LIFE'S COMPENSATIONS.

Why should we ever weary of this life?
Our souls should widen ever, not contract;
Grow harder and not stronger in the strife,
Filling each moment with a noble act.
If we live thus, of vigor all compact,
Doing our duty to our fellow men
And striving rather to exalt our race
Than our poor selves, with earnest hand or pen,
We shall erect our names a dwelling-place
Which not all ages shall cast down again;
Offspring of Time shall then be born each hour,
Which, as of old, earth lovingly shall guard
To live forever in youth's perfect flower
And guide her future children heavenward.
—JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL.

MARITIME PROVINCE NOTES.

St. John, Dec. 12.—Rev. Job Shenton, one of the best known and most beloved Methodist clergymen in Lower Canada, dropped dead as he commenced to eat his dinner in his Fairville home shortly after noon yesterday. Mr. Shenton and his wife sat down to their mid-day meal as usual, both in the best of health apparently, and happy in spirit. Grace was said by the venerable pastor and shortly after, without a sound, he fell to the floor. It was a terrible shock for Mrs. Shenton. Help was summoned, but it needed no physician to tell that life was gone. Dr. J. H. Grey soon arrived. He said death was due to heart failure. When the sad news spread about the adjacent town it could hardly be credited. Mr. Shenton had been about in the morning, stopping and chasting in his usual happy vein to this one of the townsmen and bowing pleasantly to others. He appeared to be hale and hearty and was seen almost up to dinner time on the street. Then he disappeared within the parsonage, and in the short space of half an hour it was announced he had died. The people could hardly believe it.

Rev. Job Shenton has been a familiar personage in St. John for years. In the Methodist denomination in the lower provinces he was regarded as one of the ablest preachers, an ideal pastor, a clear thinker in business affairs pertaining to denominational interests, and a man of the highest Christian character.

He was an Englishman, and received his earlier education in the home land. Coming to Canada, he was ordained in 1860, and his first pastoral charge, strange to say, was in Fairville. He married a sister of Rev. W. W. Lodge, of Hampton, and

A. & R. LOGGIE

Mr. M. Lodge, of Moncton. Mrs. Dr. McAlpine and the wife of Rev. Mr. Grundland, formerly of Nova Scotia, but now in Winnipeg for his health, are daughters of deceased.

During the forty-one years of his ministry he has occupied pulpits in many of the most important circuits and churches in the Maritime Provinces, including twice in Queen Square church in St. John, five years in Exmouth street church, three years in St. John's, Nfld., three years in Fredericton, in Woodstock, Yarmouth and other places.

TRURO, N. S., Dec. 12.—Conductor Joseph Weatherby lost his right foot yesterday morning while engaged on what is known as the "Cannon Ball" train, en route to Halifax. The train leaves Truro about four o'clock each morning, sometimes with a van or several cars, and picks up loaded lumber and frequently freight cars at the various stations and sidings on the road. They had got to Stewiacke and were shunting to place several lumber flats next the van, which were on the main line. Conductor Weatherby saw the cars coming and jumped on the nearest to put brakes on. As he grasped the car stake it broke, and he fell to the rails, the wheels crushing one foot above the ankle. No one saw the accident and he lay for a few minutes until discovered. He was then picked up and placed in the van, which was at once ordered to Truro, where the physician amputated the limb five inches below the knee. Conductor Weatherby is well known all along the line. He is married and has a family of small children.

SUSSEX, Dec. 12.—Charles W. Morrison, express messenger on the I. C. R. between St. John and Levis, and second son of the late Wm. Morrison died at home on the Military farm here at ten o'clock Tuesday morning after a lingering illness of four months. In August last Mr. Morrison was suddenly taken ill with what was supposed to be appendicitis, and an operation was begun for the trouble. The process developed other complications and the operation was abandoned. The patient gradually weakened with an occasional rally, but no hope was expressed for his ultimate recovery. Mr. Morrison was at one time a leading cornetist in the Sussex band, and was very highly thought of by his friends and acquaintances. He was in the 34th year of his age. The remains will be interred in the Kirk Hill cemetery at 2 p. m. on Thursday. Rev. Frank Baird will conduct the services. He leaves a widow, Annie, daughter of the late Robert Thompson, merchant, of this place, to whom he was married about four years ago. Mrs. Morrison and the family of the deceased have the fullest sympathy of Sussex.

The St. John Star says: One of the chapters of a pretty little romance was ended Thursday afternoon when Rev. J. G. A. Belyea, B. A., of Westchester, N. S., was united in marriage to Mary E. Sweet, of Chicago, at the residence of Rev. J. D. Freeman. Mr. Belyea is a well-known Baptist pastor, and has been for a number of years one of the assistant secretaries of the Maritime convention, and one of the chief promoters of the B. Y. P. U. Miss Sweet is a native of Nova Scotia, but has lately been engaged in missionary work in Chicago. When they stood before the officiating clergyman yesterday afternoon and were made man and wife, Mr. Belyea and Miss Sweet had seen each other but three times.

They met for the first time in church some years ago, and after that at the residence of Miss Sweet's father, who was one of Mr. Belyea's parishioners. At that time they met as casual acquaintances. Mr. Belyea was a widower with eight children. Shortly afterwards Miss Sweet's mother died, and it became the duty of the pastor to tender to the bereaved daughter all the sympathy and consolation in his power, and at the same time forward the last loving messages. Pity is akin to love.

Miss Sweet answered the letter and thanked Mr. Belyea for his expressions of personal sympathy. As a slight return she enclosed in her epistle a synopsis of several sermons which she had heard in Chicago. These mutual aids assisted to bring about constant correspondence between the two. In regular romantic style the friendship thus formed grew and ripened. Mr. Belyea felt that his lot would be improved and his life brightened were he to have the lady as his constant companion. She agreed that the benefit would be mutual, and so they decided to double their joys and divide their sorrows.

This city was picked out as a suitable place for the performance of the ceremony. Mr. Belyea arrived yesterday morning and Miss Sweet at noon. A few hours later they were married and they left this morning for their home in Westchester.

Mrs. Belyea is a comparatively young lady, of prepossessing appearance. She has been an earnest and successful worker in Chicago mission districts.

The Sydney Record of Dec. 12 says:—"On Thursday morning last David Longuippe of L'Ardoise, was found dead in bed by his niece. His death took place some time during the night and it is supposed that it was caused by heart disease. He was an exemplary citizen, about forty years of age and unmarried. The death of this man recalls the story of the tragic ending of his father and brothers. About thirty years ago his father, whilst resisting arrest, was shot by an officer of the law. It seems that an ox was seized during his absence from home for a debt which he owned to a local trader, and Longuippe, on hearing it resolved to get back the ox. Under cover of darkness he entered the barn where the ox was kept, took the ox and slaughtered him. An officer was sent to arrest him for this act and in resisting arrest he was shot in the abdomen. David Longuippe was the youngest of five boys. His two elder brothers whilst yet young left home and from the day of their departure no word was heard of them. They disappeared as completely as if swallowed up by the earth. Two other brothers were drowned on the Grand Banks. Another met a watery grave at L'Ardoise, in sight of his own home only a few yards from the shore. David, who died last evening, so far as is known is the last of his family, whose endings were so tragic."

HALIFAX, Dec. 12.—The governors of Kings College, Windsor, held a special meeting in Halifax this afternoon, with closed doors. The meeting was attended by representatives from New Brunswick, P. E. Island, and in Nova Scotia. It was a very important one, having for its object the federation of all the colleges in the three provinces and the establishment of one great university in the maritime provinces to give an education equal to any of the colleges in the United States, or McGill University, in Montreal. Kings being the mother university of Canada, it is fitting that such a movement should have a beginning there. At present the department of science is neglected in these provinces, which, it is claimed, should not be, owing to our natural resources. Certain departments are also duplicated in the several colleges and if they were combined more money would be set free for new professorships. After careful and exhaustive discussion a committee was appointed to open communications with the various colleges concerned looking towards the formation of one central university.

KITCHENER PERSONALLY TAKES THE FIELD.

THIRTY-SEVEN CASES OF BOER ATROCITIES INVOLVING EIGHTY-FOUR LIVES.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—"Now that General Ian Hamilton is here," cables the Pretoria correspondent of the Daily Telegraph. "Lord Kitchener has personally taken the field and is directing the movement of the troops."

Lord Kitchener's promised statement specifying 37 separate instances in which natives have been shot by the Boers, and which involve the loss of 84 lives, was issued by the war office to-night. In some of the cases mentioned the blacks were shot after an informal courtmartial, or upon being accused of spying, but in numerous cases Lord Kitchener indicates the natives were shot in cold blood in order to hide traces of the movements of the Boer commandos. The period covered by Lord Kitchener's statement is more than one year.

Speaking at Glasgow last night, Mr. Brodrick, the secretary of state for war, referred to Lord Kitchener's report on the shooting of the blacks by the Boers. Mr. Brodrick said this report made it perfectly clear that these murders were not committed in moments of passion, but were part of an original system to cover the tracks of the enemy and prevent possible information of their whereabouts.

Dealing with present aspects of the war, Mr. Brodrick said the Boers had accepted parole and broken it and there would be no repetition of such actions. Within recent weeks Boer commanders had shown less regard for the laws of war than up to the present time and that these bandits would before long reach a crisis when they could no longer be treated as belligerents.

The speaker said the government was for no half measures in securing a settlement and that any fresh negotiations must emanate from the Boers.

MORE SOLDIERS NEEDED IN SOUTH AFRICA.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—A despatch to the Times from Wellington says that a responsible New Zealander returning from South Africa declares that more soldiers are needed to finish the war. The troops have the utmost confidence in Lord Kitchener, but the efforts are hampered by an ill advised agitation in the United Kingdom. It is asserted that excessive consideration is shown to Boers in the refugee camps, while colonists in Natal are suffering hardships.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—Reporting to the War office from Pretoria under date yesterday, Lord Kitchener says:—"Bruce Hamilton, after a long night march surprised Viljens laager at dawn, Friday. At Witkrans, 20 miles north west of Ermelo, he killed sixteen Boers and captured 76 armed prisoners. Many others were wounded and left at the farms. He also recaptured one gun, the other having been destroyed. Two field cornets were taken prisoner. The recaptured gun is in good order and was used against the retreating enemy."

How to Get up an Appetite.

Distaste for food often follows Grippe, and fevers, and is associated with a general weakness of the system. To impart a real zest for food, and give power to the stomach to digest and assimilate, no remedy can equal Ferrozone. This is a new and startling discovery. It strikes at the root of disease and by removing the cause cures quickly and permanently. Ferrozone will quickly enable you to eat and digest anything. Mr. O'Leary can tell you a great deal more about Ferrozone, how it cures and why it cures. Call today and see him.

McNAIRN, KENT CO.

DEATH OF MRS. WM. T. JOHNSON AT THAT PLACE.

(Special to THE REVIEW.)

Passed peacefully to rest on Saturday the 30th ult., Helen Dearymond, beloved wife of Wm. T. Johnson, aged 31 years and 8 months. Deceased, who suffered from a severe malady, bore her illness with patience and Christian fortitude. During the last of her days she frequently spoke of the sweet rest beyond, when death came and the spirit quit this earthly tabernacle to join with kindred spirits to know and feel the fellowship of saints. She leaves a sorrowing husband, an affectionate mother, and one little daughter, who is too young to realize her loss. The numerous friends of the deceased came from far and near to see her during her last illness, she being a general favorite, as those who formed her acquaintance but for a few short years can safely say, "True Friendship is a guerdon knot, which angel hands have tied, In Heaven its holy texture wrought, who can its folds divide; In vain death's all triumphing sword, may strive the links to sever, The union of the twisted cord, in Heaven shall last forever."

On the 3rd inst., a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends followed the remains to their last resting place in the Buctouche cemetery. The service at the house was conducted by Rev. Mr. Vans and at the church by Rev. J. D. Murray (uncle of the deceased) who came from Red Bank to attend the funeral.

Just a Cold in the Head.

But if followed by another cold, or some extra exposure, is liable to result in Nasal Catarrh. Unless a radical cure is obtained the Throat, Bronchial tubes and finally the lungs become affected. Nothing cures colds so quickly and pleasantly as Catarrhazone. The inspector of Mines for Nova Scotia, Mr. Neville, says: "Catarrhazone is the best remedy I have ever used. It cured me of Catarrh of the Head and Throat, and I am pleased to recommend such a satisfactory remedy." Catarrhazone is a safeguard against Colds, Coughs, and Catarrh. It can be used while at work, in the church, theatre, or street cars. Simply inhale Catarrhazone and it cures. Price $1.00. Small size, 25 cents. At R. O'Leary's General Store, Richibucto, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

ENCOURAGING.

Now that the steamer excursion was nearly over and they could see the lights of the city dancing on the waters the young man grew serious. "I should like," he said, "to pursue the acquaintance we have begun in so casual a way on this boat, and with your permission I shall venture to call upon you at your home." "But I don't even know your name," protested the maiden, with becoming diffidence. "My name," he replied "is Eddy." And the friendly darkness hid the blush that suffused her cheek as she responded softly: "You may call, Eddy."—Chicago Tribune.
