DAIRYING.

To the Richibucto Review:

Are the farmers of Richibucto, Rexton and vicinity doing justice to themselves, their wives and daughters during these sweltering hot days by trying to manufacture butter at home and disposing of it to the stores for goods from off the shelves instead of having it made in a butter factory, where all the butter fat in the milk is turned into gilt edge butter of a superior quality that always commands at least two cents per lb. over the home made!

A separating station was started in Richibucto last summer and is again running full blast and is capable of handling two or more tons of milk daily. So there should be no excuse for farmers within two or three miles neglecting their own interests by not patronizing it.

Some few of the advantages from sending milk to this separator may be stated as follows:—The excessive toil of handling milk by setting, creaming, churning, salting, printing or packing and selling is avoided. The milk is drawn to the separator, the sweet skim milk brought home fed to calves, pigs or hens, or used by the family, it being a very pure article of diet, and after the can is properly washed, scalded and aired in the sun the labor connected therewith ceases. No more trouble till monthly return of money after the manufacturing and selling necessitates the counting of the cash!

As the butter made from the separating process is much purer than can possibly be manufactured by the creaming system it always commands—at least—two cents per lb. more, while all the butter fat is secured and made into butter, which is never done by any other known manipulation of the milk.

Some object to this, as they say, the calves do better on the home made skim milk. This contention seems plausible, as a calf fed on a certain amount of cream mixed with skim milk should do better than without the cream. But is it not rather too expensive raising a calf on butter, even should butter only be selling at sixteen cents per lb, especially when flax seed jelly, at a very much less cost than butter, can be substituted? Experiment stations have abundantly proven that calves can be raised by factory skim milk, supplemented by flax seed, linseed and other foods that when a year old are equal to others fed on whole or new milk.

Again, the extra amount of butter fat secured by the separator, together with extra selling price of the butter so made will pay for separating, manufacturing and selling it.

RAPIDLY COMPLETED.

NEW TRAFFIC BRIDGE OVER FALSE CREEK UPON GRANVILLE STREET.

(Vancouver, B. C., Province.)

A remarkably rapid piece of bridge construction has just been performed by the British Columbia Electric Railway company. Three weeks ago on Wednesday last the work of driving piles for the new traffic bridge over False creek at Granville street was commenced, and yesterday at noon cars were running over it. During the building of the structure operations were suspended for several days on account of rain.

The bridge was not built right across the creek, but from the swinging span to the south shore. It is forty inches higher than the old one, the reason of this alteration being that it was desired to do away with the steep grade on the south shore approach, and at the same time lay a curve of greater radius at the approach. The construction work was superintended in a very able manner by Mr. Frank Wilson.

The new tram car bridge across False Creek, at Granville was completed yesterday forenoon sufficiently for the cars to run over it. This is one of the quickest jobs that has ever been done in bridge construction in Vancouver. The entire bridge, nearly half a mile in length, was renewed practically in a little less than three weeks work. During this time residents of the Fairview district were given as good a service as possible by means of transfers from one car to another, but today this was done away with, and it is expected that the service will now be much improved and continued uninterrupted. New piling was put in the bridge, as well as new stringers on which the cars run, and altogether the job was made a most complete one. From end to end the bridge was raised four feet, so that it is now on a level with the swing, and it will be to this level that the remaining portion of the bridge will be raised by the city when it is renewed, probably next season. The present work has been most carefully done and the bridge will now be very much more substantial than it ever was before.

Frank R. Wilson, the well known bridgebuilder, is being congratulated today on the completion of the construction of the new bridge across False creek at Granville street.—Vancouver, B. C. World.

DEATH AT SMITH'S CORNER.

JULY 1, 1901.—It is with sorrow and regret that I write of the death of Miss Sarah J. Lawson, daughter of Mrs. R. Lawson and of the late Robert Lawson, which occurred at her home, Smith's Corner, just at the dawn of day on Monday, June 24th, aged 25 years and five months. She had been in the United States about four years and finding that her health was failing her she returned home last spring where she remained until her death. She was much loved and respected by all who knew her and her early death has cast a gloom over the whole community. Weep not mother, brothers and sisters for you shall soon meet her on the other shore where sorrow ne'er shall press the soul.

She has gone to be with Jesus In that eternal home, Where all is peace and gladness, And sin no more is found.

She sees a world of spirits bright, She reaps the pleasures there; She is all robed in purest white, And conquering palms she bears.

Then weep not dear brothers and sisters, For God has taken but his own, Lord of earth and God and Heaven Evermore "Thy will be done."

Her loving friend and school-mate, B. J. C.

MARITIME PROVINCE NOTES.

The St. John Telegraph says: "H. G. Harris, editor of the Kentville Advertiser, who was married yesterday morning, is at the Dufferin with his bride. To-day Mr. and Mrs. Harris will start for the Pan-American exposition. Mr. Harris is the second Kentville editor to visit St. John on a honeymoon mission within ten days, the other fortunate scribe being Mr. Wickwire, of the Western Chronicle."

A Baddeck, C. B., correspondent writes: The reading public is probably unaware of the fact that Victoria County has for the second time produced a great human prodigy. The first was Giant Angus Macaskill. The second one who is, for his age, no less wonderful, is Alexander J., the fifteen year old son of one of Middle River's most prosperous farmers, Mr. John MacInnis. The young man in question is 6 feet 7 inches in height and weighs 208 pounds, with fine intellectual forehead, large expressive eyes, deep breasted, broad shouldered, with strength clearly written in every line of his well proportioned body. His growth this year is more pronounced than ever before and those who knew Macaskill in youth say he did not at the same age show more promise of the enormous strength he is known to have afterwards possessed than does young MacInnis.

HAMPTON, July 3.—Before Judge Wedderburn, the Kings county cases for theft and incendiarism, which caused so much excitement at the time of trial, were finally disposed of. He sentenced Andrew Black, jr., to seven years' imprisonment for theft; Wm. Brown, jr., to two years for receiving stolen goods, and Wm. Brown, sr., to five years for incendiarism.

AMHERST, N. S., July 3.—A drowning fatality is supposed to have taken place off Northport yesterday. About 5 o'clock a. m., George Allen, lobster fisherman, went out in his boat. Alfred Brownell saw Allen sitting in his boat, apparently asleep, so he did not take any further notice of him; still later another man passed Allen's boat, and noticed it was empty. Allen was subject to fits, and it is supposed he took one and fell overboard. He was 40 years old, and leaves a wife and five children.

MONCTON, July 4.—Word has been received of the drowning in a dock at Newport News, Va., of Eugene McAdnly, of Germantown, Albert county. Deceased was twenty-two years old, and a sailor aboard the schooner Maude Palmer, of Dorchester.

CHATHAM, N. B., July 5.—The steamer Ripplingham, which arrived here yesterday from Hull, England, reports being in collision with the American fishing schooner, Wenonah, of Gloucester, about 35 miles off Cape Royal, Nfld. The accident occurred about 1 o'clock in the day. There was a heavy fog at the time.

The schooner, which was about 78 tons register, was struck aft, her stern completely cut off, and she sank almost immediately. The life boats were launched and the crew—19 in number—with one exception escaped from the doomed vessel. A sailor named Bushie, who was in his berth at the time, was drowned while he slept.

The steamer was stopped as quickly as possible, and by sounding her whistle, the men in the life boats were able to locate her after some time. They were all well cared for and brought into this port.

The ill-fated Wenonah had nearly a full cargo of fish and was to return home in a day or two. The quantity of fish is estimated at 22,000 pounds.

The United States consul, Colonel Call, of Newcastle, called on the men yesterday and will make arrangements for their return home. Word of the disaster has been telegraphed to Ottawa and it is likely that an investigation will be held.

Moncton Times: A telegraph message was received here Friday by relatives conveying the sad intelligence of the death of Mr. L. A. Wilmot, of Seattle, Washington. Mr. Wilmot was the second son of Mr. Malcolm Wilmot, who resides with his daughter, Mrs. A. Somers, Lewisville, and was 52 years of age. The deceased learned the trade of a stone mason at the construction of the Intercolonial Railway, and has followed the same occupation ever since. For a number of years before leaving the Maritime Provinces he had contracted for and built several large buildings, principally on P. E. Island, and since residing in his western home he has built under contract, many of the large structures in the city of Seattle, and at the time of his death he had under construction a large public building in that city. He was of an exceedingly kind disposition, and his wife and four children, who survive him, together with the relatives here, will have the sympathy of a very large number of friends both here and in the recent place of residence, in their sad affliction. Death occurred July 1st and interment took place in the cemetery near his late western home on the 3rd inst. His aged father, who is 84 years of age, was deeply affected when informed of the sad news.

Last Saturday a young Indian girl left her home at Newville to walk to Two Islands to the home of an Indian who works in the canning factory at that place. She managed to get as far as Wilson Smythe's at Riverside. Mrs. Smythe took a horse and wagon to take the girl to her destination, but before Two Islands was reached the unfortunate girl gave birth to a child. Dr. Rand was sent for and found her in a precarious condition. She is scarcely 16 years of age and attributes her misfortune to a white married man not far from Newville. In the case of a white girl the municipal authorities take charge of such matters but the Indian department at Ottawa has to prosecute in the case of an Indian. Several similar cases have occurred, but owing to red tapeism no one has been punished. This time, however, the department has been notified and the culprit will be brought to justice. The offence is a penitentiary one.—Parisboro Leader.

HARTLAND, July 5.—At 6.30 to-night, an explosion of drugs in the apothecary shop of Estey & Curtis caused a serious fire, which was promptly extinguished by the volunteer fire brigade. The stock was badly damaged. Insurance is held in the Western Company.

TRURO, N. S., July 5.—Fuller particulars of the fire at Dickie's mills show there was absolutely no insurance. Mr. Dickie's loss in the mill is $25,000. Three hundred thousand feet of unsawn logs, 20,000 feet of boards and deal ends were destroyed. The mill and machinery were new. All, with the exception of the boiler and engines, were completely destroyed. A new mill is already under way. Mr. Dickie expects to get the main building up and 3,000,000 feet of logs sawn this fall. The fire threw 80 men out of employment and some will get work at rebuilding. Gangs will not be put in till next summer.

The oil well at St. Joseph is said to be yielding oil at the rate of eight barrels a day, from a 2½ inch pump attached on Tuesday. The oil sands have proved to be of gratifying thickness, 28 feet. The well has not yet been torpedoes as the flow was thought to be sufficient to warrant pumping without it. Other wells will, it is said, be sunk in the vicinity.—Moncton Times.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., July 6.—Rev. Thos. Todd, retired Baptist minister, died quite suddenly at his home on St. John street yesterday morning between five and six o'clock. He went out driving Thursday afternoon. He was taken violently ill Thursday night, the result of a long standing stomach trouble, and in spite of all that medical attendance and nursing could do passed away as reported. He was 75 years old. Mr. Todd was a prominent man in this community, and was an active minister in the Baptist church until recent years. He was born in Derry, Ireland, and left for this country when a lad.

The boat in which he came over was shipwrecked and after many vicissitudes he came to New Brunswick. At first he was in mercantile life, being a clerk in a bank in Moncton and St. John. Later he entered the Baptist ministry, securing his education at the seminary in Fredericton. At one time he was associated with the editorship of the Messenger and Visitor at that time called the Visitor. He filled, many important charges in connection with his church. Some years ago he retired and since then has only done occasional work. He was possessed of a good deal of property. His wife, a Miss Chaffener, of Nova Scotia, survives. There is one child, Rev. Frederick, a Baptist minister in Brunswick, Me.

MONTREAL, July 4.—Mrs. Bertzer, the wife of a German-American, who came to Montreal a few days ago with her husband on the Parisian from England and was left here in an mysterious manner by Bertzer, has received a letter from him at Troy, New York, acknowledging the desertion. It seems he married her on short notice in England and was under the impression she had a considerable sum of money. The court has restored the captain's certificate, owing to his excellent handling of the passengers after the wreck.

The second officer of the Lusitania testified in the course of the inquiry that another large steamer was almost ashore within a mile of the Lusitania two hours after she struck, and that a four-masted steamer also narrowly escaped destruction.
