A WONDERFUL OFFER TO WOMEN.

We have received word of a most remarkable offer which is to be made to women by The Delineator, of New York.

Taking the fact that next year begins a new century, The Delineator offers to distribute $17,500 among 1901 women. The plan is so cleverly arranged that a woman living in a small town or village, has just as good a chance to win one of these 1901 prizes as a woman living in the city—because the prizes are given for the number of subscriptions secured in a town in proportion to the population of that town, instead of being given simply to those who send the largest list of subscribers—which, of course, are most easily obtained in big cities. Another clever feature of the plan is, that all the cities and towns of the United States and Canada have been arranged in seven classes. The cities of the greatest population are grouped in Class 1, and as these cities are not very many, the prizes offered are twenty-eight; the highest prize being $500, and the lowest $50. The total amount of prizes given away in this class is $1,000. The remaining smaller towns and villages fall into six other classes, and as the number of towns in a class increases, because, of course, there are more small towns than large ones, the amount of prizes given away to a class increases, so that in Class 7, there will be $4,000 distributed among 601 winners.

Furthermore, to everyone who fails to win one of the 1901 prizes there will be paid an extra commission on subscriptions, provided they equal one out of every two hundred inhabitants of the town from which the contestant sends them.

This is altogether a very liberal offer, and one which the famous old Delineator is well able to make good. From one point of view, we do not see why such an offer needs to be made by the Publishers of The Delineator, for we believe it already has nearly half a million subscribers. Its strong hold upon the affections of American women has come in the past generation, from its practical advice about dress details and home matters.

Rev. Dr. Campbell, of Erskine Presbyterian Church, Ottawa, will hand in his resignation to the presbytery this week. There is said to have been trouble recently between Erskine and Bankstreet churches over a site from the former church, which was burned in the big fire.

DO YOU FEEL TIRED IN THE MORNING?

Does Sleep not bring Refreshment?

Do you feel wretched, mean and miserable in the mornings—as tired as when you went to bed? It's a serious condition—too serious to neglect, and unless you have the heart and nervous system strengthened and the blood enriched by

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, collapse is almost certain to ensue. Mr. Fred. H. Graham, a well-known young man of Barrie, Ont., says:—"I have had a great deal of trouble with my heart for four years. I was easily agitated and my excitement caused my heart to throb violently. I had dizziness and shortness of breath, and often arose in the mornings feeling as tired as when I went to bed. I was terribly nervous. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done wonders for me. They have restored my heart to regular healthy action, giving me back sound restful sleep, and making my nervous system strong and vigorous."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are sold a box or 3 for $1.25 at all druggists or by mail. The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

HANGED, YET ALIVE.

A BOY WHO WILL PROBABLY BE HEARD FROM LATER.

POTTSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 3.—Eleven-year-old Frank Albright, who was almost strangled by his schoolmates to illustrate a lynching, at Trace's school-house, in Upper Pottsgrove township, has nearly recovered from his experience. Beyond a slight discoloration in his neck, caused by the wire noose, he shows no trace of the realistic exhibition which nearly ended his life.

"Did you ever hang a frog?" he asked, when a reporter wanted to know how it felt to be hanged. "I did, often, and I saw him stick his tongue out and his legs kick so. I thought I would like to see how it felt, already and when Harry Gummer dared me to let him put the wire about my neck and show the others how it was done, I would not take the dare. Would you?"

"Ach! It was a bad thing to do. I saw the others look, and as the wire got under my ear I heard Harry say: 'I will show you how they hang them.' I felt as if a railroad train was coming in my head, and the noise got louder, so I thought my head would burst."

"Then it began to burn, and I tried to speak to Harry and get him to let me go, but the wire cut into my neck, and I couldn't. I wanted a drink, but couldn't ask for one. Then I thought it was nighttime, and I wanted to go home to milk the cows, but the wire burned me so I could do nothing. Ach! It was terrible!"

PERRY DAVIS'

PIONEER WOMEN OF CANADA.

The nineteen pioneer women who embarked on the shores of Massachusetts in 1620 have been celebrated ever since in romance and poetry. Twelve years earlier a banner bearing the lilies of France was planted on the headlands of Quebec. The colony, thus inaugurated, was augmented from time to time by the emigration of small groups of women from the mother country. These few heroic souls, the pioneer women of Canada, played as important a part in its growth, and are as worthy of eternal remembrance as their Anglo-Saxon sisters of New England. Yet with few exceptions, they have waited in vain for a poet to tell in immortal verse their heroic deeds, or a historian to perpetuate their fame.

Many of these pioneer women, of whom Jeanne Mance was the central figure, would even nowadays be looked upon as "emancipated" and "advanced." Yet it was nearly three centuries ago that Judith de Bresoles renounced the luxury of a wealthy and aristocratic home and devoted seven years to the study of chemistry and medicine, that she might exercise this profession among the savages of the New World; that Marguerite de Roberval, descendant for a long line of French cavaliers and noble dames, wandered alone through the haunted wastes of Demon's Isle, and kept at bay the wild beasts of the wilderness with her old French harquebus; that Marie Guyard with her few brave assistants, delicately nurtured and high-born women of France, made of themselves, in turn, mechanics, architects and farmers in their adopted land; that those dainty nurses, the hospitalières of Quebec, dyed their cherished white garments an ugly brown, that they might follow their profession the more efficiently amid the smoke and uncleanness of the squalid wigwags. "Who now will hesitate to cross over the seas," exclaims a poor missionary at sight of these courageous gentlewomen, "since delicate young women, naturally timid, set at naught the vast expanse of ocean? They who are afraid of a few flakes of snow in France, are ready to face whole acres of it here!"

The coming of these women to the New World was in great part due to the urgent cries for women's help sent over the sea by these early missionaries, who put forth many inducements for their emigration, among others the great salubrity of the Canadian climate. One of them writes that the air of New France is healthful for the body as well as for the soul, while another declares that although the cold is very wholesome for both sexes, it is especially so for the women, who are almost immortal in Canada.—From "Maids and Matrons of New France," by Mary Sifton Pepper, in the October Chautauquan.

A FAMILY NECESSITY.

Mr. J. Wright, of 126 McPherson avenue, Toronto, says:—"I am always glad to say a good word for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It has been in use in our family for two years, and we have never found it fail to cure coughs, colds and chest troubles. It is our regular stand-by." Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is a family necessity in the houses of Canada and the United States. 25 cents a bottle. Family size 60 cents.

TOO SHARP FOR HIM.

Lawyer Smart—Good morning, Mr. Gull. What can I do for you to-day?

I want to get your opinion on a matter of law.

Yes.

My hens got into my neighbour Brown's yard and he poisoned them. What I want to know is, can I recover damages?

Certainly. It was malicious mischief on his part, besides being a destruction of your property.

Thanks. But hold! I stated that wrong. It was Brown's hens got into my yard, and it was I who administered the poison.

Ah, yes; I see. That puts a different color upon the transaction, and it is clear that he, in the person of his hens, was the trespasser, whereas in leaving the poison on your premises you were quite unaware that his fowls would eat it. It was purely an accident, as far as you were concerned.

Thanks. How much?

Thirteen and fourpence.

Why, that's just twice what you asked for a legal opinion the other day.

I know it; but you see I have given you two opinions to-day.

CURSE OF CANADA.

And the Only Way in which it Can be Surely Removed.

Dyspepsia is the Curse—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the Only Cure—They are, Therefore, Canada's Greatest Blessing

What is the greatest curse of our country?

There can be only one answer to this question. There cannot be a moment's hesitation in answering it.

The answer is "Dyspepsia."

Nine tenths of the people of Canada suffer from it.

The greatest blessing a country can have is something that will remove the greatest curse.

Therefore Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are Canada's greatest blessing, for they, and they only, can cure Dyspepsia. They, and they only, can remove Canada's greatest curse.

But the claim of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets to this title rests on still stronger ground. Besides being the only medicine known that can cure Dyspepsia, they positively cure its twin evil—Indigestion, also Biliousness, Catarrh of the Stomach, Sour Stomach, and all other diseases caused by imperfect digestion.

The action of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets is simplicity itself. They remove the cause of the trouble. Then the disease must vanish. They digest the food. They must do this. They cannot help doing so any more than heat can help melting snow.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets contain the same substances that a healthy stomach supplies to digest food. When you swallow a Tablet it melts, and reduces the food to a milky liquid. This passes to other organs, which separate the useless portions from the useful parts.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets stimulate the bowels and enable them to carry off the useless, poisonous matter. Thus, the stomach and bowels working properly together, digestion becomes perfect and Dyspepsia cannot exist.
