The water was smooth and the moose came quite close to the boat. An effort was made to capture him, but owing to the calm, it failed. About a year ago, Mr. Callendar of Kouchibouguac, while fishing off the shore captured a deer swimming to the Island.

JUNE WEDDINGS.

Irving-Murray.
 THE REVIEW in last issue gave only a short note of the wedding of a popular Buctouche couple, as the wedding took place so soon before the paper went to press. We herewith give a fuller account.
 The home of the Rev. J. D. Murray, Red Bank, was the scene of a very interesting event on Wednesday, when his niece, Miss Annie M. Murray, daughter of Mr. H. Murray of Buctouche, was united in marriage to Mr. John A. Irving, a well known Buctouche man. Only the immediate friends of the interested parties were present. After a well spread repast had been served, the newly wedded pair left for their home in Buctouche. That town turned out en masse to meet them, the population—men, women and children—gathering in front of Mr. R. A. Irving's office. The groom made a liberal donation which was distributed among the men and boys, the latter being surfeited with candy. After a brief serenade the people were again formed in line by the genial "Archie" and marched to the place of formation, where they dispersed. Everything was done in an orderly manner, the best of feeling prevailing and everyone wishing the newly wedding pair every joy imaginable. Mr. and Mrs. Irving start out in their new life with the best wishes of a host of friends.

 The marriage of Miss Maude Chrystal to Mr. Jas. Bulmer took place on Tuesday, June 17th, at the Parish Church, Harcourt. Rev. John Hebert officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, Mr. Jas. Chrystal, was dressed in white dimity with satin ribbons, bridal veil caught with orange blossoms and carried a white prayer book. Miss Emma Chrystal, sister of the bride, who played the wedding march (Mendelssohn), was dressed in a pale lavender with black velvet ribbons and hat to match. Only the immediate relatives were invited. The presents were numerous and costly, among which was a gold piece from the bride's father. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful fine linked gold watch chain, the slide set with pearls and rubies. The bride's travelling dress was a grey tailor-made dress with blue silk waist and white hat. Mr. and Mrs. Bulmer left for their future home in Moncton, amid showers of rice and good wishes of all their friends.

The bride looked charming in a fawn colored suit with white silk bodice and hat to match. The bridesmaid wore white muslin with picture hat to match. After partaking of a sumptuous breakfast at the home of the bride's mother, the happy couple took the 10.30 train for their future home in St. John, accompanied by the best wishes of a host of friends. THE REVIEW joins in wishing the happy young couple every prosperity.
