A FORMER KENT COUNTY MAN

DIES ON THE BATTLEFIELD AT MANILA—REMAINS BROUGHT TO BROCKTON, MASS., FOR INTERMENT.

(Attleboro, Mass., Sun., Dec. 12, 1900.)

A few days ago there was received in town a letter addressed to John Currie from C. C. Pierce, chaplain of the United States Army in charge of the United States morgue, office of identification at Manila.

The writer stated that it was his mournful duty to inform Mr. Currie that his brother, Daniel Currie, had died in the First Reserve Hospital on Oct. 7, of dysentery; the remains had been embalmed and would be sent to the United States on the first transport available to be buried in the national cemetery at San Francisco, unless it was desired that they should be sent to Attleboro. The recipient was advised to write to the Adjutant General at Washington where an inventory of his effects had been sent.

As John Currie, for whom the letter was evidently intended, died a few years ago the communication was turned over to his brother, Neil Currie, by John R. Currie of South Main street to whom it had been originally delivered, the latter feeling satisfied that it was not meant for him.

Neil Currie, being almost certain that the deceased is his brother, William J. Currie who went West in 1886 and probably had enlisted under the name of Daniel Currie, immediately communicated with the adjutant general's office. The last heard of this brother was almost seven or eight years ago when he was at Colorado Springs. A letter addressed to him at that place sometime afterward was returned as "uncalled for." A description of this missing brother, as remembered by Mr. Currie, accompanied the letter. The specific marks to complete the identification were a scar on the cheek near the mouth which was caused by his falling on broken glass when he was a boy, face somewhat freckled, and reddish brown hair.

Four days ago Mr. Currie received from John A. Johnston, assistant adjutant general, a letter in which he said: "I beg to inform you that the personal description of your brother, William J. Currie, as furnished by you, corresponds quite accurately with the above named soldier, Daniel Currie, at the time of enlistment, as shown by the records of this office."

This has quite convinced the Attleboro man that his brother and none other who is dead and undoubtedly by this time been buried in San Francisco.

In connection with the death of this soldier there was received within this week a letter from Harrison S. Kerriek captain of Co. F., 30th U. S. infantry, the company in which Private Currie was enrolled. In part he writes: "Private Currie was a member of my GENUINE BARGAINS. Big Reduction in Prices of Winter Goods.

By GENUINE BARGAINS we mean GOOD GOODS at LOW PRICES. We have not reduced the prices for any fault that has been found with the goods. The goods are first-class in every respect and we are simply reducing prices to clear out the balance of our winter goods to make room for a large stock of spring goods which we expect will arrive very soon. Among the goods which we consider exceptionally good bargains will be found the following:

Men's Ulsters, Overcoats, Sheepskin-lined Coats, Homespun Jackets, Flannel Shirts, Knitted Shirts, Flannel Shirts with sweater collars, Sweaters, Cardigan Jackets, Knitted Wool Underwear, Fleece-lined Underwear, Imitation Lamb Caps, Fur Caps, Lumbermen's Oversox, Wool Sox, Wool-lined Kid Gloves, Wool-lined Mocha Gloves, Ladies' Cloth Coats, Fur Collars, Muffs, Wool Underwear, Hose, Dress Goods.

The first prices we had on above mentioned goods were low, but with our latest reduction it puts them at prices below anything yet thought of. Do not miss this chance of getting a bargain, as it may be some time before you get such an opportunity again.

company since its organization at Fort Sheridan, Ill. The hard camping we have had has caused a great deal of sickness. Private Currie was of a very strong constitution and splendid health but finally his stomach got out of order and he had to go to the hospital and not getting any better we sent him to regimental hospital hoping the change would be beneficial to him. I understand he got worse and was sent to Manila, where he died.

"He was a friend and a comrade alike to all and always ready for any duty or danger. I offered to appoint him a corporal, but he preferred to remain a private.

"Our company suffered eleven deaths during the seven months we were stationed at Sariaya, Tabayas Province, eight from disease, usually with dysentery and three from bullets received in action with the insurgents.

"A sealed bottle is placed in each coffin. It contains the name, rank, company and regiment, name of nearest relative and other necessary information. Please notify me if his remains have been shipped for interment, which I suppose has been done."

Believing that it is his brother, Mr. Currie will take steps to have the body sent here so that it may be interred beside their revered mother in a cemetery in Brockton.

The transport "Hancock" yesterday arrived at San Francisco with 369 ill and diseased soldiers and some dead ones. The "Grant" will arrive in a few days with 250 bodies on board.

DEC. 29, 1900.—There is no further doubt as to the identity of William J. Currie, a former Attleboroan who died in the hospital at Manila under the name of Daniel Currie.

Some time ago the Sun contained the information of the death of Mr. Currie and the fact that Neil Currie was of the opinion that it was his brother, although the name was different. The description sent from the adjutant general's office corresponded in many details with that of the missing brother.

That there might not be any doubt as to the identity of this particular Currie, Neil Currie wrote to the bureau of recruiting and equipment at Washington for further information. This was turned over to the adjutant general and this morning a letter was received of which the following is a part: "In reply to your letter of the 15th inst., addressed to the Bureau of Recruiting and Equipment, U. S. Army, relative to Daniel Currie, late private of Company F, 30th U. S. Volunteers, who died October 7th, 1900 at Manila, I beg to inform you that in addition to the information conveyed in letter to you from this office on Dec. 7, namely, that the personal description of the deceased soldier corresponds quite accurately to that of your brother as set forth in your letter, on the late soldier's enlistment paper, under the head of name of wife, guardian, relative or friend to be notified in case of emergency, the name of John Currie, address East Attleboro, Mass., appears. The degree of the relationship of the party named to the soldier, however, is not stated.

"It is the duty of the commanding officer of a soldier, in the event of his death to notify party whom the soldier desired to be informed in case of emergency, set forth in the enlistment paper.

"This communication was evidently sent by the soldier's commanding officer and was received by Mr. John Currie of your town, who, as you state, disclaimed any knowledge of the party to whom it referred and forwarded the letter to you. If there is no other by the name of John Currie or Currie a resident of your town, it would appear quite conclusive that the letter was intended for your elder brother who you state is now deceased.

"It is proper to state that the records show that the soldier in question was born in the province of New Brunswick. The remains of the soldier arrived at San Francisco, California, November, 17th, 1900, on the U. S. Transport "Logan."

"The government forwards the remains of deceased soldiers to the nearest express office to the address given by the relative free of expense, and you are advised to communicate your wishes in the premises as early as practicable to the quartermaster general of the Army, Washington, D. C., who has full control in the matter.

Very respectfully,
John A. Johnston,
Asst. Adjutant General."

If there was one particular bit of information wanted to complete the identity of the deceased soldier it was that relative to the place of his birth. That valuable bit of information was withheld until the letter received to-day and as it corresponds with the birth-place of the young man who was a resident of Attleboro for many years it makes further doubt impossible.

Mr. Currie is now making arrangements to have the body sent to this section and it will be buried in Brockton.

Brockton Mass., Times, Feb. 12, 1900.—The funeral of William J. Currie, whose body was brought here from the Philippines, was held here this morning from the home of his sister, Mrs. J. C. Lynch, 12 Beard street, with requiem mass at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock, celebrated by Rev. E. L. McClure. Battery I, M. V. M., furnished an escort of 18 men, including Corp. H. B. Hammond in command, Frank H. Abbott, bugler; and pallbearers Corp. W. F. Churchill, Privates Whitten, Ide, Burt, Ashley and Cross. The casket was enclosed in the folds of the flag under which the young soldier served, and services, with salutes and taps, were carried out at his grave. Interment was made in Calvary cemetery.

We have received the following from Attleboro concerning the late Mr. Currie which will be of interest to our readers in Kent County:

Deceased was a native of Kent Co., N. B., having been born at Kouchibouguac, Feb. 14th, 1879, where he lived until 1883 when he removed with his family to Attleboro, Mass. He entered the employ of Wilmuth & Co., jewelers, where he worked until Oct. 1886, when he returned to Kouchibouguac on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Peter McDonald, who still resides there. From there he went west, working for sometime at Cameron, Pa., where he met several of his schoolmates who were employed in the lumber woods there. When last heard from alive he was at Colorado Springs, Col., about 8 years ago, since then nothing of his whereabouts could be learned by his relatives until news of his death reached here. His remains were embalmed and carefully incased in a metallic casket hermetically sealed and placed inside a polished oak casket which was packed in a shipping case and brought from Manila to San Francisco, Cal., on the U. S. transport Logan. From there it was shipped by express to Brockton, Mass., a distance in all of over ten thousand miles, where it was interred at Calvary cemetery, with full military honors, beside his beloved mother, who died a few years ago yearning for some tidings of her wandering boy. The body was delivered to the family at Brockton at the expense of the United States Government. There were many floral offerings, among them a large pillow with the name "Willie," from the family.

Mr. Jacob A. Riis, the author of "How The Other Half Lives," is a man of unique and interesting personality. The story of his life is full of incident; and his experiences in his early struggles, after he arrived in America as a Danish immigrant, made him understand and appreciate those conditions of life which he has later done so much to better. His autobiography, called by the significant title "That Making of an American," which has just begun in THE OUTLOOK, is crammed full of incident and keen, amusing comments on men and things. It has as much of the story-element and as much humor as many of the best novels. The first installment appears in the March Magazine Number of THE OUTLOOK, and is elaborately illustrated. SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

(Crowded out of last issue.)
Richibucto Parish S. School Convention met in the Methodist church, Richibucto, Feb. 20, at 3 o'clock, the hour appointed. The three Sabbath schools in the town were represented and the Presbyterian Sabbath school in Kingston. The meeting was opened by fifteen minutes prayer and praise service. There was a goodly number present. After a very interesting Bible reading by Rev. A. Lucas, Rev. H. A. Meek was appointed chairman of the meeting and R. W. Beers, Secretary pro tem.

There was a programme in the hands of the Chairman. It was suggested that the subject, "The relation of the Home to the Sunday school scholar" be taken up for quarter of an hour. The conference on the above were Mrs. de Olloqui, Mr. Lucas and Mr. Meek. The subject of the home department was taken up for a time which was discussed by Mrs. de Olloqui, Mr. Pearson, Mr. McLeod and Mr. A. Lucas. Rev. Mr. McLeod, Miss Caie and R. W. Beers were appointed a nominating committee. Meeting closed with the benediction.

R. W. BEERS,
Secretary, Pro Tem.

EVENING SESSION.

The session was opened at 7.30 by fifteen minutes of prayer and praise.

The minutes of the afternoon session were read and approved.
Rev. A. Lucas read from the N. B. Sunday school Advocate the constitution of the Temperance Army in connection with Sabbath schools. Resolved that this Parish Convention agree to adopt the constitution of the Temperance Army and urge the same upon the schools in the parish wherever practicable the three-fold pledge.

The Nominating Committee in their report nominated the following officers for the ensuing year:

Geo. N. Clark, Parish President; F. S. Sayre, Vice President; F. A. Caie, Secretary; Executive Committee, Mrs. de Olloqui and R. W. Beers.

In the absence of the President, the newly elected Vice President, Mr. F. S. Sayre, took the chair and before entering upon his duties made a most suitable address. He then called upon Mr. Lucas, who proceeded to give a long and interesting address upon "Normal Class work." He concluded by laying the foundation of a Normal Class in Richibucto. Mr. Davis stated that he had passed the first examination. Mr. Lucas told the Convention that there were further examinations which could be passed as we got deeper into Normal Class study.

A collection was then taken up, after which Mr. Meek was called upon for an address. Among other things, he emphasized the advisability of teachers having their pupils get a thorough acquaintance with the Bible, that is, to have them thoroughly memorize the books, so that it would take only the turning of a few leaves to find any book or chapter.

Mr. Ash, of Newcastle, was called upon and made some interesting remarks upon Sunday school work.

Meeting closed with Doxology and Benediction.

Catarrh,

Called an American disease, is cured by an American medicine, originated and prepared in the most catarrhal of American countries.

That medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures radically and permanently, in that it removes the cause, cleansing the blood of scrofulous and all other impurities. It overcomes all the effects of catarrh, too, and builds up the whole system.

"You went right in boldly, did you?"
"Yes, after looking in."
"And you started ahead and asked the old man for his daughter?"
"Well, no, I didn't."
"Why not?"

FEB. 23.—The month of February has been an almost unbroken continuance of cloudy and stormy weather, with just occasional glimpses of the sun.

Mr. Blackboon, Baptist preacher, is now visiting and preaching in the lumber camps on Lake stream and Big Forks; nothing daunted he pushes himself along over snow drifts and other obstacles to be met with on such a mission at this season, yet his only means of transit is that with which nature endowed him.
