DIES FROM BAPTISM.

LEWISTON, Me., Dec. 13.—Mrs. Maria Lombard died at her home in Auburn today, after a brief illness with pneumonia, which, it is alleged, resulted from the woman being baptized in the icy waters of the Androscoggin River last Thanksgiving day by members of the Holy Ghost and Us Society. Also, it is claimed, after a physician who had been called by Mrs. Lombard's relatives, stated that the woman was suffering from pneumonia and prescribed medicine for the patient, the physician was told that his services would be no longer required, the contents of the medicine bottle were turned into a sick and two members of the Shiloh colony took charge of the case. Later the relatives ordered the Sanfordites away, and again called the physician, but his efforts to save her life were fruitless and she died today.

Mrs. Lombard, who was 65 years old, had been interested in the Sanford movement for several years. Last Thanksgiving day she was one of a party who went from this city and Auburn to Shiloh, to be baptized. There the candidates were immersed in the Androscoggin River. A few days after returning to her home, Mrs. Lombard became seriously ill, and called in Miss Carrie Jacquith, a fellow member of the Holy Ghost and Us Society, to treat her. Her condition grew steadily worse and when the circumstances were reported to her half brother, Police Officer Hackett, he sent the Sanfordites away and called in a registered physician. The physician said that while Mrs. Lombard was very ill, with proper treatment she would recover. He prescribed medicine. On Mrs. Lombard's request, however, it is alleged, the medicine was thrown away and Miss Jacquith and another member of the society reinstated. Last Monday, Mr. Hackett found Miss Jacquith and the others at the house and ordered them away, again calling on the physician. He found Mrs. Lombard's condition very critical, and from that time until she died two nurses were in constant attendance.

No Danger.

Fredericton Herald: The receipts from the sale of resident and non-resident hunting licenses so far this season, as shown by the records of the Crown Land Department, amounts to the very respectable sum of $8,655, the largest in the history of the province. The open season for big game does not end until Dec. 31st, so there is a possibility of a further increase. Last year 208 non-resident and 908 resident licenses were issued, for which the sum of $8,266 was paid into the provincial treasury. The receipts for the present season, therefore, exceed those of last season by $389.

A SPARROW HAWK'S SPEED.

The Bird of Prey Does Not Like a Stern Chase.

The sparrow hawk does not more than any other like a long "stern chase," but prefers to attack with the advantage of a surprise when darting from a tree or around the corner of a wood or when swooping with splendid speed from a perch several hundred yards above the ground.

We, seeing a finch or a starling taken in a moment, often do not weigh the fact that the victim was hardly on the wing and probably rising when the bird of prey came like a whirlwind and overwhelmed it. Even if the hawk discovers its prey when traversing the country at a lower elevation it has still the power of a fair momentum to take full advantage of the chance of a swooping rush at the prey, which is probably on the ground.

Of course, when a rook is watched chasing a sparrow hawk across the sky there is nothing to show that the latter is seriously trying to fly at speed. On the contrary, it generally seems in such a case that the hawk is relying mainly on its soaring powers to avoid the attack. And it is remarkable, indeed, with how little apparent effort the hawk will soar up and up from the rook, which all the while is obviously exerting itself frantically. On the other hand, it is generally to be seen that when the birds are flying at a level the rook has no difficulty in overtaking the hawk, who after a turn or two begins to go up, as already stated. The kestrel seems more often to evade its enemies by a turn of speed, though it also takes to the soar readily. Last autumn I saw a fine female kestrel harried by two jays, which swooped at it alternately, very prettily and with surprising persistence. At last the hawk, seemingly tired of "putting out," as a falconer would say, of these active birds, went straight ahead apparently as hard as it could, and then one could see that the jays were not able to overtake it, though they followed to some distance. The same thing happened with the crow. The latter chased the hawk, but was at last outflown in a sheer, straight flight.

FOREIGN FACTS.

London consumes 11 tons of salt a day. Holland has 10,100 windmills, each of which drains on an average 310 acres of land.

A restaurant keeper in a German city has testified that he gives his waiters only $6 a month, whereas, if he forbade fees and undertook to give their equivalent each waiter would cost him $75 a month.

The British girl is getting taller as well as the American. Fifty years ago a medical authority says the height of a very tall British woman was 5 feet 7 inches, while now the height averages 5 feet 6 inches to 5 feet 10 inches.

A rich woman of Moscow left a fund to provide for a prize every five years to the writer of the best play dealing with the question of mothers-in-law, the only proviso being that each piece shall contain the character of a son-in-law who is a villain.

The laws governing the treatment of labor in England are so strictly enforced that employees have exactly the stipulated time for meals. A firm in Leeds, Lancashire, which was discovered cutting the dinner hour short by a half minute each day was fined $85.

How the Dinner Turned Out.

A tiny girl of 7 gave a dinner party the other day for which 12 covers were laid, and that number of small maidens sat down to dine. It was a real little girls' dinner, and the little hostess herself presided, sitting at the head of the table. She had been very anxious in looking forward to it to do everything as it should be done.

"Mamma," she asked, "shall we say grace?"

"No," said mamma; "it will be a very informal dinner, and I think you need not do that."

That meant one less ceremony to be gone through and was a relief, but the little lady was anxious to have all her small guests understand it. So as they were gathered about the table she explained:

"Mamma says this is such an informal dinner that we need not have any grace today."—Recollections of Mrs. Minnie E. Lee.

"Boney" an Endearing Term.

A correspondent asks if the word "boney" as a term of endearment is peculiar to any section.

Well, it has been in use in the rural districts of the south, but it is nearly as old as the hills. Shakespeare used it in "Othello," where the Moor says to Desdemona:

Honey, you shall be well desired in Cyprus.

Also the poet Coogler, if we are not mistaken, hath a rhyme to this purpose:

In the days when life was sunny
Susan smiled and called me "Boney."

We once heard a Billville matter calling to her husband, who was digging bait in the garden, "Honey, if you don't drop that hoe and fetch me in a cord of wood, I'll break this washpot over your head, honey!"

Washington Souvenirs.

"Washington is certainly a city of souvenirs," said an eastern man who is in town for a few days. "You can get the profile of the Father of His Country in eleven out of a thousand dollar bills for 15 cents or the only 'American national spoon' for $4.98. Souvenir hats, umbrellas, cases, capital library, White House, Washington monument, Mount Vernon and a hundred other varieties of souvenirs are as thick as toothpicks in a cheap lunchroom. When I walk along your business streets, the shop windows remind me of one of the big international expositions."

Runs So Personal Risk.

"It seems to me worthy of note," commented the thoughtful man, "that the fellow who is sure the old pistol isn't loaded is seldom so sure of it that he points it at himself when he pulls the trigger. If he did, there would be little cause for complaint."

What He Was After.

Mr. Boney—Dat's what I'm aftah, sho nuff. What else yo' s'pose I call comin' heah to' anyhow, huh?

ARE YOU DEAF? ANY HEAD NOISES?

ALL CASES OF DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE

by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable.

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

Gentlemen—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for deafness, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement, accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain

Very truly yours,
F. A. WERMAN, 720 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

Your treatment does not interfere with your usual occupation.

INTERNATIONAL AURAL CLINIC, 596 LA SALLE AVE., CHICAGO, ILL.

The Moncton Transcript says: It will be learned with general regret that Dr. O. J. McCully has decided to leave Moncton. He has purchased the practice of the late Dr. J. H. Morrison in St. John, specialist, and will leave for that city about the end of the year. Dr. McCully intends to devote his attention almost exclusively to the specialties of the eye, ear and throat diseases.

In the departure of Dr. McCully the city loses one who has been a useful and generally respected citizen, and who as a physician has won a large patronage in which he steadily grew in the confidence of his patients. Since his residence here he has taken an active and deep interest in almost every movement tending to the city's improvement. To the younger men especially will his departure be a loss because of the interest he has taken in the Moncton Athletic Association, being for many years the moving spirit in that organization. He has done much to develop a love for clean, wholesome, healthful sport in the community. But while regretting his departure there is little doubt that his many friends here will wish him every success in his new home.

For Cuts, Wounds, Chills, Chapped Hands, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, Burns, Scalds, Bites of Insects, Croup, Coughs, Colds, Hayard's Yellow Oil will be found an excellent remedy. Price 25 cents. All dealers.
