THE HACKING COUGH.

One of the meanest things to get rid of is a hacking cough. There is apparently no cause for it. No soreness, no irritation at first; but the involuntary effort of the muscles of the throat to get rid of something is almost constant. Of course, with many coughs is a habit, but it is a bad habit, and should be stopped. When you realize this and try to stop it, you find you can't, for by that time there is an actual irritation, which will never get better without treatment.

It is a curious thing that nearly all treatment for cough actually makes the cough worse. Then, too, most medicines for cough have a bad effect in the stomach. This is especially true of so-called cough remedies that contain a narcotic. The true treatment for cough is one that heals the irritated surfaces. This is what Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam does. It protects the throat also while the healing process is going on. When this remedy was first compounded our old men were young boys, and all this time it has been doing a steady work of healing throats. The most obstinate hacking cough would quickly show the effect of the Balsam. People who have been trying for years to break up the mean little cough, will find a sure friend in this old time soothing compound made from the barks and gums of trees. All druggists sell Adamson's Botanic Balsam. 25 cents.

WHERE THE 20TH CENTURY DAWNS.

IT WILL FIRST LAND ON ANTIPODE ISLAND IN THE PACIFIC. (Pearson's Magazine.)

Where will the twentieth century first dawn? If the change of the centuries took place at either of the equinoxes—March 22 or Sept. 22—then, since on those days the earth's axis is at right angles to the plane of the orbit, and there is equal day and night all over the world, the matter would be very easily decided. The dawn line would coincide with the date line, and from pole to pole the first sun of the new century would rise at the same moment.

But, unfortunately, this is not so, and the consequence is that the line of dawn, as it sweeps round the earth, first touches the date line to the south of the equator, and then gradually creeps up this line till it leaves it far to the north. So the first sun of the twentieth century will rise on the places along or near the date line in the order of their position, from the south upward.

Now, there is no land along this line from the Antarctic Circle to Antigode Island, hence this tiny spot of earth will first see the twentieth century dawn. A few minutes later Bounty Island will see it. Then it will sweep along the northeast coast of North Island, New Zealand, then over Vanua Levu in the Fiji Islands. Next it will shine on the scattered coal islets of the Ellice group, and after travelling about nine degrees more to the north the light tide will touch the crossing of the dawn line and date line at 6 o'clock.

Two hours and five minutes will have to pass before it reaches the banks of the Yarra. In six hours and twenty-five minutes it will gild the temples and palaces of Calcutta. In nine hours and fifty minutes it will be flowing over Lon's Head and down the rugged sides of Table Mountain. In twelve hours and twenty-five minutes it will have crossed Montmartre and touched the base of Eiffel Tower in Paris. Five minutes later it will have passed the cross of St. Paul's and be flowing up Fleet street. In seventeen hours and twenty minutes from the time it crossed the dawn line it will be flowing around the feet of the Statue of Liberty, and in three hours more it will have reached the Golden Gate. Thence it will cross a stretch of ocean unbroken by rock or islet, back to the dawn line, and so will be accomplished the evening and morning of the first day of the twentieth century.

WHERE NIGHT IS LONG.

In the polar dawn this particular Eskimo looked extremely haggard. "What's the matter?" asked the explorer, who was on his way to the lecture field. "Oh," replied the poor native, "the baby has been crying nearly all night." "You don't mean it?" "Yes, sir. He's just stopped, and he started exactly five months and one week ago."

DEWET REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN CAPTURED.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—Persistent rumors from London and the Continent state that De Wet has been captured.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—The British Chartered South African Company has received news of General De Wet's capture and place implicit reliance in it. The war office is without confirmation of the report.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—The latest despatches from South Africa show that Lord Kitchener has succeeded in holding the invading Boers in check. But he has not yet been successful in expelling them from Cape Colony, while small commandoes continue to display astonishing daring and activity over an immensely wide field.

It is questionable whether his proclamation will have much effect until General DeWet has been captured. The Boers are likely to regard it as a sign of weakness and to have a wholesome dread of De Wet's vengeance if they surrender.

The proclamation is approved by the party at home that favors conciliatory terms to the Boers as a step in the right direction.

Queen Victoria, it is said, has approved the proposal to institute a new order of knighthood to reward officers who have served in South Africa. The order will probably be called the Star of Africa.

A despatch from Vryburg, dated December 20, says the Boers in considerable numbers were then making an unexpected movement westward. They had 150 wagons. The despatch suggests that they were trekking to Damaraland, although the Boers themselves denied such an intention.

A CATARRH SPECIALIST

Mr. James Spence, Clachan, Ont., says:—"I have been a sufferer from catarrh for 15 years, which became chronic. I have spent a lot of money and consulted several doctors, among others a specialist in London. I have tried everything I could head of or see advertised without doing me any good. But thanks to Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure, I am completely cured after using three boxes of it. I recommend it to any one suffering from catarrh."

TOOK HIM SERIOUSLY.

"I tell you," said the village wit during a serious discussion of life to the circle of worthies in the grocery store, "I tell you, a man is just what he eats. Now, you take a man who?" "Say, Bill," interrupted Mr. Meddgrass, "where do you buy all your chestnuts?"
