

Epilepsy Cureable.

A DISEASE THAT HAS LONG BAF- FLED MEDICAL SKILL.

Mr. M. A. Gauthier, of Buckingham, Gives His Experience for the benefit of Other Sufferers from this Terrible Malady.

From the Post, Buckingham, Que.

We venture to say that in our town of 3,000 inhabitants few business men are better known than Mr. M. A. Gauthier, the young and bustling butcher of Main street. He wasn't, however, as energetic or as hustling a couple of years ago as he is to-day, and for a good reason—he wasn't well. Having gone into business as reaching his majority his desire to succeed was such that no heed was paid to keeping the body in the state of health necessary to stand a strain, and in consequence of the extra demands upon the system it became run down to such an extent that epilepsy or falling sickness resulted, and these lapses into unconsciousness becoming alarmingly frequent he consulted physicians and took some remedies, but without beneficial results. Finally seeing Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised as a cure for falling sickness he decided to give them a trial. As to the result, the Post cannot do better than give Mr. Gauthier's story in his own words. "Yes," said Mr. Gauthier, "for nearly four years I suffered from epilepsy or falling fits, which took me without warning and usually in most inconvenient places. I am just twenty-four years of age, and I think I started business too young and the fear of failing spurred me to greater efforts perhaps than was good for my constitution, and the consequence was that I became subject to those attacks which came without any warning whatsoever, leaving me terribly sick and weak after they had passed. I got to dread their recurrence very much. I consulted doctors and took their remedies to no purpose, the fits still troubled me. I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised and determined to try them. I did so, and the medicine helped me so much that I got more and kept on taking them, until today I am as well, yes better, than I ever was, and am not troubled at all by epilepsy or the fear of the fits seizing me again. Thinking there may be others similarly afflicted, I gave my story to the Post; it may perhaps lead them to give this great medicine a trial."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a positive cure for all diseases arising from impoverished blood, or a weak or shattered condition of the nervous system. Every dose makes new, rich, red blood and gives tone to the nerves, thus curing such diseases as epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, paralysis, rheumatism, sciatica, heart troubles, anaemia, etc. These pills are also a cure for the ailments that make the lives of so many women a constant misery. They are sold in boxes, the wrapper round which bears the full name—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Can be procured from druggists or will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Why the Line Was Endless. The following story is told of a young Irish sailor: After pulling in 40 to 50 fathoms of line, which put his patience severely to proof as well as every muscle of his arms, he muttered to himself, but loud enough to be overheard by an officer: "Sure, it's as long as today and tomorrow! It's a good week's work for any five men in the ship, bad luck to it! What! More of it yet? Och, murder! The say's mighty deep, to be sure!" After continuing in a similar strain and conceiving there was little probability of the completion of his labor he suddenly stopped short, and, looking up to the officer on the watch, he exclaimed: "Bad luck to me, sor, if I don't believe somebody's cut off the other end of this line."

The Hot Air Balloon. It is related that the hot air balloon had its origin in a petticoat. Mme. Montgolfier had washed her garment, intending to wear it to a great festival the next day, and hung it over a chafing dish to dry. The hot air swelled out its folds and floated it up into the air. The lady, in astonishment, called her husband to see the sight. He at once grasped the idea and was not long in producing the hot air balloon.

An Odd Perquisite. One of the most curious perquisites in connection with English coronations is the right of one of the peers to claim the bed and bedding used by the heir apparent on the night preceding the coronation. In olden times this was a perquisite of considerable value, as the "bedding" usually consisted of richly embroidered coverlets of velvet or silk, with priceless hangings of cloth of silver and gold.

Wall Sizing. In making sizing dissolve half a pound of glue in a little hot water. Then pour on nearly a gallon of boiling water, stirring carefully all the time so that it may mix well. A little of this added to ordinary white-wash prevents the white from rubbing off on dresses, etc. Brushed while hot over a wall that is to be papered, it makes the paper stick better. A wall that has been whitewashed should be brushed over with hot vinegar before papering, or the paper will not stick.

Earning a Spanking. A lady who had company to tea reproved her little son several times, speaking, however, very gently. At last, out of patience with him, she said sharply: "Jimmy, if you don't keep still I'll send you away from the table!" "Yes, that's what you always do when there's company and there are not enough cakes to go round!" was the reply of the gifted youth.

The Australian aborigines are not the only users of the boomerang, nor were they the first to use that missile. The Egyptians knew all about it, just as they seem to have known all about everything else. Blase. "Papa, what does it mean to be blase?" "My boy, it is getting tired of all the things that are not worth living for."—Life. This is what philosophy amounts to, "I do it, but you should not."—Aitchison Globe. It is said that one-tenth of the world is still unexplored.

ROASTS ON MAN.

Every man has in his heart a slumbering hog.—A. Precourt. Every man is a quotation from all his ancestors.—Ralph Waldo Emerson. Man is creation's masterpiece. But who says so? Man!—Sulpice Guillaume Gavarni. Self made men are most always apt to be a little too proud of the job.—Henry W. Shaw. Most men die without creating. Not one has died without destroying.—Alexandre Dumas. When our vices leave us, we flatter ourselves that we are leaving them.—Francis de la Rochefoucauld. A man must be faithless to something, either to a woman or his God or his firmest belief.—John Oliver Hobbes. There are men made of such stuff that an angel could hardly live with them without some desert.—Anthony Trollope. Some old men like to give good precepts to console themselves for their inability longer to give bad examples.—Antoine Dupuy. The husband is the only creature entirely selfish. He is a low organism, consisting mainly of a digestive apparatus and a rude mouth.—I. Zangwill. Of the misbegotten changelings who call themselves men and prate intolerably over dinner tables, I never saw one who seemed worthy to inspire love.—R. Stevenson.

Investment and Speculation. When any one is buying a coat or a fishing rod or a rose tree or laying down a cellar or setting up a library, either he knows what he wants, where to get it and what to pay for it or else he takes earnest counsel with his friends and with the most trustworthy professional advisers that he can find and uses all the wits that he and others can bring to bear on the subject in order to make sure that his purchase is prudently conducted. He attends sales, rummages in shops and discusses the matter in his club until he and it are voted a nuisance. If only half as much time and trouble were devoted to the careful selection of investments, there would be fewer bad companies, unscrupulous promoters and ornamental directors, the world would be very much richer, and its riches would show less tendency to gravitate into questionable hands.

Partly In. "I see your names in the papers a good deal," commented the old friend. "I suppose you're really in society now." "My wife thinks we are," replied the man who had become suddenly rich, "but sometimes I have my doubts." "How so?" "Well, when there's a swell charity entertainment to be given, with boxes quoted at $200 and $300 or more, the evidence seems to indicate that we are very much in society, but when some exclusive private function takes place which seems to be nothing but what you might call negative evidence, I think possibly it might be correct to say that our money is in society, but we are not."

ARE YOU DEAF? ANY HEAD NOISES? DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE

by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable. HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY. F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS: Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you full history of my case, to be used at your discretion. About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost hearing in this ear entirely. I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever. I then saw your advertisement, accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours, F. A. WERMAN, 735 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md. Our treatment does not interfere with your usual occupation. Examination and advice free. YOU CAN CURE YOURSELF AT HOME at a nominal cost. INTERNATIONAL AURAL CLINIC, 596 LA SALLE AVE., CHICAGO, ILL.

SPRINGHILL, Jan. 4.—A sad accident occurred at Springhill Mines yesterday by which two lives were lost. Two men, D. Melanson, single, about 23 years old, and James DeGrasse, 28 or 30, married, were killed by being buried under a fall of stone. Melanson's body when discovered was badly mutilated. The accident happened about 11.30 a. m. and the bodies were not recovered until 5.30 p. m. Both men are of French extraction and prob-ly belong to the North Shore of New Brunswick. DeGrasse leaves a family of three. MONTREAL, Jan. 5.—Bertha Bernard, a little five-year old girl on Champlain street was scalded to death last evening by pulling a boiler of hot water off the stove. The victim's father was likewise very badly scalded.

PAGE METAL GATES are so low in price no one can afford to use wooden ones. Light, and yet strong enough to support a heavy man on the end while he swings around the circle without causing them to sag. They are neat in appearance, will last a lifetime. Will not sag nor get rickety. They are supplied with latches which allow them to be opened either way and are self acting. We also make Farm and Ornamental Fence, Poultry Netting, Nails and Staples. The Page Wire Fence Co., Limited, Walkerville, Ont. That is low enough in price for general farm purposes.

To the Public:

The subscriber having on hand a large and varied assortment of goods of all descriptions suitable to the season and the wants of the people generally, here announces that during the month of January, 1902 he will sell from his valuable and well selected stock at very reduced rates, being satisfied with a very moderate percentage of profit, so as to give the people generally the benefit of what is really a considerable sacrifice to himself, but he is resolved that any purchaser who buys from him will so appreciate the low cost and excellent quality of the articles bought that no further notice will be required; they will judge from their own experience that the well filled store on the Roxborough corner, so-called, is the place of all others to get the worth of your money. He intends giving the best bargains ever made, during the month of January. Just received a large stock of Dry Goods and Groceries. I also have a lot of "Jerusalem" Tea, which is the purest and cleanest tea ever used.

THE REVIEW, Richibucto, N. B.

A Region Strange and Interesting, Weird and Solitary. The Great Dismal swamp is a region strange and interesting, weird and solitary. It occupies a lowly plain some 40 miles in length by 25 miles in breadth along the Atlantic seaboard, extending from Suffolk, Va., in a southerly direction, well into the bounds of North Carolina.

Its deep shades, great stretches of brake and its solitude make it a region of interest. To the naturalist and sportsman it has much to offer. In its silent fastnesses the black bear finds a home admirably adapted to his protection and in every way favorable to his increase. Here amid the dense growth of underbrush and timber he may live in comparative safety, and there is perhaps no locality in the whole eastern United States of like extent which can offer a larger bear population than this great morass. The white tailed deer is also an abundant denizen of the swamp, frequenting the elevated parts.

In addition to the deer and bears, there is a big game feature of a rather unusual nature. The swamp abounds in wild cows. These animals, of a brown color and somewhat smaller than the ordinary cow, having for many years been under the peculiar conditions of the swamp, until they are almost completely specialized, are extremely wild. They are ferreted from the herds of the farms adjacent to the swamp, and are the descendants of cattle which many years back wandered into the fastnesses and were lost to their owners, finally becoming wild. Being no longer recognized as property the sportsman may call game all that he may have the prowess to shoot.

Lake Drummond, some ten miles from Suffolk, Va., is the only great body of water in the swamp. It is a beautiful sheet of water, of an oval contour and fringed with a heavy growth of timber, mostly cypress, white cedar and black gum. Its water is of a dark color owing to the decaying vegetation of the surrounding country, but is suitable to drink, and possesses the quality of remaining pure longer than most other water. For this reason it is often carried to sea by sailors on long voyages.

The characteristic mammalian fauna is of a semitropical nature as regards the smaller forms, while there are many tropical plants. Of birds there are not many kinds, prothonotary, hooded and Swainson's warblers and the Maryland yellowthroat being the principal smaller forms. The trees, some of which are primeval, are large and beautiful, while there is a luxuriant growth of ferns and aquatic plants. Cane grows in profusion.

CULINARY CAPERS.

A round of broiled Hamburg steak with a crisp slice of delicate bacon on top is delicious. Stock intended for clear soup must be skimmed as it boils and as long as the scum continues to rise. A layer of sliced onions placed on top of a roast of beef and allowed to cook there will give a delicious flavor to the meat, while their distinctive flavor will not be noticeable. Mince or stewed potatoes or any preparation of that sort should never be stirred with an iron spoon, as it is in many kitchens. A plated silver fork kept for the purpose or a wooden salad fork is much better. Cream vegetable soups should be accompanied with squares of toasted bread; oyster and clam soups with pickles and crackers. Croutons should be served with purees; with gumbo boiled rice is the accompaniment. Cauliflower should be placed head down in cold, salted water for 10 or 15 minutes before cooking, to draw out insects. In boiling, slightly salted water should be used, and the head should be placed downward in the kettle.

Plan For Single Beds.

Two in a bed is the usual custom of sleeping, in the United States at least, and also in Canada and England; but in Germany and France single beds are the rule. The latter plan is more healthful and comfortable. It is gradually coming into use in this country. Single beds involve more linen, more work in making beds and more washing, but I never knew a family to return to the old plan after once giving single beds a fair trial. Especially in summer is the single bed to be preferred, or even sleeping on the floor, to two in a bed. Many families declare they never knew what comfort was during the summer nights until they adopted the single beds. I might add a word of protest against allowing babies or young children to sleep with old people. The latter certainly draw upon the vitality of the former. This is probably true as between any bedfellows one of whom is sickly or less strong than the other. Consumption and other diseases have often been communicated from one bedfellow to another.

Headache, Biliousness and Liver Complaint.

Troublesome and Obstinate Ailments Which Yield Promptly to the Searching and Thorough Action of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. In nearly every family there is more or less suffering from liver disorders, biliousness and headaches, and no home should be without a cure for such derangements. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are wonderfully prompt and effective for all such disorders as well as for dyspepsia and constipation. They are the greatest family medicine ever discovered, as is testified to by thousands of people. Mrs. Faulkner, 8 Gildersleeve place, Toronto, says:—"After suffering without success for biliousness, liver complaint and sick headache for over three years I am glad to testify to my appreciation of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. At first they seemed a little strong, but being both searching and thorough in their action, amply repay any inconvenience by after results. I am feeling better in every way, and my headaches have entirely disappeared. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are certainly the best I have ever used, and I freely recommend them." One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
