DEATH AT SOUTH BRANCH.—At South Branch on Saturday last, the death occurred of Mrs. Charles D. Carter, in the twenty-third year of her age. She was the daughter of Mr. Finlay McIntosh, of Buctouche. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother. The funeral took place Monday, the body being buried in the Presbyterian burying at ground Buctouche.

APOLOGY.—We very much regret having published in our last issue a clipping sent in by the Press Secretary of the W. C. T. U. column. We wish to explain that for several years we have allowed the W. C. T. U. branch of this town a free column to be devoted to the cause of temperance only. The matter for this column is furnished by one of the local members of the W. C. T. U., appointed by the members for that purpose. We have not therefore taken the same care in overlooking this column, and shutting out objectionable matter that we have in our regular columns, as the understanding with the members of the Union was that matter in the interest of temperance only should be published. As a result the article in question found its way into our columns without coming under the Editor's notice. We wish to apologize to our Roman Catholic friends and to all broad minded Protestants as well, for the publication of the article in question, which cannot be characterized as other than a most bigoted, illiberal and scandalous attack on a christian church.

WEDDING AT MORTIMORE, KENT CO.—The residence of Mr. Wm. Hetherington, Mortimore, was the scene of a very interesting event on Wednesday, Nov. 20th, when their second daughter Maggie Bee, Hetherington, was united in marriage to Ernest E. Warman. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Wheeler, pastor of the Harcourt Presbyterian church. The bride was attended by Miss Alma Warman, while the groom was supported by Mr. Larkin Merton, of Acadieville. The bride was becomingly attired in fine grey cloth, prettily trimmed with white silk and braid. The bride's maid was tastefully gowned in grey and white cloth, with white silk trimmings. After the ceremony, which was witnessed by a large number of relatives and friends, the party sat down to a sumptuous wedding repast and desert of fruit, nuts and confectionery, interspersed with music and friendly chat. The bride was the recipient of numerous presents both useful and ornamental. The last but not the least amusing scene of the evening was the advent of the charivariers who made their appearance with bustle and noise demanding as usual to see the bride. The front door was opened and they were cordially invited by Mrs. Hetherington, mother of the bride, to walk in, which they did in quiet soldier file, their guns over their shoulders and cap on mazzle of each gun. They were amply treated to refreshments which were duly appreciated after which they retired with cheers for the welfare of the bride and groom.—A GUEST. (Moncton Times please copy.)

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor of The Review.

As President of the W. C. T. U., I feel it a duty I owe to the public, to offer an explanation of the way in which the article, causing so much unpleasantness, appeared in the column you have so kindly placed at our disposal.

It was an oversight, and never intended to be published in "THE REVIEW," but through some mistake got mixed up with the other clippings, and I must say that our Press Supt. was as much surprised as ourselves to see it there. I hope the public will accept this explanation, for so far from alienating any of our fellow citizens we would be most glad to have the co-operation of all the ladies of the town, in the great work of promoting Temperance interests, and thus checking a traffic which brings wreck and ruin into homes and lives, and so manifestly hinders and mars the cause of religion in our midst. Our work is for the home and our fellow creatures, and it has been my experience in other places to have the help in this philanthropic work of the Roman Catholic ladies, and we should be glad to have it so here.

We hope that THE REVIEW will not suffer through our mistake. Yours truly, JANET MEEK, Pres. W. C. T. U. Tuesday, Dec. 3rd, 1901.

MAIN RIVER ITEMS.

As your Main River correspondent is ethereal and I am of the earth earthy, I fear your readers will find these items flat. But as some of our absent friends have expressed a wish for notes from home, I will endeavor to gratify them.

News, like water, is scarce. We are having a thaw which, although a delight to those that are short of water, still it has spoiled the sleigh driv whiche some of our young folk had in prospect.

Mr Johnson Murray is favoring his friends with a visit.

Mrs. Alex. Murray, of Main River, has been visiting friends here.

Miss Flemming passed through here en route for Pine Ridge.

The ball of the season is to come off soon. Coal Branch is the fashionable resort this fall.

A few of our friends intend organizing a literary society or conversazone. We hope they will be successful. Material is scarce. Probably if they apply to Carnegie he will supply them with ample funds for a library which would be of great service.

Some of our young men are engaged in the lumber business. Others are prospecting, but Xmas will most likely collect them together which will cause much rejoicing in "the homes."

There are hints of a wedding this season, but those hints are so vague that I cannot furnish the absent with any definite information. I can only excite their curiosity to some extent, which time will certainly satisfy.

Our mail driver is just as obliging and pleasant as ever. Broncho still holds his own and looks fine.

These notes are not like the young minister's sermon, "Beautifully clear and grandly beautiful." We will hope for more solid news next time.

Asthma

"One of my daughters had a terrible case of asthma. We tried almost everything, but without relief. We then tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and three and one-half bottles cured her."—Emma Jane Entsminger, Langsville, O.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral certainly cures many cases of asthma.

And it cures bronchitis, hoarseness, weak lungs, whooping-cough, croup, winter coughs, night coughs, and hard colds.

Three sizes: 25c, enough for an ordinary case; 50c, just right for bronchitis, hoarseness, hard cold, etc.; $1, most economical for chronic cases and to keep on hand. J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.
