of. I tried other doctors, but all with the same result—no betterment of my condition. The pains finally attacked my back and kidneys. My legs and feet became frightfully swollen, and I cannot describe the tired, sinking, deathly feeling that at times came over my whole body. I became unable to do my household work, and lost all hope of recovery. Before this stage in my illness I had been advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but like thousands of other women, thought there could be no good in using them when the medical men were unable to cure me. At last in desperation I made up my mind to try them, but really without any faith in the result. To my great surprise I obtained some benefit from the first box. I then bought six boxes more, which I took according to directions, and am happy to say was raised up by them from a weak, sick, despondent, useless condition, to my present state of health and happiness. Every year now in the spring and fall I take a box or two, and find them an excellent thing at the change of the season. Other benefits I might mention, but suffice it to say I would strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all ailing women."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills surpass all other medicines as a cure for the troubles that afflict womanhood. They quickly correct suppressions and all forms of weakness. They enrich the blood, strengthen the nerves and restore the glow of health to pallid cheeks. Sold by all dealers in medicine, or sent postpaid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The National Assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew met at Richmond, Va. Thursday, with more than 500 delegates present, representing nearly every state in the union. Thomas C. Ruffin, of Richmond, made a formal address of welcome and Vice-President Davis responded.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

The old reliable remedy for Spavins, Rhegones, Splints, Corns and all forms of Lameness. It cures without a blister because it does not blister. Dr. R. J. Kendall Co., North Vancouver, Ont., Feb. 10, '98.

Dear Sir—Will you please give me a remedy for Spavin? I have a mare that is afflicted. I have tried everything I have heard of, but nothing has done her any good. I have heard of your Spavin Cure, and as I have horses, I will not be without Kendall's Spavin Cure and Kendall's Balm in my stable.

Very truly yours,
ADOLPHUS GAUTHIER.

Price $1. Six for $5. As a liniment for family use it has no equal. Ask your druggist for Kendall's Spavin Cure, also "A Treatise on the Horse," the book free, or address

Prevention of Disease.

Mr. Miles Menander Dawson, a consulting actuary and author of standard works on life insurance, says in an interview: "From one-fifth to one-half of the deaths that occur in youth and middle age could be prevented by a decent regard for sanitary conditions and by common action of society for the benefit of all. It is not enough that a man should take care of himself. Disease is communicable, and protecting man against it is a social function."

"Fully one-fifth of the total number of deaths are caused by zymotic diseases which are as purely accidental as falling and breaking a leg. And one-fourth of the deaths in addition are from digestive and respiratory diseases almost all of which are preventable. About 17 per cent of the deaths among insured lives is from consumption and 5 per cent from nervous diseases, all of which are now believed to be preventable."

"This means that fully one-half of the deaths among young and middle aged persons could be prevented and the proportion could no doubt be greatly increased if parents paid a proper respect to the laws of heredity. It would certainly be a most important achievement for the human race if united action could be taken to secure that a larger proportion of persons would attain old age than at present."—Ainslee's Magazine.

He Did Not Have It.

William Lightfoot Vischer in The Woman's Home Companion tells the characteristic story of the Hon Isaac Parker, famous as the terrible judge at Fort Smith Ark., who probably sentenced more men to be executed than any other judge that ever lived. This was not, however, because he was so unrelentingly severe, but because he had the hardest and most numerous lot of criminals to deal with that ever came within the jurisdiction of such an official. One day when there was an unusually large batch of culprits to be sentenced the judge looked compassionately over his spectacles at one young scamp and said:

"In consideration of the youth and inexperience of this prisoner I shall let him off with a fine of $50."—Before the judge had done speaking the very fresh young man coolly stretched his right leg and ran his hand into his trousers pocket on the side, remarking nonchalantly as he did so:

"That's all hunky, judge. I've got that much right here in my jeans."—And one year in the penitentiary, continued the judge. Then looking over at the convict in a quizzical sort of way, he added: "Do you happen to have that in your jeans?"

Queer Thing, Chance.

"I was at Monte Carlo last year," said a New York turfman, "and was amused watching the gamblers in the casino playing systems. If red would win, say, four times hand running everybody would double up on black. The more times one color showed in succession the bigger were the bets on the other, which was mathematically an error, although you couldn't convince a gambler of it. Once while I was there red won 12 times and over 40,000 francs were staked on black. One lone player had the nerve to put 50 francs on red. It won, and he let the bet lay, and it won again. Then every body got a sudden idea it would win once more, and it was played to the limit. That time black showed."

"Did you ever hear about runs of color?" asked somebody.

"I did over there," replied the man who had been to Monte Carlo. "It is generally believed that when one color wins the odds are in favor of it winning twice more. There's no sense in it, but the records of the game do a good deal to confirm the superstition. Queer thing, chance."

Couldn't Chill His Wit.

Mme Modjeska and her company were playing one winter in the extreme north, much to the discomfort of Count Bozenta the Polish star's husband who hates the chilly northern climate. But at that time the show business was at a very low ebb in the south. One particularly cold day Mme Modjeska found the count shivering from head to foot in spite of the steam heat in the hotel.

"Oh, my dear, my dear!" he implored. "Let us go south for the rest of the season. This climate will kill us."

"But, my dear," replied madame, "the south is dead."

"Yes," said the count, "but she is such a beautiful corpse."

Time to Wake.

Judge Wheaton A. Gray was hearing a criminal case in Fresno, and on a warm day, at the end of a long harangue by the prosecuting counsel, he noticed one of the jurymen asleep. As soon as the argument was completed the judge addressed the jury in this peculiar manner: "Gentlemen of the jury, the prosecuting attorney has completed his argument. Wake up and listen to the instructions of the court."—Argonaut.

A New One or None.

Mrs. Prondfoot—Yes, Mrs. Malaprop that's an heirloom. It's been in Mr. Prondfoot's family over 100 years.

Mrs. Malaprop—Do tell! I've been nagging at John Henry to get an heirloom ever since we moved to the city but he can't find any, except second hand ones, and I won't have them.—Jewelers Weekly.

CONCERNING KRUGER.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 12.—P. Louter Wessels, special commissioner of the South African republic to the United States, yesterday received a letter from Secretary DeBruyn, of the Boer envoys, now in Holland, containing the first reliable and definite information of the plans of ex-President Kruger that has been made public. The letter states that ex-President Kruger will leave Delagoa Bay on the Netherlands warship Gelderland early in October. He will be taken to Holland, where the envoys are awaiting him. In regard to the intimation in British newspapers that English warships might be sent in pursuit, Mr. Wessels said that any such action by Great Britain would be accepted by the Netherlands as a direct declaration of war and the little dutch nation would act accordingly. Ex-President Kruger bears a commission from the Boer republics, but exactly what it is not even the envoys of the Boers know. They suppose, however, that he will endeavor to secure intervention by one or all of the European powers to the end that the individuality of the republics shall not be annihilated. Mr. Wessels in his interview stated that the reports of large numbers of Boers immigrating to America was unfounded. He said: "You need not be surprised if there is a rebellion of the whole of South Africa before the year is out. The only reason that the Cape Colonists did not join us at the outset was because they had no arms and neither they nor we expected war and were unprepared."

Distress After Eating.

Mrs. P. Waters, Dirlenon, Ont., writes: "I suffered for five years with pain in the stomach and distress after eating. Doctors failed to cure me, so I tried Laxative Pills and three bottles of them made a complete cure."

PAUL KRUGER WILL NOT RETURN TO SOUTH AFRICA.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The Telegraph correspondent at Lorenzo Marques cables an interview by him with ex-President Kruger's grandson Eloff, who accompanies his grand-father to Europe. He said he did not think Kruger intended to return to South Africa. He did not suppose the British would allow him to land if he did. He denied that his grand-father had gone on board the Dutch cruiser Gelderland, which does not sail before next Tuesday. When he did embark he would do so openly under the auspices of the Governor of Lorenzo Marques.

A FUNNY WAY OF CANVASSING.

Judge John D. Holt, Democratic candidate for Governor of West Virginia, is making a canvass, the like of which has never been heard of in that country. The Judge is a versatile man and all his versatility is employed in his canvass.

The strongest point in the repertoire of the Judge is his ability as a fiddler. He is not a high-class violinist, and perhaps it is just as well that he is not. But he can play quadrilles and waltzes and reels and two-steps to the entire satisfaction of the young people in the country districts. Good fiddlers—those who can keep time from sundown to sunup—are not found everywhere in country districts in West Virginia or elsewhere, and whenever Judge Holt reaches a community on his canvassing tour he is at once called upon to furnish the music for an impromptu ball. He never refuses to comply, and in his wake it may be said that there is always a "milky way" of tender recollections of a most glorious night with the "light, fantastic toe."

Of course, his fiddling canvass is not the first one; Governor Bob Taylor, of Tennessee, established a precedent in that line some years ago. But Governor Bob never had the versatility that is Judge Holt's. The Judge does not seem to be paying so very much attention to the men folks in his campaigning; he appears to think that if he can get the women to favor him they will attend to the men. So he is doing most of his canvassing among the women.

Judge Holt is a good cook and a good hand at all kinds of housework. The first thing he does when he gets to a farmhouse is to make friends with the lady of the house. On one occasion he did this by taking care of the baby, who was kicking and squalling in its crib. The mother could do nothing with the youngster, but the Judge got it quiet in five minutes by cooing to it. At another place he made the best blackberry roll that had ever been made in that part of the country, and gained fame and friends thereby. At another place he peeled the potatoes while the housewife did the other necessary work. At another place he swept the rooms while the lady of the house prepared the dinner. He has even been known to help in the family mending, and to do it in a way that was beyond criticism even from the envious and critical neighbors of the favored housewife.

Torpid Liver Headache

And Biliousness Made Life Miserable for Three Years—Health Restored by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Having a direct action on the liver, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are invariably successful in curing liver complaint, torpid liver, and the headaches and stomach troubles resulting therefrom.

Mrs. Faulkner, 8 Gildersleeve place, Toronto, says:—"After doctoring without success for biliousness, liver complaint, and sick headache for over three years, I am glad to testify to my appreciation of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. At first they seemed a little strong, but being both searching and thorough in their action, amply repay any inconvenience by after results. I am feeling better in every way, and my headaches have entirely disappeared. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are certainly the best I have ever used, and I freely recommend them."

The liver is responsible for very many ills of the human body. It is always made healthy, active, and vigorous by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmonson, Bates and Co., Toronto.
