THE SLANDERER.

The slanderer is a pest, a disgrace, an incubus to society, that should be subjected to a slow cauterization, and then be topped off like a disagreeable excrescence. Like the viper, he leaves a shining trail in his wake. Like a tarantula, he weaves a thread of exordium with a web of wiles, or with all the kind mendacity of hints, whispers forth his tale, that "like the fabled Nile, no fountain knows."

Ah, me! a quick and eager ear Caught up the little meaning sound; Another voice that breathed it clear, And so it wandered round, From ear to lip, from lip to ear, Until it reached a gentle heart, And that—it broke!

WHY CROUP IS FATAL.

When croup attacks your child you must be ready for it. It comes as an accompaniment to an ordinary cough, or it may attack without warning. All ills of children develop quickly, and when any kind of cough appears there should be something at hand to stop it with promptness. Many a child has choked to death with croup because the right remedy was not convenient. Everyone should know that the right safeguard for a child's cough or any cough is Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam.

ADVERTISE.

"Pardon me," began the visitor who was anxious to have a few words with the Great man. "I wish to ask you what is the best way for me to secure an audience—" "Hire a hall," replied the Great Man's secretary, "and advertise judiciously."—Philadelphia Press.

NEARLY EIGHT FEET AND GROWING STILL.

Though a mere youth of 20, Edward Baupre, a French-Canadian, who visited Boston yesterday, says the Boston Globe, feels that he is big enough to make his own way in the world.

Considering that he stands 7 feet 9 1/2 inches high, not measuring his shoes or hat, he would appear to be right in his opinion. Mr. Baupre is something of a traveler, and wherever he goes he is regarded with deep interest by everybody who sees him.

While in the editorial rooms of the Globe, the young giant was viewed by a number of persons, all of whom agreed that he was the biggest man they had ever seen.

Baupre is an amiable giant, and talks interestingly about himself, both in French and English. He was born Jan. 8, 1881, just over the Montana border from Canada. His parent's home is in Montreal.

Baupre has very large hands and feet. He wears number 21 shoes, a 9 1/8 hat, and a 21 collar. His hands are 11 inches long, and his feet 17 inches.

Mr. Baupre is in excellent health and eats five or six square meals a day. His preference is for a good French meal, with soup, fish, entree, roast, salad, cheese and coffee, washed down with red wine or beer though he does not drink a great deal.

He can get along with four meals a day but feels better with six. He eats about as much at each meal as an ordinary man. He sleeps well, feels first rate, he says, and is strong. He experiences no difficulty in lifting a 1,000-pound horse under one arm, as a child would take up a kitten, and he can lift as many men at once as he can get a good hold on.

Mr. Baupre is single, and is looking for a bride. Any likely girl standing upward of 7 feet would do well to communicate with him. He means business, as he intends to go to France as soon as he secures the promise of some fair one to enter for the $20,000 prize left recently in the will of a French nobleman to the finest pair of giants married in France each year.

Mr. Baupre has many letters from doctors who have examined him and pronounce him the finest specimen of physical manhood they have ever seen.

A NERVOUS WRECK

WAS THE CONDITION OF MISS GILLIS FOR EIGHT YEARS.

The Best Doctors' and Hospital Treatment Failed to Help Her, and She Had Almost Lost Hope of Ever Being Well Again—Her Earnest Advice to Other Sufferers

One of the most common, at the same time one of the most to be dreaded, ailments which afflicts the people of this country is nervous debility. The causes leading to the trouble are various, overwork or worry being among the most prominent. But whatever the cause, the affliction is one that makes life a burden.

Such a sufferer for years was Miss Margaret Gillis, of Whim Road Cross, P. E. I. Her life was one of almost incessant misery, and she had come to look upon her condition as incurable, when Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were brought to her notice, and to this life-giving, nerve restoring medicine, she now owes health and happiness.

For the past eight years my life has been one of constant misery. My nervous system was shattered, and I was reduced to a mere physical wreck. My trouble began in one of the ailments that so frequently afflict my sex.

For seven years I was under treatment by doctors. I even went to Boston and entered a hospital where I remained for some time. While there the treatment temporarily benefited me, but soon my condition was worse than ever.

My nervous trouble took the form of spasms which caused more suffering than words can tell. When thus attacked I felt as though I was literally being torn apart. I would frequently become unconscious and sometimes would remain in that condition for half an hour.

I have sometimes had as many as six of these spasms in a week, and no one who has not similarly suffered can imagine the tired, worn-out, depressed feeling which followed. Doctors seemed utterly unable to do anything for me, and those years of misery can never be forgotten.

In thousands and thousands of cases it has been proved that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest blood builder and nerve restorer medical science has yet discovered. The pills act speedily and directly upon the blood and the nerves and thus reach the root of the trouble, effecting thorough and permanent cures.

Tea blended and packed in St. John, is now sold largely in Ontario. To cure Headache in ten minutes use Kumfort Headache Powders.

RUN DOWN.

"I was run down and nervous, so got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and they proved of great benefit to me. My mother also wishes to say that they were of great value to her."—P. HILLIER, London.
