MARITIME PROVINCE NOTES.

Moncton Times: A number of ambitious young men in an uptown boarding house on New Year's eve formed what they have been pleased to term a "Twentieth Century Whisker Development Club." The principal aim and object of the club is to assist the members to grow a beard, and a resolution was unanimously concurred in forbidding members shaving for the space of three months at least. Any violation of the solemn compact within a month will cost the transgressor one dollar. The fund likely to be created through fines, it is understood, is to be devoted to scientific research in the interests of bald-headed men. At last accounts the club was still in existence, though several of the members had arrived at that critical stage where it was to be, or not to be, whiskers.

Chatham World, Jan. 2: Mr. Webber, the genial and irrepressible manager of the Boston Comedy Company, has had a streak of hard luck that would have knocked any other manager out. His leading man was taken ill on the stage and died suddenly on Thursday, Mrs. Webber was called to Augusta, Me., Monday morning, by the death of her father, and the Board of Health's mandate forced him to refrain from playing Monday and Tuesday evenings. He had spent considerable in preparations for playing in Newcastle and Millerton, and had to give up both engagements. He left for Campbellton Tuesday afternoon, having arranged by telegraph to play there.

A man named Collins, who was among the jail inmates released on New Year's eve, at St. John, did not appreciate freedom. He applied to get back and finally assaulted Sergt. Hipwell, who took him in charge. This is a case in which the lash might be applied, as the public should not be taxed to support able bodied vagrants.

An explosion of dynamite took place at Glace Bay about 9 a. m. last Wednesday in No. 2 shaft of the Dominion Colliery. Four or five men are badly injured, but none have died so far.

While George Moffat was unloading some horses at Dalhousie Wednesday morning, which he bought in Montreal, three of them escaped and ran out on the ice. Thomas Cumming, Wm. Montgomery, jr., and James Wallace started after them. About three miles from shore the horses went through the ice. The three men while trying to take the horses out went into the water with them. George Moffat, his son and Charles Powell started with horse and sleigh to give assistance. When about half way out Moffat and son with horse and sleigh went through the ice. Powell, after great difficulty, got them out. All were saved except one horse. It is almost miraculous how the men escaped from drowning.

St. John Star: It is stated that the Manhattan Steamship company of New York, with a capital of $1,200,000, will,

A. & R. LOGGIE

In March, place two first-class passenger and freight boats on the route between that city and St. John, calling at Bar Harbor, Eastport and Calais. Captain Fleming will be the local agent. Some of the stock is held in St. John and Halifax. The same company will operate a line from New York to Portland, one to Bangor, and one to Yarmouth, Halifax, Cape Breton and Charlottetown. J. Bernard Brown, representing the company, is now in the city. This is not the old Manhattan Steamship company.

Robert Morison has been appointed stipendiary magistrate in room of the late George H. Wallace of Sussex. Mr. Morison is a well known Sussex barrister, and has been mentioned in connection with several local government appointments in the last year or two.

Prof. Frank Whetsel, St. John's banjo virtuoso, is making a name for himself in England and Europe generally. At present he is playing in St. James Hall, London, where his interpretations of the best masters is gaining for him great praise from the critics. He is besieged with engagements, and financially is meeting with success commensurate with his popularity. Mrs. Whetsel is with her husband.

The St. John Star says: Indications are that during the coming spring the supply of hay in Prince Edward Island will be limited to some extent. Retail dealers are paying $12 for pressed hay at the present time. The retail price is 55 cents per hundred.

St. John Globe: The nurses engaged in the local nursing work of the Victorian order have each received a very kind letter from Lady Minto, wishing them every success and speaking most highly of the practical benefit of their labors and of their faithful service. The letters were accompanied by portraits of Lady Minto very prettily framed. The nurses are delighted and encouraged by the kindly remembrance of Lady Minto.

The funeral of Dr. Farrell took place Thursday morning after Requiem Mass at St. Mary's Cathedral, Halifax. The cortege was a very long one and was made up of all classes of citizens Archbishop O'Brien and all the Catholic clergy of the city took part in the service at the Cathedral.

The body of the late Mrs. Martha Jane Moore, which came to St. John from the West Thursday, was interred from the Union depot at eleven o'clock on Friday morning. Mrs. Moore, before she became Mrs. Moore, was the widow of Mr. Corneille Spence, who died in St. John a great many years ago. Mr. Spence died about 1880 and his body was buried in St. John. Mr. Moore died some time ago. It was the wish of the widow to be brought to St. John and buried alongside of her first husband, a wish which her friends complied.

At the Circuit Court at St. John Thursday morning, the grand jury returned a true bill against Michael Collins. There were three counts in the indictment against him, the first being for assault with intent to kill Sergeant Hipwell. The prisoner on his arraignment appeared in court without any coat, and looked generally as if he had been against a cyclone. He pleaded guilty to the charge and said he was sorry for what he had done. A letter was read from Dr. James Christie, who stated he considered the man insane. Chief Justice Tuck said as Collins pleaded guilty there was nothing for him to do but sentence him. If he or his friends thought the asylum was the proper place for him representations to that effect could be made to the Governor General. He then sentenced Collins to the penitentiary for two years.

In the person of Mr. James Ross, St. Martins, New Brunswick, has a grand old man who has lived in three centuries. Mr. Ross is now well on to 111 years old, having been born at Port Mahalmack, Farbeach, Ross-shire, Scotland, on June 18, 1790. He was a blue-jacket in the English navy when the battle of Waterloo was fought and has resided for more than eighty years in the province. Two sons and a daughter also live in St. Martins. Mr. Ross is in good health and retains all his faculties.—St. John Globe.

The funeral of Mrs. Harry Cameron, whose death occurred in the hospital at Lynn, Mass., on Dec. 31st, took place from her late residence, Sunny Brae, Wednesday afternoon and was largely attended. There were many beautiful floral tributes, including a pillow from the Lynn City Hospital nurses. The services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. R. S. Crisp.—Moncton Transcript.

Mr. Joseph Salter, a former well known and prominent citizen of Moncton, passed away at his home in North Sydney on New Year's day.

Moncton Times: There appears to be an impression in some quarters that cases of smallpox exist at Shediac. This is an erroneous impression. There is no smallpox within fourteen miles of Shediac and the place is as much isolated from the infect districts as any other place. About eight miles down the Cape Bauld road a barrier has been placed across the road and men are kept on guard night and day to prevent communication with the eastern end of the county.

Rev. G. O. Gates, D. D., and family have taken their departure from St. John for their new home in Windsor, N. S. They will spend a few days in Truro on their way, visiting relatives of Mrs. Gates. A large number of the congregation of Germain Street Baptist Church accompanied their departing pastor to the train on Wednesday.

Five more cases of smallpox are reported in Northumberland. Two at Derby, two at Newcastle and one at a point below Rosebank. Proper precautions are being taken to prevent the spread of the disease, but a fear now exists that it will break out in other parts of Northumberland.

Mr. James J. Wallis, foreman of the Yarmouth Times office, was married at Salisbury on Wednesday last to Miss Harriette L., third daughter of the late William McNaughton. The ceremony was performed at 5 p. m. in the presence of about 30 guests. The house was nicely decorated and the bride was dressed in white crepe de chene, trimmed with satin. Rev. C. H. Manston was the officiating clergyman and the large number of handsome presents testified to the popularity of the bride.

The remains of Mrs. William Yeats, who died at her home, Upper Dorchester, Thursday morning, were buried Friday afternoon. Rev. B. H. Thomas conducted the services. She was 80 years of age and leaves a husband and no children.

Expressions of deep regret were heard on every hand at Salisbury, West. Co., on Thursday morning when the sad intelligence reached there that Mr. C. S. Bulmer, had died the evening before at Albuquerque, New Mexico. Mr. Bulmer, of Boston, went to New Mexico a few weeks ago where it was hoped the change of climate might repair his broken health. But the worst fears of his many friends were realized when the wires conveyed the sad news of his death. Mr. Bulmer was a member of Court Salisbury, I. O. F. He was a son of Mr. Geo. Bulmer, of Westmorland Point, N. B., was about thirty years of age and married, his wife being a daughter of James S. Sutherland, Station Agent at Aulac, who survives him. The other surviving members of the family are his brother Walter who resides on the homestead at Westmorland, James H., traveller for Messrs. Cummings & Co., Truro, and Arthur, who accompanied him to New Mexico and who will bring the body home for burial.

The St. John Sun says:—It is stated on good authority that the wrecking concern which contracted to float the sch. Sarah Potter, ashore near Salem, have already destroyed $2,000 worth of gear in their efforts to pull the vessel off.

The very valuable blood mare Passaic Maid, 2 31, owned by J. R. Lamy, of Wilkowside Farm, Amherst, died Wednesday night, aged thirty years. She was purchased by her present owner in 1880 from S. T. Golding, of St. John. She was by Aberdeen, dam May-by-Jebou. She was the mother of Minota, 2.19, by Sir Nutwood.

The Cathedral at Fredericton was damaged by fire Friday morning. The alarm was sounded at eleven o'clock. The fire started in the basement beneath the chancel and it was difficult to exactly locate it by the firemen. The fire burned two hours, destroying the floor of the chancel. The damage is probably over a thousand dollars.

St. John Globe: Messrs. Vanwart Bros. have been fined $200 by the Customs authorities for shipping deer meat to the United States as rabbits.

Senator King, of St. John, had a conference with Premier Tweedie and Surveyor General Dunn on Friday, and asked that the Provincial government interest itself in the development of the Queens county coal fields. One great need is the extension of the Central Railway. The members of the government promised to present the matter to their colleagues.

The will of the late Dr. Farrell, of Halifax, was filed Friday. An annuity is provided for his widow, securing to her $500 every year of her life. The executors are instructed to divide the residue of the estate equally among the four daughters of the deceased. The executors appointed under the will are his son, Dr. E. D. Farrell, and Hon. L. G. Power and W. B. Wallace. The will was executed on the 16th of Dec., 1900. The estate is valued at about $55,000, and consists of life insurance policies and bank stocks and securities, as well as some real estate.

Dr. Mitchell, who has resigned the position of surgeon at the Dorchester Penitentiary, has been presented with a beautifully engraved gold cane by the wives of the officers of that institution, accompanied with an appropriate address signed by thirty-one ladies. The Dr.'s resignation took effect the first of the year.

With the new year some changes were made in the staff of the Charlottetown Examiner, which should improve that already excellent publication. Mr. Archibald Irwin, the business manager, will hereafter be associated with Mr. Cotton-Editor, and will devote his time and talent more especially to the news department. Mr. McInnis, city editor, will retain his present position. F. C. Cotton, son of the Editor, becomes business manager.

WAVES ROLLING MOUNTAIN HIGH.

THE GREAT STORM OF THE PACIFIC COAST CAUSES SERIOUS DAMAGE.

SAN FRAN., Jan. 4.—From reports received here the gale which struck this city last night seems to be raging not only in the southern coast but all along the line from Santa Cruz to Cape Flattery. The waves are rolling mountains high at Fort Ross. Old timers report by telephone that it is the worst storm ever known in that locality.

The bay on the Oakland side was so rough that the ferry steamer Newark was withdrawn from service and the freight boat Eden turned back to port. Crafts on the water front had numerous narrow escapes. At the Cliff house the wind blew at the rate of 60 miles an hour and the waves broke over the roadway. A number of windows in the Cliff house were broken and the entire structure seemed threatened with collapse.

Trees and advertising fences were torn down by the wind and several pedestrians were injured, one woman being rendered unconscious by being blown against trees and telephone poles. YREKA, Ore., Jan. 4.—Snow to the depth of 72 inches has fallen since Thursday and the storm has not ceased. Buildings have collapsed under the tremendous weight. North and south bound trains, engines and snow plows are snowed in at different points in the country on the line of the railway. The fort Jones and Etna stage has been out since yesterday trying to cover a distance of 18 miles. It is feared that the passengers and driver are helpless in the Scott valley.

Two hundred and fifty-five excursionists from Otis county and as many from Southern Oregon and other points are in San Francisco unable to return on account of the blockade.

RENO, Jan. 4.—Much damage was done here and in this vicinity by last night's wind storm. A south bound passenger train on the Nevada, Cali., and Ore. railway was struck by the gale at Doxles, forty miles north of Reno, and was hurled from the rails. Four passengers and three trainmen were hurt. R. W. Perry's livery stable, a three story brick building and one of the largest in town was demolished. Mr. and Mrs. Perry and their three children were buried in the debris but almost miraculously escaped serious injury. Other buildings sustained lesser damage.
