THE WORLD OVER.

ORLEANS, Mass., Nov. 7.—The schooner John S. Parker, of St. John, N. B., bound from that city for a Sound port, with a cargo of lumber, struck on the bar off here during the heavy southeast gale early this morning and was wrecked. Capt. Ernst and his crew of five men were rescued in the breeches buoy by the Orleans life saving crew after a gallant struggle. The vessel was first seen by Patrolman Murphy shortly after 2 a. m. The other life-savers were quickly notified of the wreck, and Capt. Charles and his crew left their quarters at once for the scene, some two miles distant, with their apparatus. The schooner was at this time on the outer bar with the sea running completely over her, and this threatened every moment to wash the crew overboard. It was impossible to launch a boat in such a sea, and the life-savers were quick to see that the only means of rescue lay in the breeches buoy. After some difficulty, a line was shot on board and made fast. Soon afterwards a second line was sent to the schooner from the gun. The schooner did not remain stationary, but worked her way southward and closer to the shore. The line from the schooner to the beach was fully a mile long and took some little time to arrange so that the buoy could be pulled in in safety. Finally, the sailors were brought ashore. The crew underwent a terrible experience and suffered fearfully from exposure. For about four hours the work of rescue went on, with the vessel constantly shifting over the treacherous sands, and eventually bringing up in the inner bar, where her cargo and loose fittings began to wash up on the beach.

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 7.—Commander Frank A. Garforth of the guardship Hotspur was drowned in the Great Sound last night. He is supposed to have fallen overboard. The body has been recovered.

EASTPORT, Me., Nov. 7.—The hull of an old frigate Minnesota, recently burned at Broad Cove, is being broken up with dynamite, the wreckers being anxious to get through with her before the cold weather sets in. It is estimated that a cord of wood has been carried away by relic gatherers. WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Mrs. W. S. Cowles, wife of Commander Cowles of the navy and sister of President Roosevelt, was robbed of, or lost, about ten days ago, a diamond brooch valued at about $5,000. It is believed that the loss occurred during Mrs. Cowles' recent trip to New England, and detectives of several cities through which she passed are working on the case.

LA GUIRA, Venezuela, Nov. 7. (via Haytian cable).—Senor Herbest, the minister of Chili at Bogota, with the authorization of his government, has cabled to President Castro offering the good offices of Chili in order to arrange the differences between Venezuela and Colombia, stipulating the acceptance of Colombia. President Castro's reply was as follows: "I accept your proposition with pleasure, on condition that Colombia gives full powers and do not forget my answer to the congress at Mexico, stipulating reparation and the payment of damages for invasions and losses, bases which I consider just and reasonable."

CATELAGAN, Capital of Island of Samar, Nov. 7.—The few Filipinos who are surrendering say that insurgent leader Lukban's provisions are exhausted, and that he and his men are living on a scanty supply of sweet potatoes. Lukban is being strongly urged to surrender. He is weakening, and it is believed he will yield by Nov. 10, owing to the blockade making it impossible for him to procure more food.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 7.—A special to the Star from Leavenworth, Kas., says: "A mutiny is reported to have broken out at the new federal penitentiary works this afternoon. Forty convicts have gone and have broken away from the guards. The new prison is on the edge of the town and two miles from Fort Leavenworth. A telephone message from Leavenworth at 5:30 is to the effect that three of the guards were shot by the convicts in their effort to escape, and that some were started from the fort to the scene."

PARIS, Nov. 7.—The correspondent here of the Associated Press has had an interview with M. Bouquet, director in chief of the department of technical instruction of the ministry of commerce, who confirmed the statement published by the Matin to day that the minister of commerce, M. Millerand, proposes to appoint a committee to elaborate a plan for the establishment of a French school in the United States devoted to the study of American industrial methods. PARIS, Nov. 7.—A despatch from Admiral Caillaud has just been received, announcing that he landed marines on the island of Mitylene this morning and occupied the customs at Midilli without resistance.

PORT HURON, Mich., Nov. 7.—Chas. D. Thompson, treasurer supreme finance keeper of the Supreme Tent Knights of Maccabees, has confessed that his accounts are short $57,000. He has written a letter to Supreme Commander Markey acknowledging the shortage.

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 7.—Corea has allotted to Japan 650 acres at Chapokko, near Masampo, for a special settlement to be policed by the Japanese. The land was formerly pegged out by a Russian warship. The Korean veto on grain exports has been withdrawn in deference to Japan's remonstrances.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Nov. 7.—One man was killed, three others dangerously wounded and 26 desperate convicts are at large, as a result of a mutiny late this afternoon at the site of the new United States prison, near here, where 400 prisoners from the federal prison in charge of 30 armed guards, were at work. When the trouble began the rebellious prisoners had only two revolvers. These had been secreted in one of the walls of the building by some unknown persons. Two walls are partly completed and the remainder of the site of the building is surrounded by high wooden stockade.

Gus Parker, of Ardmore, I. T., one of the ringleaders, walked to the corner of the stockade in which the revolvers were concealed, and secured them without being detected. He returned to the gang and passed one of the revolvers to Frank Thompson, a negro from South McAlester, I. T., who secreted it about his person.

When T. E. Hinds, superintendent of construction, and three armed guards prepared to round up the men at the end of the day's work, the two armed convicts covered them with revolvers and, encouraged by the other mutinous convicts, forced the men to walk before them to the northwestern corner of the stockade, where they expected to make a rush through the opening. On the outside of the stockade was an armed guard and the convicts were met by C. E. Barrows, a guard, who fought them back, but who received two shots in the neck. The convicts then rushed over to the south wall to another opening and was met by Arthur Treelford, an armed guard, who is in charge of all the convicts. Treelford resisted and was shot twice but not dangerously wounded.

Defeated in their attempt to escape at this point, the men rushed to the guard house, a temporary frame structure, where the arms are kept. The guards from the outside rushed in and drove the convicts away from the guardhouse.

J. P. Waldrup, a guard, shot and killed Ford Quin, from Ryan, I. T. The prisoners then made a grand rush for the main entrance and twenty-six of them succeeded in escaping. Closely followed by the guards, the men ran into a nearby forest and succeeded in evading their pursues.

The men went in the direction of Easton, Kan., and it is reported here that they held up many farmers, taking horses and clothing.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Bernard Call of East Kingston was killed by John McManus at that place yesterday in a quarrel over the election. While engaged in a heated argument over the returns, McManus seized Call, thrashed him and threw him in the doorway. Call died one hour later.

White Watery Pimples.

Five years ago my body broke out in white watery pimples, which grew so bad that the suffering was almost unbearable. I took doctors' medicine and various remedies for two years but they were of little benefit, whenever I got warmed up or sweat the pimples would come out again. My doctor advised Burdock Blood Bitters, and I am glad I followed his advice, for four bottles completely cured me. That was three years ago and there has never been a spot or pimple on me since. James Lashouse, Brechin P.O., Ont.

LOVE IS NOT BLIND. Love is not blind, but sees through all disguise. And that is why we hear from day to day of odd engagements, causing much surprise, and weddings passing strange in every way. "What can she see in him?" the critics say. Love is not blind, but sees through all disguise. To those who cannot use his reasoning say: At whom love laughs and loves them to surprise. I find in you what all true lovers prize: You find in me all I was meant to be. Love is not blind, but sees through all disguise. And finds the charm—compatibility. And so when comes the day that we are wed We'll smile at those who think themselves more wise. And live to prove the truth of what we said— Love is not blind, but sees through all disguise.

SOME WHITTILING STUNTS From the Ball in Prison to the Anchor, Chain and Buoy. "I suppose," said Uncle Hiram, "that every small boy when he gets his first sharp knife does just what our young friend here has been doing. He gets a nice stick of soft white pine and cuts a ball imprisoned within four corner bars. I know I did that, and I have made lots of them."

"You take a squared stick of soft white pine of any dimensions, but say an inch square and four inches long, and mark off a block an inch long in the middle of its length. Then you mark off on either side of that another space of an inch, and then you proceed to dig out the wood from those spaces through from side to side and from all sides, but carefully leaving the corners of the block untouched, for these will each become a part of the bar of that corner extending from end to end, when the middle block, of which the ball is to be made, is cut free.

"When you have cut out those spaces all clear, leaving the square block in the middle, you cut the block down rounding at the corners, cutting it into the shape of a ball as much as possible before cutting it away at the corners, because it is so much easier to shape when it is thus held than it will be after it is loose. Only you want to be careful not to slice down through the corner pieces and so spoil the whole thing, and you want to look out, too, not to do what our young friend here has done, and what I have often done myself, for that matter, and that is to slice down through an end of the block, cutting one of the corner pieces clear there, before you come to the rounding of the block at all.

"The rounded block cut free, you smooth it off nicely, and smooth the side pieces and ends, and there you are, a ball that couldn't have been got into this frame from the outside at all, but that is in it, all right, and that rolls freely within it from end to end. "Sometimes a boy would make one of those with two balls in it, and I have occasionally known a boy to make a ball in a holder like this out of hard wood, which is a triumph, for to make a good imprisoned ball of any wood is a task requiring the exercise of some skill and of very great patience, but it is really nothing to some of the whittling stunts that occasionally men do aboard ship on long voyages or on long walks in port.

"A man who was fond of whittling might, in such circumstances, take for a blank a stick as long as a broomstick and of suitable dimensions and carve out of one end of this an anchor on a swivel. It is pretty difficult work, and it calls for the greatest patience, too, to cut a swivel out of a solid block. "Having cut the anchor and the swivel, the whittler proceeds to cut that long stick, step by step, into the links of a wooden chain. A link at a time he adds to the wooden cable, this growing and the solid remaining part of the stick steadily decreasing till he comes to the other end, and there he cuts another swivel, and for the very end a buoy.

"Now, there is something in the whittling line that does take patience. I am afraid our young friend here has not yet acquired a sufficient stock of patience to enable him to do that. I am not certain that I could do that myself."

A Question of Nationality. It happened at one of the Baltimore police stations. The prisoner, a long haired hobo son of Erin, lounged against the bar of justice. The justice glared at him over his spectacles. "What's his name?" he inquired of the lieutenant. "Michael O'Hara, squire; charged with being drunk on the street."

"Him! Foreign born," mused the justice. "Speech a sie Englishen, O'Hara?" The prisoner straightened up in his soles shoes and, with the dignity of generations of kings, said: "Squire, it's an American citizen I am from me birth, being born in Ireland. I want me case tried by an American judge an not by a foreigner dago with a spache that a Christian can't understand."

"Oh, you're Irish. I thought your name had a German sound," said the squire, once humbly. "Case dismissed, lieutenant." Marine Creatures That Catch Birds. "One of the names of the great, clumsy, moon shaped, wide mouthed fish commonly called the angler," said an old fisherman, "is gooselike. There is nothing gooselike in the angler's appearance, but somebody once saw an angler, big and clumsy as it is, come up unaware and nab a goose that had settled on the water and drag it under; hence the name. "But then, as far as that's concerned, you wouldn't expect seals to be bird catchers, would you? Is a matter of fact the harbor seal does occasionally get a bird, such as a duck, which it might so chance upon as to be able to capture it."

A Bar to Marriage. Daughter (weeping)—Papa, do have a little mercy and let Charles and me be happy together. Papa (with a sad professor)—What? You want to think of marriage when you don't even know where to find the hypotheuse of a right angled triangle? Always Careful. Mamma—I hope you gave that young Custer a piece of your mind when he kissed you. Ethel—Ah, mamma, I wanted to hear your opinion about it first. Bulgaria is a great country for the distillation of attar of roses, which is used in so many ways by perfumers and soap-makers. Silk dresses were worn in China 4,500

Tailors' Bad Backs. The cramped up position in which a tailor works comes hard on his kidneys and hard on his back. Very few escape backache, pain in the side and urinary troubles of one kind and another. Oftentimes the first warnings of kidney disease are neglected—think it will be all right in a day or two—but sick kidneys won't get well without help.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS Are the best friend of kidneys needing assistance. Read the proof from a tailor who has tried them. Mr. John Robertson, merchant tailor Durham, Ont., gives his experience as follows: "I had been ailing with my kidneys for more than a year when I commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at McFarlane's drug store, and am sincerely glad that I did so. The wrong action of my kidneys made me sick all over and caused me much inconvenience and pain. This is now a thing of the past, because Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. I have had no trouble or inconvenience with my kidneys or back since I took these remarkable pills, and you may be sure that I gladly recommend them to other sufferers."

POINTED PARAGRAPHS. The waiter often pulls the carte before the donkey. It takes more than a wooden head to produce thoughts that burn. The parting that gives us pain often occurs while seated in a dental chair. A good business qualification is the ability to attend to one's own business. Many a man who has a small spark of genius imagines he possesses a large conflagration. "JUST AS GOOD" Has no glimmer of truth in it when it means a substitute for Dr. Agnew's Ointment. There are cases on record where men and women too have suffered unspeakable torture from piles; where all kinds of remedies have been applied; where the surgeon's knife has been resorted to as the only hope; where electricity has tried its good offices, but without any permanent cure; and Dr. Agnew's Ointment, as the last resort, has proved its magic—one application has given relief. There is no other "just as good." Don't take chances. 55

Coal Bills are now a serious item. Then why burn coals for the weekly wash? Some Soaps won't wash linen without boiling, but SUNLIGHT SOAP will. It's a wise economy to buy the best of all Soaps, when by doing so the quantity of coal used on washing day can be Reduced 50 per cent. Burning coal to help inferior and high-priced Soaps to wash is like spending a 5-cent train fare to purchase a 10-cent article for 9 cents. By using SUNLIGHT SOAP you save its cost in the cost of the coals used, not to mention the longer life of the articles washed. A tablet of SUNLIGHT SOAP is asked for by three people to one asking for any other soap in the world.
