Mr. Ellis Gallant, Paquetville, Gloucester Co., N.B., writes: "I feel it my duty to write you, as I have received much benefit from the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I was taken three years ago with a pain just below the ribs of the left side, and right over the kidney, At first it did not cause me much suffering. but a year ago the pain, at times, was very

"After hearing repeatedly of the value of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, I decided to make a trial, and after using two boxes the pain had completely disappeared and I am well, thanks to this remedy. I have also used Dr. Chase's Ointment, and found it worth its weight in gold. You may publish this letter if you like, as it may induce some other sufferer to profit by my experience."

You cannot possibly make a mistake in using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for derangements of the kidneys, liver and bowels. It has proven itself worthy of the most hearty endorsement of thousands of people. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Accommodating the Captain.

One of the sea captains in the employ of Stephen Girard had a rural Yankee's fondness for whittling with his jackknife and on one trip succeeded in getting away with a large part of the rail, although, feeling that he was not without the artistic sense, he really regarded the rail as greatly improved in appearance. When the vessel came to Philadelphia, Girard went aboard, made a general inspection in the captain's absence and as he was about to return to shore asked one of the seamen who had been cutting the rail. The seaman told him the captain and then, afraid his telling might have unpleasant consequences were the captain to learn of it in a roundabout way, informed that official of the interview with Girard. The captain was in terror of a reprimand. but, hearing nothing from his employer, supposed the incident closed. As he was about weighing anchor ready to leave port a dray loaded with shingles drove down to the wharf, and the driver hailed the vessel.

"There must be some mistake!" shouted the captain. "Our bill of lading doesn't mention shingles!"

"This is where they belong!" sung back the driver. "Mr. Girard himself told me to deliver them! He said they are for the captain to whittle!"

The Cat Nature.

The cat's spirit of independence is the most distinct characteristic of her said, the cat's great difference from and, according to her sentiments, superiority to, the dog lie in her calm insistence on selection which invariably accompanies her apparent docility. To the dog proprietorship is mastership; he knows his home, and he recognizes without question the man who has paid for, feeds, and on occasion kicks him with all the easy familiarity of ownership. He follows that man undoubting and unnoticed, grateful for a word, even thankful for an Freeman, a former St. John of her nature by offers of reward, She any permanent effect it may be designed to have. You may be the legal possessor of a cat, but you cannot govern her affections.

St. John's Eve.

Curious and quaint beliefs still prevail in some parts of England concerning St. John's eve. Lassies still place their shoes, before retiring for the night, at right angles, forming a T, reciting the lines:

Hoping this night my true love to see I place my shoes in the form of a T, under the idea that their future husband will be revealed to them in dreams. Formerly supper was placed on the table with the belief that the open door. There is, too, a prevalent idea that especially fortunate are the children born on St. John's eve, the rhyme running:

Under the stars on the eve of St. John, Lucky the babe that those stars shine on.

Waited For a Yawn. Two young fellows recently went out on a shooting expedition, driving to their destination in a trap. They had excellent sport, and toward nightfall they returned to where they had hobbled their horse and were proceeding to hitch up when they discovered that neither of them knew the way to do it. In about an hour they had most of the harness on; but, try as they would, they could not get the bit into the horse's mouth. At last one of them sat down in despair, and his companion said:

"Well, Tom, and what are you going "I'm going to wait till that brute yawns," was the reply. And they did.

Elephants' Love For Finery.

Strange as it may seem, the elephant is passionately fond of finery and delights to see himself decked out with gorgeous trappings. The native princes of India are very particular in choosing their state elephants and will give fabulous sums for an animal that exactly meets the somewhat fanciful standards they have erected. For these they have made cloths of silk so heavily embroidered with gold that two men are hardly able to lift them.

Honesty.

If honesty is the best policy in business, it is also the best policy when one has done wrong and is confronted with the question whether be shall confess everything frankly or make excuses. A transparent excuse is worse then none at all.

After a mun is married be discovers that his wife's golden tresses are nothing in the world but red bair .- PhilaSome Very Old Pron inciations.

"Laylock," the pronunciation of lilac once very common, has now almost entirely passed away. It is hardly likely to be found in dictionaries of glossaries except such as profess to give provincial variations of spelling. Sixty years ago, however, it was by no means a provincialism or a mark of the uneducated. I well remember that Walter Savage Landor always spoke of "laylocks," as did my own mother and most people of that generation. It belonged to the age, now almost catirely passed away, which called Rome "Room," gold "goold," St. James "St Jeames," with other variations of sound now deemed vulgar, I have heard my father say that George IV always spoke of "my loyal city of Lupnon," while "obleeged" and "cow camber" were heard from the most refined mouths.

I can distinctly remember on the first Sunday in Advent, 1825, hearing the officiating clergyman at St. Mary Woolnoth give out sonorously who reading the first lesson "like a lodge in a garden of cowcumbers," and m dear old rector. Julius Charles Har twenty years har adopted the same pronunciation, saying at table "Obleege by passing the cowcumber: "Vilets," as a dissyllable for violets was equally common among people of good education.

Merely Symptoms.

"Life is a failure," said the tired looking passenger in a grave and far away voice. "Man is a fraud, woman a bore, happiness & delusion, friendship a humbug; love is a disease, beauty a deception, marriage a mistake, a wife a trial, a child a nuisance; good i. merely hypocrisy; evil is detection The whole system of existence-life. morality, society, bumanity and all that-is a hollow sham. Our boasted wisdom is egotism; generosity is imbecility. There is nothing of any im portance but money. Money is every thing, and, after all, what is every thing? Nothing. Ar-r-r-r."

"Glad to meet you, sir," said the thin little man with the ginger hued whisk ers, extending his hand cordially to the speaker. "I have the dyspepsia pretty bad at times myself."

Australia's Stony Desert.

The great stony desert of north Aus tralia was discovered by Captain Sturt. an Australian explorer, in 1845-46. It is north of the river Darling and is about 300 miles long and 100 broad, consisting of sandy dunes or ridges. Its want of trees, except along the creeks, gives the country a sterile appearance. These ridges were probably formed by the joint effect of winds and a gradually retiring sea.

According to Captain Sturt, these waters were gradually lost by evaporation or carried to some undiscovered sea. The only vegetation, growing scantily, are prickly acacias in full bloom. all of stunted growth. Water is scarce except in the creeks which are sheltered, and this is generally brackish. Few travelers care to traverse this inhospitable desert.

Sucking Polsonous Wounds.

Among all people the sucking of the wound has ever been considered the most effective remedy of immediate application for snake bites. In Africa a cupping instrument is employed in emergencies of the kind to draw out the poisoned blood. The ancients followed the same methods, and when Cato made his famous expedition through the serpent infested African deserts he employed many savage smake charmers, called "psylli," to follow the army. They performed many mysterious rites over men who were bitten, but the efficacy of their treatment appears to have consisted in sucking the wounds.

A Musical Beat.

The Courrier de Paris relates that a party of men, sitting in front of a boulevard cafe, were recently approached by a man who had a clarinet in his hand and who said: "Gentlemen, excuse me. I have to make my living, but I suppose you would rather give me a sou not to hear me." They took the hint. He repeated this performance several times till one day one of the men said he felt like hearing a tune and asked him to play. "I am sorry," said the man with the clarinet, "but I cannot play a note."

Not Work to Preach.

A minister who used to preach in Somerville had a little boy. A few days before his father left the city to go to his new parish one of his neighbors said to the little boy, "So your father is going to work in New Bedford, is he?"

The little boy looked up, wondering. "Oh, no," he said, "only preach."

The Dead Sea.

The daily average of 6.500,000 tons of water is received into the Dead sea from the Jordan. There is no outlet, and the level is kept down by evaporation only, which is very rapid because of the intense heat, the dry atmosphere and the dry winds which are constantly blowing down from the gorges between the mountains.

Good Reason. "I wonder," began the man with the investigating mania, "what makes babies cry?" "Probably," butted in the practical fellow, "contemplation of some of the things they're in danger of being like when they grow up."

HOW IS YOUR MOWER?

It does'nt pay to use an old worn out one. It does'nt pay to buy an inferior new one. It pays to buy the best. The best is the McCormick Vertical Lift. With it you can raise your cut terbar perpindicular ni a moment without getting off your seat and in doing so you throw your mower out of gear automatical. ly. No other mower possesses this feature, no other mower has so strong, simple and serviceable a foot-lift. No other mower has a draft-rod pulling so directly from the inside shoe. No other mower has so strong a frame. No other mower has such perfect gears. No other mower is so easily handled by man and team. No other mower runs in the same class. McCor. mick Harvesting Machines have been manufactured for seventy one years, and to-day more than two millions of them are in nee in every corner of the world.
