NEW BRUNSWICK PROVINCE NOTES.

A bugler, Gade by name, has deserted from the R. E. C. 1. at Fredericton. It is thought that he will be captured in England.

A generous offer of $25.00 to the man who discovers the body of the drowned boy, Willie Law, is being made. Searchers are still at work, having nobly stuck to their self-imposed task day after day, and a diving suit is still in use.

The Railway News says: The Canadian Pacific Railway are building in their shops at Montreal 10 new first class cars for their passenger service between Montreal and Halifax. They will be similar to those used between Montreal and Ottawa. They will be 60 feet in length and the up most luxurious.

Chatham World, A Bay du Vin man who was in town Tuesday, paying bills and buying supplies, said he and 12 others, fishing smelts, with four tons, had earned and divided among themselves just $825 dollars this season. They fished at the mouth of Bay du Vin and the other fishermen there have done equally as well in proportion to the number of their nets. Didn't somebody report our smelt fishery a complete failure in the St. John papers?

There are a number of counterfeit two dollar Dominion bank notes in St. John. They have only made their appearance during the present rush of holiday buying. A large dry goods firm accepted one, and several others have since detected. The one accepted is evidently a photograph, the coloring is poor, however, the darker portions being almost purple. It is of the July 24d, 1897, issue and number 242,356.

Moncton Times: A serious conflagration in the house of Mr. H. L. Bay, at Robinson street, Thursday morning, was only averted by the prompt and thoughtful action of Mrs. Bay. The bedclothes on the children's bed took fire and the flames were making rapid headway when discovered. Mrs. Bay, with presence of mind that saved a disastrous fire, pulled the clothes from the bed before the sleeping children were aware of their danger, and threw them out of the window. Had the burning clothes not been discovered just at the time they were, the consequences might have been serious as the children were in great peril. The only thing done, however, was the loss of the bedclothes which were consumed after being thrown through the window.

The Coldbrook iron and steel mills at Coldbrook, St. John, were burned shortly before midnight Wednesday. The works have since been in constant employment and the fire, which destroyed a large number of buildings in the vicinity, as well as in the mill itself, will be greatly missed.

The St. John works were destroyed last night and day.

employing 87 men and turned out 16 tons of iron daily. The company has orders for over three hundred tons of iron. The furnace discovered about 11:30 by the watchman. An alarm was sounded and efforts made to extinguish it but they were unavailing. A house nearby, owned by Daniel McDonald and occupied by Jos. Kelly, Thomas Kempsey and Hugh Gill, caught by sparks and was consumed. There was $300 insurance on the house. There was about 500 tons of manufactured stock in the mill, principally bar iron and spikes and some 400 or 500 tons of raw material. It is said the mill was worth $25,000 or $20,000 and there was a total of $5,000 insurance on the mill and contents.

The schooner Jennie Palmer, leaving at 10:30 for Dorchester, N. B., has become frozen in the ice in what is feared a dangerous position, and it is considered that it will be impossible to get her off again to sea before spring. A very high tide or sudden thaw is necessary to enable her being moved in a safe place for the winter.

The British steamer Lindepharne, from Cardiff for Baltimore, put in at Halifax last Thursday forenoon with sudden head gale and bunkers leaking. She was steered for some miles by the steamer Storm King, but in a hurricane she broke away and disappeared.

St. John Star: The Golden Nugget Mining Co., Ltd., is seeking incorporation. The capital is to be $300,000 in $300,000 shares of $1 each. The headquarters are to be at Fairville, and operations are to be carried on in New Brunswick, the Yukon or elsewhere in Canada or Alaska. The applicants for incorporation are Hon. A. T. Dineen, Andrew Malcolm, Fred A. Jones, J. P. Russell, of St. John, and Morris Dineen, of Circle City, Alaska. A. George Hall is the solicitor.

At Woodstock, last Wednesday evening, Albert E. Denton and his daughter, of A. Cole, were married by W. R. Wiggins. The bride was the daughter in the Reformed Baptist church there.

The deadly cigarette is gaining a strong hold in Chatham. Boys of six or eight years may be seen smoking on the streets any day. The Commercial says the cigarettes they smoke are so rank that a person could smell them through a stone wall.

Harold Hay, of Woodstock, who went to Fredericton a couple of weeks ago to visit his son, Dr. Hay, had the misfortune to fall and break one of his arms. He is doing as well as could be expected.

The death is announced of Mrs. W. R. Pike, widow of Capt. Thomas W. Pike, R. N., She was the Annie Lejeune, of Sussex, sister of the late Col. Lejeune. For some time she has been residing at New York with her son. Her funeral was made at Ferrisburgh.

The cheese trade on Prince Edward Island has become a very busy one. Messrs. Dillon & Spillet, during the season just closed, shipped 29,000 boxes to London and Liverpool, and disposed of 1000 to the local trade. Mr. Arthur Biffin, representing Hodgson Bros., Montreal, handled 10,320 boxes, 16,200 of which were shipped to London and Liverpool, and 3,100 were sold in Charlotte-town. Carvell Bros. sold 300 boxes locally and exported 2,606 boxes.

Sixty Indian families living at St. Mary's, Oranmore, and the village, will be provided with a Christmas dinner this year from a fund set aside for that purpose by the late Rev. J. O. McDevitt, Fredericton.

Moncton despatch to Fredericton Herald: The First Baptist church here has decided to sever its relations with its pastor, Rev. Mr. Parshley, who came here from near Boston about a year ago. The difference arose over the pastor's business views.

St. John Globe: Typhoid fever is prevalent in several parts of the city at present. There are several patients at the hospital, including four from one family—Mrs. W. A. Fairweather, of Garden street, and three children. Mr. Fairweather is just convalescent from the same disease, and a domestic employed in the family is now suffering from the fever.

A well known resident of the parish of Boistford, Westmorland Co., passed away Thursday evening in the person of Mr. Sweeney, father of Mr. Frank A. Sweeney, the well known barrister of Moncton. Mr. Sweeney lived at Malrose and was among the oldest residents of that place. A widow and a grown up family survive him. Mrs. Mahoney, wife of Watson Mahoney, Malrose, is a daughter of deceased and one of the sons is practicing law in St. John.

The Charlottetown Patriot says: Many will be pained to learn that private John Harris, who went to Montreal, will probably be obliged to have his arm amputated. It will be remembered that his arm was amputated by Dr. Allen, and sent to Montreal for treatment, having had his left arm wounded at the battle of Paardeberg. We trust that yet the brave fellow's arm may be saved. He deserves well of his country.

Moncton Times: Mr. W. H. Davidson, a well known I. C. R. employe, passed away at his home on Highfield street, Monday, about seven o'clock Thursday evening after being confined to the house about a month with throat and lung trouble. Mr. Davidson had been in the employ of the I. C. R. for about twenty years. He was a carpenter and worked in the car shop. He has been unable to work for a year or more on account of ill health, but was able to be around until within the last month. Deceased was 52 years of age and was a son of the late Gen. Davidson, of Truro. He leaves a wife and five children, four boys and one girl. Mr. Davidson had a large number of friends who will regret to hear of his demise. The funeral took place on Sunday at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Davidson has been seriously ill for some time and her condition is still critical.

The Windsor Tribune says: Mr. Steeves, of New Brunswick, has a large crew of men on the John Lewis property, west of the Halifax road. He expects to get two million feet of lumber. Mr. Burton Wells, also of N. B., arrived on Wednesday with his portable mill. He is to do the sawing for Mr. Steeves. This lumber will be hauled to Grand Falls.

The Rhoads, Carruthers, and Amherst has secured the contract for the interior fittings for the Bank of Montreal's handsome building in St. John, which when completed there will be among the handsomest edifices in Canada.

Railway News: A. T. LeBlanc, travelling passenger agent of the I. C. R., has been appointed assistant general passenger agent with headquarters at Campbellton. We congratulate Mr. LeBlanc on his well earned promotion.

A FINE CHRISTMAS NUMBER.

The Christmas number of The Presbyterian Review, just issued, is a splendid issue of 52 pages and cover. It is beautifully illustrated and full of interest from cover to cover; well known writers, such as Principal Grant of Kingston; Rev. D. D. McLeod of Barrie, J. W. Bantough of Toronto, H. Margaret Fairlie of Kingston; Rev. E. D. Roxburgh of Newwood; Rev. J. McP. Scott of Toronto, with others equally well known, have contributed to its pages. Many of our readers will find in Mr. Scott's article upon "The Forward Spiritual Movement" just what has been desired, a careful resume of a work that is destined to be one of the mighty agencies for good in the immediate future. Mr. Roxburgh writes most entertainingly of his trip "Over the Alps a wheel," and the illustrations from photographs taken by himself give added interest to it. But all the articles are good and timely. The Pease Publishing Company seem determined to make The Presbyterian Review a paper without a peer in Canada.

BOERS INVADE ORANGE RIVER COLONY.

AND ARE CLOSELY FOLLOWED BY BRITISH SOLDIERS.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—The war office last evening could give no information regarding the reports of the invasion of Cape Colony. The opinion, however, is that the newspaper accounts were exaggerated and that probably the troops that have been employed in chasing De Wet will be diverted to deal with the invaders.

Lord Kitchener keeps a tight rein over the news, which increases the persistent rumor that he has demanded heavy reinforcements.

According to the Daily Mail, private telegrams received in London yesterday, depict the situation in Cape Colony as somewhat ominous. It seems that the invading Boers are receiving considerable assistance from the local Dutch and that the troops at the disposal of the British authorities are not sufficient to cope with any serious spread of the military operations.

It is believed that the government has at last awakened to the seriousness of the situation and is making the utmost efforts to provide Lord Kitchener with horses and mules.

THE BOERS ARE STILL IN THE RING.

BANDS CROSS THE ORANGE RIVER BUT ARE CLOSELY FOLLOWED.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—The following despatch was received from Kitchener dated Pretoria, Wednesday: A party of Boers, estimated at from 500 to 800 crossed the Orange River at Rhenoster, Hoek. A second band is reported to have crossed near Sand Drift. These have been followed. I have sent a considerable body of mounted men who are getting around them. The Boers from Rhenoster Hoek are being followed closely from Venterstad; which they left at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, going in the direction of Steynsburg, an important point and on the railway and the neighborhood is well guarded. I hope the band will soon be driven north again.

PITCHED BATTLE EMINENT NORTH OF KRUGERSDORP.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—A special from Johannesburg dated Wednesday says that heavy cannonading was heard north of Krugersdorp. As cabled from Krugersdorp, Transvaal, under date of Sunday, a pitched battle was then eminent between the British under Clements, who has been reinforced and the Boers under Delarey.

INVASION OF THE COLONY BY THE BOERS.

CAPE TOWN, Dec. 20.—The invasion of Cape Colony is spreading. It is reported that the Boers occupied Colesburg south of Philippolis, and near the Orange River Colony. The people here are much disturbed. A mixed force of one thousand men was despatched north yesterday evening.

ARTIST GOES MAD.

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—A. M. Pell, an artist, well-known on both sides of the Atlantic, has gone mad over love for a pretty shop girl. After eight years of vain adoration she rejected him, and he attempted to take her life.

She is Annie Stowesand, of 1641 Whipple street. When he first saw her she was working in a State street store, and was then only fifteen years of age. He was struck by the girl's beauty and resolved to become acquainted with her. He followed her home and spoke to her. His attentions were not disagreeable to her, and soon they became friends.

For years thereafter Pell met the girl regularly when she left her work, and walked home with her. During this time he often told her of his love and proposed marriage, but she always refused him. Pell was nearly fifty years of age, and the girl frankly told him that she would not marry a man of his age.

Last winter the lover was appointed on the decorating staff for the French exposition, and in the spring left for Paris. He remained away until seven weeks ago.

On his return he again proposed marriage to Miss Stowesand. And again he was refused. So persistent had his attentions become that she refused to see him further.

On Saturday night, when Miss Stowesand left her work, she found Pell waiting for her. He once more asked her to give up work and become his wife. A curt answer was given, and Pell left her.

Later he went to her home. She was alone, and when she opened the door was surprised to find Pell in waiting.

"Why, what do you want?" she asked. Pell made no answer, but grasped her around the waist and dragged her onto the porch and out of the light. Miss Stowesand screamed, but no one heard her cries. Holding her tightly to his side he drew a revolver from his pocket and struck her on the left temple with the butt of the weapon. She sank unconscious to the floor. He then ran from the house, and has not since been seen by his friends.

Soon after the assault the police received a letter, supposed to be from Pell, giving a detailed account of the crime and its motive.

In the course of this document he says: "I became one of the painters at the Paris exposition. I painted her portrait. It was well known, and was called 'Purity.' Seven weeks ago I sailed back to America to look for the girl I love; for she has been my inspiration for good.

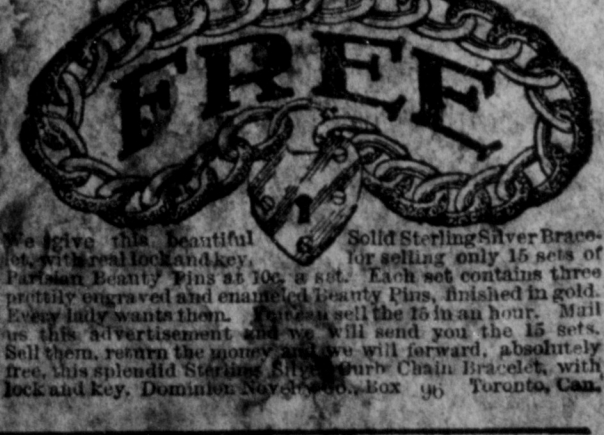

"She refused to marry me. No other man shall have her for a bride. She is still the light-hearted girl she was years ago. Her simple modesty never left her. I offered her wealth, but she refused all. I followed her home and shot her."

AN EDUCATIONAL DIFFICULTY.

"This is the great and glorious land where education is not denied to any youth."
"Yes," answered the croak-blooded cynic, "the only trouble is that they put in too much time translating Latin, when they ought to be trying not to say 'I see it, and I do it.'"
