Where Medical Science Fails.

to cure rheumatism, and all the time you suffer dreadfully, why don't you get a bottle of Polson's Nervine and try that! Rub it into your stiff joints, sore arms, lame back, bent shoulders---wherever the pain is. Nervine has cured plenty of people in this way, and that ought to be proof enough that it will cure you too. It is an unusually strong liniment that cures rheumatism in an unusually quick time. Best household liniment known. 25 cents. Sold at R. O'Leary's General Store, Richibucto.

I have no hesitation in saying that PAIN-KILLER is the best remedy to have near at hand."

A SPARROW HAWK'S SPEED.

The Bird of Prey Does Not Like a Stern Chase.

The sparrow hawk does not more than any other like a long "stern chase," but prefers to attack with the advantage of a surprise when darting from a tree or around the corner of a wood or when swooping with splendid speed from a perch several hundred yards above the ground.

We, seeing a finch or a starling taken in a moment, often do not weigh the fact that the victim was hardly on the wing and probably rising when the bird of prey came like a whirlwind and overwhelmed it. Even if the hawk discovers its prey when traversing the country at a lower elevation it has still the power of a fair momentum to take full advantage of the chance of a swooping rush at the prey, which is probably on the ground.

Of course, when a rook is watched chasing a sparrow hawk across the sky there is nothing to show that the latter is seriously trying to fly at speed. On the contrary, it generally seems in such a case that the hawk is relying mainly on its soaring powers to avoid the attack. And it is remarkable, indeed, with how little apparent effort the hawk will soar up and up from the rook, which all the while is obviously exerting itself frantically. On the other hand, it is generally to be seen that when the birds are flying at a level the rook has no difficulty in overtaking the hawk, who after a turn or two begins to go up, as already stated. The kestrel seems more often to evade its enemies by a turn of speed, though it also takes to the rook readily. Last autumn I saw a fine female kestrel harried by two peewits, which swooped at it alternately, very prettily and with surprising persistence. At last the hawk, seemingly tired of "putting out," as a falconer would say, of these active birds, went straight ahead apparently as hard as it could, and then one could see that the peewits were not able to overtake it, though they followed to some distance. The same thing happened with the crow. The latter chased the hawk, but was at last outflown in a sheer, straight flight.

FOREIGN FACTS.

London consumes 11 tons of salt a day. Holland has 10,100 windmills, each of which drains on an average 310 acres of land.

A restaurant keeper in a German city has testified that he gives his waiters only $6 a month, whereas, if he forbade fees and undertook to give their equivalent each waiter would cost him $75 a month.

For 12 consecutive winters a Swiss watchman and family have taken care of the hotel on top of the stormy Pilatus. He says that sometimes for weeks when all below is wrapped in mist and clouds they have sunshine above.

The British girl is getting taller as well as the American. Fifty years ago a medical authority says the height of a very tall British woman was 5 feet 7 inches, while now the height averages 5 feet 6 inches to 5 feet 10 inches.

A rich woman of Moscow left a fund to provide for a prize every five years to the writer of the best play dealing with the question of mothers-in-law, the only proviso being that each piece shall contain the character of a son-in-law who is a villain.

The laws governing the treatment of labor in England are so strictly enforced that employees have exactly the stipulated time for meals. A firm in Lees, Lancashire, which was discovered cutting tea dinner hour short by a half minute each day was fined $85.

How the Dinner Turned Out.

A tiny girl of 7 gave a dinner party the other day for which 12 covers were laid, and that number of small maidens sat down to dine. It was a real little girls' dinner, and the little hostess herself presided, sitting at the head of the table. She had been very anxious in looking forward to it to do everything as it should be done.

"Mamma," she asked, "shall we say grace?"

"No," said mamma; "it will be a very informal dinner, and I think you need not do that."

That meant one less ceremony to be gone through and was a relief, but the little lady was anxious to have all her small guests understand it. So as they were gathered about the table she explained:

"Mamma says this is such an informal dinner that we need not have any grace today."--"Recollections of Mrs. Minnie E. Leo."

"Honey" an Endearing Term.

A correspondent asks if the word "honey" as a term of endearment is peculiar to any section.

Well, it's long been in use in the rural districts of the south, but it is nearly as old as the hills. Shakespeare used it in "Othello," where the Moor says to Desdemona:

Honey, you shall be well desired in Cyprus.

Also the poet Coogler, if we are not mistaken, hath a rhyme to this purpose:

In the days when life was sunny
Susan smiled and called me "Honey."

We once heard a Billville matter calling to her husband, who was digging bait in the garden, "Honey, if you don't drop that hoe and fetch me in a cord of wood, I'll break this washpot over your head, honey!"

Washington Souvenirs.

"Washington is certainly a city of souvenirs," said an eastern man who is in town for a few days. "You can get the profile of the Father of His Country in chewed up thousand dollar bills for 15 cents, or the only American national spoon for $4.95. Souvenir hats, umbrellas, cases for pistols, library, White House, Washington monument, Mount Vernon and a hundred other varieties of souvenirs are as thick as toothpicks in a cheap lunchroom. When I walk along your business streets, the shop windows remind me of one of the big international expositions."

Runs No Personal Risk.

"It seems to me worthy of note," commented the thoughtful man, "that the fellow who is sure the old pistol isn't loaded is seldom so sure of it that he points it at himself when he pulls the trigger. If he did, there would be little cause for complaint."

THE GYPSY WOMAN.

The gypsy woman
Lives on the moor;
She sleeps in a tent,
With a curtained door.

Low is her dwelling
And hard her bed,
But the stars at night
Are a crown for her head.

Rough is her greeting
From all that's human,
But the morning smiles
At the gypsy woman.

The wind is her harp
And brings from far
His songs of wooing
And shouts of war.

On the printed page
She need never look;
The changing sky
Is her holy book.

She knows not the call
Of church bells ringing;
The falling rain
Makes sweeter singing.

And the voice of the lark
At morn and even
Is a key to open
The gate of heaven.

Light Without Sight.

We can "perceive" light without the smallest aid from the retina. If the optic nerve is sufficiently excited to reach the sensorium and create a disturbance at that center of the brain where the optic nerve terminates, we shall then see light and sparks. If, moreover, the optic nerve is cut or mutilated in any way, we should see a brilliant flash of light, though without any sensation of pain. And so it is with the other nerves. The auditory nerve has only to be excited, not necessarily by sound, so as to reach its center, the brain, and we shall hear a sound. How many ghosts might not be destroyed in this way?

The Danish Mascot.

The chimney sweeper is the Danish mascot. You see him in gold or silver, suspended on a lady's watch chain, instead of the "lucky pig" or horseshoe, which is the English symbol of good luck. He also appears on note paper and postcards, implying that your correspondent wishes you a rise in life. It is the old fashioned sweep that is thus depicted--he who had actually to climb the chimney, his implements being a four foot ladder, a short broom and a rope.

An Ancient Bar.

The oldest public house in England is Ye Olde Seven Stars, standing in the heart of Manchester, which has been licensed for 550 years.

The Wheat Fly.

The wheat fly feeds upon the flower of the wheat, while the hessian fly lays its eggs in the stem. The former thus renders the flower abortive, while the injury done by the latter affects the whole plant.

Silent, but Jelly.

One of the jolliest clubs in Paris, it is stated, is one formed exclusively of deaf and dumb persons.

A Hornet's Sting.

The pain produced by a hornet's sting is caused by a poison injected into the wound, and so instantaneous is its effect as to cause the attack of this insect to resemble a violent blow in the face.

Cancer.

Facts collected by insurance companies show that the danger from inheritance in the case of cancer is not so great as is commonly supposed.

Her Marriage Dot.

The Emperor Joseph II. was in the habit of walking about incognito. One morning he went into a coffee shop and asked for a cup of chocolate. He was plainly dressed and the waiters, being ignorant of his rank, insolently refused it, saying it was too early.

Without making any reply he walked out and went into a little coffee house hard by and asked for a cup of chocolate. The landlord answered that it should be ready in a moment.

While he waited for it he walked up and down and was conversing on different subjects when the landlord's daughter, a very pretty girl, made her appearance.

The emperor wished her good day and observed to her father that it was high time a sower in full bloom should marry before it faded.

"Ah," replied the honest old man, "if I had but a thousand crowns I could marry her to a fine young man who is very fond of her! But, sir, the chocolate is ready."

The emperor called for a pen, ink and paper. The girl ran to fetch them, when he gave her an order on his banker for the thousand crowns.

How They Broke Up.

An amusing story is related in "Canadian Savage Folk" of the manner in which an adjournment was taken by a mass meeting. A missionary who had started a school among the Indians met with opposition, and the meeting had been called in support of the rival scheme.

There were several speakers who denounced the school in existence. We replied vigorously, showing the efficiency of the school and denouncing in turn the methods adopted by the opposition. An Indian chief produced some specimens of work done at the school, and several speakers supported the work as it was being done. The climax was reached when a gentleman rose and said:

"I move the whole thing bust!"

The chairman put the motion.

"It is moved and seconded that the whole thing bust!"

The audience sprang to their feet and, waving hats, yelled "Busted!" and made for the door. Thus ended the first and last opposition in that matter.

Nervous Depression and Bodily Weakness.

Another Woman Who Has Found Health, Strength and Vigor in the Use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

To women especially Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is proving to be a very great blessing. So many women are weakened and debilitated by overwork, worries or diseases peculiar to their sex, and need the assistance of just such a restorative as this great food cure.

Mrs. M. A. McCrea, Tory Hill, Ont., writes:--"My system was all run down when I began to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was weak and very nervous and felt so tired and worn out that I could scarcely drag myself about the house. It seemed impossible for me to get rest or sleep at night, and I felt that I was gradually growing weaker and more nervous and irritable. Since beginning the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I feel altogether different. It has gradually strengthened my nerves and built up my system wonderfully. I sleep well now, and am being thoroughly restored to health and strength. I believe it is the best medicine to be had for the nerves."

WHY WOMEN SUFFER.

THE REASON IS NOT THAT THEY MAY NOT, BUT THAT THEY WILL NOT BE FREE.

A Story of a Woman who made up Her Mind that she had Suffered long Enough--The Means Employed to Cure Her have Cured Thousands.

ROCK DALE, C. B., April 14, (Special).--Mrs. David Riley, of this village, suffered for over eight years before she found a cure.

She had Female Weakness of a very aggravated form, causing her fearful pains. Her back pained her something dreadful.

She could not lift anything and was dizzy-headed all the time. After trying many medicines with no good results, she was becoming altogether discouraged, so much so that she thought she would have to give up.

No wonder that she felt like giving up! Every woman who has suffered in this way will understand how low spirited and broken a woman feels when called upon to endure these extremely distressing symptoms.

But Mrs. Riley didn't give up. A friend advised her to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and she began a treatment of this medicine.

After using four boxes she was much better. She felt a great deal stronger, the dizziness had gone. The pains in her back had disappeared, and she kept on using the pills.

She says: "If it had not been for Dodd's Kidney Pills I would have had to give up. They are certainly a wonderful medicine and have done more for me and my sickness than all the other medicines I ever took."

"I can and will highly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all weak women who suffer as I used to suffer."

No woman need suffer a moment longer. Dodd's Kidney Pills have cured and are curing thousands of weak women.

Many of your sisters have told their story for publication and very many have testified but not for publication. All join in praising the remedy that has done more for the suffering womanhood of Canada than all other means combined.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are Weak Woman's Best Friend.

Burdock Blood Bitters

Turns Bad Blood into Rich Red Blood.

This spring you will need something to take away that tired, listless feeling brought on by the system being clogged with impurities which have accumulated during the winter. Burdock Blood Bitters is the remedy you require.

It has no equal as a spring medicine. It has been used by thousands for a quarter of a century with unequalled success.

HERE IS PROOF.

Mrs. J. T. Skine of Shigawake, Que., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a spring medicine for the past four years and don't think there is its equal. When I feel drowsy, tired and have no desire to eat I get a bottle of B.B.B. It purifies the blood and builds up the constitution better than any other remedy."
