THE DRESS MODEL.

Pineapple silk, which is always a favorite summer material with the French, in this season made up into some very attractive gowns.

Large collars of fine batiste in sailor shape, with long, slender shawl points that reach to the belt in front, are added to the open jackets and waists of many of the fashionable gowns of transparent material.

Many of the newest insertion bands are extra wide, and some of the Lyons woven designs have unevenly curved edges, making a rather new finish for the outlines of jackets, skirts, overdresses and capes of silk or net.

New weaves in crepe de chine and chiffon are especially craped for summer mourning toilets and costumes. These materials are made up as a rule without heavy foundation slips, light weight but closely woven taffeta, jet black being first choice.

Hemstitched ruffles, with or without a tiny valenciennes or cluny edge, are the preferred trimmings for some of the newest organdie or swiss muslin gowns. The waists are finished with hemstitched tucking and entre deux de lace, arranged in various odd and pretty ways.

Very charming are the shirred, draped and tucked hats of mousseline de soie, chiffon, net and gauze now worn at every fashionable summer resort in the country. All shapes are copied in them, even the stiff English walking hat. They prove becoming to nearly every wearer.

A smart sailor hat of fine black zephyr straw has a brim faced with white tulle and bound with a roll of black velvet. Quantities of soft pink roses cover the crown and are tucked under the brim at the back, while narrow bows of white satin and black velvet ribbons are put among the roses.

THE VERDICT.

Now is a good time for civilized nations to quit selling to barbarian nations modern weapons of war and teaching their customers how to use them.—New York Tribune.

Swinging a scythe is fine exercise just after sunrise, if you can avoid everything that saves the grass. The legs and feet seem to have a quiet knack of getting in the way, and it's bad for them.—Boston Transcript.

Western China will soon be as familiar to the world as South Africa. War teaches geography quickly. A year ago Ladysmith and Tientsin were as unplaced as Timbuktu and Poverty Hill.—Boston Journal.

The big New York stores are now handing out to shoplifters "the good, swift kick." Prosecuting them was found to be too expensive and precarious. The new floor bouncer is an athletic gentleman who enjoys trouble.—Minneapolis Journal.

The demand for the invention of an acceptable shirt waist for men is still unanswered, and men who sit in their shirt sleeves in their offices are compelled by custom to put on coats when they walk out in the sweltering summer's sun.—Minneapolis Tribune.

An Idaho girl advertised for a husband and got him. The total expense for advertising, wedding outfit, etc., was $11. Within a year he died, leaving her a life insurance policy of $10,000. And still some persons claim it doesn't pay to advertise.

WRITERS AND PAINTERS.

Joaquin Miller, the poet, is down in the San Francisco city directory as "Miller, Joaquin, fruit farmer," which he really is by way of amusement.

When George B. M. Harvey, the editor of The North American Review, was a reporter on a New York daily his declaration that he would some time edit a large magazine was a joke among his companions.

A New York model says that C. D. Gibson is the easiest of all artists in that city to pose for. He never allows a model to stand for more than ten minutes without a rest, is most considerate and very rapid in his work.

Dr. Edward Everett Hale lives in a neighborhood of 'appy' homes. He declares that he is happy because 15 cats make their home under his piazza, while all his neighbors are happy because these 15 cats are not under their piazzas.

George Taylor Porter of Lawrence, Mass., the young artist whose seven pictures attracted so much attention at the Parisian exhibition of the Societe des Artistes, taught himself to draw, and one of the pictures in question was painted before he began to study in Paris under Gerome.

GLEANINGS.

London now has girl district messengers as well as boys. Those employed are from 16 to 18 years of age and are said to be efficient.

Baccarat is now prohibited in Russia, even in private houses, by a ukase of the czar. For a first offense the punishment will be a heavy fine, for a second a long term of imprisonment.

According to an apparent authentic article in a French periodical, not less than 20,000 aristocrats are at present confined in the prisons of Europe. Russia stands first with 12,000 blueblooded lawbreakers.

England uses 30,000,000 birds every year for decorative purposes, and to provide all Europe 150,000,000 are annually destroyed, and when we add America it brings the sum total up to 300,000,000.

The word compound, which is frequently used in dispatches from China, means an inclosure. In that country and in Japan it is customary to build high brick walls around factories, business houses, banks and residences for protection, and these are known as compounds.

THE COOKBOOK.

Broiled meats should be served as soon as cooked.

Flour, meal, sugar, salt, spices and soda should always be sifted before measuring.

The flavor of string beans, peas and spinach may be improved by a sprinkling of nutmeg.

Salt should always be washed from butter before it is used for puff paste, as it retards its rising.

A blending of two or more flavors is usually more pleasing to the palate than a single decided one.

An ordinary glass of buttermilk contains as much nourishment as half a pint of oysters, two ounces of bread or a good sized potato.

THE MARCH OF THE DRINK BRIGADE.

BY BERNIE BABCOCK.

Evermore, Evermore,
Homes and hearts sundered,
March to the Valley of Death
Daily five hundred,
Onward the Drink Brigade!
Victims of legal trade,
Into the Valley of Death
Daily Five Hundred.

Forward the Drink Brigade!
Is there no man dismayed?
Yes, for a Nation knows
Some one has blundered.
Useless to make reply,
Useless to reason why,
Theirs but to drink and die;
On to the Valley of Death
Daily Five Hundred.

Saloons to the right of them,
Saloons to the left of them,
Saloons all around them,
Falls unnumbered.
Bound by a fierce desire,
Lashed by an inward fire,
Haunted by demons dire,
Abandoned and hungered;
Stormed at with scorn and curse,
Little they reck for worse,
Swarming the jaws of death,
Choking at hell's hot breath,
Senseless they fall in death,
Daily Five Hundred.

Licensed by Christian folk,
Once they could God invoke,
Ere their will power was broke,
Felled by a traffic's stroke,
Now Heaven's hope sundered,
Back on the reeking air,
Sounds forth their dark despair,
Echoes their soul's fierce prayer,
Daily Five Hundred.

When will Rum's conquest end?
Who dares the cause defend?
Has Rum slumbered?
God, let the march be stayed,
Call Justice to their aid,
Pity the Drink Brigade,
Save the Five Hundred.

It is safe to say that in all parts of the world five hundred lives are destroyed each day directly or indirectly by the rum curse.

DAMAGE OF DAILY USE OF ALCOHOL.

By C. H. Hughes, M. D., Prof. of Mental and Nervous Diseases, Barnes Medical College, St. Louis, Mo.)

If mankind in general knew what advanced pathology teaches the widely observed physicians of the effects of daily alcohol potations on the human organism, the use of alcohol and its principal compounds, natural or artificial, as a habitual daily beverage, would be shunned as a viper is avoided. Daily potations of strong drink persevered in, except in most exceptional moderation, will ultimately undermine the strongest constitutions as insidiously as the wiles of Delilah conquered the mighty Sampson. Tri-daily potations of strong drink are nails in the coffin of the drinker, by which the garment of life's span is prematurely finished, and the funeral casket that transports us to the end of earth is prematurely ready for us.

Alcohol thus indulged in and not physiologically counteracted by an exceptional organism endowed with unusual changes in the brain, its blood vessels, its coverings, and its substance, as well in the heart and other organs of the body. Wine is a physiological mocker, and whosever is deceived thereby is not wise.

Besides the mental and physical destruction revealed by science in the path way of alcohol as its immediate effects, she points with pitying finger to woes innumerable in the aftermath of its devastating violence which the hand of municipal and individual charity gathers into the hospitals for the insane, the homes for the feeble minded, the colonies for epileptics, the alms houses and penitentiaries of the land.

She points the transgressor with warning hand to the mentally and nervously maimed of the children and children's children of the drunkard.

Alas that one should put an enemy in his mouth not only to steal away his own brains, but to rob an unerring heritage of the normal mentality which is or should be the inherent right of the innocent, and unfit posterity for the battle of life. The testimony of science says: Be cautious! beware!

"For in the last it biteth like a serpent." It poisons the blood, the heart, the brain, and the nerves. It distorts, depraves, degenerates the organism. It destroys the delicate mechanism of the mind's display, and pollutes the fountain's source of the soul's manifestation. It burns out the machinery of the mind with fire infernal, and where a spark of divinity might dwell it leaves but the cinders and ashes of a once brightly glowing and glorious mentality.

Its poisoned fangs are like unto those of the stealthy adder in the cradle. Through its baleful influences the unborn comes into lives of misery, neurotically and mentally maimed, unfitted for normal life, and fortunate if they fill graves untimely; while hurt and helpless womanhood mourns and dies in the mists and blasts of the world's tardy awakening to the destructive effects of the drink habit.

BYGONE DAYS.

Bright school days with pleasure rife,
The shortest, gladdest years of life;
How swiftly are they gliding by,
O, why does time so quickly fly;
The seasons come, the seasons go,
The earth is green or white with snow.

There's music in the forest leaves
When the summer winds are there,
And in the laugh of forest girls
That braid their sunny hair.
The first wild birds that drink the dew
From violets of the spring,
Has music in his song, and in
The fluttering of his wing.

In after years should trouble rise
To cloud the blue of sunny skies,
How bright would be thy memory haze
Those happy, golden, bygone days.
O let us strive that ever we
May let these words our watchword be.

Richibucto, Dec. 7, 1900.

DOMINION NEWS.

TORONTO, Dec. 4.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of the wife of Joseph Hazelton, the druggist now in custody charged with the murder of Mrs. Martha Milne. The woman is charged with attempting to spirit important witnesses out of the country. She has disappeared.

NORTH SYDNEY, Dec. 5.—One hundred and eighty-eight dollars worth of tobacco and cigars were stolen Sunday night from the tobacco store of C. W. Lavers, Commercial street. An entrance was made through the window fronting on the street. Some money was taken from the till besides. An unsuccessful attempt was also made to burglarize the store of A. C. Thompson & Co., on the same street.

KINGSTON, Ont., Dec. 6.—An unfortunate affair occurred recently at the Provincial Penitentiary, when an insane convict ended his earthly troubles by means of a pair of suspenders. The convict's name was Penetro Pamanu. He arrived at the penitentiary about a year ago from Port Arthur, near which place there is a Russian settlement. A few days after his arrival at the penitentiary he was removed to the insane ward where he remained until he found release in death. The usual watch was observed over the insane convicts, the guard passing on his rounds every hour. At 12 o'clock this official made his round and saw Pamanu sitting by his bedside, apparently in the best of health, and not exhibiting any unusual signs of distress or anything to indicate that he intended committing such an act. An hour later when the guard passed again the convict was found hanging by the neck to the grating above his cell door, his suspenders being used as a noose. The guard gave the alarm, and without loss of time the body was cut down, but life was extinct. Coroner Kilborne was notified, and, after hearing the circumstances deemed an inquest necessary. This was called in the afternoon.

MONTREAL, Dec. 6.—Capt. Montague Yates, who is now here, says that London capitalists will start a new line of steamers for the pulp trade between Chatham and Dalhousie and Europe, making Halifax the winter port.

MONTREAL, Dec. 6.—The manufacturing business of the Royal Electric Company, of Montreal, has been sold to the Canadian General Electric Company, Toronto, for $841,000. The Royal will hereafter confine their business to the supply of light and power.

TORONTO, Dec. 6.—C. R. Wilson, a well known merchant, was found dead in his bed this morning. The cause of death was heart disease.

MONTREAL, Dec. 6.—Father O'Leary, Roman Catholic chaplain of the first contingent, is to be presented with a gold chalice and potent by the Protestant citizens of Montreal.

MONTREAL, Dec. 6.—The Herald tonight published a story that at the opening of parliament the address in reply to the speech from the throne will be moved by an English Protestant from Ontario, speaking French and responded to by a French Canadian from Quebec speaking English.

MONTREAL, Dec. 6.—One more member has been elected by acclamation in Quebec to-day, Petit (liberal) being returned. In Chicoutimi-Saguenay polling takes place to-morrow. It is not expected the conservatives will carry more than a dozen seats at the best.

KINGSTON, Dec. 6.—A and B batteries are to be brigaded at Kingston, the field battery at Quebec going to Kingston, and both sections being added to the permanent forces in South Africa, the artillery barracks being filled up.

PETERBORO, Dec. 6.—The American Cereal Co., of Akron, Ohio, has secured an option in water power here and propose erecting a mill and employ five hundred men. If the present assessment on property is not increased, the company proposes spending $350,000.

TORONTO, Dec. 6.—Premier Ross has intimated his willingness to meet the deputation appointed by the standing committee of the Ontario section of the general conference of the Methodist church on temperance and moral reform, to discuss the question of prohibition on similar lines to those adopted by the Manitoba legislature.

OTTAWA, Dec. 6.—Lt. Col. Biggar, who is acting for the militia department at Cape Town, to-day cabled asking if the Canadians who receive their discharge in South Africa are also to get their deferred pay. The answer was in the affirmative, so that those Canadians who remain in South Africa will sever their connection entirely with the dominion militia.

OTTAWA, Dec. 7.—In the case of Kent vs. Ellis, the Supreme Court to-day dismissed the appeal, with costs. This was an appeal from the judgment of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia dismissing plaintiff's action for damages for wrongful conversion of goods.

TORONTO, Dec. 7.—Sir Charles Tupper has accepted the presidency of the recently formed Crown Life Insurance Company incorporated under Dominion charter and the business will be begun early in the new year. The authorized capital is $1,000,000 divided into 10,000 shares of $100 each. The whole amount is offered for subscription at premium 25 per cent. The promoter and organizer of the company is George H. Roberts, who will be its managing director.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 7.—David Horn, chief grain inspector, reports the amount of wheat inspected for Manitoba division during the past three months, September, October and November, as 4,970,870 bushels, against 13,087,460 bushels inspected during the same period last year. The percentage of No. 1 hard is very small in comparison with last year, only 652 cars of this grade, against 12,047 last year having been inspected.

MONTREAL, Dec. 7.—G. M. Bosworth, general traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, said to-day that the business of the company through St. John this winter would be much less than in former years. The reason for this was that a great many of the company's ocean freight contracts which in the past have been made via St. John were this season made by other routes before the agreement with the government was arranged. For instance, in the past, the C. P. R. every winter shipped through St. John a large amount of corn from Chicago. The elevator of the company at Owen Sound last year at this time contained over a million bushels of Chicago corn for shipment by way of St. John. This year there is not a bushel there, for contracts for moving this corn had been entered into during the time the C. P. R. refused to accept contract freight for shipment through St. John. This is the case with a large amount of other ocean-borne freight which in the past has been shipped through the port of St. John.

HAMILTON, Ont. Dec. 7.—George Arthur Pearson was hanged in the gaol yard at 7.53 this morning for the murder of Annie Griffin. The couple were driving on Dundas Road on the evening of Sept. 23, when Pearson shot the girl. He told a farmer opposite whose house the crime was committed that two men driving past had shot the girl, but subsequently confessed to a detective. He was tried, found guilty, and this morning paid the penalty.

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—A statement of revenue and expenditure of the Dominion issued by the finance department, shows the revenue of five months ending November 30, to be $21,504,705, compared with $20,199,373 for the same time last year, or an increase of $1,400,000. The expenditure was $14,418,589, leaving a small betterment for the current year, while the difference between revenue and expenditure is shown in a surplus of $7,686,000. This is an ordinary revenue. If the capital account, which is a little higher for the past five months than for 1899, be taken into consideration the surplus of revenue over all expenditures is $2,600,000.

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—Mr. Hart, of the Kingston Locomotive Works, was here to-day, seeing Hon. Mr. Blair. They are going to turn out 20 new locomotives for the Intercolonial by October next year. They will be 82 tons each.

CARELESSNESS

Is Perpetual Suffering and an Early Grave.

Don't Neglect the Earliest Signs of Dyspepsia or Indigestion—They Develop Quickly if Not Banished by the use of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

It is a strange commentary on the inconsistency of human nature, that a man is infinitely more careful of his horse, or his dog, than of himself.

Let the horse or the dog manifest symptoms of illness, and the best medicine is immediately obtained and administered.

But, how different it all is, when the man himself is ill!

For instance: A man is hard at work, in his office, a couple of hours after lunch. He is attacked by a sensation of dizziness—fainting; everything is plunged in darkness; there is a dull, heavy pain at the pit of his stomach.

He is obliged to quit work. His head begins to ache terribly, but he doesn't give up. He tackles his work again, and worries through till evening, tortured to the full limit of his powers of endurance.

It is out of all reason to say that this man can give his business the clear, shrewd attention it requires.

Now if this man had simply taken one of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets after his lunch, there would have been no trouble. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure every phase of Dyspepsia and Indigestion, by removing the cause.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets digest the food without assistance from the stomach or any of the other digestive organs. They thus give the stomach time and opportunity to rest, and regain its lost strength and vigor.

With each box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets goes a supply of small brown Tablets which act on the liver and bowels, causing them to act promptly and regularly, as nature intended them to do. Thus the health of the entire system is securely and permanently safeguarded.

A MINISTER KILLED.

INSULTING CARTOON USED IN SERMON.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Dec. 6.—It developed last night that the shooting affray between Minister Wohl and Mr. Stokes here yesterday, which resulted in the death of the former, had been the outgrowth of strained relations between the two men for a week past.

Mr. Stokes, who is one of the leaders of the social set here saw a cartoon illustrating a German dance given by the Cotillion club. This Mr. Wohl had used in a sermon. The cartoon pictured a ball room scene with various paths leading downward to ruin and among places shown as a result of the dance was a notorious resort.

In some way the cartoon had come in possession of Mr. Stokes, who afterward meeting Rev. Mr. Wohl had told him if it were not for his cloth he would thrash him. Rev. Mr. Wohl retorted that Stokes need not hesitate on that account as he was ready to meet him at any time.

Late last night Mrs. Bevin was prevailed on to talk and her version of the story is as follows:

The conversation had been amicable and Mr. Stokes was about to return the caricature in his possession when Mr. Wohl remarked:

"It's a pity that cartoon is true." Stokes asked Mrs. Wohl if some of the most eminent ladies in town had not protested against the picture as being personal and false. Then it was that Wohl hurled the lie into Stokes' face.

The excitement here is intense, and is feared that others may be drawn in the quarrel and lead to a feud.
