Burning, Itching, Stinging Piles

If people could only realize the virtue of Dr. Chase's Ointment they would not suffer long with piles. Mr. W. H. Whitehair, a well-known and respected citizen of Cobourg, Ont., states:—“Having used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles, I can testify to its great value. The suffering which I endured from the burning, itching, stinging sensation of piles was something awful, and I can say that there is nothing in this world to equal Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for this dreadful disease. I tried a great many remedies and never got more than slight relief from any of them. But while Dr. Chase's Ointment brought quick relief I went further and made a thorough cure. I cannot say too much in recommendation of this great remedy.”

A KING EDWARD OAK. SHOULD BE PLANTED IN EVERY TOWN ON CORONATION DAY. TORONTO, June 21.—The suggestion is made that every town in Canada plant an oak tree on the day of the coronation, to be called King Edward's oak. GOOD HEALTH FOR CAPITAL. Maintaining good health is to the majority of people the most vital question in the world and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Naturally, gradually, and certainly it forms new, red corpuscles in the blood, creates new, healthy nerve cells and puts into the system the snap, energy and vitality that defies disease. SPAIN AND CUBA. FORMER WILL APPOINT A MINISTER TO NEW REPUBLIC. MADRID, June 20.—It is announced here that the Government has decided to appoint a minister to the Cuban republic.

Children Cry for CASTORIA.

King Albert of Saxony died on Thursday. The presbyterian general assembly in convention at Toronto has adjourned. Mrs. Dora Vedder was killed at Ottawa by being struck by a street car. The Spanish will reorganize their civil and military administration in the region of Gibraltar. All but three of the silk mills in Hudson County, N. J., have closed on account of strike riot troubles. Small pox in bad form is reported from Hawshaw, York county, where there are two cases. Mrs. Morgan Mason recently visited Woodstock, and she is down with the disease, as is also Mrs. Thomas Thompson, a neighbor. More cases are feared. At Moncton Wednesday the four-year-old child of James Shane, foreman for W. H. Humphrey, got some matches and in lighting them ignited his night shirt. He was badly burned about the legs and body. Although his injuries are serious they are not considered fatal.

Origin of "Whig." Several reasons have been assigned to account for the word "Whig," universally known to all the English-speaking people. By some the word is supposed to be a contraction of a longer one, "whiggamaree," which in some parts of England and Scotland, especially Scotland, signifies a drover or herder. It was in 1679 that the word first became common in the British isles, when the struggle was in progress between the peasantry and the aristocracy to have or not to have the bill passed by parliament to exclude the Duke of York from the line of succession. All who were opposed to placing the duke in the line of succession were collectively called "whiggamores," or "drovers," just as the city duds of today speakers of the "grangers," the "grays," the "chin whiskers" and the "baysedders."

Journalistic Errors. I do not allude to what are obviously mere misprints, such as when The Morning Post announced at the head of its fashionable intelligence that Lord Palmerston had gone down into Hampshire with a party of fends to shoot peasants, but I refer to blunders due to crass ignorance of a pretentious order. Perhaps the best instance was when one of the "young lions" of The Daily Telegraph in a leading article enumerated the great masters of Greek sculpture as Phidias, Praxiteles and Milo, ignorant of the fact that Milo is not a sculptor, but an island. The Times was even worse when, mistaking Prussia for Austria, it devoted a whole leader to discussing why Prussia had joined the zollverein. The Saturday Review once explained at great length that the population might be nourished gratuitously on young lambs if killed unweaned before they had begun to crop grass, having therefore cost nothing to feed. Many other instances will doubtless occur to your readers.—Notes and Queries.

A Mixed Wedding Party. The college roommate of a friend of mine was engaged to a lady in New York," writes the Rev. D. M. Steele in his article on "Some People I Have Married" in The Ladies' Home Journal. "His people are Congregationalists, but while at Yale he became a Catholic. Her parents are Roman Catholics, but she was a member of the Ethical Culture society at Carnegie Hall. In compliance with her mother's wish he asked five different priests to marry them, but all refused. In despair he came for me. I married them, an Episcopalian, with the ritual service in a Presbyterian chapel. The Roman Catholic brother of the bride and the Congregational sister of the groom were present. This sister acted as one witness; the other witness was a Jew."

The Appeal to the Record. Little Tommy returned sore and trembling from the torture room. "Doesn't your papa ever threaten you?" he asked his chum, who is the son of a cabinet minister. "I should say not!" replied the other jolly. "Every time he threatens to come me I read him an extract from his great peace at any price speech in which he said: 'These barbarians are like wayward children, but have we not that account the right to take away their heaven sent privilege to do as they please? Let us treat them as we would our own wayward children—plead with them, beseech them, but never coerce them with either gun or rod.'"

Careful Statement. "Was this man Dennis an entire stranger to you?" asked the cross-examining counsel of a witness in an important case. "Sorr?" said the witness, whose stolid face was crossed with wrinkles of anxiety, for he had been warned to be cautious and exact in his answers. The lawyer repeated his question. "Well, no, sorr," said the witness, with a sudden gleam of enlightenment. "He couldn't be that, for he had but the wan arm, sorr, but he was a partial stranger, sorr. O'D never seen him befoor."—Youth's Companion.

Punishment and Reward. Whenever a certain Atchison boy is bad, his mother makes him put on his Sunday clothes. She finds that this is punishment enough, though it is reward for her girls when they behave. Atchison Globe. Never give up to children if they are in the wrong. Do not rob them of a memory that their mother and father were always true to their principles.—Ladies' Home Journal.

I don't know what the game is, but if there's any job you can put up on the lynx I'm in with you. The orange came to Europe from Africa in the eleventh century. Sir Walter Raleigh brought it to England in the sixteenth century. It was first planted in Australia in 1788.

RUSSIAN STUDENTS.

WHY THEY SOMETIMES REVOLT AND WHAT HAPPENS WHEN THEY DO. Universities Are Center of the Disturbance—Students Live on a Cent a Day—Two of the Best Hated Men in the Czar's Domains. Trouble, both external and internal, seems to be the portion of Russia in the present and in the near future. Of the two the internal is, according to the keenest observers, by far the more serious, for, while the Muscovite empire has little to fear from international squabbles in the far east or elsewhere, the domestic disturbances seriously threaten the existing order of things. The riots and other troubles at home are what cause the greatest anxiety to the ministers of the czar. As in other countries at other times the center and source of the present disturbances in Russia are found in the universities. Education in Russia is far from being general, the mass of population being sunk in ignorance, and yet, strange to say, the great majority of the university students come from the common people. To form a correct idea of the Russian universities it is necessary first to rid the mind of any preconceived notion of what such an institution should be or is in any other country. A Russian university is simply a mass of students attending lectures at a given place. There is no union of the authorities and the instructors on the one hand and the students on the other no common bond of interest or affection. The present system of university government in Russia dates from 1884. The rector of every university is appointed by the czar and the dean by the minister of public instruction. As in Germany, every student must pay a fee for each course of study he elects to follow. This fee goes to the professor, who receives besides a salary from the government. Russian university students need not attend the lectures. They are simply obliged to follow the course of study they elect in any manner they may choose. The vast majority of Russian university students are wretchedly poor, and some of them live on a cent or two a day. They are absolutely forbidden to form any clubs or associations of any kind or to hold public meetings, and in their gangs and comings are subjected to the closest surveillance. The slightest action on the part of a student that seems suspicious to the authorities causes redoubled vigilance, and the merest trifle of an offense that would be overlooked or laughed at here is sufficient cause for severe punishment. The Russian government maintains at each university an official

IT LEADS AND SAVES.

PAIN'S CELERY COMPOUND DR. PHELPS' WONDER-WORKING MEDICAL PRESCRIPTION. Paine's Celery Compound is the world's great leading medicine and life saver. It has no equal for feeding exhausted nerves; it stands first as a builder of the weak and shattered nervous system. Paine's Celery Compound has long ago proved its power as a banisher of dyspepsia, rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney disease, liver complaint, and as a purifier of the blood. Thousands of men and women, tired out, sleepless, nervous, morose and despondent, have been given perfect health, strength and buoyancy of spirits through the well-advised use of Paine's Celery Compound. It has given a new and happy life to a vast number of people who once were tired of life and suffering. If your health is impaired; if you are burdened with any weakening or painful malady, use Paine's Celery Compound to-day; it is specially adapted for your case; it will make you well and strong. Mr. H. Ball, Chatham, Ont., says: "I was so seriously ill I was obliged to take to my bed, where I laid for four months. The doctors here and in Toronto said my trouble was Addison's disease of the kidneys, and told me I would never walk again. In November I commenced to use Paine's Celery Compound. After having used a number of bottles I was enabled to attend to business, and felt like a new man. I can affirm with confidence that Paine's Celery Compound saved my life." COLLEGE FEDERATION. ALUMNI OF KINGS VOTE AGAINST UNION WITH DALHOUSIE. WINDSOR, June 20.—The alumni of Kings college, after eight hours discussion of the question of federation between Kings and Dalhousie, voted against union 36 to 35. The New Brunswick delegates were pretty nearly unanimous for federation. BENTLEY'S is the best Liniment.

GRAND DUKE SERGIUS. known as an inspector, assisted by a small army of spies, whose duty it is to keep watch on the students. The government of the czar spends a small fortune each year on these inspectors. In spite of harsh, repressive measures, however, the great and growing discontent of the people of Russia finds a voice in the universities. The present disturbances are taking place at the universities of Kiev, Odessa, St. Petersburg and Moscow, the most important in the empire. The alleged reason for the outbreak is the dissolution by the government of all existing student organizations, which had been founded by stealth, but the real reason goes deeper and is rooted in the discontent of the mass of the people. In June of last year a general congress of Russian students, attributed by the government to certain student secret societies and convened, according to the same authorities, for the criminal purpose of the unification of the student clubs into one organization, was called together at Odessa. The government broke up this meeting, and riots ensued. There have been sporadic outbreaks ever since that time. According to most Russian agitators the fault lies not with the czar, who is a weakly man, lacking both the splendid physique and the stern will of his ancestors. The malcontents hold that their "little father" does not know their distress and that he is being kept in ignorance by his ministers and family. The most unpopular of the ministers and the most powerful and best hated man in Russia is the famous or infamous procurator of the holy synod or actual head of the Greek church. This man is named Constantine Petrovitch Pobiedonosteff, and he is sometimes called the "Russian Torquemada." To him are due the cruel measures against the students, the Jews and the dissenters from the official church. The recent attempt on his life only shows the hearty detestation in which he is held, but with the czar and the government he possesses unbounded power. The member of the czar's immediate family most feared and hated by the progressives of Russia is probably the Grand Duke Sergius Alexandrovitch, the uncle of the emperor. He holds the important post of governor of Moscow, the ancient capital of Russia. He is very unpopular, for he is arrogant, bigoted and brutal. The riots which began at Moscow on March 4 and continued for several days, in which at least one student was killed and many severely injured, were directed partly against this detested member of the imperial family, who was then celebrating the tenth anniversary of his appointment as governor of the city.
