NEW INVENTIONS.

Feeling confident that the reports of patents granted, which we have been in the habit of publishing heretofore interests a great many of our readers, we have decided for the future to supply regularly a list of patents recently granted to Canadians.

Information regarding any of these patents will be supplied free of charge by Messrs. Marion & Marion Patent Attorneys, Montreal and Washington, D. C., to any reader who mention the name of this paper when applying.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 6.—Hon. D. H. McFadden, Provincial Secretary, has returned from a trip through the province made for the express purpose of estimating the wheat crop. He states the grain crop of all kinds is all out, and about half the wheat is in stack, though many farmers are threshing direct out of the stock. Thousands of machines are at work, the grain generally turning out beyond expectations, averaging in many parts as high as twenty-eight bushels per acre. Mr. McFadden thinks the crops cannot average less than twenty-five bushels, practically all No. 1 hard. As no grain has been damaged, Manitoba will easily have forty million bushels to export, leaving ten millions for home consumption. The rush of wheat to the market has already commenced, farmers selling freely at fifty-seven cents.

PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS have found Pain-Killer very useful. There is nothing equal to it in all cases of bowel troubles. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Pain-Killer, Peery Davis'. 25c. and 50c.

Mrs. Whyte—Men have very poor judgment.

Mrs. Browne—Yes, but it doesn't do to tell them so. If you do, they are apt to make sarcastic references to the time when they got married.—Somerville Journal.

Relieve those Inflamed Eyes!

Pond's Extract

Reduced one-half with pure soft water, applied copiously, restores vision, and the complexion will be restored and the pain and inflammation instantly relieved.

CAUTION!—Avoid dangerous, irritating Witch Hazel preparations represented to be "the same as" Pond's Extract which easily sores and generally contain "wood alcohol," a deadly poison.

THE WORLD OVER.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Archibald Boyd, a visitor from Alexandria, Ont., dropped dead of heart disease in the lobby of the Moorish Palace on the North Midway, Pan-American grounds, late yesterday afternoon. Boyd had spent the morning and a part of the afternoon on the Exposition grounds and had not complained of feeling ill. Shortly before his death, accompanied by William Lightman, a fellow townsman, he stepped into the outer entrance to the Moorish Palace, or Padopticon, at the extreme eastern end of the North Midway. Boyd was engaged in a conversation with his companion when he put his hand to his side and fell to the door. The ambulance was summoned, but Boyd died before its arrival. Boyd's body was removed in the ambulance to the Exposition hospital, where it was held to await the arrival of Coroner Wilson. Boyd was forty years old, and a prominent man in his home town, where he conducted a profitable tea business. He was married and had three children living in Alexandria. Coroner Wilson ordered the body moved to Boyd's boarding place, and later communicated with Boyd's relatives.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Four persons were seriously injured and fifty others slightly, in a wreck which occurred seven miles south of Elmira to-day. West bound D. L. & W. freight train No. 53 ran into a wreck train having on board over one hundred laborers, many of whom were Italians.

MIDDLEBURG, Cape Colony, Sept. 6.—Lotter's entire commando has been taken by Major Scobel south of Peterburg.

One hundred and three prisoners were captured, twelve Boers were killed and 46 wounded. Two hundred horses were also captured.

Lord Kitchener's report of the war office concerning the capture of Lotter's commando, from South Africa, gives the figures as 19 killed, 59 wounded and 62 captured, un wounded.

The prisoners include Commandants Lotter and Bredt, Field Cornets Kruger and W. Kruger and Lieutenant Shoeman. Among the killed were the two Vaster's, notable rebels.

The British casualties were 10 killed and eight wounded.

To be married six times during a honeymoon is an experience that comes to few. Four years ago a village youth and his sweetheart visiting a Michigan town noticed a furniture dealer's advertisement offering a drawing room suite to any couple who consented to be married publicly in his shop. They secured the suite. Going on their wedding trip to an Ohio town they noticed a similar advertisement there and repeated the performance. Then the idea struck the husband that he might arrange these matters himself, and in two weeks he had persuaded six dealers in various towns to emulate the others. Nominally the couple won a specified prize at each place, but they really received a cash consideration arranged beforehand. So it has gone on ever since. The couple now claim to have been married 500 times.

Rheumatic Pains Cured by Nerviline.

This is the testimony of Mr. Benjamin Dillon, of Leeds, Ont., who says: I feel it my duty to proclaim the marvellous value of Polson's Nerviline as an infallible cure for rheumatic pains; it cures them every time. Nothing I know of equals it as a household liniment, and mothers should feel it as necessary as bread itself. Nerviline has cured rheumatism of 30 years standing, and can cure you. Instant relief, absolute cure, large bottles 25c.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., Sept. 6.—Reports from various parts of the country show that much damage was wrought by the lightning and the thunder storm of Wednesday afternoon. John Grant's barn at Debec was struck by a bolt which passed down through the oat mow, soon setting the barn in flames. This and another barn were burned and two hogs were burned to death. The flames extended to the house which was also destroyed. The furniture was saved. The farm owned by Mr. Grant is that which was long owned and run by John S. Leighton. A farm band named Wm. McKay was in the barn when the bolt struck. He was thrown to the floor and partially stunned. It is said the house and barns were insured. The barn of a farmer named Wallace, living in Cloverdale, was also set on fire by the lightning and destroyed. John McFarlane's house in town was struck but slight damage was done.

"Did the price tempt her?"

"No; the number of her country relatives scared her."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Startling Sermon.

Once when Father Honore, a celebrated Capuchin of the seventeenth century, was preaching on the vanity of the world he suddenly produced a skull, which he held up to view. "Speak!" he cried. "Were you not perhaps the head of a magistrate? Silence gives consent." Then, clapping upon the skull the cap of a judge, he continued: "Ah, ha! Hast thou never sold justice for gold? Hast thou never been snoring many times during a hearing, etc.? How many magistrates have sat under the fleurs-de-lis only to put virtue at a disadvantage?"

Casting aside the skull, he held up another, which in like manner he addressed. "Wast thou not perhaps the skull of one of those beautiful ladies who occupy themselves only with caressing hearts after the manner of bird catching?" Then, arraying it in a headdress, he continued: "Ah, ha, Empty head! Where are those lovely eyes which cast such fascinating glances, that pretty mouth which shaped such gracious smiles, that made so many unhappy ones to weep in hell? Where are those teeth which chewed upon so many hearts only to make them more tender for the devil's eating?" and so on, bringing forth skull after skull and appropriately decking them to receive his reproofs.

Europe's Ice Supply.

Few perhaps among the tourists who visit Norway for the pleasures of its scenery are aware that here they are at the headquarters of Europe's ice supply. To the mountain lakes of that country the continent looks for ice. The ice is of the finest quality, for the lakes are of crystal clear water, high up in the mountains, and are surrounded by very tall pines. The ice supply is controlled by syndicates.

After having been cut into great squares by plows the blocks of ice are sent down the mountainside on slides. On the way they acquire amazing velocity and plunge into an inclosed pool beyond which are the ice ships awaiting their frozen cargo.

It sometimes happens that through delay in the starting of the vessels or the cutting of unusual quantities from the lakes to supply exceptional demands the supply runs short. Then it is that ice becomes dear and even in winter time is a luxury that must be indulged in sparingly. But ice is used in Europe far less commonly than in America, and a deficient supply does not occasion the sense of loss that it would cause in this country.

Gilbert Islands Tittle.

Neither tea nor coffee is drunk in the Gilbert Islands, but liquor named karafee, or toddy. It is the juice of the coconut tree, from which it is drawn daily at sunrise and sunset. To obtain it the natives climb up the tall trees and while extracting it keep up a constant yelling to let those below know that they are at work. The sap when fresh is a harmless and delicious beverage, but after it has been kept a day or two fermentation sets in, and it becomes intoxicating. Karafee does not, however, fly to the head, but a man who drinks it to excess loses the control of his legs. However, when this befalls a native he has sense enough to remain indoors and shows his face to no one, for if his chief should ever hear of it he would be tried and sentenced to hard labor and a heavy fine.

In former days a native found intoxicated was tied to a tree and received a hundred lashes, the blood fairly streaming down his back. Besides this, all his lands were confiscated to the king forever.

Witty Barrymore.

Talking of Maurice Barrymore recently, a man who knew him well told this story of him:

Once a wine agent intruded upon a party of which Barrymore was one. The agent told Barrymore he was a man of good taste, and all that, and wound up by saying:

"When you want a bottle of wine in future, will you not gratify me by asking for my wine?"

"Why, of course," answered Barrymore most graciously. "I shall be delighted to ask for your wine. But, heavens! Suppose they should have it!"

Tommy's Mistake.

Father—Come, young man, get your jacket off and come with me.

Tommy—You're not going to lick me, are you, dad?

Father—Certainly. Didn't I tell you this morning that I should settle with you for your bad behavior?

Tommy—Yes, but I thought it was only a joke, like when you told the grocer you was going to settle with him.—Tit-Bits.

Pinched on the House.

Jack—I just saw your wife, old man. She was simply stunning. By the way, you're looking rather miserable yourself. What's up?

Tom—Don't get enough nourishment; that's all. You see, I arranged with my wife a month ago to give her a certain amount each week, out of which she was to pay household expenses and buy her clothes.

The Play.

Henry J. Byron, one of the wittiest of English playwrights of a score of years ago, remarked on one occasion: "A play is like a cigar. If it's good, everybody wants a box; if it's bad, all the puffing in the world won't make it go."

Sarcasm.

"Why did you leave your last place?"

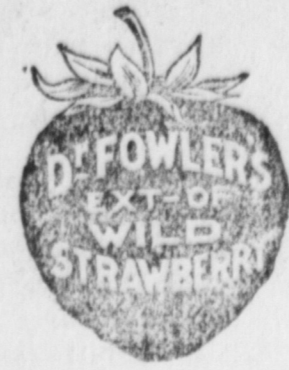

"Master was too sarcastic."

"How was that?"

"Well, I told him I seen a snail on the garden path, and he says to me, 'You must have met it.'—Moonshine.

DROUTH IN KENT COUNTY.

The Fredericton Gleaner says: A gentleman who has just returned from Kent county after spending several days there reports that the prevailing drouth is working much losses to the farmers of that county. There have been no rains this summer and only a very light rainfall last winter. Pasture lands are dried up, the sand banks, no crops could grow and all vegetation is practically ruined. Kent is one of the leading counties of the province in the dairying industry and the St. Louis creamery butter is reputed abroad as well as at home for its uniform excellence. The drouth having destroyed pastures and the hay crop there is but little milk, and the dairying industry is a failure.

A more serious aspect of the question is that the farmers are being compelled to kill or sell their cattle, the majority of which are fine dairying cows. Their owners have no feed for the cows and no means with which to purchase hay. They will feel the loss to a greater extent next year than this, as this winter they will have the proceeds of the sale of their cattle, and next spring they will have either cattle nor money. It is estimated that some 800 dairy cows will have to be slaughtered or sold to the butchers in Kent county alone. Horses are also being killed in some sections of the county, there being no food for them. Forest fires are also burning up almost everything, and when once a fire starts it burns itself out, everything being as dry as tinder and there being no means of checking the progress of the flames. Many of the farmers have already been about ruined and conditions are certainly discouraging.

THE SUFFERINGS OF JOB

If the agonies of Job are worse than the tortures of itching piles from which so many people are now suffering he had much to endure. The difference is that there is no reason for any one to endure the miseries of piles for a single day. Dr. Chase's Ointment has cured tens of thousands of cases and is absolutely guaranteed to cure each and every case of piles. 90 cent a all dealers or by mail from Edmanson Bates & Co., Toronto.

THE SUPREME TEST.

"He must have been a pretty nice man."

"Indeed he was."

"Yes, he must have been. Why, his life was insured for $30,000, and yet his family seemed genuinely sorry to have him die!"—Philadelphia Bulletin.
