DOMINION NEWS.

DESORONTO, Ont. May 29.—Mrs. Oronhyatekha, wife of Dr. Oronhyatekha, supreme chief ranger of the Independent Order of Foresters, died at the family residence, "The Pines," on Tyendinaga Indian reserve, last night, after a painful illness of nearly two years of cancer. She was a great-granddaughter of Capt. Joseph Brant, the famous Mohawk Indian chief.

MONTREAL, May 30.—F. H. Clergue, of Sault Ste. Marie, capitalist, is accredited with the intention of establishing a fleet of six ocean steamers with Quebec as the terminus, and that they will be strong enough to use the Quebec route for ten months in the year. They will start early in March and run until late in December. It is also reported this enterprise will be undertaken by the new Franco-Canadian syndicate. Freight would come to a large extent from Clergue's enterprises at Sault Ste. Marie, instead of going, as now, through the United States.

WINNIPEG, May 30.—Premier Roblin announces to-day that he has induced the Canadian Northern Railway Company to reduce their passenger rates to three cents per mile instead of four cents as heretofore on all lines under their control in Manitoba. The new freight rate, which is a material reduction in the old rate, goes into effect June 1st.

SYRACUSE, May 30.—James Stout, of Auburn, former warden of the state prison, at breakfast at the St. Cloud hotel in this city this morning, walked from the dining room into the corridor and fell dead. He was about 60 years old. Dr. Flaagan was called and said he believed death to be due to apoplexy, superinduced by excessive drinking of coffee. Mr. Stout having consumed several cups this morning. He had not been in the best of health for the last two years.

GODBOUT, Que., May 30.—Joseph M. Gamache, the guardian of the wrecked steamer St. Olaf, visited Boule Island yesterday to examine the wreckage after Tuesday's gale. On his way home he found a body floating on the water two hundred yards from shore. It was identified by Dr. Tremblay and others as that of Louis Carou, first mate of the St. Olaf. His clothes were still on him and in the pockets were found several keys belonging to the storerooms of the vessel. It is believed the body was in some part of the wreckage and was released by the heavy gale. This is the second body recovered, that of Miss Page being found on the shore when the wreck was first discovered.

OTTAWA, May 30.—Trade Commissioner Cumming, in South Africa for the Dominion government, has made a report dated April 25 to the Commerce department in which he states that there will be excellent prospects for working up a good business between that country and Canada once hostilities cease. His report is dated April 25. He says that there will be a fine opening for Canadian goods, especially for dressed lumber, building material general furniture and cooking stoves.

SHERBROOK, Que., May 31.—An elopement attended by more than the usual number of exciting incidents occurred in this district on Wednesday. A hired man and the sixteen-year-old daughter of a well-to-do farmer, left home this morning and walked through the mud to Ayers Flats, a distance of ten miles. They had dinner there and left by train for Sherbrooke half an hour before the arrival of the angry father. The farmer's horse already foaming was turned towards Sherbrooke, where it arrived just too late. The fleeing couple had left on the Boston and Maine train for the United States. The police authorities at Coaticook arrested the couple on the arrival of the train there on instructions from the father of the girl. The couple were taken to the Thordike Hotel and imprisoned in the parlor and a policeman was stationed at the door to safely guard them until the arrival of the pursuing parent. Several jolly travellers at the hotel, seeing the plight of the young lovers, planned their escape. A ladder was placed to the window and they were quietly assisted to the ground. A team was secured and the couple started on a rapid ride in the darkness for the border. Not until eleven o'clock, on looking into the room to satisfy himself they were safe, did the confident officer of the law learn of the flight through the window. The angry father arrived shortly after midnight, but the fleeing lovers were then safely beyond his reach.

OTTAWA, June 1.—Canada's revenue keeps growing. The returns of the Custom revenue for the month of May amount to $2,426,515 compared with $2,261,183 in May 1900, an increase for the present month of $165,332.

Yellow or brown cottons or silks can be dyed black. Try Magnetic Dyes, black costs ten cents only.

Husband—I wonder why it is that all the misers we read of are old bachelors? Wife—Oh, married misers are so common they are not worth mentioning.—Chicago News.

FIRST AID TO THE INJURED

POND'S EXTRACT

FOR BURNS, SPRAINS, WOUNDS, BRUISES OR ANY SORT OF PAIN.

Use Internally and Externally.

CAUTION! Avoid the weak watery Witch Hazel preparations, represented to be "the same as" Pond's Extract, which easily sour and often contain "wood alcohol" an irritant externally and, taken internally, a poison.

The Torture of ECZEMA Prevented Sleep.

Mr. Paul Lariviere, Meadowville Station, Picton Co., N.S., writes as follows: "I shall always praise Burdock Blood Bitters as the best remedy for skin diseases. I had been suffering from Salt Rheum or Eczema for the past five years and could not get any rest from the terrible burning and itching, which was worse at night and prevented me sleeping.

"Hearing of B.B.B. I thought I would try it, and after using one bottle I was so much relieved that I continued using it, taking six bottles in all, and am now completely cured."

It is a blessing that there is such a reliable remedy as B.B.B. for those tortured day and night with terrible skin diseases and who can get no relief from their misery.

Apply it externally and it takes out the fire and itch and aids in the healing process.

Take it internally and it purifies the blood of all those poisons which are the source of skin eruptions.

B.B.B. Cures Eczema and all Burning, Itching Skin Diseases.

NEW YORK, June 1.—According to a despatch to the World from Glasgow, Designer Watson is greatly worried by criticisms passed on his workmanship on the Lipton challenger. He told Sir Thomas Lipton he did not place any value on the result of the recent trial races on the Solent. He built the challenger with an eye to American sailing conditions, and nothing has happened to alter his judgment that she will prove the fastest challenger ever sent across.

Captain Sycamore expresses entire agreement with this view! He says if he and Watson had their way the challenger would have been brought straight across the Atlantic when she was launched to be tuned here, but Sir Thomas did not want this because his only chance of having the King as his guest was to have the Solent trials.

Don't Forget About Your Corns.

If they give you pleasure and you have them as an adornment don't apply Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extract for in twenty four hours they would be entirely removed and their beauty destroyed. Now this is known to nearly everybody, including your druggist; ask him if it is not so.

A man in Augusta, Ga., who no doubt had his mind often, disturbed waiting for his wife or best girl to curl her hair by heating the irons over the lamp, has invented an electric hair curler, which generates its own electricity instead of requiring contact with an electric light wire. The electricity is generated by friction produced by turning a crank. The hair-curling device proper consists of a number of thin copper sleeves around which the hair is wound and then fastened by clamps. Then the generator is inserted in the sleeves in turn and turning the crank produces the degree of temperature required to complete the curling process. It is quite an elaborate process, but the inventor is sanguine of success and has patented it.

A CATARRH SPECIALIST

Mr. James Spencer, Clacnan, Ont., says:—"I have been a sufferer from catarrh for 15 years which became chronic. I have spent a lot of money and consulted several doctors, among others a specialist in London. I have tried everything I could hear of or see advertised without doing me any good. But, thanks to Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure, I am completely cured after using three boxes of it. I recommend it to anyone suffering from catarrh."

ROME, June 1.—Queen Helena was accouched of a daughter this morning. Both mother and infant are doing well. The Princess will be named Yolanda Margherita. Amidst general congratulations there is considerable disappointment at the infant's sex, though the King is understood to have expressed contentment. Salutes are being fired throughout Italy. The infant's nurse, besides receiving liberal pay, will get $2,000 with the baby's first tooth, another $2,000 when the child is able to speak, and a similar sum when the little Princess walks unsupported.

TURN THE RASCALS OUT.

We refer to such rascals as dyspepsia, bad blood, biliousness, constipation, sick headache, etc., infesting the human system. Turn them out and keep them out by using Burdock Blood Bitters, the natural foe to disease, which invigorates, tones and strengthens the entire system.

A good household investment—A package of Red Rose Tea.

THE HOUSEHOLD COMEDIAN.

(A Fable by George Ade.)

Once there was a Lord of Creation who delighted to tell his Wife all about the Peculiarities and Weaknesses of Women. He was the kind that would wait until he had an Audience and then he would spring a Good One on the Better Half. For example, he thought it was great Sport to tell how she would do a Sheridan's Ride to a Department Store, just as if she was going to sweep the shelves, and after she got there she would have Tracy the Bloke show her all the Spring Importations, after which she would buy a Lintimy for 9 cents and about a Nickel's worth of Veiling and have them delivered on a Rush Order. She was a regular Hawk on Spotting Bargain Sales, and the Monologue Artist that lived with her used to tell his Friends that she would claw her way into a Jam of Women and scrap like an Amazon to capture one of the marked-down Remnants.

The Husband lectured her about chasing around from Store to Store, annoying the Salesmen, blocking up the Aisles, pawing all kinds of Expensive Materials and criticizing the Merchandise, finally ducking away without even showing the Color of her Money. He said a Woman would take one of these undersized valises containing a Powder Puff, a Chew of Gum, a Glove Fastener, a Clipping that told how to cure Sun-Burn and just enough Car-Fare to land her back Home again and she would go out and do more Jimming and Four Flushing than a Man would do if he was going to buy a House and Lot. He said that when he wanted a Hat or a Necktie or any old Thing he stalked right into the Place and said to the Man, "Gimme that," without any Ifs, Ands or Buts, and handed over the Simoleons. He said there was no need of giving a Parade and making a lot of Grand-Stand Plays every time one went out to purchase a few Necessities of Life. He said that on a Pleasant Day a Gang of Women could throw out more Flources and stop more Cars and use up more Floor Walkers for the Amount of Coin they put in circulation than any one he ever saw.

One Day in the early Summer he came home ahead of his Wife. He always claimed that when a Woman went out on a Shopping Spree she made it a Point to loaf Down Town until about 5.30 so that she could elbow into the Evening Rush and compel some hollow-eyed Man to clutch a Strap all the way home.

When she appeared it was evident that she had been gallivanting through the Scrimmage. Her Sky-Piece had a List to the Starboard, her frizzes had straightened out on her and the Belt Buckle was scrooged around until it had her facing sideways. Here was a Grand Opening for the Humorous Husband, so he fell back on his Stock Joke.

"And what has little Angel-Face been running down to-day?" he asked. "Did Sunshine buy a Paper of Pins or a nice Eleven Cent Coil of Black Braid?"

"Nit!" she replied, stopping short and turning the Mackerel Eye on him. "You have jolted me so often that I have turned over a New Leaf. I knew how you hated to have me price Goods and then push them back, so to-day nothing went back. I have bought six Embroidered Shirt Waists, a Lace Parasol, twenty-two Yards of Silkalorum that looks like Silk and wears better and a lot of Articles that you wouldn't know what they were if I told you the Names. Your little Bird didn't make any Water-Haul to-day, I can promise you that, and if you think I am stringing you, wait until you get the Statement. I ran it up to an even Hundred, so you would not have to bother with any small Change."

She waited for him to Rally, but he gave no sign of returning to the Scratch, so she sought her own Room, leaving him all Flattened Out.

MORAL:—As long as she is Happy, don't compel her to spend more Money.

HARD TO BEAT.

A couple of weeks ago, Messrs. Marion & Marion, reported having received Seven Canadian Patents in one day. Seven more have been received by them, dated the 21st. instant, particulars of which are as follows:—

- 71,401—Francis Goulet, St. Gervais, Bellechasse, P. Q., Sap spout.
- 71,409—Dominat Quintal, Isle du Pas, P. Q., Land roller & seed distributor.
- 71,411—Anderson McIntosh, Wallace, N. S., Cheese cutter.
- 71,446—Antonin Germet, Asnieres, France, Treatment of lead ores for obtaining metallic lead.
- 71,460—Eben Perkins, St. John, N. B., Railway track joint.
- 71,461—Alfred I. Shaw, Rat Portage, Ont., Cattle guard.
- 71,477—Felix Stahl, Nuremberg, Germany, Wood pegs or fasteners for wooden railway sleepers and the like.

This speaks well for the manner in which Messrs. Marion & Marion handle patent work entrusted to their care, and is a record which is hard to beat. They also call attention to their Inventor's Help, a book of useful information for all inventors, containing 120 pages, bound in board, and which they will send to anyone upon receipt of ten cents. Address Marion & Marion, New York Life Building, Montreal, or Washington, D. C., U. S. A.

ROMANTIC EXPERIENCE OF GEORGE W. ANDERSON, WEST VIRGINIA.

ST. MARY'S, W. Va., May 31.—After being sent to the poorhouse by his seventeenth wife, George Washington Anderson, sixty-eight years old, has eloped with one of the inmates of the institution, and now has married for the eighteenth time. About two months ago he came to this place, a tramp. Meeting Mrs. Martha Wells, he induced her, after an acquaintance of two days, to elope to Parkersburg with him, where they were married. Mrs. Wells was seventy-four years old, and gave up a widow's pension to become the seventeenth wife of Anderson. Life with wife No. 17 was not one of entire bliss, and when the wife discovered that Anderson had not only deceived her as to property which he said he possessed, but had married sixteen women before her, she had him sent to the poorhouse, and applied for a divorce. In the poorhouse he met and fell in love with Minnie Martin, a fair but feeble-minded girl of twenty-six years old. The girl returned his affection and the pair agreed to wed. This marriage was even more romantic than the seventeenth one. Building a platform to the window of the room in which the girl slept, he got her safely to the ground, and the two made their way across the river into Ohio and to Marietta, where they were wedded by a justice of the peace.

Anderson, according to his own statement, has been married eighteen times. He says that his first wife was Martha Tibbs, of Stewartstown, Penn., and that they separated.

He then took for a companion Annie Miller, soon after this marriage entering the union army. When the war was over he again married Martha Tibbs, as her husband had died. After that he refuses to give the names of his other wives.

The greatest part of his life, he says, has been passed in western Pennsylvania. The life of wife No. 17 was shattered by finding a diary in his pocket, a part of which reads as follows: "Life of G. W. Anderson, and full history from birth. No fable but truth, clear through truth. A daring, reckless and unlawful life up to sixty years of age. Husband of sixteen wives all living but one." Anderson and his eighteenth wife are passing their honeymoon in the poorhouse in Belmont, this county.
