SNOW! SNOW! SNOW!!!—A large quantity of snow came down on Tuesday, and so did Mitchell come down in prices of sleigh painting. Now is the time to bring in your sleighs and have them overhauled and painted, so bring them along and have a first-class job done for little money. I. W. MITCHELL, Rexton.

IN MEMORIAM.

Harry Girvan died Nov. 19.

One we laid in peaceful slumber away from all life's ills, When the snows of early Autumn were lying on the hills.

Three weeks ago Pearl, youngest child of Mrs. Alex. Girvan, of Rexton, was buried. This was a severe trial to the widowed mother whose husband died thirteen months ago. To-day she mourns the loss of another—her beloved eldest son Harry, aged 13 years and 6 months. The day before his sister was buried he met with a painful accident from an explosion of gunpowder. His eyes being too weak to resume study, he spent a week at his uncle's home in West Galloway.

On returning to Rexton, he was ill, but not until Thursday was special alarm felt, when he told his mother, "he would never be better." Under Dr. McWilliam's treatment he seemed to improve for three days, but Monday night a change for the worse came. Tuesday, at 10 a. m., the dear little fellow succumbed to the dread disease of whatever nature it was which stole on him imperceptibly and deprived the mother of her only support.

He was conscious to the last, and although he told them he was not afraid to die, he would say, "I would like to live for your sake, Ma." He calmly bade all "Good-bye" and after entreating his mother and sisters not to fret he asked them to carry "Good-bye" to his aged Grandparents and favorite cousins. His last words were "I'm dying I know, are my eyes closing?"

This dear boy was a universal favorite and his early and sudden demise casts a gloom over the community.

Interment took place in the old cemetery at West Galloway. The large cortege at both funerals testifies to the sympathy felt for the widow in her double bereavement.

"Gone in the freshness of spring-time, Gone in the bloom of his youth; Gone to the home of the angels, Gone to the City of Truth.

"Lonely his loved ones without him, Lonely and sad is their home; Missing the light of his presence, Mother and sisters alone.

"Mourning ones, why grieve in silence, Why now so bitterly weep; Yours all the pain of the parting, But 'tis all the sweetness of sleep.

"He who loved only has taken, Weekly we'll bow beneath the rod; For a love, unseen, eternal, Folds him in the arms of his God. A CHAPLET FROM FRIENDSHIP'S HAND, Nov. 21, 1901.

MAIN RIVER NOTES.

Nov. 23rd.—Thinking that our old correspondent has left us, I will endeavor to write a few notes.

The weather has been unusually dry and mild for the season.

Mr. Wm. Keswick is doing a rushing business with his hemlock bark.

Messrs. William and Frederick Fearon are doing quite a lumbering business in the woods in Galloway this fall.

Rumor says there will be a new post office here in the near future. The people are leg wearing going so far for their mail.

One of our oldest residents, Mr. John McEscherm, died at his home at the advanced age of 70 years.

Mr. Michael Donaher is visiting friends in Mill Branch.

Mr. Henry O'Leary and Harry Fearon, of Richibucto, said Main River a flying visit on Sunday last.

Mrs. William Morris has returned home from visiting her friends in Fredericton. MAYFLOWER.

"What is the key to success?" "The ability to make people pay." "Pay for what they get?" "No; pay for what you tell them they are getting."—Chicago Post.

Rakings.

—THANKSGIVING DAY.

—Ladies' Fur trimmed Capes at J. & W. BRAIT'S.

—We are paying 6 cents cash per lb. for trimmed hides. R. FMINNEY & Co.

—We are requested to announce that the Auction sale at Mr. Alex. Gifford's has been postponed until Monday, the 2nd day of December.

—The smelt fishermen are getting prepared for their winter's work, and all will be in readiness when the season opens on the 1st of December.

—The schooner A. Y. Smith, Capt. Fraser, arrived from Charlottetown on Sunday with a supply of vegetables. Cabbage are selling for 30cts. per dozen.

—Several carloads of hemlock bark which were on the public wharf, had to be taken off during the high tide on Monday, not being considered safe where it was.

—Mrs. Heskett of Mill Stream, Kent Co., received word last week from Chatham that her mother was dead. She went to Chatham on Saturday to be present at the funeral.

—A big line of Ladies' underwear to select from at J. & W. BRAIT'S.

—The ground is again covered with snow and people are getting out their sleighs. Our prediction at the first of the month that November would go out like a lion is coming true.

—Dr. A. B. Teakles, Dentist, will be in Richibucto on Wednesday, Dec. 4th, and will remain until Saturday, the 7th. He will also be in Rexton from Monday, the 9th, until Saturday morning, the 14th.

—The schooner Hazelwood, Capt. Rufus Curwin, arrived in port on Tuesday morning, having been out during the storm on Monday. Some rough weather was experienced on their trip from P. E. Island.

—Mens' Fur Coats and Caps, Mens' Ulsters, Overcoats and Reefers at J. & W. BRAIT'S.

—The long wished for rain has come at last, much to the delight of those who were compelled to carry water from a distance on account of their wells being dry. This rain will be a great benefit in many ways.

—A correspondent from Buctouche says that Mr. J. D. Irving's grist mill is running full blast and everything is in fine working order. The grist is ground and returned to its owner the same day. Mr. Irving is a hustler.

—We have in stock a big range of Fur Robes and Horse Blankets. Prices right. J. & W. BRAIT.

—The public school at Rexton was closed down last week on account of sickness among the school children, which was thought to be diphtheria. A young son of Mrs. Alex. Girvan died from the disease, an account of which will be found in another column.

—It is sometime since there was as high a tide as was seen on Monday. The public wharf was almost completely submerged with water, as was also what is called the "awdust" wharf. Those who had boats, saws, or anything of that kind to haul up took the opportunity and had them placed in winter quarters.

—Messrs. A. & R. Loggie expect to do a rushing business at the smelts this winter. They have had an addition built to their already large and commodious establishment, and if the smelts are plentiful they intend doing a much larger business than ever. They are now buying what is being caught with hook and line.

—A short time ago we announced that all subscribers in arrears to this paper would be dealt with according to law if their subscriptions were not paid within one month's time. We find that we are compelled to do this unless they attend to this matter at once, although we very much regret that we have to do so.

—We have on hand at this office one of the finest assortments of writing paper and envelopes that can be found in any city, and we would be pleased to have a call from those in need of any. A box of nice stationery would be a present for Xmas worth giving. Call and see our stock before purchasing elsewhere. Prices right.

—The R. A. D. C. are progressing favorably in the rehearsal of their four act drama "Because I Love You," and intend, if nothing prevents, putting it on the boards about Xmas or New Year. Some people may come to the conclusion after hearing the title of the play that it is what some would call "soft," but we can assure you that it is not, and that a rare treat is in store for those who attend.

—Quite a number have taken advantage of the special offer we are making in our reading. We give THE REVIEW, "The Montreal Daily Herald" and a beautiful portrait of King Edward VII all for 75c. This offer is only last a short time, and those wishing to get all the latest news, both local and foreign, should avail themselves of this opportunity. See King Edward's picture in our window.

A ten cent package of Magnetic Dyes and very little work will make a new blouse of your faded silk one—try it.
