BURNED AT THE STAKE.

CORSICANA, Tex., March 14.—John Henderson, the negro who brutally outraged and murdered Mrs. Conway Younger, was burned at the stake by a mob in the court house yard shortly before noon to-day, in the presence of 4,000 persons. Henderson was arrested several days ago and placed in jail at Waco, Tex. Later the negro was spirited away to Hillsboro. Last night the officers, fearing mob violence, quietly arranged to take the prisoner to Fort Worth, and at 9 o'clock they boarded a train. At Itasca a dozen citizens from Corsicana entered the car where the officers and their prisoner were seated and at the point of revolvers took the negro, and in a short time were on their way overland to Corsicana. Henderson reached here early this morning, and when he learned that he was to be executed by a mob made a full confession. He told how Mrs. Younger had bravely resisted the assault, and how in his frenzy he had butchered her before the eyes of her little girl.

Thousands of people poured into the city, and at 10.30 o'clock the streets were swarming. A railroad rail was sunk in the ground in the middle of the court house yard, and the shivering wretch, heavily chained, was brought forward, followed by a crowd of 4,000 people. The negro was chained to the iron stake, heaps of wood were piled about him, and then quantities of kerosene were poured on his clothing. Just as the torches were being applied Conway Younger, the husband of his victim, jumped at Henderson and attempted to cut his throat with a large knife, but only slashed the negro's face. Henderson's struggles were fearful, but his screams were drowned by the yells of the frenzied mob. After ten minutes in the roaring flames Henderson's head dropped forward, his struggles ceased and he was to all appearances dead. In a few minutes the crowd dispersed and quiet was restored.

Justice J. H. Roberts held an inquest over the remains of Henderson and gave the following verdict: "I find that the deceased came to his death at the hands of the incensed and outraged feelings of the best people in the United States, the citizens of Navarre and adjoining counties. The evidence, as well as the confession of guilt by deceased, shows that his punishment was fully merited and commendable."

AN HONORABLE MEDICINE

That appeals to the best judgement of the best people is Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills, the greatest prescription of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous Receipt Book author. By acting directly and specifically on the liver, kidneys and bowels, this popular family medicine thoroughly cures liver complaint, biliousness, kidney disease, constipation and the accompanying pains and aches. Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills act promptly, pleasantly and naturally. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

The St. John Gazette says: "Mrs. Emery, of Melrose, Mass., who has been previously mentioned in the Gazette as having had much suspicion of murder and foul play at her former home, Apohiqui, Kings Co., is in town. She called at the Mayor's office this morning and explained the situation fully to Mr. Clarence Ward, Mayor's clerk. Her distressing query is, 'Where is Bart Cleveland? There are his clothes but where is Bart?' In communication received by the Mayor a short time ago the woman asserts that Cleveland who formerly lived on Exmouth street, started an expedition up country to make some inquiries from Mrs. Emery regarding certain relatives. The missing party, after a bloody contest, with a boy and girl who were in love with each other, was supposed to have been vanquished and buried without ceremony. The St. John man, as the story goes, never appeared again after his first venture. Mrs. Emery draws a tragic picture of what she saw in Apohiqui during a recent visit there and freely expresses the belief that there has been 'murder' in the most blood curdling shape. The civic officials referred the woman to Chief of Police Clark. The chief assured her that she would be protected in a visit to her home, mentioning the name of Constable McLeod, of Sussex. Previous enquiries by the police have elicited no information relating to Cleveland's disappearance."

The Advantage in Gambling.

"In all gambling games," said an old time sport, "there is a percentage in favor of the 'house.' Anybody, except a born fool, knows that a man couldn't afford to equip an establishment, hire help, pay rent and defray all the hundred and one incidental expenses unless he derived a profit that was based on some fixed principle and not dependent on mere luck or chance. Just where the profit comes in, however, is something that very few people understand. Most of them imagine it is derived from some slight advantage in the arrangement of the game, such as the 'zero' numbers in roulette or the 'splits' in faro, but they are very much mistaken. It really depends on a principle that applies to all games alike and might be termed the 'percentage of capital.'"

"Strange as it may seem, I could take a capital of $1,000 and begin pitching nickels, in which the chances are perfectly even, letting the players guess either way they wanted to, and I would make a steady profit day in and day out. The secret is this: The average player has only a limited amount of money, and a slight run of bad luck wipes him out. He is obliged to quit, and somebody else takes his place, while the house keeps right on through good luck and bad, continually swelling its reserve with the cash of the broken players. That principle of the percentage of capital is at the bottom of the profits of every gambling house in the world from Monaco to Long Branch."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

He Scored on Lincoln.

In 1858 Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas had a joint debate on the college grounds of Knox college, Galesburg. It was a great meeting, and I shall never forget the tremendous enthusiasm that was manifested by the respective partisans of each of these great men. Mr. Douglas had the opening and conclusion, and he got in one shot on Mr. Lincoln that was so pat that even the adherents of that gentleman had to join in the laughter.

Mr. Lincoln, in the course of his remarks, twitted his opponent with making only one speech—a set oration which he delivered to each new audience, the suggestion being that he was incapable of changing his stock address.

In reply Mr. Douglas said that he admitted the charge, and conceded that his rival knew in advance what he was going to say. He wished that he could foretell with the same exactness what Mr. Lincoln was going to say, but alas! that was impossible, since he changed his argument to suit his audiences, making a fierce abolition talk in communities where that sentiment was strongly entertained, as at Galesburg, but in southern Illinois ignoring abolition and standing up squarely as an old time Whig.

A Good Natured Dog.

A very ordinary looking farm horse harnessed to an old wagon stood by the curb, and on the board that served for a seat lay a small dog of such mixed blood that no guess could be made as to his breed.

As a delivery wagon passed on the opposite side of the street a large red apple fell off. Before it stopped rolling the dog bounded across the street, picked it up with his teeth and with tail wagging rushed back to the horse, in front of which he stood up on his hind legs while the apple was taken from his mouth.

As the horse munched the apple he made the peculiar little noise that horses make when petted, and doggie replied with throaty little barks which plainly told what a pleasure it had been to go after that apple. Then he went back to his nap on the wagon seat.—Burlington Free Press.

How It Happened.

"Poor fellow! I fear he was badly hurt."

"He was."

"Well, I suppose he carried some accident insurance?"

"Not a bit of it. He wanted to take out a policy, but in view of his business the companies declined on the ground that he was an extra hazardous risk."

"What was his business?"

"He was a canvasser for an accident insurance company."—Chicago Post.

Death and the Doctor.

Death and the doctor met at the door.

"Well, I've got him!" exclaimed Death banteringly.

The doctor was furious, of course.

"Oh, yes," he cried, with much heat, "but you didn't dare make a square issue of it and get him with the disease I was treating him for!"

Hereupon Death laughed affectedly, saying nothing.—Detroit Journal.

Compliments.

"How, for instance," asked the inquisitive boarder, "would you define a compliment?"

"In love's warfare," replied the dictatorial boarder, "a compliment is a skirmisher sent out for the purpose of bringing on an engagement."—Chicago Tribune.

The Oldest Tree.

The oldest tree on earth with an authenticated history is the great baobab tree of Burma. For 20 centuries it has been held sacred to the Buddha, and no person is allowed to touch the trunk. When the leaves fall, they are carried away as relics by pilgrims.

Lovely Hands.

Lovely hands are more uncommon than pretty faces, yet a little silver sand, a deep basin, a stiff nailbrush, good soap and two good little implements (file and orangewood sticks) will transform ugliness to lasting beauty in a month.

A Terrible Cough.

If people would only treat coughs and colds in time with Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, there would be fewer homes desolate.

The severest coughs and colds, bronchitis and croup, and the first stages of consumption yield readily to this powerful, lung-healing remedy.

Read what Mrs. Thos. Carter, Northport, Ont., says: "I caught a severe cold, which settled on my throat and lungs, so that I could scarcely speak above a whisper. I also had a terrible cough which my friends thought would send me to my grave. I tried different remedies but all failed to do me any good until I took Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and the contents of one bottle completely cured me."

IN THE DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE HON. THE MINISTER OF FINANCE MAKES BUDGET SPEECH

OTTAWA, March 15.—The budget speech by Hon. Mr. Fielding in the house of commons yesterday, was one of the best financial statements ever made in the Canadian parliament. That it was probably the shortest budget speech ever delivered made it all the better. It was what a budget speech ought to be, a presentation of the financial position of the country and not filled with tables and statistics gathered from all the blue books as has been customary in the past. With but one or two sentences of introduction, the finance minister went right into his subject and stuck to it until the end. It took him only one hour and a half to do this.

Mr. Fielding promises a surplus of $6,350,000 for the current year and although he did not say what the surplus of the next year ending June 30, 1902, will be, he points out that the crest of the wave of prosperity has been reached for the present, that no increase in revenue may be looked for and that there will be very considerable expenditures required to pay the bounties on steel and iron.

Owing to the extraordinary development of this industry, it is expected that it will require over a million dollars during the next year to meet the bounties. There was no tariff change of any consequence to announce, the only one being that machinery for the manufacture of beet root sugar, now admitted free if the article is not manufactured in Canada, will in future be manufactured here or not.

The galleries of the house were well filled while the minister of finance spoke.

Mr. E. B. Olser who replied, rose at 4.45 p. m. and concluded at 5.25 when it was called six o'clock. The fact that the budget speech and the reply to it, and still an hour to spare were made during an afternoon sitting of the house is something unparalleled in the history of the Canadian Parliament.

The following table shows the present condition of Canada's finances and is conclusive of the prosperity of the country.

Estimated Revenue	1900-1901.....$ 52,750,000
Estimated Expenditure	1900-1901.....46,400,000
Estimated Surplus	1900-1901.....6,350,000
I. C. R. Revenue, 1896.....	2,957,644
I. C. R. Revenue, last year.....	4,552,071
Canada's Export's increase in four Liberal years.....	155,695,213
Total Trade Canada, 1899-1900.....	$381,517,236

The first trial of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will satisfy anyone that the lung healing virtue of the pine tree has now been refined into an effective and convenient cough medicine. Sold by all dealers on a guarantee of satisfaction. Price 25 cents.

"A friend came to me once," says Jas. Whitcomb Riley, "completely heartbroken, saying that his manuscripts were constantly returned, and that he was the most miserable wretch alive. I asked him how long he had been trying. 'Three years,' he said. 'My dear man,' I answered laughing, 'go on, keep on trying till you have spent as many years at it as I did.' 'As many as you did,' he exclaimed. 'Yes, as long as I did.' 'What—you—James Whitcomb Riley—struggled for years!' 'Yes, sir, through years, through sleepless nights, through almost hopeless days. For twenty years I tried to get into one magazine; back came my manuscripts eternally. I kept on. In the twentieth year, that magazine accepted one of my articles. I was not a believer in the theory that one man does a thing much easier than any other man. Continuous, unflagging effort, persistence and determination will win. Let not the man be discouraged who has these.'"

DOMINION NEWS.

QUEBEC, March 14.—About eleven o'clock on Friday night the helpless form of a young man named Paradis was carried out of the woods to his home at Lorette, near this city. It appears that he had gone to the bush to cut firewood, intending to return home at nightfall. But as the night wore on without his putting in an appearance, his relatives and neighbors grew alarmed, and a search party was sent after him to the woods, where he was found, partly buried in the snow, and pinned down by a heavy tree which had fallen upon him, but he was still alive, with both hands badly frozen and the flesh torn from one of his shoulders, where he had been struck by the falling tree. He was also suffering from severe internal injuries. How long he had lain in the terrible position in which he was found he could not say, but it must have been at least some hours, and his sufferings under the circumstances can be better imagined than described.

TORONTO, March 14.—The soap manufacturers of Canada are agitating for a discontinuance of the premium method of advertising. They agree that it does not pay, and their conclusion to do away with the system is meeting, it is claimed, with the support of the storekeepers, who are put to a large amount of trouble and inconvenience by the present conditions. The soap men are earnest in their endeavor and it is probable that a meeting will be held at an early date which will be attended by representatives of the soap factories of Montreal, Toronto, Woodstock, London, Hamilton and St. Stephen, N. B. The latter firm has taken the initiative in abolishing premiums, and this will doubtless be followed by most of the other firms.

A prominent soap manufacturer recently said that the premium idea had assumed such dimensions that it put the soap business almost entirely in the shade and that it took a bigger staff to look after the premiums than it did to attend to the sale of the soap. He thought that all the companies were going through the same experience, and there is a wide-felt want to drop the present arrangements which are made as the reward for collection of soap wrappers.

OTTAWA, March 14.—Frederick Tennyson Congdon, barrister, Halifax has been appointed to the position of legal adviser to the council of the Yukon Territory in the place of William P. P. Clement, formerly of Toronto. Mr. Congdon will have a salary of $5,000 per year. He has also been appointed a member of the Yukon council.

MONTREAL, March 15.—The Canadian Pacific train for Toronto which left here at nine last night ran off the track at St. Polycarp Junction. Lunsden, the engineer was the only one injured. It is thought he will die. He was brought into Montreal general hospital at ten o'clock this morning.

MONTREAL, March 16.—Two men among those employed by Ames, Holden & Co., to replace their striking lasters, were murderously assaulted yesterday on leaving the building by two strikers, who hurled iron lasts at them. One of the men was struck on the head and is lying in the general hospital dangerously, if not fatally injured, while the other escaped with slighter injury. The men who made the assault made their escape, but their arrest is likely.

MONTREAL, March 16.—Montreal was again visited by a most disastrous fire this morning, when Leeming, Miles & Co., wholesale druggist, and Hudson & Hebert & Co., wholesale grocers, at the corner of St. Sulpice and Debresoles streets, were burnt out. The loss is estimated at $600,000. The premises were insured. Amédée Dumas a fireman, was crushed beneath falling walls and died on the way to the hospital. The fire started at 5 o'clock this morning and is still burning fiercely, although under control. An explosion among the burning drugs was the cause of the fireman's death as it blew down the wall before he could make his escape. Mr. Miles, of Leeming, Miles & Co., is absent in New York.

A TONIC FOR MOTHERS.

The happiness that comes to a home with baby's advent is too frequently shadowed by the ill-health or weakness of the mother. To restore the mother's strength, to bring back vigor and energy, and to sustain her during the nursing period, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is undoubtedly the most effective preparation obtainable. It makes the blood rich, revitalizes the nerves and has a wonderful restorative influence on the whole system. 50c cents a box, all dealers.

"Do you think the face an index to the mind?" asked the prosy boarder.

"Well," said the savage boarder, "when a woman makes up her mind that she has lived single too long she is apt to make up her face."

Paine's Celery Compound

IS ABLE TO RESCUE AND SAVE

THOUGH DISEASE AND SUFFERING MAY BE DRAGGING YOU DOWN TO THE GRAVE.

While Paine's Celery Compound with promptness and certainty cures the ordinary ills of life that people suffer from in spring time, its medicinal virtues and powers are far-reaching enough to banish disease and suffering even after the sufferer has been pronounced incurable by his or her physician.

Paine's Celery Compound has, according to the honest testimony given by hundreds of well known Canadian people, dragged them from certain death at the eleventh hour, and blessed them with a new lease of life. Mrs. Louisa Warner, of Montgomery, N. W. T., writes thus: "For some years past my nerves and system were almost wrecked by narcotics, used to alleviate pain. The doctors could not help me, and I thought I would forever have to remain a slave to deadly drugs. I often longed for death as a release from my sufferings. After enduring agonies that were terrible, I determined to try Paine's Celery Compound, without any full hope that it would cure me. When I had used a part of the second bottle, I thought it was doing me good; I could sleep well, and did not faint so often and I decided to continue the use of the medicine. After the use of fifteen bottles, I am completely cured. I feel so strong and well now, and have such perfect health, that I sometimes think it is too good to be true. For the benefit of thousands of poor sufferers from disease and the deadly effects of narcotics, I give my statement—an assurance that Paine's Celery Compound will cure them."

THE WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA

FROM ALL APPEARANCES IS STILL GOING ON.

LONDON, March 15.—A despatch from Kitchener issued this morning is so studiously silent upon the subject of peace negotiations that it leads to the conclusion that nothing has yet been accomplished of sufficiently definite character as to justify lending official support to the view that the war is over. Nor do French's movements indicate a cessation of hostilities, although possibly, as no date is given, his captures were made previous to the granting of the armistice. Kitchener's despatch, which was dated at Pretoria yesterday evening, reports as follows:—"De Wet reached Senekal. French in addition to his previous success reports 46 Boers killed or wounded, 146 taken prisoners and surrendered with 200 rifles, 3,700 rounds of ammunition, 2,400 horses, 2,500 cattle and 400 wagons and carts besides mules and trek oxen.

"Methuen arrived at Warrenton from Klerksdorp bringing prisoners and cattle.

"The weather is wet, delaying government's columns."

LONDON, March 15.—A despatch from Pretoria after noting De Wet's arrival at Senekal, in the Orange River Colony, says that though he has only a small following De Wet is nearing a district where he is likely to receive considerable reinforcements, and probably intends to pick up roving bands of republicans who are ever present in the Dornberg and Koronnaberg districts. French has been detained by swollen drifts in the Piet Relief district, but is able to move again.
