GOOD HEALTH FOR CAPITAL

Maintaining good health is to the majority of people the most vital question in the world and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Naturally, gradually, and certainly it forms new, red corpuscles in the blood, creates new, healthy nerve cells and puts into the system the snap, energy and vitality that defies disease.

Lars Moellers, the first Esquimaux journalist, is dead. He began by printing pictures, making the woodcuts himself. Nordenskjöld gave him a press and type. He set up and printed his paper himself and then distributed it throughout Greenland, travelling with sledge and snow shoes. Other Esquimaux will continue his work.

An American exchange says: Stories of big rafts of logs appear from time to time in the newspapers, but here is one said to be that of the biggest rafts on record. It contains 5,500,000 feet of timber and was towed by two steamers from Stillwater, Minn., to St. Louis in a little over three weeks.

"Did you see Miss Dashaway's new bathing suit?" asked the girl.
"Well," replied the youth, guardedly, "I saw Miss Dashaway."
"On the beach this morning?"
"Yes."
"Well, she had it on."
"Really?" returned the other. —Chicago Post.

To Rest Iron.
The heat of a common coal fire is 140 degrees, but it takes 3,470 degrees to melt iron.

Substitute For Eggs.
When eggs are scarce, put away at night a tencup of mashed potatoes in which has been strained a tablespoonful of sugar and mix it in the corn cake batter next morning. You will find the cakes light and sweet.

A Poisonous Wax.
Wax is a substance secreted by the bee and is analogous to the fat of the higher animals. The wax of a species of bee common in Patagonia, Tierra del Fuego and other parts of southern South America and the adjacent islands is a dark blue in color and is said to be more poisonous than arsenic.

A Hard Wood.
In Vienna they have a single word for an occurrence very common with them in winter, the bursting of a water pipe. This is the word: "Hochquellenwasserleitungsbrennfatalitat."

Pomegranate Wood.
Pomegranate wood is the heaviest known. A cubic foot weighs eighty-four and three-quarter pounds.

Stilton Cheese.
Stilton cheese acquires its green color from a vegetable growth, while some other kinds are rendered green by the addition of powdered sage leaves.

Fatal to Mice.
Mice cannot exist on Papa Little, an island in St. Magnus bay, on the west of Shetland. To test the truth of this statement several mice at various times were brought there, but the soil proved so uncongenial that they soon died.

South Sea Superstitions.
Nearly all tribes of south sea islands believe that the sky is a great blue basin inverted over the world. To them the outside of the basin is all fire. The sun, moon and stars they take to be holes cut in the basin through which a peep at the great outside fire may be had.

Under the Rose.
The rose is the emblem of secrecy in Greece, and accordingly this flower used to be hung over the table where guests were entertained in token that nothing heard there was to be repeated.

A Sluggish Lizard.
The tuatua, a nine inch long lizard of New Zealand, is said to be the most sluggish animal in the world. He is usually found clinging to rocks and has been known to remain in the same spot for months. How he lives is a mystery.

Black Walnut.
Black walnut is less than half the weight of a corresponding quantity of ebony.

Life on Islands.
People usually live longer in islands and small peninsulas than on continents. Barbados, Greece, Madeira and the Shetlands are all favorable to long life.

The Solano.
The solano is a hot southeast wind, loaded with fine dust, which blows across Spain. It produces great uneasiness throughout the country. The Spanish have a proverb which says, "Ask no favors during solano."

Slate.
Slate forms naturally in layers, and the "splitter," following the grain, or "ribbon," with a large chisel, separates the blocks into strips of about the proper thickness for roofing slate.

A Good Nerve.
Any one whose nerve force is deficient and blood impoverished may take with benefit the yolk of an egg, well beaten up in a glass of milk, each morning. The iron and phosphoric compounds are in such a condition as to be readily assimilated by the system, although small in amount.

Domestic Fowls.
Fowls are supposed to have been first domesticated in China 1400 B. C.

Japanese Drum.
In Japan temples there is a large drum used in worship. It is called the kagura taiko. It gives a tone much like a gong and is used in devotion.

Three Great Skeletons.
The vicinity of Palermo, Italy, has yielded three remarkable human skeletons, one in 1410, one in 1516 and the last in 1550. The first was twenty-one, the second thirty and the third thirty-four feet in height.

France's Vineyards.
The vineyards of France cover 4,288,037 acres.

To Extract Oil From Wood.
To get the essential oil from wood, barks, roots, herbs, etc., place them in a bottle and pour upon them a spoonful of ether. Keep in a cool place a few hours and then fill the bottle with cold water. The essential oil will swim upon the surface and may be easily separated.

Child Insurance.
The insurance of the lives of children is forbidden in Montreal on the ground that many parents neglect their sick offspring when they know they will profit by their death.

Fat as a Food.
The great curse of modern civilization—consumption—is mainly due to insufficiency of fat in our daily food. Tea or coffee supplies none of this necessity, but cocoa and chocolate do, and that in the most appetizing and digestible form in which it is possible to obtain fat.

GAVE HIM HIS OWN WAY.

And Then the Customer Brought the Shoe Clerk to Time

"Now, there," said the shoe salesman, "is just what you want."
"Is it?" asked the prospective customer. "I thought I said—"
"Just let me put it on," interrupted the salesman.
"But it is my recollection—"
"Couldn't have a better fit," broke in the salesman. "Everybody is wearing them, and they're a bargain."

"Oh!"
"Let me put on the other." Then, after a moment: "There you are, sir. Couldn't be better. Three-fifty, please."
"For what?"
"For the shoes."
"But I don't want the shoes. You asked me to let you put them on, and I was courteous enough to let you do it. I always try to be obliging. You said they were just what I wanted, but that was your judgment, and I'm accustomed to back my own. Now, if you've had all the diversification in this matter that you desire, will you please trot me out a pair of shoes according to the plans and specifications I gave you when I came in, and perhaps we can do business? I have found by experience that the only way to get what one wants from a shoe clerk is to let him have his own way for the first fifteen or twenty minutes, and then he may become tractable."

The Real Drummer.

"The term 'drummer,'" said a traveling salesman for a Market street wholesale house, "has come to be regarded as synonymous with cheek, flashiness and dissipation. Just why this should be I don't know, unless people get the idea from stage jokes and comic papers. Perhaps years ago there was some justification for it, but there is no room for that sort of man today. Competition is too keen. The traveling salesman who stands well with his trade and with his own firm must attend strictly to business. It may sound strange and contrary to general belief, but most men in my line of work are of a religious turn. Some get into the churchgoing habit while stopping over Sunday in small towns, where there is nothing else to do. They get interested in religion and wind up by joining the church. Then, too, the country merchant is usually a man of affairs in his town and is generally a pillar of the church, and the churchgoing drummer is apt to make a greater impression on him than does one who is more worldly."

The Java Mangosteen.

"The most delicious of all the fruits of Java," writes a correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch, "is the mangosteen. For years an enormous reward awaited the man who would bring a basket to the court of Holland, but unfortunately the fruit is too perishable, and to taste it you must go to the country where it grows.
Incased in a hard purple shell, lined with an exquisite pink gauze, are a number of snow white sections something like those of an orange, only each one growing smaller as they round the core. Each section contains one seed incased in a substance like the pulp of the grape. To describe the flavor would be impossible, but if you can imagine a perfect blending of the flavor of the grape, orange, pineapple and banana you may have a notion of the delicious flavor of the mangosteen."

James Settled It.

Two boys in a rural Scotch district were one day discussing what sign it was when the cuckoo is heard for the first time in the year. One of them said it was a sign of getting married, while the other said it was a sign that you were going to be rich. A farmer, overhearing them, said, "That cannot be true, because I have heard it many times, and I am not married yet, and I am certainly not rich."

Just then a local worthy, known as "Daft Jamie," was passing by, and the farmer said, "Jamie, can you tell us what sign it is when you hear the cuckoo for the first time?" "Yes," said Jamie as he took his pipe from his mouth, "it's a sign you're not deaf."

Scotch Thrift.

The ferryboat was well on her way when a violent storm arose, and fears were entertained for her safety.
The ferryman and his mate, both Scotchmen, held a consultation, and after a short debate the ferryman turned to his passengers and remarked anxiously:
"We'll just tak' yer tuppences now, for we no ken what might come over us."—London Answers.

A Church in Difficulties.

It was a New England parson who announced to his congregation on a recent Sunday, "You will be sorry to hear that the little church at Jonesville is once more tossed upon the waves, a sheep without a shepherd."

Fisherman's Luck.

"I understand that Miss Specie caught a duke while fishing in Europe."
"Yes, but she declares that she hooked two princes, and they got away just as she was about to land them."

Cautious Patient.

"I see you pay your doctor's bills by check and send it by mail."
"Sure. If I took him the money, he might charge me for another visit."

A Gentle Blow.

"Remember my dear brethren," said the minister, "that charity covereth a multitude of sins. I hope you'll be unusually generous in your offering this morning."—Detroit Free Press.

When the Bowels are Constipated

It is a serious matter to neglect constipation. You may do so for a time, only to find that your health has been undermined by bodily derangements of the most fatal kind. You should have a movement of the bowels every day. To accomplish this, avoid concentrated foods, use vegetables and fruits freely, and take one of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills before retiring, two or three times a week, or oftener if required.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are not an ordinary cathartic. They have a specific and combined action on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and consequently cure constipation and the accompanying derangements thoroughly and well, by removing the causes.

For the information of those who are not yet familiar with the peculiar merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, we might add that they are purely vegetable in composition, pleasant and natural in action, and remarkably prompt and far-reaching in effect, even in the most serious and chronic cases of constipation, kidney and liver diseases and stomach troubles.

One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

SHE DROPPED IT.

The Story of a Visitor, a Parrot and a Costly Vase.

A story is told wherein figure two well known Columbus ladies and a parrot. Mrs. A. paid a special call at the home of Mrs. B. the other day and was ushered into the living room by the maid of all work to await the appearance of Mrs. B.

Mrs. B. had come into possession of a parrot only a short time before and had been keeping the bird in the living room. Polly has a very good command of English and appears to know when to use it. Mrs. A. sat down with her back to the bird without noticing it, and as Polly made no sound she remained in ignorance of its presence.

Observing a beautiful vase on the mantel, Mrs. A. arose from her seat and, crossing the floor, took down the dainty piece of bric-a-brac to examine it. She gazed on it rapturously, completely absorbed by its elegant decorations, when suddenly from just behind her came the shrill and stern command:

"Drop it! Drop it!"

Mrs. A. obeyed and turned, with a scream, to face the imperturbable gaze of Polly, who sat in her cage with her green head slyly perked to one side. On the floor lay the beautiful vase smashed to bits. At this most embarrassing moment Mrs. B. entered the room. Before Mrs. A. could explain the situation Polly shook out her feathers and remarked:

"You're it! You're it! You're it!"

Cuba's Forests.

No less than 30,000,000 acres of Cuba, nearly half the island, are forest. There are thirty different species of palms alone found there.

A Full Mail.

A transatlantic steamer carrying what is called "a full mail" usually has 200,000 letters and 300 sacks of newspapers for London, to say nothing of the five hundred and odd sacks for other places.

A Fish's Tail.

The tail of a fish is his sculling oar. He moves it first on one side and then on the other, using his fins as balances to guide his motion. If the fish is moving fast and wants to stop, he straightens out his fins just as the rower of a boat does his oars.

Dutch Mail Service.

In Holland the extent of the mail service routes is over 30,000 miles. The uniform of the postmen is semimilitary in character, and they themselves are said to be a remarkably handsome body.
