WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our regular correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., U. S. A., Dec. 7.

The Chicago papers are speculating on the rival advantages of the new Canadian route to tidewater furnished by the railway from Parry Sound, on the eastern shore of Georgian Bay to Quebec, as compared with the old route by way of Buffalo. From Chicago to Parry Sound the distance is about half as great as from Chicago to Buffalo. From Parry Sound by rail to tidewater at Quebec the distance is not much greater than from Buffalo by rail to New York. From Quebec the distance to Liverpool is much shorter than from New York to Liverpool. As a whole the new route is shorter than that by way of Buffalo and New York city. But the papers think that there are other things to be considered. Nowhere has greater perfection been attained than on the trunk lines between Buffalo and New York, and as a result grain can be hauled from Buffalo to New York by rail at the lowest rate. So far as the rail haul is concerned, it is agreed that the Canadian line cannot hope to compete successfully with the New York lines. It will have to rely on the reduced distance. The main difficulty is that vessels returning to Chicago from Parry Sound would have no return cargo, so that there would be no saving even if the time from Chicago to Parry Sound were but half that from Chicago to Buffalo, where return cargoes of coal can be secured. The same difficulty to some extent will be found in obtaining return cargoes from European ports to Montreal and Quebec.

The British Ambassador and Lady Pauncefoot this week gave the first formal entertainment in diplomatic circles to the Countess Cassini, adopted daughter of the Russian Ambassador, in honor of the dignity recently conferred on her by special ukase of the Czar. The state dining-room of the British Embassy was thrown open for this occasion the first time since its renovation. Lady Pauncefoot is somewhat dubious as to the advisability of keeping Fridays at home this season. When she announces these at home she always publishes the fact that they are for her personal friends, but in spite of this, the general public pours in upon her, until she is worn out, and for this reason she never has found it possible to continue these at home after the middle of January.

Consul Roosevelt writes from Brussels: "Belgian capitalists have recently organized a company in this city, to be known as the 'Belgian Canadian Pulp Company,' for the purpose, as its name indicates, of manufacturing wood pulp. The capital is fixed at 3,000,000 francs. The company has secured a grant from the Canadian Government for the use of 743 square miles of forest land located near the River St. Maurice and its tributaries. An agreement has also been concluded with the Shawinigan Water and Power Company, as well as with an engineer, for plans and execution of works for the company.

The United States press has devoted a good deal of space to Sir William Van Horne, who commenced life as a farm hand and is now a knight of St. Michael and St. George, and the leading capitalist of Canada. The following story of him is told: A short time ago a special writer visited Montreal for the purpose of securing material for several magazine articles. One was on the Canadian Pacific. To obtain this he interviewed Sir William Van Horne. The next subject on his list was paper pulp industry. He applied to a Canadian paper company, and met with this reply: "If you want anything on that subject see Sir William Van Horne. He is at the head of the largest paper pulp concern in the country." The third item called for information about the new coal and iron developments at Sydney, Cape Breton. A visit to Montreal trade review resulted in this response: "Better see Sir William Van Horne. He has the largest interests there." The special writer finally returned to New York. A commission from a prominent weekly figured in the mail awaiting his return. It called for an article on a new Cuban commercial syndicate, one recently organized on a stupendous financial scale. The letter from the weekly paper ended with these words: "The information in all probability, can be obtained from Sir William Van Horne. He heads the syndicate."

In his annual report to the Secretary of the Interior, Governor Brady of Alaska refers at some length to the sealing question. He says the herds are being exterminated. "In last years report," he continues, "the branding of all the females was urged as a final effort to preserve the rookeries from the destructive methods of the Canadian paleic sealers. A wall went up from the owners of these vessels centered at Victoria that this was a most inhuman practice. We would expect just such a refrain of 80 per cent. of the catch of their vessels was rendered valueless by this method of branding. We are at a loss to understand why Great Britain will become a party to this when she has steadily had $3 benefit out of the industry to $1 for the United States.

A Minister's Experience.

So far as is known there is no other treatment for piles so wonderfully prompt and effective as Dr. Chase's Ointment. This preparation has never yet been known to fail to cure piles. It stops the itching at once, and positively and thoroughly cures piles of every form.

Rev. J. A. Baldwin, Baptist Minister, Arkansas, Ont., writes:—"For over twenty years I was a great sufferer from itching and protruding piles. I used many remedies and underwent three very painful surgical operations, all without obtaining any permanent benefit. When about to give up in despair, I was told to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, and did so, finding relief at once. I used three boxes, and am almost entirely cured. The itching is all gone. I have advised others to use it, believing it would cure them, as it has me."

MARITIME PROVINCE NOTES.

At Charlottetown Friday Mr. David R. Chandler, of Moncton, was wedded to Miss Alexandra Walker, of that city.

Woodstock Sentinel: George L. Holyoke, who has for many years been the editor of the Woodstock Press, has dropped his pen and severed his connection with that paper. Mr. Holyoke intends entering into business with his son, A. D. Holyoke, in the collecting department of his business. We hope our retiring contemporary may find the change a pleasant and satisfactory one.

Hon. L. J. Tweedie Thursday night at Chatham entertained the Curling Club. During his speech in reference to rumored changes in the provincial government which relegated him to the county court bench, and made Mr. J. B. Burchill provincial secretary, he stated that there was nothing in them, as he would not accept a county court judgeship or even a seat on the supreme court bench. He was too young and active to be shelved. In the future if defeat came to him he could go back to the practice of his profession.

St. John Globe: Dr. Philip Cox has instructed Mr. L. A. Carrey to begin proceedings for libel against Mr. D. G. Smith, of Chatham, for an attack on Dr. Cox published in the Chatham Advance in connection with the killing of a caribou for the North Shore Historical Society.

The season for shooting big game does not expire until Dec. 31. Already the receipts at the crown land office at St. John from this source amount to $7,000. The bulk of this has been received from visiting sportsmen.

Mail boat Lake Ontario, Capt. Carey, arrived at St. John at 2.15 o'clock Saturday afternoon. She brought two first cabin passengers—Mr. Brown and Mrs. Eaton—both bound to Montreal; 6 second cabin, and 192 steerage passengers. The latter are principally Russians and Armenians and 98 of them were detained for want of funds. One family of five was detained because a child was afflicted with fava.

Sussex Record: The lumbering business for some distance around Upham will be carried on quite extensively during the coming winter. Mr. David Floyd has already a large crew at work cutting for Mr. Samuel Fowles on what is known as the Reynolds land. Mr. James Hooley has the contract for the sawing of it, after which it will be hauled to Taylor's bridge and there placed on the cars. Mr. James Upham is yarding up lumber on his own property, while Messrs. Charles Alexander & Sons are making extensive preparations for a good winter's work on the Burney land.

Arthur Storey, arrested at St John on Friday by Detective Ring on a warrant for burning the stable of Thomas Roach at Studholm last September, was taken to Sussex Saturday for trial.

St. John Globe: The workmen at the I. C. R. Elevator received practical demonstration Saturday morning that caution must be used when men are laboring near powerful machinery. A temporary stoppage of the machinery had been made and several men went down into the bins under the floor, where the endless chain of buckets gathers its freight. As the chain stopped one of the men put his hand into a bucket to empty it of grain. The chain swung back and caught the man's hand, jamming it tightly against the woodwork. Superintendent Perley by shoving a bar into the works relieved the strain and then moved the chain back until the man could be extricated. Fortunately the hand was uninjured. The shovellers were all badly frightened, and will be more careful in the future.

NOW I FEEL REAL WELL

Mr. W. B. La Blance, Bonfield, Ont., writes:—"I was once a sufferer from catarrh, and while using Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure I was recommended to use also Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to build up the system. My nerves were exhausted and I was too weak to do a day's work when I began using it, and now am strong and healthy, and feel real well. I am perfectly sure that anyone who uses Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will believe as I do, that it is the best strengthener and restorative obtainable."

"Why so?"
"He's got a way of keeping his wife from going through his pockets for loose change."

CHALMERS—Died Suddenly, at Kingman, Maine, Nov. 29, 1900, Daniel Chalmers, formerly a resident of Kouchibouguac, aged 70 years and 7 months, leaving a son and daughter to mourn the loss of a kind and loving parent.

STEVENSON—At Molus River, Dec. 3, Flora, wife of Mr. George Stevenson, aged 63 years and ten months, leaving a husband and six children to mourn their sad loss.

Dearest grandmother, thou has left us,
Thy sweet life forever fled;
Here on earth thy days are ended,
Thou art numbered with the dead.

All sickness and suffering ended,
All pain and sorrow o'er,
Thou art gone to join the ransomed
On that bright and happy shore.

Friends no longer could detain thee,
For a greater friend is nigh.
And was waiting to receive thee,
In His home beyond the sky.

Dearest Grandmother, we do miss thee,
You no more our hearts do greet;
Angels came and took you from us,
But we hope thee soon to meet.

Thy Saviour called and thou hast followed,
O'er the dark and rolling tide;
Now thou art safe within the mansions,
Where no sorrow can abide.

No longer shall we see thee,
Never again thy face behold;
For the Shepherd bids thee enter
Within the shelter of his fold.

But why murmur that thou left us,
Thou art only gone before;
And we hope in Heaven to meet thee,
When our short lives here are o'er.

There was a vacant seat in Heaven,
That was not quite complete;
And they have taken her
To fill that vacant seat.

FLORA STEVENSON.

"Do you believe that young Swinton proposed to the elderly Miss Linton last night, as she says?"
"That's what she calls it, but all he did was to make a proposition to propose if she would advance him some of her proposed allowance."—Denver News.

Professional Men.

It's the constant strain and worry under which the professional man labors, the irregularity of habits and loss of rest that makes him peculiarly susceptible to kidney troubles. First it's backache, then urinary difficulties, then—unless it's attended to—Bright's Disease and—death.
