THE WORLD OVER.

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Sevante Andersen shot and killed his wife and probably fatally wounded his mother and five year old boy at their home this morning. He then killed himself.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 10.—Edward M. Bannister, a native of St. Andrews, N. B., a famous negro artist, died suddenly of heart disease to-day. He ranked with the foremost American artists his work being on exhibition in the leading galleries, and won prizes at the Philadelphia Centennial Exhibition. He was born of West Indian parentage.

READING, Pa., Jan. 10.—Walter Steel, one of the founders of the Carpenter Steel Works, died last night after an illness of five weeks from blood poisoning and gangrene. Several months ago the large toe of Mr. Steel's left foot became inflamed as the result of irritation caused by the shoe. Mr. Steel paid little attention to it and allowed it to go far before consulting a physician.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—It is said here to-day that warrants have been issued for the arrest of four persons who are accused of swindling the colonial Insurance Company, of Jersey City, by securing insurance on the lives of persons about to die and by other methods. The four men for whom warrants were issued include a newspaper editor, the beneficiary under one policy; a medical examiner, an undertaker and a prize fighter, who acted as agent for the company.

Sir Edward Spence Symes, chief secretary to the government of Burma since 1890 and a member of the legislative council of India, shot himself in the head in a carriage at Rangoon on Wednesday and died.

PEOPLE RECOVERING

From Pneumonia, Typhoid or Scarlet Fever, Diphtheria, La Grippe or any Serious Sickness

Require the Nerve Toning, Blood Enriching, Heart Sustaining Action of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

It is well known that after any serious illness the heart and nerves are extremely weak and the blood greatly impoverished. For these conditions there is no remedy equals Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. It restores all the vital forces of the body which disease has impaired and weakened.

Mr. T. Barnicot, Aylmer, Ont., says: "About a year ago I had a severe attack of La Grippe which left my system in an exhausted condition. I could not regain strength and was very nervous and sleepless at night, and got up in the morning as tired as when I went to bed."

"I had no energy and was in a miserable state of health."

"Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I got at Richard's Drug Store here, changed me from a condition of misery to good health. They built up my system, strengthened my nerves, restored brisk circulation of my blood, and made a new man of me."

"I heartily recommend them to any one suffering from the after effects of Grippe or any other severe illness."

MARITIME PROVINCE NOTES.

Mr. E. B. Kierstead, of the firm of Gagnon Bros., St. Stephen, was fatally injured by jumping from an express train about half a mile west of McAdam Wednesday evening. He was returning from St. John where he had been with his son, a student of Acadia College. It is supposed he found himself on the wrong train, and jumped from the slowly moving train to try to catch the train for St. Stephen. Three cars passed over him. He was taken to Vancoboro where medical attendance was promptly rendered and everything possible done without avail. He died about an hour after arrival there. His left arm was cut off at the elbow and his left leg below the knee. The back was broken and the body badly crushed. He was about 45 years of age and leaves a widow and five children.

Mrs. A. N. Archibald, vice-principal of the Ladies' College at Sackville, died Wednesday morning in the city of New York. Mrs. Archibald went to that city about ten days ago, and almost immediately after her arrival was prostrated with grippe, which soon developed into pneumonia, with a fatal result.

At the residence of Mrs. R. R. Page, Wright street, St. John, Thursday morning, her daughter, Miss Effie F. Page, was united in marriage to Mr. Gordon B. Crowe, of Truro. The wedding was a very quiet one, there being no guests outside the family circle. Rev. D. J. Fraser, B. D., performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Crowe left that afternoon for Truro.

One printing house in St. John has turned out since June 1st, 1899, 500,000 tea labels for the new Tiger Ceylon Teas.

St. John Globe: Capt. Charles Babbitt left Thursday for Gagetown, having received news of the death of his only brother, Mr. Robert T. Babbitt, registrar of deeds, and one of the best known men in Queens county. Mr. Babbitt had been in failing health for some time, but was able to be about, and the news of his death was a sad shock to his brother, and will be heard of with regret by many friends all over this province. Mr. Babbitt was 69 years of age, having been born at Gagetown on Sept. 27, 1831, the son of Elkanah Babbitt and the grandson of an old loyalist. Mr. Babbitt spent his whole life, with the exception of nine years, in Gagetown. Those nine years he resided in Canning.

Wm. Gray was found dead in bed at his home on George street, Fredericton, Thursday morning. He retired last night in his usual health. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of death, though deceased was not known to have suffered previously therefrom. Mrs. Gray was at Marysville nursing a grandchild, and the discovery was made by one of the deceased's daughters. Deceased was 58 years of age, and leaves a wife, two sons and four daughters. Deceased had a brother, who died in the same way at Glassville, Carleton county, a few years ago.

TIPS ON THE MARKET.

Why One Broker Absolutely Refuses to Post His Friends.

"A tip to a friend! Not on your life!" said a veteran New Orleans broker, chatting over cigars and coffee in a restaurant last night. "I've responded on hard luck stories as often as the next fellow," he continued earnestly, "and I'll do it again, but a tip on the market—no! I wouldn't give it if I knew it was a lead pipe cinch and the other chap needed the money to buy bread. That sounds hard, and it's the result of hard experience. When I was young and green, I used to put folks next to 'good things' now and then, and there was never a case—not one—in which I didn't have a reason to curse my folly. In the first place, nobody who gets a secret of that kind is going to keep it."

"One day years ago, just to give you an illustration, a man who was an old friend of my father's and who was badly down on his luck, came to ask my private advice on a little speculative investment. I took him into my back office, swore him to secrecy and gave him a piece of information of considerable value. I instructed him exactly what to do and impressed upon him that the least leak would ruin the whole thing and incidentally destroy his own chances of making some money. I was so earnest that he got indignant and asked me if I meant to insult him by doubting his word."

"Well, inside of an hour he had told the secret, 'in strict confidence,' of course, to two particular friends, each of whom proceeded to tell it in strict confidence to other particular friends, giving me as authority all along the line, and before night it was public property. You may imagine in what sort of position I was placed. Men who had lost thousands of dollars through my indiscretion didn't feel inclined to listen to explanations, and some of them are my enemies to this day. I don't blame 'em."

"When I took my man to task, he was dumfounded. He swore by all that was holy he hadn't said a word, and when I clinched the thing with positive proof he got mad. A chap who does you an involuntary injury is always sure to hate you afterward. That's one instance out of a dozen differing slightly in detail, but all having the same moral—namely, don't give tips."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

WHEN FORT HILL WENT UP.

The Experience of a Colored Man in the Explosion.

"Speaking of comical incidents in the civil war," said Captain Oscar Ludwig, "brings to mind an incident of the blowing up of Fort Hill at Vicksburg. Fort Hill, it should be understood, was the key to the Confederate system of fortifications. Our regiment, the Twentieth Illinois, had charged up to the fort on May 22, but was ordered back on the 23d and laid siege in a regular way. In June we proceeded to dig an open tunnel toward the fort for the purpose of mining. A car loaded high with cotton bales was pushed in front to protect the diggers, and the tunnel or trench was covered as we proceeded to protect us from the Confederate fire. Finally we pushed the tunnel under the fort and made ready for exploding the mines, and our brigade made ready for the charge."

"The mines were exploded. The fort and all the men in it seemed to go into the air, and the Twentieth Illinois and other regiments rushed into the gap. As we climbed over the broken embankment three men who had been blown up with the fort came down. Two of these were white men, and they were dead. The other, a colored man, came down with a mass of debris, but he was living. When the boys dug him out, they asked him how in the world he came to be in the fort. The frightened dandy explained that he was the servant of one of the leading officers and that he had just carried to his master his dinner when the explosion came."

"He went on to say: 'Dat is so for a fact. I came in just in time to be blowed up. I was standin by de side of de captain, when there came a roarin an tremblin, an I felt myself goin up. In a little while I started down, an I met de captain comin up, but we didn't speak. He was goin up head fust an I was comin down head fust. I struck mighty hard, but here I is, thank de Lord an de Yankees!' I suppose that if any one would ask that dandy to describe the siege of Vicksburg he would tell of his own mishap at the blowing up of Fort Hill."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

A Persian Soldier's Conundrum.

The Rev. Samuel Graham Wilson, M. A., author of "Persian Life and Customs," is a missionary who has lived in the land he writes about for more than 30 years. To show that the Persian peasant is not devoid of humor, the doctor tells the following experience:

"A soldier was an attaché of a royal household, and, besides soldiering, he had to write poems and tell conundrums and improvise puzzles. One day, after not having been paid for either military or other duties, he said to his master:

"I have a conundrum, your excellency."

"What is it?"

"Tell me what it is which has a name but no existence?"

"The master thought for some time and then exclaimed: 'I give it up. Now tell me the answer.'"

"My salary," the peasant groaned, dropping on his knees for darning to be so bold."—Saturday Evening Post.

Sheep as Beasts of Burden.

In the northern part of India sheep are put to a use unthought of in European or American countries. They are made to serve as beasts of burden. The mountain paths along the foothills of the Himalayas are so precipitous that the sheep, more surefooted than larger beasts, are preferred as burden carriers. The load for each sheep is from 16 to 20 pounds. The sheep are driven from village to village, with the wool still growing, and in each town the farmer shears as much wool as he can sell there and loads the sheep with the grain which he receives in exchange. After his flock has been sheared he turns it homeward, each sheep having on its back a small bag containing the purchased grain.

When the Band Doesn't Play On.

One of the queer things of a great procession is that the band always ceases to play just before it passes you, no matter what your location may be.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

A woman who has spent a good deal of time in Japan says that she has often kept cut flowers for an abnormally long period by burning their stems with a piece of wood.

GRAND ANSE, GLOUCESTER CO.

JAN. 5, 1901.—We have had a pleasant Christmas. Hoping all the readers of THE REVIEW have enjoyed the holidays. Here the weather was mild and the roads good. Almost every one was out driving in the afternoon and evening. There was a very large attendance at church in the forenoon and evening. Mass was celebrated in the Roman Catholic church at midnight New Year's eve. The night was fine, there was a large congregation. The superior of the Caraqueu college preached an eloquent sermon. A snow storm and a northwest blow set in New Year's morning causing the day to pass quietly.

The smallpox epidemic in this vicinity is, I think, over. Dr. Meahan, chairman of the board of health, deserves much credit for having rid us of this loathsome contagious disease so quickly.

The Caraqueu Ry. Co. are putting up snow fences along the line. It is hoped they will be able to keep the train running all winter.

McKenzie Sullivan Co. shipped two cars of sea grass from here last week. This is a new industry here. We hope it will be a successful one, as it will bring money to the country and give employment to a number in Mizonette during the summer.

W. F. Sullivan intends leaving for British Columbia shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sullivan gave a delightful social party Wednesday evening, Jan. 2nd, at their home, Waterloo, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Landry and their two little girls, of Bathurst, N. B., who are spending the holidays there, the old home of Mrs. Landry. Among the guests were Daniel Murphy, of Oregon U. S. A., Miss Nellie Murphy, of Boston, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sullivan, and nearly all the young people of Waterloo. A pleasant time was spent in dancing, songs, recitations, and parlor games, which were kept up until near morning. Refreshments were served during the night. All say they had a good time.

Jos. A. Salter, son of John Salter, Pokeshaw, arrived home from Normal School, Fredericton, to spend the holidays.

Michael Murphy and Joseph Sullivan drove to Bathurst and returned with two fine new driving rigs this week, purchased from A. J. W. McKensie, the well known agent for agricultural implements.

Smelts are reported more plentiful than former years. Some of the most successful ones are Israel Theriault and D. McIntosh.

Eliza and Jos. Sullivan were visiting at Murphy's Friday evening. There seems to be an attraction there.

Ambrose Cormier is working for F. Coughlan this week, finishing the interior of his dwelling house.

Catarrah Assurance.

That's what you want. This is how you get it. Snuffs won't give it to you, neither will ointments or washes, they simply reach the door of the disease. Catarrhozone unlike all these reaches the very root, and the branches cannot escape its power. It is bound to cure for it is carried by the air you breathe; now isn't this common sense. Here's proof for you: Mr. C. M. Raney writes Sept. 1900: "I feel assured there is only one treatment for Catarrh and that is Catarrhozone." Catarrhozone is pleasant—acts quickly—cures absolutely—money back if you don't find it so. Druggists sell it at $1.00 or direct by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., Hartford, Conn.

James A. Hovey died at Gibson Wednesday after a protracted illness in his 42nd year. Deceased was employed for several years at the Marysville cotton factory.

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation, strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is.
