Paine's Celery Compound Cures Chronic and Complicated Cases of Rheumatism.

IN BANISHES EVERY TRACE OF POISONOUS ACID FROM THE BLOOD.

Has Made More Permanent and Wonderful Cures than all other Medicines in the World.

All rheumatic sufferers dread the variable and trying weather of October and November. Sufferers from the various forms of rheumatism—articular, muscular, inflammatory, gout and lumbago—suffer more intensely in the autumn months.

Thousands of victims of rheumatism have come back from summer health resorts only to find themselves as badly tortured and crippled as they were before they started for their false Meccas of health.

Careful medical tests and a long experience prove that Paine's Celery Compound is the only agent and medicine for the cure of all forms of rheumatism, and succeeds when everything else fails.

I am happy to say I have taken Paine's Celery Compound with great results. I had sciatica so badly that I could not turn in bed or walk without help, and for a period of three weeks was helplessly laid up and suffered pain that at times was almost unbearable.

I tried many medicines, but all in vain. I was afterwards recommended to try Paine's Celery Compound. I used six bottles and am entirely cured, and enjoy good health. I take great pleasure in recommending the valuable medicine that cured me.

A CHANGE IN HIS OCCUPATION.

"I have just engaged in literary pursuits," said the wealthy stockbroker, as he entered his club last night.

GROWTH OF THE EARS.

It is Asserted That it Never Stops Until Death.

The systematic examination of more than 40,000 pairs of human ears in England and France has resulted in some interesting conclusions. For one thing it is ascertained that the ear continues to grow in the later decades of life.

Why ears should go on growing all one's life any more than noses is a mystery. There are a good many other points about them that are instructive, their shapes being markedly persistent through heredity.

There is probably nobody in the world who has a pair of ears perfectly matched. In most people the two differ perceptibly not only in shape, but also in size.

Thousands of victims of rheumatism have come back from summer health resorts only to find themselves as badly tortured and crippled as they were before they started for their false Meccas of health.

Careful medical tests and a long experience prove that Paine's Celery Compound is the only agent and medicine for the cure of all forms of rheumatism, and succeeds when everything else fails.

THE TOILET ROOM.

A few drops of ammonia in the water soften it nicely and help to remove stains from the hands.

Soft wash leather with which to rub the face after washing helps to keep the complexion smooth and white.

Just a dash of eau de cologne or toilet vinegar thrown into the water before washing will make it much more refreshing when one is hot and tired.

Almond meal, oatmeal and orris root in small bags placed in the bath water a few moments before you place yourself there will render the water milky and will have a softening and whitening effect on the skin.

Two Passengers' Distiques. A lady of truly masculine spirit, accompanied by a small poodle, is said to have failed sadly the other day in an attempted reformatory movement.

Colonel. she said when they were alone on the stairway, "father tells me you are a man who never fails. Nothing verbal could be much more delicious than Joseph H. Choate's definition of the dinners of the New England Society of New York as "those gatherings of an unhappy company of pilgrims who meet annually at Delmonico's to drown the sorrows and sufferings of their ancestors in the flowing bowl and to contemplate their own virtues in the mirror of history."

Dear Sir—Will you please send me eggs in the future that are not so fresh? We do not like that milky curd in them. Please keep them a few days before shipping and oblige yours, etc.

"I remember one note in particular that ran this way: 'Dear Sir—Your eggs are too fresh. Send nothing under a week old. If we cannot get what we want, will have to look elsewhere.'

"Now, wasn't that encouraging for a man trying to satisfy the yearnings of New Yorkers for fresh eggs? I could give you many instances showing that New York was willing to buy all the fresh eggs you could send to town if you were willing to sell them at 15 cents a dozen. I have sold them as cheaply as 25 cents a dozen and had hard work to do that, so you cannot blame me for saying New York does not want fresh eggs if it has to pay a few cents more than is charged for stale eggs."

"You find spring water a very great advantage in dairying, I presume?" "Oh, I don't know," said the milkman; "the average person buying milk doesn't know the difference between spring water and any other kind."—Detroit Journal.

ANCIENT HEN FRUIT.

ONLY KIND FOR WHICH NEW YORKERS ARE WILLING TO PAY.

A Poultryman Declares That the Dwellers in the Metropolis Will Not Give Up the Price Necessary to Secure Newly Laid Eggs.

"New York doesn't want fresh eggs," said a poultryman who knows to a group of city friends. They professed to doubt what he said, which moved him to remark:

"If you don't believe that is true, you try and furnish fresh eggs to the New Yorkers who are just yearning for them, as I have done, and see if the yearners are willing to pay you a price that will enable you to buy your daily bread, to say nothing of the butter. You will find that you will get a price for them for a short time during the winter, but what about the rest of the year?"

"Have you ever stopped to think that the man who is able to supply you with fresh eggs during the winter has had to spend a great deal of time in studying up that particular subject? Are you aware that he has been obliged to breed a lot of hens during the spring and early summer and that he has had to feed and care for them for six months without getting one cent in return? Have you stopped to think that he must carry a stock throughout the year in order to have the fowls laying when you want eggs, and he must house his fowls in warm and expensively built coops? And, above all else, understand when I say a fresh egg I mean an egg that is no more than a day old when it is served to you."

"How many times have you eaten an egg here that was not more than a day old? Why, there are people in the country who make a specialty of sending into New York what they consider fresh eggs, which are anywhere from three days to three weeks old."

"I think you ought to understand that the eggs sold in New York as 'strictly fresh' are any old age. The farmer's wife saves them until she has a goodly number to sell at the local grocery or to make a fair showing when the egg collector comes around, for there are men who make a business of gathering eggs. They have routes laid out through certain territory, and they traverse them once every two weeks. Thus, as you can see, the eggs are at least two weeks old on the average before they get into the hands of the collector."

"The collector keeps them in a cellar until he gets enough together to justify him in making a shipment to the city, which may be anywhere from one to three weeks, depending on the time of year. Then when the commission man receives them here he keeps them a few days until they are sold, so that your fresh eggs come dangerously near to being a month old. That's why I can understand that the egg dealer—and he happens to be one of the biggest men in his line in the town—said he considered every egg fresh that didn't hatch while in transit to the city."

"Now, let me tell you why I believe New York doesn't want fresh eggs at a fresh egg price, if it wants them at all. I shipped eggs into the city that were not more than three hours old when they were placed in the hands of the consumer here. I suppose you never before heard of eggs so fresh as those getting into New York? It's a fact nevertheless. When the eggs left my place, many of them had only a few minutes before being taken from the nests and were still warm. The trip on the cars occupied a little more or so the express company had delivered them at their destination."

"Those were fresh eggs, gentlemen—not 'strictly fresh' nor 'guaranteed fresh' but plain fresh eggs. I found any number of people who needed those fresh eggs to round out their lives. They were the one thing missing—until they received the bill for them, and then there was a time."

"Mind you, they were charged no more than 50 cents a dozen in the coldest of winter weather for the only fresh eggs in New York, and how they did go on! Many of them who had been most enthusiastic over the eggs before the bills were sent out refused to pay the bills on the ground that the eggs were just the worst, stale old eggs that ever had been, whereas none of the eggs was more than 24 hours old, and many of them, as I have said, were not more than three hours old."

"When I cornered them on the freshness of the eggs, these yearners made all sorts of silly complaints. The trouble with them was that they wanted the eggs, but didn't want to pay for them. So they went back to fresh eggs from the cold storage plants—back to eggs that were six months old—and were happy, I hope."

"I had one customer who bought the eggs by advice of a physician. This man had two children who were convalescent after an attack of scarlet fever. The man was in fairly comfortable circumstances, and the physician told him the eggs were doing his children more good than anything else he could get. We were selling him the eggs at 40 cents a dozen, and when the price was raised to 45 cents a dozen this man was up in arms and refused to take any more. I suppose the children came around all right, though I never heard anything more about them."

"Complaints were also made that the eggs were too fresh. Would you believe it? I can show you letters received on that particular subject. The majority of them ran like this: 'Dear Sir—Will you please send me eggs in the future that are not so fresh? We do not like that milky curd in them. Please keep them a few days before shipping and oblige yours, etc.'

"I remember one note in particular that ran this way: 'Dear Sir—Your eggs are too fresh. Send nothing under a week old. If we cannot get what we want, will have to look elsewhere.'

"Now, wasn't that encouraging for a man trying to satisfy the yearnings of New Yorkers for fresh eggs? MARITIME PROVINCE NOTES.

GLACE BAY, Oct. 3.—A painful shooting accident occurred at Gardner Mines Monday. While Wm. Burns and Abner Farrow were going out on the Bay to shoot ducks the gun which Burns carried exploded by coming in contact with the boat just as he was about to enter.

His hand was nearly severed from his wrist, and will likely have to be amputated. It is a miracle that Farrow was not killed as he was standing right in front of Burns when the shot went off. Almost the whole contents of the shot struck him in the face, his ear was nearly blown off, the cheek was partly torn away and his hat was literally riddled with shot.

ST. ANDREWS, N. B., Oct. 4.—A dead body, supposed to be that of John Stevens, of Calais, who was recently drowned from a schooner at Robbinston, under suspicious circumstances, was found on the bank of the river, about three miles from St. Andrews, this afternoon.

The features were unrecognizable. The body was clothed with striped duck pants, heavy laced shirt, and light laced shoes. The right arm was tattooed from shoulder down with the figures of women, wreaths, etc. The body was brought to St. Andrews tonight for identification.

AMHERST, N. S., Oct. 4.—W. J. Moran, who has carried on an extensive dry goods and grocery business here for the past twenty years, assigned to-day to the official assignee, Amon B. Etter. For some time he has been trying to effect a compromise, but was unable. The liabilities are about $27,000; assets not yet known. Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Moran, who is one of our most respected business men.

HALIFAX, Oct. 4.—George Gordon Duxton died at his residence, Dartmouth, this morning, aged 74 years. He came to Canada from Scotland in 1865 and resided in St. John for two years. FREDERICTON, Oct. 5.—William, the seven months' old and only child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster, of King street, died last night while his mother was ill of typhoid fever at Victoria Hospital, with no knowledge that her child had been sick. Mrs. Foster's condition was such that her physician thought it unsafe to inform her of the sad fact.

Mrs. Louis Provosts publishes what he thinks About Dodd's Kidney Pills

A Convincing Piece of Evidence as to the Wonderful Power of this Remedy—Bright's Disease, Heart Disease and Rheumatism Each Afflicted Mrs. Provosts—Dodd's Kidney Pills Promptly Cured Her.

ST. MAGLOIRE, Que., Oct. 7.—(Special)—The following letter was written by a well-known and highly respected lady of this place, being a copy of the original sent to the Dodd's Medicine Company of Toronto.

"When I wrote you for some Dodd's Kidney Pills I was so discouraged that I had no hope of being able to find any remedy to save my life. I suffered with Bright's Disease, Heart Disease and Rheumatism and I was much bloated also with Dropsy. I was so feeble that I was unable to do anything. I suffered sixteen years with Rheumatism. There were two years and a half that I suffered with Bright's Disease. I have tried all the remedies in the world and always grow worse and worse.

"There was one time when for three months I abandoned all my remedies and resolved to let myself die without taking any medicine. I received by chance one of your almanacs and a paper. I read them and I decided to write you and try again with your remedy.

"Great was my surprise at the good that Dodd's Kidney Pills gave me with the first box you sent; I took them and my health was greatly improved. Since then I have taken twenty boxes. I am cured of my Bright's Disease, my Heart Disease and my Rheumatism. I have still two boxes to take and by the time I have finished them I shall be in perfect health. I will permit you to publish this letter with pleasure and I hope later to give you facts of my recovery more completely than at present. I am still weak, but with time I shall be strong as ever. I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all who suffer with any of the disease that I did."

THE SHAMROCK DEFEATED. IRISH YACHT FAILS TO LIFT THE CUP. NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—With victory flags floating from her towering mast head and at the ends of her spreaders in honor of her concluding triumph in the cup races of 1901, the gallant sloop Columbia returned to her anchorage to-night under the escort of the entire excursion fleet. She to-day completed her defense of the honored trophy in another stirring race with the Shamrock II, over a leeward and windward course of thirty miles, crossing the finish line two seconds behind her antagonist, but winning on the allowance conceded by Lipton's boat by 41 seconds.

For the second time she has now successfully foiled the attempt of the Irish knight to wrest from our possession the cup that means the yachting supremacy of the world. And plucky Sir Thomas Lipton, on the Erin, led his guests in three hearty cheers for the successful defender. "She is the better boat," he said, "and she deserves to be cheered."

The series of races just closed will always be memorable as the closest ever sailed for the cup, and Sir Thomas, although defeated, will go home with the satisfaction of knowing that his golden yacht is the ablest foreign boat that ever crossed the western ocean. Sir Thomas will return to England by far the most popular of all the foreigners who have challenged for the America's trophy.

To day's race, on paper, was the closest of the series, but because of the flukiness of the wind on the best home, as a contest of the relative merits of the yachts, it is not to be compared with the magnificent, truly run and royally fought battles of Saturday and yesterday.
