THE WORLD OVER.

TORONTO, July 3.—The civic committee making preparations for the reception of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, reported to-day in favor of providing accommodation for choirs of 2,000 adults and 20,000 school children, stands for the latter to be erected opposite Government House. The cost of the city reception will be $10,000, and the musical programme will be the chief feature.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 3.—Daniel McDonald, fireman on board the battleship Massachusetts, was found dead in the ship's brig this morning. An inquest was held with all the surgeons of the fleet present, and their findings, that alcoholic poisoning was the cause of death, were sent to the commander-in-chief of the squadron. The body was buried here this afternoon.

On Tuesday McDonald was placed in the brig for being drunk on board ship. Soon afterwards he became abusive and struck the sentry. He was examined by the ship's doctor Tuesday night, when his condition was normal.

PORTLAND, Me., July 3.—The strike of the track and coal men of all the lines of the Maine Central Railroad is at an end, an agreement having been reached with the railroad management late this afternoon, and the men will return to work to-morrow morning.

The proposition from the management, which was considered by the general grievance committee, is not given out by either side, and nothing in the way of a hint even of concessions to the strikers. The officials at the headquarters say that they cannot divulge the conditions under which they return to work, while on the other side the Maine Central management refuse to say anything about the terms of settlement. The officials appear pleased with the success of their labors, yet they say that no date was settled upon when the men shall receive an increase of pay. The trackmen will go back to work at the old rate of wages. All will be taken back say the management, except those whose positions have been permanently filled. The question of wages has not been considered by the company, but the men go back with a hope that their pay may be increased later if the business of the road holds up to what there is every reason to expect that it will.

The men went out on strike on Monday night, June 11, at 5 o'clock. Grand Vice-President A. B. Lowe, of Canada, will remain in the city for a week or so at the headquarters settling up odds and ends of business. Chairman Hogan, of the general grievance committee, returned to his home at Waterville last night, and the other members of the committee who were in the city accompanied him.

CHICAGO, July 5.—The tribune to-day presents reports from all over the country, showing the number of persons killed and injured as a result of celebrating the fourth of July. The number actually killed is less than last year, being 25 against 30 then, but the number of injured is considerably larger, the figures being 1,813 against 1,325. In the list of fatalities, explosion of fireworks and the careless handling of firearms caused the majority of the deaths, but over one-third of the injuries were caused by the careless use of fireworks, more especially sky rockets. The loss by fire resulting from the careless use of fireworks or their premature explosions were less than in previous years, the fires as a rule being small ones and the damage light. In the entire country from reports received last night it amounted to but a little over $125,000.

STENBENVILLE, July 5.—One of the bloodiest affairs in the history of West Virginia occurred at Wheeling Junction last night, and three Italians left a trail behind, their knives almost wiping out an entire family.

The dead are Jacob Eidinour, aged 80 years, stabbed in the heart; Wm. Eidinour, son, left jugular vein cut and stabbed in heart.

The injured are Philip Eidinour, son, stabbed over the eye, in breast and on the leg, may die; Mrs. Jacob Eidinour, aged 80, stabbed in the left side, may die; and Robert Eidinour, son, cut in both arms.

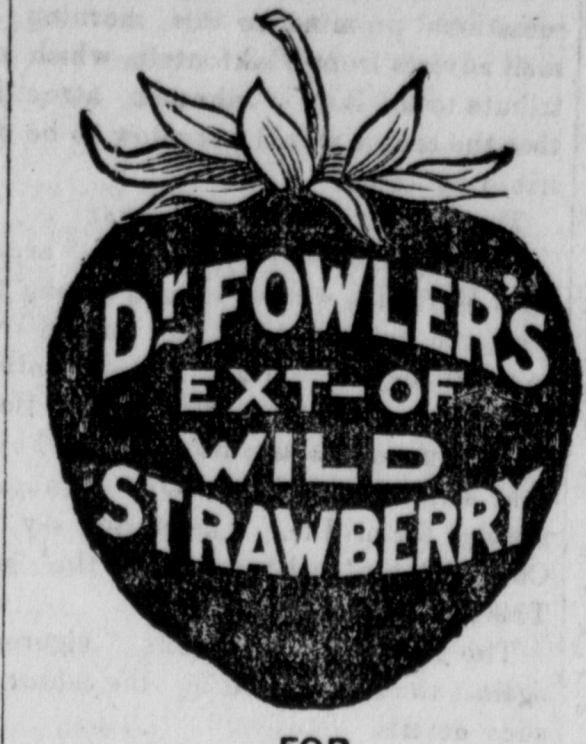

According to Mrs. Philip Eidinour, of Stenbenville, herself and husband, with their baby were visiting Mr. Eidinour's parents and as they were leaving the home of the Eidinour's parents, the father of the family went upon the main road to see them off. Three Italians, a part of a gang working on the railroad, came along, and one of them said something to Robert Eidinour, who called them vulgar names. The three Italians flashed stilettes and killed the father and William almost instantly. They cut Phillip frightfully and after stabbing Mrs. Philip Eidinour and Robert, fled.

SALEM, Mass., July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Upton, of Danvers Centre, were drowned at Baker's Island, Salem Harbor, this afternoon. They were members of a party who went to the island for a day's outing and to celebrate the reunion of Company "D," First Artillery. Mr. and Mrs. Upton separated from the rest of the party and went to the eastern side of the island to fish. Mrs. Upton lost her footing and fell into the water. A young man named Fred Hutchinson, also from Danvers, but not of the same party, who was fishing nearby, saw the accident and dove into the water to save Mrs. Upton. He succeeded in reaching her and was making good progress toward the land when Mr. Upton also lost his footing and in falling struck both the others in the water below.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Upton clung to Hutchinson, and to prevent being drowned himself, he was obliged to shake them off. He was then pulled ashore by a companion named Vinal Smith. Word was then sent to the lighthouse and a boat was launched at once, but it was too late, as both Mr. Upton and his wife were drowned. Their bodies were recovered and will be brought to Salem to-morrow morning. Mr. Upton was a shoe cutter by trade and leaves one son, 11 years old, who was on the island at the time of the accident. The victims were each about 50 years of age.

CHIPLEY, Fla., July 5.—At Vernon, 15 miles from here this morning, four negroes, Belton Hamilton, John Simons, Jim Harrison and Will Williams were hanged for murder.

Williams, Harrison and Hamilton had been convicted of murdering a helpless negro and almost killing his wife. It was adduced in the evidence that the three had warned their victim, Jeff Davis, to leave a certain turpentine camp. Davis obeyed instructions at once, but was forced to return on account of lack of transportation of his household goods.

He came back in October 2 last, and was spotted at once by his enemies, who surrounded him in his home and stationing themselves behind convenient trees, proceeded to riddle the cabin with rifle balls.

Davis was told to put his gun outside, which he did, and afterwards was dragged from his house and shot to death while in his wife's arms. During the trial Hamilton, on cross-examination, confessed, saying:

"I'm guilty, before God I am guilty, and I ought to be hung until dead."

By his confession the others were convicted. John Simons had killed another negro. The town of Vernon is without railway connection and long rides of 16 miles were made by all classes of people. At least 2,500 persons were present.

The four negroes were made to ascend the gallows at one time at 10 55 a. m., and after short statements from each, who claimed to be on the road to Heaven, the trap was sprung and the four were flung into space, remaining suspended for fifty minutes. Only one neck was broken, the others dying from strangulation.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS is a medicine made from roots, bark and herbs, and is the best known remedy for dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness, and will cure all blood diseases from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore.

ALTOGETHER TOO EARNEST.
"Avoid him," said the girl in blue.
"Why?" asked the girl in gray.
"He's too earnest and too unsophisticated," answered the girl in blue. "Why, he's the kind of man who will ruin what might be a lovely summer resort flirtation by proposing to you within the first two weeks of the season."

GOOD HEALTH IS IMPOSSIBLE without regular action of the bowels. Laxa-Liver Pills regulate the bowels, cure constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache and all affections of the organs of digestion. Price 25 cents. All druggists.

Why We Eat Oysters Raw.
Dr. William Roberts in his interesting lectures on the digestive ferment writes: "Our practice in regard to the oyster is quite exceptional and furnishes a striking example of the general correctness of the popular judgment on dietetic questions. The oyster is almost the only animal substance which we eat habitually and by preference in the raw or uncooked state, and it is interesting to know that there is a sound physiological reason at the bottom of this preference."
"The fawn colored mass which constitutes the dainty of the oyster is its liver, and this is little less than a heap of glycogen. Associated with the glycogen, but withheld from actual contact with it during life, is its appropriate digestive ferment, the hepatic diastase. The mere crushing of the dainty between the teeth brings these two bodies together, and the glycogen is at once digested without other help by its own diastase."
"The oyster in the uncooked state or merely warmed is, in fact, self digestible. But the advantage of this provision is wholly lost by cooking, for the heat immediately destroys the associated ferment, and a cooked oyster has to be digested, like any other food, by the eater's own digestive powers."

Lincoln as a Life Saver.
William A. Newell, who had the rare distinction of being governor of two states—New Jersey and Washington—told in Success of his romantic experiences as a congressman in 1849, when he originated the life saving service by offering a resolution in the house of representatives to appropriate money to save lives imperiled by the sea. Fellow members of congress at that session were John Quincy Adams and Abraham Lincoln. Mr. Newell said: "Various objections were made to my motion, the strongest of which was that the scheme was impracticable. I laid the matter before a great many senators and members, speaking to them in person. Ex-President John Quincy Adams occupied a seat just behind mine and after the reading of the resolution clerk leaned forward and said to me, 'I would like to see that resolution.' I sent for it and handed it to him. He read it over carefully and, handing it to me, said, with a smile: 'It is good. I hope it will prevail.' Abraham Lincoln also read it and said: 'Newell, that is a good measure. I will help you. I am something of a life saver myself, for I invented a scow that righted itself on the Mississippi sand bars.'"

Calling the Doctor.
A good story is told of Dr. X., who is the physician in charge of the female wards of one of our best known charitable institutions. One evening about 9 o'clock Mary, a new Irish servant girl, knocked at the door, saying: "Doctor, the head nurse wants you to come down to supper."
The doctor, swelling in his pride of superiority above the nurses, sent the Irish girl away with a curt message. Half an hour later the head nurse came to his room looking very serious. "Doctor," she said, "No. 8 is very bad indeed. I think you ought to see her at once."
"Why did you not let me know before?" was the reply.
"Why, doctor," said the nurse, "I sent you word by Mary half an hour ago."
"The fool!" said the doctor. "She told me to come down to supper!"
"Why," said the nurse, "I sent you word to come down to eight!"
An inquiry made the whole thing clear. Mary thought it more polite to say "Come down to supper" than to say "Come down to eight."

A Sensitive Scot.
A sensitive Scot rebukes the London Daily Chronicle for saying that his countrymen pronounce man "mon."
"The absurd form 'mon,' he writes, 'is the hall mark of Scots' vernacular as written by a southern pen, and its intrusion has often lent additional sadness to comic journalism, even, alas, to the pages of our chief humorous periodical. In the north of England 'mon' certainly occurs; in Scottish speech never. In Scott and Stevenson one may look for it in vain. The broad, soft vocalization of the word in Lothian dialect lies somewhere between 'maun' and 'maan,' but as it cannot be literally symbolized the word should be spelt in dialect passages simply as in English."

Accordingly.
"She's well educated, isn't she?"
"Well, she's one of those women who can pass as being that way. When she meets any one who can speak French and not German, she can speak German, and when she meets any one who can speak German and not French she can speak French."

His Mistake.
"How lovers are given to freaks of fancy!"
"What's the case in point?"
"Here's a story where a fellow calls his girl's hair golden, and the accompanying picture shows it's only plaited."

PICNIC DAYS.
Picnic season
Now is here,
Most eventful
Of the year.
Rural pleasures,
Farming rights,
Now appeal to Citizens.
There is busting
Day before,
Making pies and Cakes galore;
Packing baskets
To the trip,
Getting all things
Put in trim.
In the morning
Sun comes out,
Putting fears of Rain to rout.
There is rushing
To and fro,
Then off to the Woods all go.
Girls go strolling
Get a fright—
Brindle cow puts
All to flight.
Later on all
Scream and quake,
Just a little
Garter snake,
Gallant chappies
Push the swing
To which buxom
Maidens cling;
Work ahead till
Out of breath
And they're nearly
Tired to death.
Time for dinner
Finds its spread,
With a bright sky
Overhead;
Soon a rain comes
Pouring down—
All are soaked from
Feet to crown.
Clothes are ruined,
Grub the same;
All declare that
It's a shame.
Ask them later
And they'll say
That they had a
Splendid day.
